

MAB

ADVANCEMENT

Denied his through the horrors throng, RASTAN hacks his way through the horrors unleashed uplot his world — FIRE BREATHING LIONS, GIANT BATS, SNAKES, LIVING SKELETONS and the LEGIONS OF THE DAMNED, Fireth his test of the twist of the twist of the twist of the twist of the twistome appearance of a MULTI-HEADED DRAGON, to regain what is rightfully his is it more than you can hande?...
RASTAN THE WARRIOR KING.
"SLICK AND COMPELLING" Crash "RASTAN SAGA IS GOOD ENTERTAINING STUFF AND IT'LL KEEP HARDENED ARGADE FIENDS GOING FOR A LONG TIME"
Commodore User.

Licensed from Tatto Corp., 1985

£7.95

6 Central Street Manchester M2 5NS

播 和

an and the

THE PARTY NAMED IN

he no

AND THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPER

H

R U H G G N E

GHT

If way through specimen — the back elleys, the cap its Fight your way through LARVOUS community the MHEADS, the BEASTIE BOYS, the LARVOUS Dire has steerny right in a York this is just the rip of the iceberg

JOHN CHILLING QUEST, to confient

I-BIG.

GRACHING ASS

RIBIC."
HE CRAPHICS ARE OUTSTANDING
HE CRAPHICS ARE OUT OF PLACE
ACARTOON FILM" 2290 64
"SPACKED WITH FIVE
VELS OF PURE
DICTVENESS; YOU
INTEG VERONG"

ARKANGID
type Space Fighter
MIXTECTURE through long forgotten computer data until it finds the answer to this threate until it finds the answer to this threate... "AUS 2" is feuriched and appeads towards the threatering site presence, before it can extinate it's revenge..." This Revenuge OF DOH."
"A CHEAT GAME, FUNAND FRUSTRATINGLY ADDICTIVE" Sizolair User.
"OCMBINE GORGEOUS VISUAL PRESENTATION WITH POWERFUL WEARON ENHANCEMENTS AND
'YOU'HAVE REVENGE OF DOH" Zapp64.
"CC AND, BUY IT!
MMERIATELY"
'Your Sinclair.

COMMODE

8.9

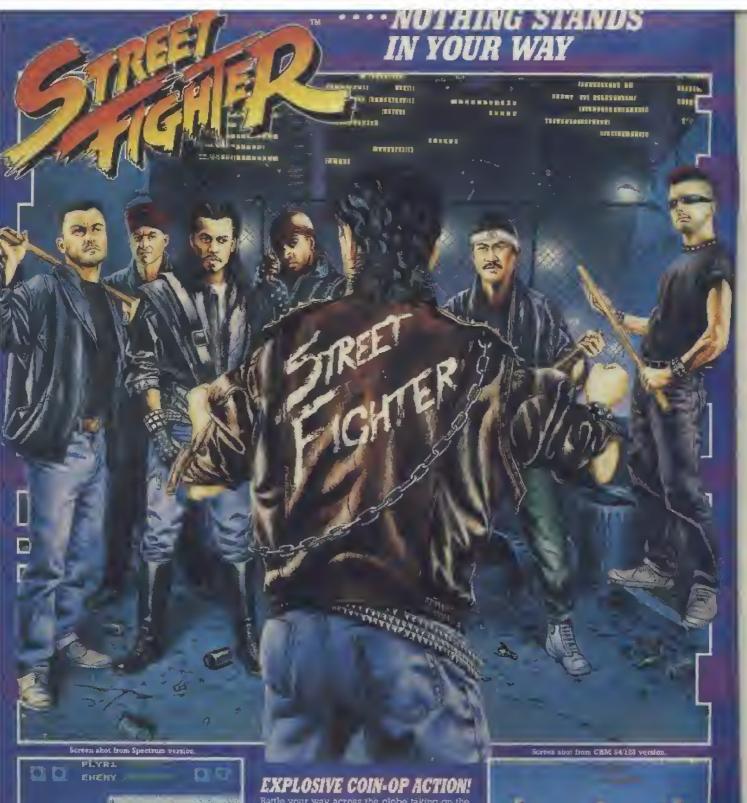

Also available on the IBM/Ametrad PC
Licensed from @ Tallio Corp., 1985

Also available on the IBM/Ametrad PC

E Compatibles & Atan'ST

Tel; 061 834 3939 Telex: 669977

Battle your way across the globe taking on the mighty fighting power of 10 awesome exponents of hand to hand combat. "A SINCLAIR CLASSIC"

"Thoroughly impressive combat game which knocks Renegade for 5. Go damage someone." Sinclair User "It's fast, good looking and well hard" Your Sinclair

CBM 64/128 £9.99: - £14.99a Spectrum 48K £8.99t

Spectrum +3 £12.99d Amstrad £9.99t - £14.99d

Atani ST £19.99d Amiga £24.99d

GIANTS OF THE VIDEO GAMES INDUSTRY

ADVENTURERS! PREPARE YOURSELF WITH THE ADVENTURE TRAIL EXTRA

Go FORWARD and LOOK at the best thing an adventurer could ASK for. EXAMINE the pages of Samara's Adventure Trail Extra and you will FIND an exclusive interview with the masters of the microchip, Magnetic Scrolls. Plus a LOOK at the top adventures coming your way and a multitude of reviews and hints on the latest games. It all starts on page 51!

CENSORSHIP AND 16-BIT!

Everyone has their own ideas about censorship in the software industry. In this month's Split Screen we take a look at both points of view. It's not just Martech who have created a hiatus, others are also at fault. On what side of the censorship fence do you fall? ... 92 Find out on page

So which is the best, the Atari ST or the Commodore Amiga? Should you spiash out £400 on one of these 16-bit 'wonder computers', or are they all just sound and graphics? We sound and graphics? We compare both machines and find out if the software is up to the machines' high specification. Find out on page 70

DO IT YOURSELF

- GREMLIN GO TO ALTON TOWERS . . . and give away a CD MIDI hi-fill 26
- JOURNEY TO SPACE ... with Darth Vader and Domark 47
- 115 SOMEWHERE OVER THE RAINBOW ...

REGULARS

- 29 COMMUNICATIONS
- 31 LLOYD MANGRAM'S FORUM
- NICK ROBERTS'S 37 PLAYING TIPS
- CECCO'S LOG 48
- 51 SAMARA'S ADVENTURE TRAIL
- 62 ON THE SCREEN
- 65 PBM MAILBOX
- 66 FRONTLINE
- 76 RUN IT AGAIN
- 85 TECH NICHE
- 94 CHARTS
- 116 SCORES
- 117 PREVIEWS
- 120 ET AL

ISSUE 56 ON SALE AUGUST 25

ENTONISE. AT Example Hill. Londow. Sprepshine SYS 195 to 558 ASS 172/3 Edition: Committee Handy Assistant Edition: Retaining Assistant Hands Production Hands Production: Managers John Hands Production: Managers Hands Summer, Store Wyrone Production: Managers Hands Summer, Store Wyrone Production: Managers Hands Summer Assistant Hands Production: Managers Hands Han

A NEWSFIELD PUBLICATION COVER DESIGN & ILLUSTRATION BY OLIVER FREY

TURN. WILL HE BECOME A ONE TON GIANT OR WILL HE END UP AT THE HEALTH FARM OR THE GYM? HIS FUTURE IS IN YOUR HANDS.

ONE OF THE MOST ADDICTIVE PLATFORM GAMES EVER. P.

AVAILABLE FOR: ATARI ST & AMIGA £19.95; C64 DISK £14.95; AMS CPC DISK £14.95; C64 CASSETTE £9.95; AMS CPC CASSETTE; SPECTRUM & MSX £8.95.

GRANDSLAM
ENTERTAINMENTS LTD.
12-18 PAUL STREET
LONDON
EC2A 4JS

Write now for your copy of Chubby Gristle. Send a cheque or postal order to Grandslam Entertainment Ltd., Units 1 & 2, Conlon Developments, Watery Lane, Darwen, Lancs BB3 2ET. POST & PACKING FREE! OR Phone 01-247 6434 our Credit Card Hotline (Access or Visa)

BUSINESS AS USUA

'What's this?', I hear you cry, 'No new faces?'. Nope, I'm afraid not. In fact things are getting very normal here at CRASH Towers. Well, they were until Dave Baxter from GO! rang up with news of the latest Rainbow Arts release. We just had to squeeze a review in, you just wouldn't believe the trouble we went to. It all started when . . . no, I think I'll save that story for some other time. Perhaps Christmas, when we'll have literally hundreds of pages to fill! So what's happening? Welf, this month we've got a great Adventure Trail Extra — Samara's been through three quills in a week! And what about the Adventure Trail Extra cover? Goes nicely with the Split Screen feature, don't you think? No doubt, censorship — the subject of discussion this month—will create a few postal worries for Lloyd's niceon boles and that's not a bad pigeon holes, and that's not a bad thing. (After all, he is going on holiday this month!) If Split Screen doesn't get your back up then take a look at the feature on the Amiga and ST - it exposes the real facts about these so-called megacomputers.

Don't forget about the National Computer Games

Championships. By the time you read this all the qualifying heats will be over. The semi-finals take place at Manchester Airport on August 16 and at Waterloo Station on August 18. So, if you can find time between lazing in the sun (huh, some loke that is!) and watching Neighbours – well, that's all Nick Roberts ever does – why not come along and join us? It'll be a scream!

Finally, if there's anyone out there that fancies handling mounds of technical queries and reviews, please drop me a line. Tell me all about yourself and what sort of technical hardware and software knowledge you have Next month sees the last of Simon Goodwin's regular columns for CRASH—'I just can't cope!'. Although, he'll still be writing the odd technical feature, on things like the new Sinclair Professional PC (turn the page for more on that).

So what are waiting you for? Start reading.

Dominic Hance

Amazing AUGUST accomplishments

THE GREAT GIANA SISTERS

They're mad! They're bad. And, they're from Rainbow Arts

MARAUDER

Battlecar gets involved in major smashi

% TOW F ...

ALTERNATIVE WORLD GAMES

Play a game and see the world!

102 BATTLE SHIPS

The famous pencil 'n' paper game in glorious Spectricolour

HOPPING MAD

Giving the expression 'a rubber Spectrum' a whole new mean-impossible. That Elvin Atombender is up to his old tricks, again!

IMPOSSIBLE MISSION II

79 NIGHT RAIDER

Flight sim action in the air of World War II

101 ROAD BLASTERS

Burn rubber, in US Gold's latest hot game

The Archimedes game Zarch makes it to the Spectrum

- 80 Alternative World Games-
- 20 102

- Gremlin Graphics Arctic Fax Bactorial Arts Battle Sthips Encore Dream Warrier US Gold European S-A-Side Silverbird The Funy Martech The Great Glene Sisters Rein-how Arts
- Hopping Mad Elite Imposaible Mission II Epyx

- Kemshu Cult
 Maraudar Hewson
 Might Reider Gremlin Graphics
 Octan Silverbird
 Overkill Atlantis
 Popostick Olympics Silverbird
 Ready Steady Ga Alternative
 Road Blasters US Gold
 Regue Masterfronic
 Stuff Elike Simulator Silverbird
- 13 102 101 105 103
- nt Blke Simulator Silverbird
- Vious Firebird

gamer's most popular exhibition. Everyone who matters will be there. Make sure you're prepared! ■ FANZINE FILE With exams out of the way, it's back to the grind

FREE!

PC SHOW SUPPLEMENT
The definitive guide to everything happening at the Earl's Court PC Show 88, You'll need nothing else

but this comprehensive run down on the computer

EXT MONT

- MONITOR The spotlight falls on Killer Computers
 COMPACT DISCS We've the latest portable players to give way ■ SCHOOL'SOUT How computers are making schools redundant
- # PLUS ALL YOUR FAVOURITE REGULARS

FREE!

It's all in issue 56 of CRASH - your Spectrum would be lonely without it

ON SALE AUGUST 25

ADVERTISERS INDEX

72-73	Mega Save 106
	Merlin's Kingdom 33
	Microdenier 69
	MicroProse 18-19
	Montbuild 108-109
	National Westminster Bank 10-11
	Palace 9, 32, 83, 86, 118
	Parade Games 65
	Periguin Books 35
	Romantic Robot 84
	Softek 124
4, 42, 100	Target Games 113
5	Trybridge 32
17	US Gold 29, 61, 107, 122-123
2-3	Video Vault 119
64	Worldwide Software 105
41	WTS Electronics 86
	30 110 34, 45 114 39-99 68 90-91 24-25 113 32 39 4, 42, 100 6 17 2-3 64

FIRE-BREATHING FANTASY

The only official computerised version of AD&D

BYTE THE BIG APPLE

THE BIG APPLE ENTERTAINMENT COMPANY has announced its arrival in a blur of all-American hype and razzamatazz, Sur of all-American hype and razzamatazz, Holdings, the company plans to release at least four full-price titles and twenty at least four full-orice titles and twenty budget titles (on two separate labels) before the end of this year. First on the menu is Oopst, a "deceptively simple" strategy game which has you scooting around the space-time continuum collecting vital gravity pods. Shortly to be followed by Delphara and Neutran, it should be available for the Spectrum soon. Not that The Big Apple are going to confine their activities to publishing software: they've also organised a irequest-buyers club, christened, in appropriately streetwise fashion, The Brenx Club. Leader of this trendy gang is cool dude Bronx Billy who greets all participants with the cheery catch phrase 'Have a nice play'. Members will be able to collect apple tokens on their special leaflets. Once you've collected enough, you'll be able to exchange them for a wide range of gifts including records, tapes and T-shitts. Garnes buyers who send a stamped addressed envelope to Big Apple will receive a free membership pack, including membership pack and a collecting leaflet. software: they've also organised a

NEW JOYSTICK RANGE

NEW LOOK FOR CODE MAST

STREETWISE budget software producers Code Masters seem to be in a slight bit of trouble over using the picture of Jesse Owens on the front of The Race Against Time (79%, Issue 54) packaging, And, 'as a result of a misunderstanding, all future packs will be, adorned with the glorious picture of athlete Carl Lewis. Why anyone should object to this non-profit making game is beyond us! After all, every penny of profit goes to Sport Aid 88, a very worthy charity.

Alan Sugar: watching the rest to produce the best

As with all of their releases Amstrad are fightly optimists. We can but wait and see

E NATIONAL COMPUTER MPIONSHIPS ROGRESS REPORT

The National Computer Games Championship is sponsored by US Gold in association with the National Association of Boys Clubs and the Personal Computer Show and organised by Newafield Limited, publishers of CRASH, ZZAPIB4 and THE GAMES MACHINE. We gratefully acknowledge the kind assistance of British Rail, the British Almorts Authority, Dixons for supplying the Spectrum + 3s and monitors, Commodore (DK) for supplying the Commodore (DK) for supplying the Commodore 128s and monitors; and Kontx for the joysticks. And thanks to the staff and members of the local Boys Clubs for an their help and patience!

s 16 Spectrum qualifiers, from $ and, Wates/South West and The Midlands heats, already held, sit back and relax their wrists, ready to renew battle on August 16 and 18 more contestants bash away on their favourite games in anticipation of the London/South East and The North heats, in the meantime we take a look at the action and results of the heats already held.

First, then, we travel to that silvery grey city, often referred to as the Athens of the North, in the company of Mark 'da Vinci Caswell.

EDINBURGH .

The pace botted up as Stephen Smithwhite took up the challenge and promptly set the score to beat of over 135090. Could it be beaten? The answer tooked like yes' as Stuert Campbell and Brian Wardlaw took up the challenge, the battle raging on between both players as they passed the 100000 mark with moderate ease. But sadly for them both Stephen's score proved too high to reach, the last few grains of sand in the digital hourglass ran out, leaving Stuart on just under 110000 and Brian close behind with over 103000. Formidable scores nevertheless.

We congratulated the winners and other semi-finalists, and commiserated with the losers. In the end, though, all went away with prizes for their valiant service.

Spectrum qualifiers for the semi-finals to be held in Manchester Stephen Smithwhile (whner)

Stuart Campbell Brian Wardiaw Mark Smithwhite William Bann

NAILSWORTH

NAILSWOHTH

Saturday June 18

A week later, and the action moved south (Nailsworth Boys Club in Glouicestershire, to be exact), the adjudication this time in the impetent hands of Dominic Handy.

All the way from Swansea came Michael Deer, a timid fellow in construction, who placed his gitted frame in front of the Spectrum: +3. Others had six or seven practice games, but he needed only one (which he didn't even finish). As the ten-minute battle commerced, the two contestants aside young Deer feil by the wayside but Michael continued to the end, clocking up a magnificent 232460 points, compared to the 30000 of his fellow contestants, it was not over, though, Up stepped a very confident looking Mark Sevill from Newent, scoring 230740; not bad for a virgin fighter. You either had the knack or you didn't, these two guys certainly didn't, these two guys certainly didnot be the same diese.

Spectrum qualifiers for the semi-finals to be held in London Michael Deer (Winner) 232460 Mark Sevill 239740 Philip White 168410 Justin Pearson 157210 Paul Burridge 152300 and wide, with Leicester providing a mound of talent. This time, to the delight of the competitors, the US Gold entourage unveiled the recently Smashed game Bionic Commando. They all seemed to like the practise games, and confidence was running high. But the real thing is a completely different matter.

BIRMINGHAM

As expected the scores were close, but no one was prepared for the nail-biting contest which developed. Up stepped Simon Hadlington from Stourbridge who proceeded to shoet and swing his way to a very credible 34300. Pretty good, but Gavin Cavendish from Groby in Leicester geve Simon the Inght of his life with a score of 34280.

Just as everyone thought the contest was over a very smug the dijust come second in the Common resection) Paul Mellerick from Leicester stepped up. With Konix joystick in one hand and bionic arm in the other he notched up an amazing 359901 Phew, enough to make Nick drop his pizze!

Spectrum qualifiers for the semi-finals to be held in Landon Paul Melierick (winner) 35990 Simon Hadlington 34300 Gevin Cavendish 34280 Adrian Grubb 176vor Mullen 12010

T. H. E G. R. E. A. TG LIVES LIUES === SCORE BBB1EGE Producer: Rainbow Arts Retail price: £8.99 cassette, £12.99 disk Authors: Source Software

12 CRASH August 1988

G. I. A. N. A S. I. S. T. E. R. S leeping safely in her bed one night, petite Giana from Milano has a strange, milano has a strange, macabre dream. In her nightmare, she enters a weird land, full of strange aliens and temble traps. Her only chance of escaping this dreamland is to explore its 32 levels in search of a magic diamond. The adventure takes place above or before inspections. mond. The adventure takes place above or below ground and contains many platforms and obstactes. Giana has a time limit of 100 seconds in which to complete each horizontally scrolling landscape; failure to do so results in the loss of one of three lives.

While jumping and running over the platforms, Giana must avoid lethel contact with the many allens which look suspiciously like a host of cute and cuddly creatures. They include the squirming worms (cute?), scuttling lobsters and "The Great Glana Sisters lacks the colour of the Commodore 64 version, but makes up for it with nicety shaded, well-drawn characters. The horizontal scrolling İS smooth. although a trifle slow at times. Little Giana is ever so cutely animated as she runs and jumps through the various levels, head-but-ting the blocks and squash-ing the animals. When she collects the magic wheel, she even gets an electric shock which makes her hair stend on end! There is some great sound on the 128K with a catchy tune and etmospheric sound effects.

Playability ranks highly, especially with the many extra weapons and features to help make prog-ress easier. It's this veriety which makes Giana's adventure so addictive. Giana Sisters is a neat variation on the classic Super Mario Bros theme and should be popular with all arcade fans. Go out and buy it. "

91%

" As Giana and Maria from Milano head-butt their way through their fairytale adventure, they encounter an incredible series of weird and wonderful creatures. Though monochromatic, the lobsters, turties and scuttling spiders are detailed and create an infectiously light-hearted cartoon atmosphere. Each level boasts a bewildering аптву of walls, caverns, chasms, towers, crevasses and canyons, punctured by a seemingly endless series of hidden treasure and rooms. There's always something new to discover even if you've been playing the game for days and days. The controls are smooth and the enimation of Giana, particularly when her cute-little-girl heircut turns into a full-blown punk afro affair, is practically perfect. Comparisons with Super Mario Bros are inevitable. Obviously The Great Giana Sisters can't emulate the superior graphics and sound of the arcade machine but, in terms of gameplay (which is the most important thing after all), those Super Mario Bros have certainly met their match."

These squashed by jumping on them from above, or shot using dream-bubbles or an all-destroying smart bornto.

Maglic crystals can be obtained by head-butting or hitting blocks with a star on them; when 100 have been collected, Glans is rewarded with an extra life. Extra weepons and features can also be gained from blocks to make progress easier. These include three types of dreambubble: lightning bolts, rebounding double lightning bolts and strawbornes which home in on the aliens. Extra features include maglic bornbs, a clock which sends aliens to sleep for a while, a tollipop tyleiding an extra life) and a water drop to protect Giana against fire.

Traps in the landscape include

Traps in the landscape include lethal spikes, fire pits and pools of water. There are also holes, of which some are deadly, while others lead to secret crystal filled rooms — only trial and error determines which are which.

A status strip above the main play area displays the number of crystals collected, lives remaining and time left, if Giana completes a level within the time limit, she earns a bonus; the number of seconds left multiplied by ten.

Only if poor little Giana manages to escape through the 32 levels carrying the magical diamond, carried world in old Milano. If two players wish to take part, they take turns to play, the second player controls Giana's sister Maria.

" The Great Giana Sisters is your head on the brick' games. You know the type - like Super Mario Bros. The graphics are cute and cuddly with the little sisters excellently animated, but perhaps just a mite too slow. The monsters and other sprites are also well drawn and to kill them you have to manoeuvre your sister so that she drops down and squashes the aliens flat. As for the colours: well, the monoc-hrome looks like it's been produced randomly and it comes up with some rather garish combinations (magenta paper and cyan ink!) but this doesn't spoil the action. Each level holds more surprises and the graphics get better all the time. Despite the drawback in terms of speed, the game is immensely playable; I couldn't put the joystick down for ages. An essential purchase for all Spectrum srcade gamesters.

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Cursor, Kempston, Sinclair Graphics: monochromatic, cartoon-like characters distinguished by plenty of detail Sound: catchy tunes and Options: two-player option General rating: highly addic-tive and great fun to play. Plenty of hidden passages and surprise features should keep you hooked for weeks

Presentation 79% Graphics Playability Addictive qualities OVERALL

VIRUS

Producer: Firebird Retail price: £7.95 Author: Steven Dunn from a concept by David Braben country has been invaded by waves of hostile alien spaceships, Instead of attacking military installations, they are Intent on polluting the landscape with a red virus. This kills off all plant and animal life, including humans.

Determined to counter this devastating threat, a brave pilot is strapping himself into the cockpit strapping himself into the cockpit of his state of the art Hoverplane. This futuristic flying machine is equipped with the latest technology – long-range scanner, laser cannon and a limited supply of smart bombs. The latter can be used to destroy any aliens on the used to destroy any aliens on the screen.

The action is shown in 3-D with wire-frame vector graphics depicting the Hoverplane and enemy ships. The contours of the tree-filled landscape are shown by a pattern of undulating squares depicting the earth's surface. The long-range scanner, in the top left comer of the screen, shows the positions of the enemy ships in relation to the Hoverplane.

MARK

My first impression of Virus was that it's extremely hard. found Initialiv Hoverplane to uncontrollable but, after some semblance of order was established, I managed to to execute some neat aerobatical stunts. I still didn't shoot very many enemy craft though. Considering this game first appeared on the machines with a bigger byte, Firebird have done a very job the commendable converting if to converting. The landscape rolls along up hill and down dale very smoothly: the only slightly annoying glitches are the colour clash between the Hoverplane and landscape, and the appearance of the enemy craft on the map as they pass. Overall, a fast and furious blast-'em-up. After the Initial control difficulties have been Ironed out, it's great fun to play.

Gauges above the main playing area show the amount of fuel remaining and the plane's altitude. Extra fuel can be obtained by landing at home base. The Hoverplane is controlled by thrusting the engines and rotating

▲ Archimedes + Zarch = Spectrum + Virus

NICK

" Virus is graphically excellent, the 3-D effect works well and the scrolling is smooth. The screen is a green monochrome colour with the exception of the border but as the ship is white, it does tend to clash with anything else it approaches. At first the Hoverplane is terribly difficult to control. The thrust control method is very similar to the ageing thrust games, like 1985 - The Day After and the more recent Thrust II, but with the added confusion of 3-D. The landscape moves up and down very convincients making the game book like a wild watter ride! The convincingly making the game look like a wild waitzer ride! The main let down is the sound – not one beep to be heard all through the game. As we all know, an atmospheric sound effect makes a game, but with Virus you just have to use your Imagination! Even so, Virus is great for all those fans of thrust and 3-D – a perfect combination." combination.

600 E

Slow, but sure

▲ Will the virus be stopped, before it get YOU!

PHIL

" Yet another wire-frame shoot-'em-up hits the streets. But, the addition of a smooth moving, tree-filled landscape makes Virus rather unusual. Another innovation is the strenge control method rather unusual. Another innovation is the strenge control method which has the Hoverplane flying like a helicopter – it can only thrust upwards and therefore has to dip its nose to achieve forward movement. This is confusing at first and difficult to master and has you crashing continually into the ground. It's easier if you just use the keyboard, though. The movement of the landscape as you skim over the tree tops is surprisingly smooth and quite fast. Unfortunately the attractive 3-D display is accompanied by silence – there's not even the tintest bleep. As a result there's very little atmosphere and flying around shooting. a result there's very little atmosphere and flying around shooting aliens soon gets repetitive. There is little if any strategy involved in Virus but even so, it's a well-presented, playable shoot-'em-UD.

79%

the craft. At high altitudes, the fuel supply is automatically cut and the plane lowers rapidly towards the ground. You move, helicopter-style, by dipping the plane's nose and thrusting.

During play, a map of the land can be displayed showing polluted areas in red. All enemy ships in the attack wave must be destroyed before the whole map turns red. Each wave contains many different allens, including the dreaded seeders (flying saucers which hover and sometimes land, spraying the deadly virus). Also polluting the area are the high flying bombers. The objective of alien ships (chevron-shaped fighters and karnikaze pests) is to destroy the Hoverplane. Collision with any spaceship results in the immediate destruction of the Hoverplane.

an alien attack wave defeated, the player gains a bonus score determined by how much of the landscape is still free of the virus. An extra Hoverplane and smart bomb are awarded every 5000 points.

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Cursor, Kempston,

Graphics: the wire-frame 3-D landscape suggest movement very convincingly. Pity about the colour clash Sound: none

Options: definable keys General rating: a playable conversion of a 16-bit game. Just slightly too hard to keep you really hooked

Presentation	76%
Graphics	83%
Playability	77%
Addictive qualities	71%
OVERALL	77%

POGOSTICK OLYMPICS

Producer: Silverbird Retail price: £1.99 Authors: Probe Software

lder readers may recall a strange craze that caught on a good few years ago which involved standing on a stick with a spring on the end and bouncing around. This ancient art was known as pogoing.

Pogostick Olympics revives this weird pastime and elevates it from the pages of The Beano to the status of a sport. The game is divided into five events

Event number one has you bouncing atong trying to pop floating balloons with a spiked helmet. Next is the 110m hurdles which is closely followed by the triple jump, target practice and an obstacle course

The playor gets three attempts to qualify for each event before being eliminated from the contest.
If all three events are successfully completed with a high enough score, the player has pogoed himself into the elite hall of fame.

▼ Who needs muscles when you've got a pogostick?

CRITICISM

" After skateboarding in 720° and rollerskating in Skate Crazy, the designers of Pogostick Olympics had to look back a few years to find a suitable craze on which to base a game. I thought the only place where pogoing remained in fashion was within the pages of The Beano. The game itself contains five very tedious events, none of which is in the least bit playable. Progress is so easy that even a three-year-old could complete the game. Every event is very similar in both graphics and gameplay, with a simply drawn figure bouncing through a horizontally scrolling landscape and the controls themselves are very basic. This, along with the ease of completion, makes this a land lateral transfer and simple transfer and landscape and the same and lateral transfer and l dodo instead of a pogo simulation. If this is what pogoing is about give me a skateboard any day!

"At least when you're pogoing out in the open air there's scope for a little variety:

you can wave your arms about (look no hands!), perform daredevil hops, and hurtle headfirst into the flowerbed. This sort of action is painfully absent from Silverbird's simulation. In fact, it doesn't really simulate anything very much. All you can do is waggle the loystick, press fire every now and then, and hope for the best. Jerky graphics and simplistic backdrops mean that you can't even enjoy the scenery as you're bounding along. KATI

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Kempston Graphics: simplistic sprites and samey backdrops for every event Sound: sparse spot effects General rating: it's probably safer to stick to the real thing

D
Presentation	20%
Graphics	30%
Playability	25%
Addictive qualities	19%
OVERALL	20%

IMPOSSIBLE MISSION II

Note the complex, icon-driven control panel at the bottom of the screen

Producer: Epyx

Retail price: £8.99 cassette, £12.99 disk Authors: Szenttornyai Laszlo and Kovats Imre tvin Atombender, the infamous mad professor was vanquished by the fearless Agent 4125 in the original Impossible Mission. Two years on the evil egghead has returned, and plans to destroy the world with a missile. Elvin's headquarters are an eight-tower complex computative within the country.

on eight-tower complex somewhere within the country. Play begins in a randomly selected tower, each of which has up to five rooms accessed by using the elevators. The rooms

KATI

" Impossible Mission II has all the improvements you'd expect from a game that's being released nearly three years after its predecessor.

Agent 4125 lease Agent 4125 leaps and bounds gracefully through an incredibly complex environment of treacherous platforms and ledges which planorms and ledges which boasts some very trickly screens. Certain rooms makes pretty stiff demands on the powers of lateral thinking, especially as the array of cellectable bonuses means that you conmeans that you can negotiate practically every problem in several different ways. You need every single one of your ten lives: any second you can hurtle second you can hurtle through perlious gaps in the tumble inopportune lift or cross the path of a wild, warmongering patrol droid. It's just a pity that the sound doesn't match up to the high standards of the gameplay. Even without it, you have an action-packed platform challenge which should keep you on the edge of your seat for hours at a time."

85%

PAUL

"Impossible Mission II picks up where the prequel finished — on a VERY high note. I played Impossible Mission over and over for many months and it seems as if I'm going to be just as busy with the follow-up. Elvin may still be up to his old tricks, but that doesn't mean the game content is archaic. impossible Mission II has all the good points of the first plus many extra tweaks and improvements making it a game of today, rather than a new angle on an old concept. The gameplay may be the same, but with Improved graphics, extra robots, more rooms and tougher puzzles Impossible Mission II is one of the best summer arcade strategy games you could wish for."

88%

contain platforms and lifts, guarded by six different types of robot. Furniture, plants and other objects found in each room and can be searched for digits and other useful items.

other useful items.
Digits form the numeric codes needed to gain access to the next tower. These are stored in a pocket computer which can only be used in the corridors. Some of the digits collected are useless and the code is only completed when all three correct digits have been found and arranged in the right order.

Some items conceal a variety of different commands which are carried out using a menu called up from the computer terminals scattered about the rooms. Utilising these you can disable

MARK

"Impossible Mission II has done nothing to tarnish my liking for the series. Graphically, the game is impressive, with a very athietic Agent 4125 leaping and bounding around the screen, valuly attempting to keep out of the reach of the robots' steely grip. The old grey cells are also ably exercised by the flendishly difficult, but entirely logical, puzzles. As with the original game, the player is only given a set time limit to defeat the mad professor: this adds a definite urgency to the proceedings. Stop Atombender or it's goodbye cruei world! More fun for fans of the original."

70%

patrolling robots for a few seconds, reset the lifts to their initial positions, move certain floors horizontally, gain extra time and set bombs. Time bombs explode a few seconds after they have been placed; normal bombs are only detonated when a robot moves over them.

Agent 4125 is extremely agile and can somersault from platform to platform. Collision with certain droids or their plasma fire removes one of ten lives. Other robots lay mines which must not be stepped on. If you fall through the bottom of the screen, the mission is over.

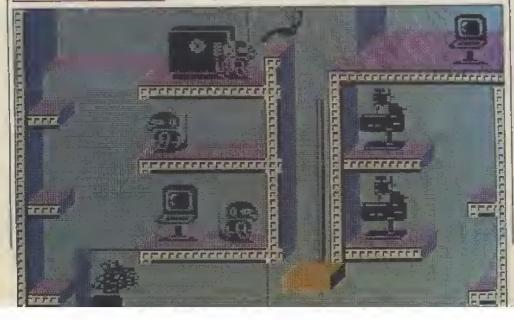

In each tower there is a safe which must be blown open by using a time bomb. Inside is a musical sequence which is stored on 4126's miniature cassette deck. This has standard controls to allow the editing of the various sequences. Some of the sequences are duplicated and must be eliminated.

Agent 4125 has only three hours to assemble the correct sequences to allow access to Elvin's control room via the express elevator. This room contains three terminals but only one halfs the missile countdown—the others mean instant death.

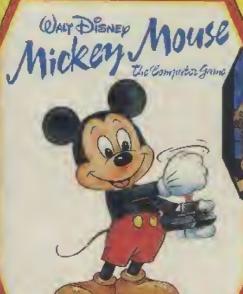

Joysticks: Kempston, Sincleir Graphics: detailed, bright and colourful Sound: tune on loading, minimal spot effects General rating: with so many Improvements and expansions on the original Impossible Mission Hishouldn't be missed. Immediate fun and long term addiction

Presentation	78%
Graphics	82%
Playability	88%
Addictive qualities	85%
OVERALL	84%

ahead of the

CBM 64/128 £9.99 c - £14.99 d Amstrad £9.99 c - £14.99 d Spectrum £7.99 c - £12.99 d Amiga £19.99 d Atari ST £19,99 d

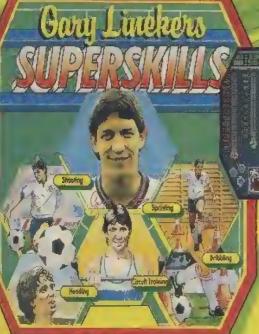

Don't miss these 4 great new releases from the creators of the most original and exciting games of all time.

CBM 64/128 £9.99 c - £14.99 d Amstrad £9.99 c - £14,99 d Spectrum £7.99 c = £12.99 d Atari ST£19.99 d

CBM 64/128 £9.99 c £14.99 d Spectrum £7.99 c - £12.99 d

Disney's enchanted castle, Wreak havoc in Japan as Twrecks: a large and angry pre-historic monster searches for stolen eggs, Improve your footballing shifls with the help of Gary Lineket or enjoy 2 different games in one-with skate crary
— the "Cat. Park Challenge" and the "Championship Course"

CBM 64/128 £9,99 c - £14,99 d Spectrum-£7.99 c - + 3 £12.99 d Amstrad £9.99 c - £14.99 d

All mail order enquiries to: Gremlin Graphics Software Lld., Alpha House, 10 Carver Street, Sheffield 51,4FS.

HAVE YOU OVERLOOKED THE W C

Gunship

Climb into the cockpit of the AH-64A warrior helicopter, one of the most fierce and elusive weapons in the modern military arsenal.

Missions form from today's headlines take you to the world's holtest trouble spots.

£9.95

£9.95

MicroProse's best-selling combat simulations are available for your Spectrum. Cunship, F-15 Strike Eagle and Stlent Service take full advantage of your computer's capabilities and give you the chance to experience exceptional excitement and action.

Incredible realism, coupled with anmatched depth and playability, have won these titles numerous awards and accolades. All three put you in dangerous and challenging environments, where you must strive to accomplish the same goals and feats as actual fighter pilots and submarinets.

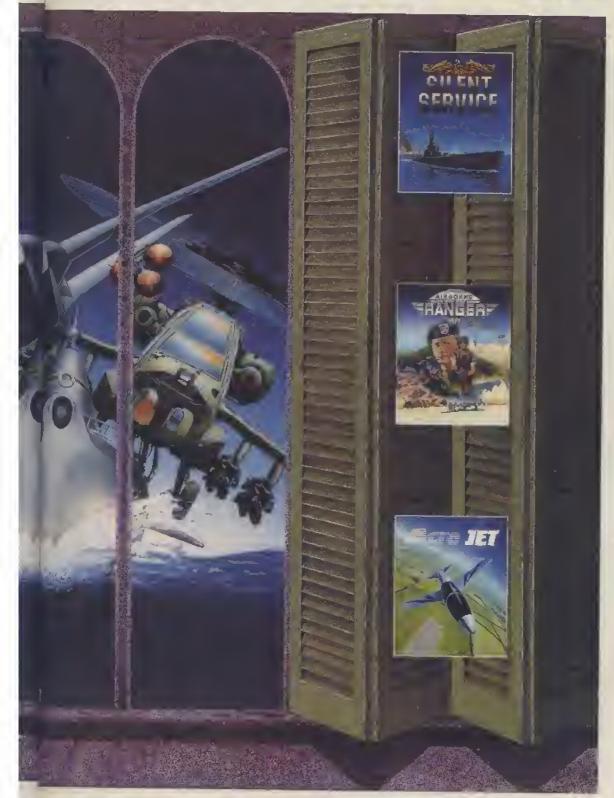

Whether you're flying the world's most advanced attack helicopter in Gunship, piloting the high performance F-15 fighter plane, or controlling a World War II submarine.

you'll need to master your vehicle's authentic control. Information and weapon system.

Dand split-second decision making. So, if you want to enjoy the thrilling action of these all-time classics send off the order form to day.

ORLD'S LEADING SIMULATIONS?

Silent Service

As captain of a World Worll submarine stationed in the South Pacific, your duty is to find, attack and sink Japanese shipping. All the critical battle stations ore accurately replicated, so get ready to take the helm.

£9.95

Airborne Ranger

Your chance to join America's most elite soldiers. Airborne Ranger is a brilliant combination of arcade oction and strategy simulation. You'll be sent on 12 daring missions, deep behind enemy lines.

NOW AVAILABLE AIRBOURNE RANGER £14.95

Acrojet

Compete in the Decathlon of Sports Aviotion Events-the ultimate challenge for the most during stunt pilots. Leurn to perform precision loops, rolls, and Cuban Eights in this thrilling-but terrifying-simulation.

£9.95

Software Title	Disk	Cassette	Computer	Quantity	Amount
			'TOTAL INC £1.	00 P&P (UK only)
tame (Block Caps)			Address
		Post	ode	_ Daytime Tel:
Secondary O-wilds		4		Expiry Date
Access/Visa Card No. Cheques made payable to M	icroProse Softwar	to liter

ARCTICFOX

Producer: Electronic Arts

Retail price: £12.99 cassette, £14.99 disk

Authors: Dynamix

Fox is a tank simulation set in the tough terrain of Antarctica. The player controls the Arcticfox; an advanced tank armed with various weapons and equipped with many instruments.

The action is shown in 3-D vanishing point perspective with wire frame graphics. A radar screen gives the position of the Arcticfox and its enemies.

Charged with the objective of destroying the enemy's main fort, the tank moves across a terrain of snow and ice encountering ridges which can be climbed to obtain a strategic viewpoint, and slippery mud flats.

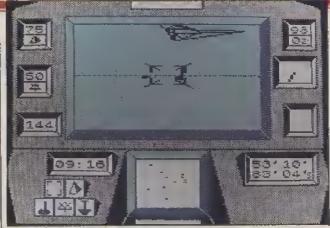

On the ground, hazards consist of slow-moving heavy tanks, light non-shooting tanks. reconnaissance sleds, stationary missiles and floating mines. There are also enemies in the air: fastfighters moving reconnaissance flyers.

The Arcticfox has the ability to burrow into the snow and hide from enemy forces. Its guided missiles can be controlled after firing and the Inclination of the tank's cannon can be altered to allow it to shoot either ground or

CRITICISM

" Arcticfox comes with the booklet detailed instruction necessary for a complicated game necessary for a complicated game of this type, but the game doesn't really live up to the promise of complex strategy in the manual. Control is awkward and unresponsive, with the tank movement being very sluggish. The graphics are monochromatic and slow and indistinguishable from a distance. The guided missile option is difficult to use, and it's hard to after the cannon's inclination: a keyboard control Inclination; a keyboard control would have been quicker than having to select a special function. Gameplay is fairly simple (like a slow Battlezone clone); the various strategic options don't seem to enter into play much, especially as they're so awkward. If only the programming had been up to the task of converting the promising game design it could have been so much better; as it is, unplayable and initating."

A spot of target practice

 " Arcticfox is just another 3-D line graphics game in the vein of Catch 23. Just like Catch 23, It's no fun to play and quickly gets incredibly boring. The graphics seem to have a different line seem to have a challent mile thickness to other 3-D games and this makes them look blocky and unattractive. There's the odd sound effect here and extended 128K version. The way it loads is terrible with all the borders in the game loading as SCREENS files and then being saved to memory. This takes ages and makes the front end of the game monotonous. Arcticfox is a very disappointing release from Electronic Arts. "

 " Arcticfox reminded me greatly Arctictox reminded me greatly of that ancient blast from the arcade past — Battlezone. One thing I did notice, though the vehicle is called Arcticlox, yet, according to the instruction manual the south pole is a mere 717 miles away. I think perhaps someone's geography isn't quite up to scratch. Graphically the

THE FURY

Producer: Martech

Retail price: £8.99 cassette, £12.99 disk Authors: Jas Austin and Dave Dew

asten your seat belt for a space age demolition derby! The Fury is a futuristic racing game for daring drivers. The race takes place on a looping track called the Rim which floats in space. The Fury itself is a gateway to a strange dimension which, if hit, can transport the car to another part of the track.

The season consists of 25 races of which there are three basic types: a Time Run which is a race against the clock with no weapons ellowed; a Killing Race in which the player's aim is to destroy as many Noids (novice drivers) as possible, and a Tag Race where one car carries the 'IT' tag which does constant damage to the car, but can be passed to another car by colliding with it.

You start with the cheapest type of car - the Avenger. This has poor performance and low shield protection. Before each race, the player has the option of buying a new car, but only if he has enough money, this is earned by doing well in races. The cars range from the cheap Avenger to the state of the art, but very expensive, Anome. There are also specialist cars such

PHIL

" The instructions to The Fury every long and detailed, even giving a history of RIM racing. The first thing you realise is the very high danger level of this sport – you can't help getting blown up! The graphics are pretty bland but the way the perspective of the cars changes as they move up and down the RIM, gives them a sense of colldity. The process of accumulating money to buy better and better cars keeps you interested, as do the options Interested, as do the options of buying various weapons. I particularly like the missiles which have smoke trailing from them. My only gripe is that the action itself could have been a bit more exciting—perhaps a few track obstacles. However, the game is very absorbing and mixes strategy, with arcade action to good effect."

MARK

there but no tune on the

"Not another race game, I thought. But after extensive play, I came to the conclusion that The Fury is entertaining – at least for a while. The presentation is polished. I especially liked the cross hairs used to make your choice on the options screen. Fellow racers, bumping and jostling around the track, are well-defined and do their best to make sure that the player doesn't survive the race in one piece. On later laps interesting weapons can be added to increase your chances of survival (there's a price on your head, after all) which adds to the general variety. So stay lucky, and pray that you live long enough to spend that bounty

NICK

"A space age demolition derby! Well — what will they think of next! The Fury is an excellently presented race game with attractive background graphics but not much lasting appeal. All the cars move smoothly and can look quite impressive when they're equipped with weapons. Gameplay is very difficult at first: cars ramming you and firing at you make it hard to travel in a straight line. Once you've got used to the road hogs, the contest starts to get quite enjoyable. The different races add some variety and with names such as Killer you can guess what to expect from the opposition! The Fury is fun for a white but I don't expect you'll be playing it for long."

▼ Time to customise your racer — but only if you have the cash game is mediocre. The interior display of the tank is impressive, but what goes on through the viewport isn't. Jerkily scrolling, wire-framed vehicles destruction webbie around bland totally uninteresting backdrops like motorists out for a Sunday drive. Trundle around a while, fire a couple of missiles, fundle about a bit more - that's the only excitement of the game. Either that or as soon as the game starts you have half a dozen missiles at your flank and one fried tank driver. I'm usually all for this type of game, but Arctictox didn't impress me very much.

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Kempston, Sinclair Graphics: archaic, wire-framed 3-

Sound: scratchy spot effects Options: training level. Enemy preview and beginner level on 128K

General rating: a botched rejuvenation of an ageing genre

m .
Presentation	55%
Graphics	45%
Playability	40%
Addictive qualities	41%
OVERALL	4.19/

as the Waster which is good for Killing Races but too slow for other competitions

The equipment menu allows the player to purchase fuel and weapons and, when necessary, have his car repaired. Weapons (only to be used in Killing Races) include missiles, machine guns and two types of flame thrower. During the race a coffision with computer-controlled racers will cause damage to the player's car (indicated on a diagram below the main playing area). If you're not driving in an exciting enough fashion (bad for viewing figures), the judges will track your car with a cross hair end destroy it.

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Cursor, Kempston, Graphics: lacking in colour but fairly detailed Sound: the odd blip with some very low-key crash effects Options: definable keys General rating: a compelling action game but not quite as fast and funous as the racy title

Presentation	75%
Graphics	68%
Playability	73%
Addictive qualities OVERALL	66% 72%
and the state of t	1 4 7a

DREAM WARRIOR

Producer: US Gold Retail price: £8.99 Authors: Tarann

n a future world, controlled by the Master Focus, war is no longer fought on the physical plane, but in people's brains; instead of their lives the victims lose their minds.

The Focus fellowships are battling for supremacy and as a result of their psychic activity, the world is slowly going mad. Three of his six eyes in turn destroys the evil monster and simultaneously, releases the world from its nightmare

Criticism

 " In my opinion Dream Warrior is dire. A splodgy main character sprite hobbles around a cluttered screen in what looks exactly like a Trundling around, shooting demons and collecting their pods is so boring and repetitive.

The whole exercise seems The whole exercise seems totally tedious and pointless - enough to send you to sleep! I could never have dreamed of such a monotonous, badly programmed game – even in my worst nightmares."

 "The main character is detailed and so are the backgrounds - it's just a pity they're both in the same game because they look terrible together. The controls are awkward - you can't go in any direction without bumping into something. The character recognition is clumsy and gives the game an overall feel of

Chronicle of an epic clash between the warrior and his backdrops members of a resistance group have been captured. Your mission is to enter the minds of these men and destroy the Focus's most powerful weapon - Ocular, the Dream Demon.

Two of the men are imprisoned in the offices of Megabuck Inc. whilst the third is trapped in the world of Wyrm, a planetoid twoheaded snake. A dream hopper provides transport between dreams, provided sufficient energy is available.

Throughout all areas, demi- and glant demons roam; if the player hits them, he will awaken by degrees. Shooting the demireleases a variety bestow demons a variety of globes goodies as lift passes and cards gloting the player access to sleeping potions. For each two blue psy-globes collected a section of a dreamer's image is reassembled in the centre of the screen display.

screen display.
Having collected all three images, you face Ocular, the prince of madness. Shooting each diver's suit. Scrolling is jerky, with the meanies unconvincingly hurtling across the screen. Dream Warrior bored me to tears within the first few minutes of play. At first, I ignored the graphics and prayed that some sort of game was hidden beneath the outer layer - I was disappointed. This type of simple shoot and collect-em-up is as old (and as interesting) as the proverbial

 " The use of colour in Dream Warrior is terrible. Variously coloured demi-demons move gerish two-coloured backdrops with terrible colour clash. I thought the blue and cyan colour scheme of the first level was bad, but on another level it's even worse: red and white - it's enough to make you throw up! As if that isn't bad enough, the main character is clumsly drawn and even the scrolling is very jerky. The whole game looks such a mess!

untidiness. When a couple of aliens come on to the screen it allens come on to the screen it looks as if the game has crashed rather than progressed — they're just a mass of pixels, the same colour as everything else. Dream Warrior looks like one big mistake. "

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Kempston, Sinclain Graphics: garish backgrounds, blocky sprites and plenty of colour clash

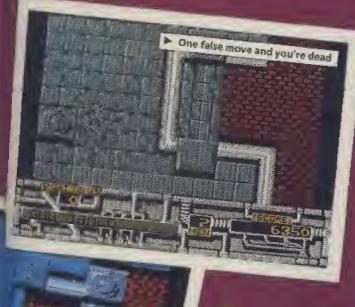

Sound: none

General rating: keep hoping you'll never have a dream as bad as this

	_
Presentation
	36%
Graphics	27%
Playability	31%
Addictive qualities
LAGICTIAE CITATITIES	30%
OVERALL	31%

ver been stuck in a traffic lam and wished you could blast everything out of the way? Well, just for your benefit Hewson have released Marauder featuring a Battledar armed to the

It travels through a battlefield full of danger on the planet Mergatron.

" Another great shoot-'em-up from Hewson hits the streets - and with just as much force as Exolon and Cybernoid, Marauder lives up to the usual Hewson standard of perfection with excellent sound and good quality graphics. The land-scapes of the different levels scroll smoothly as you try to blast everything in sight. But there's much more to Marauder than just shooting: some of the targets fire homing missiles that chase you wherever you go and are very hard to shake off. There are air attacks and if you shoot the wrong beacon, your gun can get jammed or the controls reverse - right in the middle of all the action. To top all that, each level is just as detailed and challenging as the fast; they progress in difficulty to the point at which they become almost impossible (like Level 31). Marauder is yet another excellent game from Hewson."

fighting a multilude of enemies which fire missiles, bombs and Molotov cocktails. The only man capable of controlling this massive Battledar is the brave Captain CT Cobra. His mission: to recover the stolen jewels of Ozymandius which are buried deep beneath the planet's surface.

The action, viewed from overhead, takes place against a monochromatic, vertically scrolling backdrop. Alien vehicling backdrop. Alien vehicling backdrop. Alien vehicling backdrop. Alien vehicling backdrop alien vehicles through the air missile launchers beich explosive and the occasional sincraft travels across the acreen to release a powerful heat seeking missile in addition to ordinary ammunition, the Battledar is equipped with a limited number of smart bombs which destroy all enemies on the screen when fixed.

To make tite in this dangerous environment less hazardous, extra lives and weapons are obtained by shing beacons which continually change colour. The or of a particular beacon when shot determines which weapon or ability the Battledar gains. Certain colours hinder rather than help. They may jam your laser for ten seconds, reverse your controls or deprive you of one of your five lives.

Screen displays show your

"Together displays show your score as well as the number of lives

" Marauder is a glowing example of the high quality we've come to expect from Hewson. The Battlecar itself is quite simply ani-mated and looks more like spaceship than a car. Though mostly monochromatic, the graphics are well shaded and fairly detailed. There is plenty of sound on the 128K with various tunes on the front end and one during the game which can be swap-ped for spot effects if it gets irritating. The gameplay is of course very simple; just blast everything in sight! The only exception is the shooting of the coloured beacons where you need to be careful not to lose a life, or inadvertently reverse the car's controls (almost as bad!). My only gripe is that the shields sometimes fail to work when they are meant to be on. Despite this, however, the game is very playable and keeps you coming back for more. An excellent and entertain-ing blast-'em-up. "

" Hot on the trail of the brilliant Cybernoid, comes another great game. The detailed Marauder Battlecar trundles around a carefully shaded and very background. dangerous Mobile meanles whizz around the screen in a very menacing fashion, shoot-ing at anything that moves. ing at anything that moves.
(The stationary obstacles aren't exactly passive either as they lob homing missiles and explosives through the air.) The action is fast and furious: dare to take your stogger finger. take your trigger finger away from the fire button for a moment, and another life is lost. With such hazardous and compelling action I couldn't help enjoy-ing Marauder - right from the very start. Well done, Hewson - you're on to another winner!"

and smart bombs remaining. Warning of air attacks, and intor-mation on extra weapons and lives maron on extra weapons and mes-awarded or tost, is printed out on a status strip when appropriate.

Once the Battledar has reached the end of a level, he must destroy a plethora of missile-fining aliens to gain access to the next stage. If Capitain Cobra manages to get famuum all the levels, the stoles captain can't the levels, the stolen lewels are safe, and the capable Captain gains an even greater here's reputation than he had

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Cursor, Kempston, Sinclair Graphics: mostly monoc hromatic with the odd splash of colour and detailed sprites. Sound: limited to atmospheric spat effects on the 48K. Dramatic ingame tune by Dave Rodgers on the 128K Options: definable keys. Sound effects on/off on the General rating: an immensely playable shoot-em-up with plenty of variety. Up to Hewson's characteristically high standards

89% 83% Presentation Graphics Playability 91% Addictive qualities OVERALL

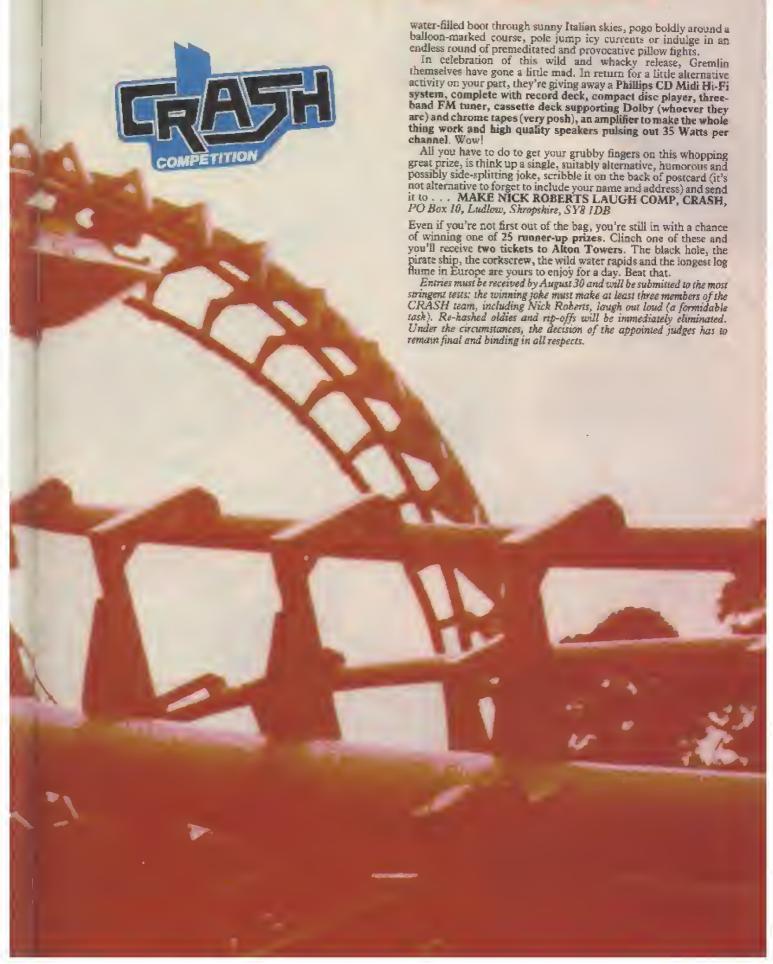

WARES

BE ALTERNATIVE AND MAKE NICK ROBERTS LAUGH

COMMUNICATIONS

NY-PINCHING PREST

PAUL EVANS gets concerned at the cost of living

WO DAYS after writing last month's article, a presser release arrives confirming the rumourt Yep, 'netting's going to get more expensive. The charges are to be

Rate (8am-6pm weekdays) 7p per minute, a rise of Standard Rate (all limes) 1p. previously free Quarterly subscription previously £16.50 Charges apply from July 1st £20

Crying yet? Thought so! I, among many others, am not just unhappy about the new charges, but also very annoyed about the way Prestel has implemented them. However, Micronet has done its best to cushien the blow, it seems that this new charge has become wound up in a web of intrigue...

SPYHACKER

It seems that Prestel is turning into a regular MI5 system! The first thing that happened was a substantial rebellion against the charges. I expected this, but not what followed, Within days petitions had started. Micro-mags periods had started. Micro-mags on Prestel and columnists like myself were 'junked' (a word meaning, to be sent many malloxes) with letters about the charges. Then the unusual events detried.

The fact was pointed out to me that apparently Prester had breached their contract with the users, by giving less than thirty days notice of the charges. Not fair, said I, so I decided to arrange a two meetings — one on Lip-Sinc (a Spectrum chatline) and another on TeleTalk. So I continued to advertise Lip-Sinc heavily all over Micronet, but not much on Prestel. Micronet, but not much on Prestel. The day came and I logged-on happily to Lip-Sinc, I tried to send a message. There's something wrong with that page', came the reply. I tried another chattine, seme thing happened. I was allowed to walch the chatting coint on but not allowed to going on but not allowed to participate. Now isn't it unusual that the chattine message system should maifunction on my account and leave everybody else chatting happily. Very weird, especially on the day of the meeting, complained to Prestel, asking what was happening. I got back a letter saying that Keats (the Prestel computer I was using) temporarily experienced problems with the chatline system. Strange that Dickens did not go whacko too, as the computers are closely linked. I was barred from every chatlinel All these events are very unusual and have never been experienced by me or, to my knowledge, anyone else during my two year spell on Micronet. Have you experienced any trouble? If so, write to (or malibox 219995412)

MICRONET RESCUE

So I phoned the men at the top, Prestel. I asked how they justified the new charges. A spokesperson replied that no increase has been made to the service for the last three years and over that time the retail price index has risen 13%. Also, Prestel has been completely re-fitted with new technology, so there was bound to be an increase. Prestel think this is a fair increase. They have a point! Cheery old David Rosenbaum spoke on behalf of Micronet, glving much the same reply. But

Dave Rosenbaum: don't worry we'll look after you much more to my interest are the actions. Micronet is taking to combat the charges and keep hold of customers. Firstly, Shades and TeleTalk ere not affected by the time charges because they are both gateway systems that both gateway systems that operate outside of the Prestel system. Secondly, Micronet and Prestel have agreed to stop the time charge between midnight and Bam - a large amount of people use Micronet during the night shift, so that will help. Lastly, Micronet are THINKING of Introducing a higher 'time charge-free' subscription - benefiting all-day

Now to my mailbox. When I got on there I was swamped by angry netters all lodging complaints about the charges. Nig (623860614) has even started a petition - with much . support. Many others have given comments that will give cause for

Mark Corcoran (419547362): 'How stupid it is of Prestel,

Gobaz (026475503): 'It will kill Micronet. People are definitely going, it will be the death of Prestel.'

R P Bishop (219998380): 'Please put something in CRASH, this looks like my Zero (219995004): 'Knobbo, Tracey, Garfield & meare leaving.' (Sob, sob.)

Most of the above people are planning to leave soon.

People are wondering why British Telecom, the owners of Prestel, with a $220000000 profit last year, cannot subsidise Prestel Well, the communications watchdog. Oftel, strictly forbids this Complaints are already being sent to Oftel, asking for a change sent to Oftel, asking for a change in the rules.

Micronetter Richie (011111747) gave a good answer to a statement made that the charge would be unfair on infrequent users.
They feebly suggested that a single charge would discriminate against infrequent users. BULLI The 1p per minute discriminates against anyone who goes lawork; students; the young; the unemployed ... in fact everyone except a very rich, idle insomniac!

But don't forget that Micronet still offers a FREE modem to its yearly subscribers. Still a VTX for Speccy owners, but others, such as Beebers and STers, now get a GEC Datachat 1223 modern (RRP £119.95). A new subscription for one year is £79.95 or £20 per quarter quarter.

And if you take out a Prestel and Telecom Gold joint subscription, you also get FREE access to Micronett All it costs is £23 a quarter; the usual £40 Telecom Gold registration fee is waived! John Tomany, Managing Director

John Tomany: the man at the top of Micronet, looking after of Telemap Group, commented, 'It. makes sense for computer users who access Prestel and Telecom Gold to use Micronet as well, and at this price they'd be silly not to'. Phone Micronet on 01 278 3142 for more details.

BYTES AND PIECES

Telemap have announced that Shades, the multi-user game, can now be used by non-Micronet subscribers. Shades has regularly clocked over 4000 playing hours a week and is now accessible with a 1200/75 baud modern in viewdata or ASCII formats. Dial 0898 10

As I predicted, Hotel California has been closed. However, not As I predicted, Hotel California has been closed. However, not giving up. Telemap have launched Funter, its flagship product being Shades. Other features are on-line games and competitions. Sadly, it still goes out at 38p a minute peak rate and 25p a minute standard rate. Phone 0898 10 0890 to log-on!

Melanie Weaver and Jez Thorpe have become the first couple to many after meeting in a multi-user computer pame! They are both marry after meeting in a multi-user computer game! They are both avid users of Shades, having been married in the game for a while, avid users of Shades, having been married in the game for a while, and are now officially married.

The dreaded page 92 might be in for a renovation, in olden days page 92 would list your charges during that quarter. However, when Prestel was renovated, the 92 (as it is known) was changed to give only the details of the charges in the current log-on, and not to total them up – or even include TeleTalk charges. At last, Prestel seems to be doing something about it. I have heard that 92 could go back to its original format with a system that registers gateway charges as well! it's all still being planned though . . .

BARCLAYPLUS IS GIVING OLD FASHIONED SAVING SCHEMES THE PUSH.

BarclayPlus is a new way of saving for anyone over 14. Especially those of you who want to start

You can apply for your own BardayPlus card so you'll also be able to draw out eash whenever you want from our cash dispensers.

So put your piggy bank into retirement by opening a BarclayPlus account, at your nearest Barclays branch, now.

it may be quiet on the software scene, but it's certainty a hive of activity in Lloyd's Forum this month...

I have grown to despise summer. When you live in a town as historically important as Ludlow there's absolutely no chance of getting down to a few quiet hours of peaceful typing on my Harmes. What I really need is a nice, quiet holiday in sunny Bournemouth. Supping cups of Earl Grey, as scantily clad ladies pass me by. Whoops, I'd better watch what I say or I might be in for a bit of literary discussion. Just as you thought Maria Whittaker had gone back into the ad-manager's closet along comes... Corrine Russell promoting Vixen. The morals of censorship are discussed in SPLIT SCREEN, but that doesn't stop you airing your views... SCREEN, but that doesn't stop you airing your views . . .

DID YOU KNOW?

Dear Floyd Did you know that Lloyd Marigram is an anagram of Grammy Dofnel, Gary Mman Dolf, Lord Mogy Carry, Minar Look, Lord Mogy Lamn, Lady Marg Moin, Mailmy Dragon, Allarmin Dogy, Maglorm Dylan and Mad Mong Railty? Jonathan Reid, Scott Wright and Greg Cogzell, Coventry

Maybe the question should have been, did I want to know?

ALL TOGETHER NOW

I've had a sort of fairly goodish idea, Lloyd: I thought that perhaps you might like to share it with other CHASH readers. I run a fanzine, CHASH readers. Frun a fanzine, Microchip, and have been doing so for about two years now. However, I have experienced the problem that dogs nearly every fanziner in the land—tack of review copies from software houses. I convinced a few of our creditality, but also label have to start all over but alas I shall have to start all ove but alas I shall have to start all over again after having a "fallow period" for my end-of-year exams, Unfortunately, I think now that many fanzines are set up solely for the purpose of obtaining free software, and this problem has been heightened by competitions such as the well-intentioned YS Fanzine of the Year.
With this in mind, I am Considering setting up a kind of considering setting up a kind of umbrelle organisation for fanzines. If a finzine publisher can produce langible ovidence that he/she produces a fanzine for general public consumption, say by sending me two constructive sending me two constructive issues of his/her publication, then haven will be able to state that they belong to such an umbrefle organisation. Also, we fanzliners could peol our resources e.g., by having a national reader popularity chart, similar to that in CRASH. Such a chart would be meaningless now, because of the fairly low circulations of most fanzines. Any organisation such as the one I am proposing would software houses, as they could be assured of a fanzine's existence, if you see what I mea you see what I mean.

The sooner software houses start to realise what a faithful bunch of Speccy-bashers fanziners are, they may twig that the future of the Spectrum games market lies with the youth of today, who will ultimately be the adult journalists of tomorrow, Even if people with loadsamoney DO desent the Spectrum for the bright desert the Spectrum for the bright lights and pretty pictures of 15-bit land, there will still be the hard core of REAL enthusiasts, who will perhaps have only the amateur press to turn to.

Anyone who is interested in farming such an organisation should contact me at the address below, enclosing a SAE for further Steve Thomas, Microchip Magazine, 37 Park Place, Chaltenham, Glos GL50 2RE.

PS. We're relaunching in July!

I have looked through many fanzines that have flowed through fanzines that have flowed through the CRASH offices, on their way to the all-seeing eyes of Dominic Handy, and there have been many, meny excellent 'zines that would not only deserve the time of software houses, but also their support. I have also seen many journals that would look more at home on the walls of a submitted journals that would look more at home on the walls of a suburban WC. The tatter is the main, and just osuse for software houses not sending out review samples to 'zines. Would you send free copies of your magazine to people who were just 'mucking about'? I think not, and quite rightly so. However, it's a bit tough on the supply of games to farzines. If would be idea! If the companies would pick and choose the best magazines to and choose the best magazines to supply, but sadly they don't have the time to look through nearly one thousand fanzines (yes,

Anvihing that gives worthy fanzines even an ounce of credibility can't be bad. All fanzine editors write to Stephen now. It's probably the best idea to come out of Chaltenham since the National Express coach at 14:30,

THE SHAME OF IT ALL

I bought your magazine yesterday and was embarrassed when the newsagen) inquired (f)) was for my

Your young readers of 28 years should think of women like me nearly sixty. I recently retired and bought a computer so that I could keep my brain active and learn computing. I was given a game, impossible Mission, as a present and have become flooked on action games.

My problem is buying more games, as I have to pretend that I am buying them as presents for young relatives. Now that I have discovered your magazine I can read about the different games, and so can just ask for the game t want to buy by name, instead of looking through the available software.

E Roberts, London SE24.

I know what you mean, I always get my games from Aggle at CRASH Mail Order – it saves money, and a lot of embarrassment. And don't worry E. Impossible Mission II is coming to your Spectrum very soon. Till then, why not try Action Force III to some real action. It certainly loosens up my joints!

A LONG TRIP

Daar cloyo
I'm wrilling to find out if I'm the first person to complete Restan. I completed this game after just two days of buying it, and just to prove that I have completed it, and that I'm not felling porkles, here is the message that appears at the end message with of the game: YOUR QUEST HAS ENDED AND YOU HAVE FREED YOUR LAND PRESS ANY KEY

THANKS TO PAUL MURRAY PROGRAMMER ED KNIGHT FOR GRAPHICS MIKE AND STE FOR

CARTOGRAPHY CARTOGRAPHY
I would also like to know who wrote the little story for the back cover of Rustan. From reading the back cover I thought that It would be a challenging game, but when the game had finished loading I found that it was nothing but a mere kill-everything, In-sight same. Why couldn't loss, income. game. Why couldn't Imagine out some real storyline into the game, Instead of the usual 'You must save your:- land/planet/universe or your pet budgie'?

It's a pity Rastan doesn't have the lasting appeal of Imagine's Renegade!!! A Vail. Kent

I can hardly believe that you had time to play Rasten If you spent two days buying it! And as you didn't enclose a date of purchase it's hard to say if you're the first to complete it.

complete it.
Ishare your feelings about game inlays, though. Perhaps, it would be an idea for all software houses to put the game category on the back of the Irlay, i.e., shoot-famps; graphical adventure; bashfem-up, etc. But some games are very hard to categorise and such systems are difficult to implement. Till then you'll are house for exertific. Till then you'll just have to wait for the CRASH review...

LM

NOT HER AGAIN!

Firstly, why is it that CRASH is

Firstly, why is it that CRASH is slowly but surely turning into a top shell magazine? I decided not to make a fuss about it when the Maria Whittaker advert came out but it seems other software houses are taking the liking of this flechnique of advertising. The Vixen advert backs my point.

I quickly skipped the page in case my Muth saw it and to evade having an embarrassing argument with her. Can't anything be done to stop these adverts? I can't really see the point in finking a sexy woman and a computer game. Seeing CRASH is the biggest seling computer magazine, can't you set the example and ban these adverts.

Next point is that SCORES is becoming a total fallure! It is, falling Into the same pit as Hall of Slime did. Anybody can just write in saying what they presumably got and their name is in CRASH with a chance of a £40 prize, I would have a guess and say that over 50% of scores sent in are not genuine. (E.g., I know for sure that the highest scores on Zynaps and Flying Shark are complete and utter lies!!!) It would be best if a photo or evidence is required to have your name in SCORES. David Nije, Merseyside

The advertising link is not meant to be between 'sexy women and computer games', but between 'sexy women' and computer game buyers – a very different matter. It's quite strange that all the letters of complaint an eou of from men. when it is they (according to the all-knowing ad agencies) who are supposed to be getting the 'kick' from it! Read this month's SPLIT SCREEN article for a view from the so-called victimised party - women - and the affected perty - men. Just think, though, it is the male population who are really suffering - they're the ones out of pocket at the end of the day . . .

Carl O'Connor, Shankill, Elre

Nick says, he always likes to keep you informed of the latest tips for the latest games. Pundits say that sales of a full-price game are usually dead after three months, therefore so are Nick's tips—unlike an adventure game which seems to last for ever. As Nick always says, 'Better to be one step ahe of the crowd then spilling sticky cherry cola in your Amstred keyboard'. Well, he'd knowl brings me to a complaint about the Adventure Trail. Derek Brewster never printed a full solution in Adventure Trail (only once, and that was someone else's fault) yet when he left, you printed a full solution for Sinbad And The

ASKING FOR THE IMPOSSIBLE

Dear Lloyd Alan Sugar stated that the +3 'was not the last Spectrum', so what will the +4 have? Obviously a disc drive; with the new support for the +3, Amstrad would be stupid to leave one out (though the new one could be a bit quicker). After five years on the market, the Speccy deserves more and better colour (and no colour clash either). This would completely revive the Spectrum software industry. bringing up the quality of games. Unless the +4 can bring better graphics and sound to the speccy owner, the Spectrum will become obsolete by the 1990's. Richard 'The Maniacal Mapper' Clark, Essex

One thing that Alan Sugar did not state was whether the next Spectrum will be compatible with the last. To have all the visual and audio features of more expensive computers AND be compatible with the old Spectrum will prove difficult, though, Amstrad are always ones to keep VERY quiet about any future plans - you only know when THEY want you to know. Take a look at this month's news for more revelations about

UNCLE SAM ET AL

Dear Lloyd I was very interested in the two letters regarding Gunship, and I think that there is very strong evidence for there being a subliminal message in MicroProse's games, which all Anicorrose's games, which air seem to feature good of Uncle Sam defending fruth, justice and the American way against the evil un-American forces of subversion.

particularly as these games are released when America's military might is being used to squa every Tom, Dick and Mullah who comes along, the idea of subliminally justifying this and softening the public's minds to these conflicts is useful to America. Remember. MicroProse's chief is employed by the Penlagon .

Finally, may I suggest to Robert Honway that if he wants a good 126K only game, then CRL have produced a very much upgraded version of Tau Ceti, called Tau Catl: The Special Edition. This features many, many improvements upon the excellent original, and should fill a gap!

John Halton, Leeds

MicroProse inform me that their joint owner, 'Wild' Bill Stealey, is just a 'fun loving guy'. Anyway, MicroProse would have a hard time releasing a game when the Americans weren't at war with someone.

TEASER TIME

Dear Lloyd Here are a couple of puzzles for

A new software house decides to market its games in three price ranges. Full-price games at five pounds, mid-price games at three pounds and budget games at fifty pence. (If only this was true!)

How could you buy one hundred games for one hundred pounds?

2 Jim has a birthday coming up and asks his parents for a and asks his parents for a subscription to CRASH. His father agrees, on one condition 'You will play three games of Match Day it. Your mother and I will alternate as opponents. If you win two games in a row you get your subscription' In the past Jim has won and lost games against both parents but games against both parents out knows that his father is the better player of the two. Which parent should he play first to maximise his chances of winning two games in succession? Should he play father-mother-father or motherfather-mother?

There you go Lloyd, at least it's a change from people whingeing at yer Keep up the good work. Nicholas Young, Lancs Umm, er... I think I prefer the whingers!

Oh, yes - the answers Either, 10 full-price, 2 mid-price and 88 budget. Or, 5 full-price, 11 mld-price and 84 budget.

2 If Jim is to win two games in a row he must win the second game. So it's to his advantage to play that against the weaker opponent. must also win at least once against the stronger opponent, his father, and his chances of doing so are greatest if he plays his father twice, So it's father-mother-father.

Of course, well I knew all along,

A BAD WORKMAN ...

Dear Lloyd I have just got Issue 52 of CRASH and feel I have to write and complain. CRASH has steadily been going downhill, but this issue seems particularly bad and here's some gentle hints on how to bring CRASH back up to its high old

Firstly the cover, I mean it's just all writing, apart from the tiny quarter page drewing in the comer, it looks as it it was whipped from underneath Oli's airbrush before it was anywhere near

Now Playing Tips and Nick Roberts. The guy is a first class prenny, he prints pokes for games which get 12% (really worth while) and the maps are utira-rubbish, too big, no detail and badly drawn. So do everyone a big favour and do some serious grovelling to Robin Candy, to get him back on the job tyes I know you'll hate it, but Nick is such a git; look at his Target; Renegade review 'do you ever feel like kicking your dog's

LOOK

JUST ONE

Dear Lloyd Is Nick Roberts CRAZY?! In Issue 50, Garfield was reviewed, and was a Smesh. In the very same issue, Nick printed a whole map of the game lots of tips, then, in Issue 51 a cheat mode. In Issue 51 he printed a whole solution and some solutions for Nabulus. In Issue 52, he printed a whole solution to Dan Dare II. I think whole solutions spoil games. I wanted to buy Garlield, until I saw the solution in the same Issue. It would put anyone off buying it, and any game they could buy and already have a full solution to. Software companies would surely not want this. But I think there should be a system, rather like that of Signstumps. And that

£11.99 £11.99 £2.99

£1.49

$10.49

ULA 6C001 128k ROM

Z80A 7805 REG

4116RAM

SPEC PSU

AT LAST! SPECTRUM SPARES AT REALISTIC PRICES

All prices include post/packing, handling and VAT

Remember all prices include P & P, handling and VAT

Full spares list available / Trade enquiries welcome Access/Visa. 24-hour T.A. service

SPECTRUM REPAIRS £9.99 + PARTS

ELECTRONIC SERVICES

SPECTRUM K/BOARD MEMBRANE SPECTRUM K/BOARD MEMBRANE SPECTRUM K/BOARD TEMPLATE SPECTRUM+ MEMBRANE MODULATOR S/MANUAL

ES 49

£4.99 £9.99

176 VICTORIA ROAD WEST, CLEVELEYS, BLACKPOOL FY5 3NE Tel. (0253) 822708

heed in?", what a weirdo)

Now reviews; all reviews should be given a full page, budget or not, il you're not careful you may end up in the ridiculous situation of up in the reductions situation of ZZAP where a gama gets 90% but still only has a page and one screen shot. Now the big complaint, the thing which really annoyed me this month was the appearance of the dreaded mail order companies, long lists of games with a massive one pound games with a massive one pound off, your rival mags are full of these rubbish adverts, not are they incredibly boring to look at, they are notorlously unreliable and thousends of people have lost money through them. Please get did of them, or before you know it you will be printing listings (arggh, no, arggh mass suicidet). Anyhow, CRASH Mail Order is just as cheap, and ultra fast, it took a week for me to get Cybamaid cheap, and ultra fast, it took a week for me to get Cybarnoid white my friend has been waiting five weeks for a game order through Your Sinclair. So please take my advice, give Oil less work, get rid of Nick, get rid of mail order adverts and give a full page review to all games and CRASH will be Number One again.

The theory behind putting text on the cover is to Inform the potential buyer of what's in the magazine, Are the facts that Nick Roberts is on the cover (of issue 52) and your dislike of Nick wholly unconnected? In defence of Nick must say that a playing tipster's maps are only as good as his suppliers. Nick will always put in a beautifully drawn map, if he has one. Nick says, if you want some good artwork then take a look at next issue's Beyond The Ice Palace map.

Palace map,
And to the ever-running space argument. Ed (yes that means all of them!) has constantly told me that it would be lotally impractical to give every game review a whole page. Poor games don't necessarily deserve as much space as good games; after all if you're not goling to buy it then why read a lot about it! Budget games generally get less space because generally get less space because cheap games are mostly bought on Impulse, with a few spare coins. Whereas full-price games are 'high-risk' purchases and deserve more comprehensive and depth reviews. As to mall order. Well you know wha's the best, so send Aggie your

VALUE FOR MONEY?

Dear Lloyd
Many of my Iriends who have Spectrums are hoping to advance soon into the 16-bit world, by buying Amigas. Now at £450 for an Amigait's a big step. But what will they do with it, just play games; my Iriends are just basically buying Amigas to play souped-up versions of Spectrum games.

Just because the Amiga has better sound and graphics it doesn't make the games any more playable and addictive, which is in my opinion what counts in a game. They will spend £25 on a game, the be just as compelling and playable, and when you're enjoying a game you don't seem to notice the inferior graphics and to notice the interior graphics and beepy sound.

It's fair enough buying a 16-bit machine if you will use it for things other than games. If you want superior graphics for a games machine, why not buy a Sega System for only £190? Andrew Morgan, Norfolk

Consoles are a completely different matter. Many people, including myself, could not bare to have the limitations of a console, have the limitations of a console, instead of a computer — buy a console as well as a Spectrum!

Buying a computer is just like buying a car. The great expense is not the initial purchase cost, but the hidden running costs. Is it really worth paying an extra £15 for enhanced sound and graphics (although you should see Interceptor on the Amiga—Ed). As the Amiga is still in its infancy I'd wait a while till the market place wait a while till the market place settles down to an acceptable quality. Read the 16-bit feature for more information and thoughts on the new beasts

LM

DIDST THOU THAT KNOW?

Are you sitting comfortably? Then l'Il tell you the tale of The Quest for Cruciality. Once upon a time there lived a fair maiden who did enjoy to bash aliens to bits upon occasion. To read also she did crave, and so to CRASH she didst resubscribe. The maiden wast a vain wench, who to seem most hip intrendy didst magically appear a noble tome upon the door mat. Which whereon she seizest and didst peruse with utmost delight. Soon her gaze didst alight upon a magical design, in which didst rest four likenesses. One likeness to bash aliens to bits upon rest four likenesses. One likeness it didst bear two darkened circles where mayhap lay its eyes.

'Oh wow!', didst cry ye faire maiden, 'How cool 'n' Iroody be they!

Straight away prepare didst she for a quest of mighty length.
Though abandon must her trusty joystick (she doth it trust not to work), her bard's manuscript 'So', and her Stephen Donaldson fables, she doth grit her teeth and mount her trusty steed (this sprintershe doth trust to be late by spiniter site down track to be late by full half one hour of day).

Across the plain she didst speed, and esplest wast she by an evil giant, 'Hey nonny nonny!' didst cry ye giant, 'How 'mazing hip 'n'trendy she be', and in his great surprise didst fet fall ye soil great surprise digst let lair your from ye olde spade which carrying he hadst been, so he blocketh her retreat with a hill of steep sides. Bet an eyelld she didst not, so cool wast she. On she didst speed cool wastishe. On she didst speed on her steed, until at length didst she attain ye olde town of Scropesbury. There she didst search both high and low, within every nook and cranny, for to see if these so hip 'n'trendy magical glass circles were therein connected.

In vain wast her search.

'A lack', she bewaited, 'Oh wae is How mayst I so trendy be

When I hath not ye ultimate accessory?
Where findeth one glasses like to Steva's?
If I don't get some I'll be peeved!'

The moral of this story is That if your aim so trendy tis Nevergo out without dark glasses Even if a cloud it passes.

(Answer would be appreciated. even if a mite belated . . .) Vicky White, Shropshire PS. Yes, I know my poetry is awful.

Answer? What was the question, Vicky?

GET BETTER OR BEWARE!

Dear Lloyd Dear Lloyd
Apologies due to the CRASH reviewing team whom I criticised
In my letter, published In Issue 51.
I stated that I was unhappy with the reviewing standards in Issue
49. I have to admit that Rampage
Is rather repetitive and therefore boring, and Scruples is only 'pas

On to the real point of my letter — i.e., software standards. Ocean have put the 'bad old days' behind them, and thankfully have moved it to pastures new - good software. Combat School, Match Day II, Platoon and Firefly have been released since Christmas, and all have been first class.

Hewson are, without doubt, the most consistent software house. Cybernoid - The Fighting Machine is perfection personlified. Graphically superb, superlative sound and playability, and magnificent animation. If every game was as good as Cybemoid, then the world would be a better

GOI have stalled, after a promising start; Trantor has been the silver lining to the cloud. Unfortunately, GOI got the licence to produce Capcom areade games. The licence could have

IT'S MURDER!

PLAY AND YOU COULD WIN £500

A top Business Executive has been murdered Can you find out How, Why, and Whodunnit?

Was the crime committed by a member of his Family, Business Competitors, the IRA, Moslem Extremists, the CIA, the Mafia, or someone else? As a player in this latest Play by Mail scenario - "ITS MURDER!" you must find out - and stay alive in the process!

Will you choose to be a Scotland Yard Detective, a Private Investigator, a member of the Anti Terrorist Squad or one of our other characters? "IT'S MURDER!" has been written by experts, including a member of MENSA and a PATHOLOGIST. "IT'S MURDER!" will challenge your powers of logic and deduction to their limits.

Enrolment, Full Rules, and Pre-Play Murder Information £5.00. Turns £1.50 Postage paid both ways. No hidden extras, If not satisfied, return the registration pack intact within 7 days for a complete refund. Cheques and PO's only please to:

> MERLINS KINGDOM FREEPOST TINTAGEL, CORNWALL PL34 OBR No Postage Stamp required, been put to better use by a company who worry about quality not quantity.

US Gold are consistent, but

US Gold are consistent, but bad. Although saying that, to every rule there are exceptions — Out Run and World Class Leaderboard are examples of good US Gold carrents.

Every software company has, at one time, churned out a product saying to themselves 'This game Is crap, but we'll contine public into buying it'. This has got to be stopped. Only the software-buying public can do this. Flooding the company's office with complaint letters, or even boycotting their software until a promise of quality comes from the company, are ways of foling this.

company, are ways of doing this, Hewson and Ocean have led the pack for so long now, it is time for other companies to try and regain the lead!

Scott McGlashan, Glasgow

Congratulations are certainly due to Hewson and Ocean, but let's try and forget the past and look forward to the future. US Gold insist that their product is consistently improving land after looking at one of their assessment sheets I must say they are trying VERY hard); GOI, on the other hand, seem to have reached a satisfactory standard now (Bionic Commando is great iun), I can't wait for The Great Giana Sisters. Compared to four years ago the software scene is much better, with a larger range of ideas, a higher quality of product AND (on average and forgetting the new budget boom) only £1 per game more! But, as Mrs Mangram always says, there's always room for improvement.

LAR

FRENCH EXCHANGE

Dear Lloyd
Recently I spent ten days in France, staying with a French family as part of my A-level studies. I met several people of my own age, most of whom had some sort of computer. Surprisingly, I found that the Spectrum was quite well-known. It seems that French computers often represent a better package hardware-wise – everyone assumed I had a 128K (which is true), and could not comprehend the Idea of a mere 48K RAM – but the standard of programming is way behind.
Britain's. They also nearly died when I said I used a cassette player to load programs.
Finally, a point for you up about seventy three times in four months!!

Finally (yes, I know I said 'finally' last time but I've just thought of something else), I might as well shove in my oar on the 8-bit/16-bit debate, it seems to me that nearly all 16-bit games at the moment are mutton dressed as lamb, crummy 'Pong' clones that look like classical paintings (OK, so I exaggerated). I've even played one game where the sound was digitised onto an Amiga from a personally. You remember you were talking about synchronicity In your Christmas History? Well, It was happening to me while reading CRASH. Now come on, own up - which one of you has a penchant for using the word 'eponymous'? It must have come

SPECTRUMI Shumthing wrong,

Congratulations on your fifty issues.

John A Swan, Gillingham, Kent

I'm surprised that they knew about the Spectrum – there's hardly any in France. Programming standards in France are rapidly rising; software houses like Loriciels, Infogrames and Titus are now familiar names in the UK software market. Regarding the tape recorder, the only reason we have slow cassette players is to allow us time to enjoy a bieasant cup of afternoon tea with mother.

Well that's it for now. I'm off to book my coach trip down to Bournemouth. Ed says I can have three (!) days off this year (so long as it includes a Saturday and a Sunday – Ed). So with any luck I'll be back next month with a fresh and revitalised Forum (and slightly tanned, if the colour of this page is anything to go by). In the meantime why not drop me a postcard from your holiday haven – I'd send you all one but I don't know where you're going. ... So if you've anything to say for yourself (or anyone else) drop me a line; as always it's LLOYD MANGRAM, CRASH FORUM, PO BOX 10, LUDLOW, SHROPSHIRE, SYS 10B. You could find yourself the lucky recipient of a $30 software voucher! But then again who cares about the money, it's the fame I love!

Our PC's* are the GREATEST

*People Carriers

FEATURING

High Speed Action Fast Loading

Terrific Graphics

Easy Access Great Choice of Titles New Hardware - up to 125 mph in some cases.

many of our trains now have passenger operated doors.

 what could be nicer than the English countryside seen from a train window.

just pop down to your local station.

with over 2,000 stations in Great Britain to choose from.

This year alone we've introduced brand new trains on many routes — Wessex Electrics between London Waterloo and Weymouth; Thameslink between Brighton and Bedford; Supersprinters between Cardiff and Liverpool/ Manchester and Cardiff and Portsmouth.

And we're opening many new stations as well!

Amazing Value for — all under 16's travel at half price.

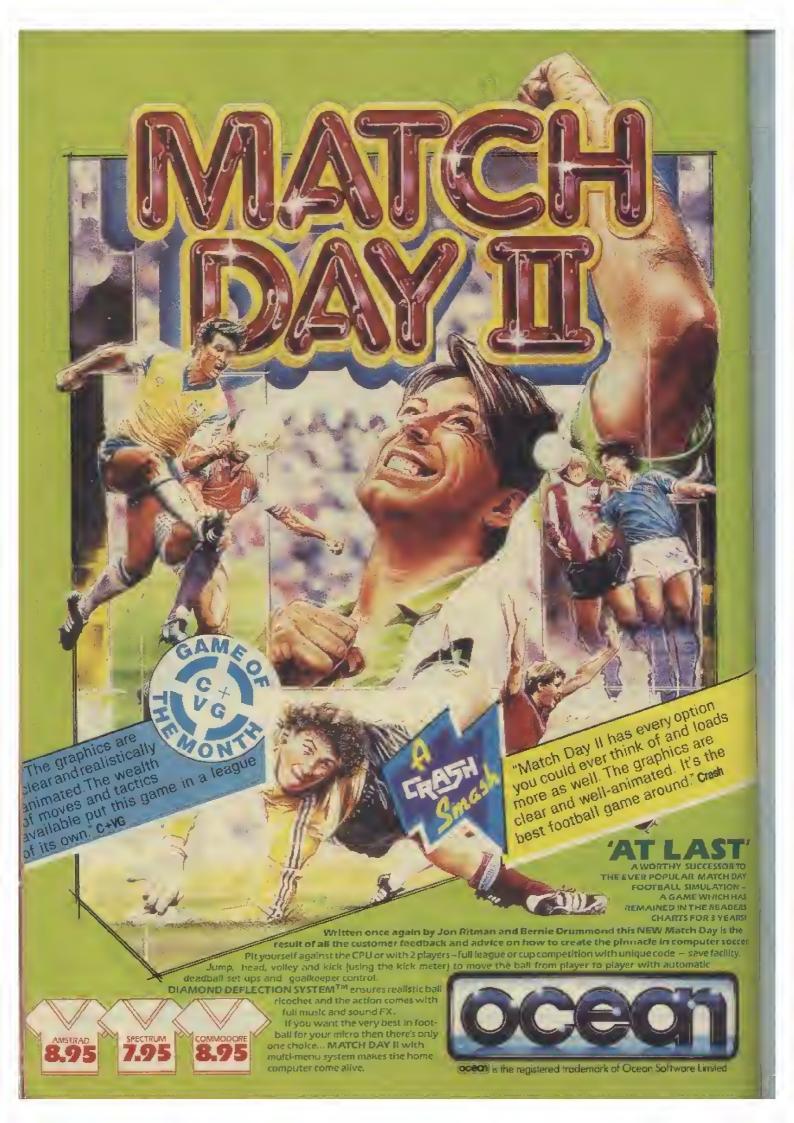

And if you really want to [ESCAPE] and [SAVE] – get in touch with your local station for details of our Raikards. There's the Young Persons Railcard – offering substantial discounts for leisure travel for the under 24's, or the Network Card for the over 16's and valid for use entirely within the vast Network SouthEast area.

Network South East

VV17115

What's this I see? Could it be a great solution for The Flintstones from Jamie Hendley? Yes, it sure is! Now you'll have no problem catching Pebbles (cor, I love all her songs!).

Painting The Wali

First of all paint the top of the wall. If Pebbles starts drawing on the bottom just leave her to get on with it. The start on the bottom. Leave Peobles and just keep painting. You should, eventually, complete the stage.

Driving To The Bowling Alley

Go fast till you come to the first bump, then siam the anchors on and ride over the bump. Speed up and jump over the next rock. Carry on at full steam till the next lot of bumpy rocks. When you meet them jump continuously to the end—you should get there in time.

Bowling Alley

Just play bowls with Barney Rub-ble. It does get boring but you'll just have to put up with it.

The Rescue

Just get up as far as possible. Then go right and get the workman's hat. Go left as far as possible, jump on to the rope and slide to the bottom. Grab Pebbles, go back up the rope, jump off trying to make the wind push you and go right till you come to the hole. Jump to the second platform and drop off. Go back down the lift, walk right off the lift and you have completed the the lift and you have completed the game. I wonder what movie they've got on at the drive-in?

THE RACE AGAINST TIM

What we have here is a fist of the They've all been sent in by Mid objects used in The Race Bray and Mare Doody. In fact, Against Time, the new game they're so good I think I'll give from those crazy guys at Gode the duo £30 worth of software Masters promoting Sport Aid 88. for this month's best playing tip.

TIMELY TIPS

*Nothing is used or found in S America.

*To enter the African temple: drop the SPHINX at the doorway, and an arrow should appear.

*To plug the European hole in the wall: get the UMBRELLA, fly to Europe, go under the hole where the water comes out and drop the UMBRELLA. Enter the cave and get the plug then return to the hole in the wall. Jornp on the hill, press tire and the water will stop.

*To get past the large stone in the pyramid; enter pyramid, go far right and jump. The stone above you will rise then go left past the stone.

*To get past the elephant in Africa: drop the CHESE next to the elephant. A mouse will appear and scare off the elephant.

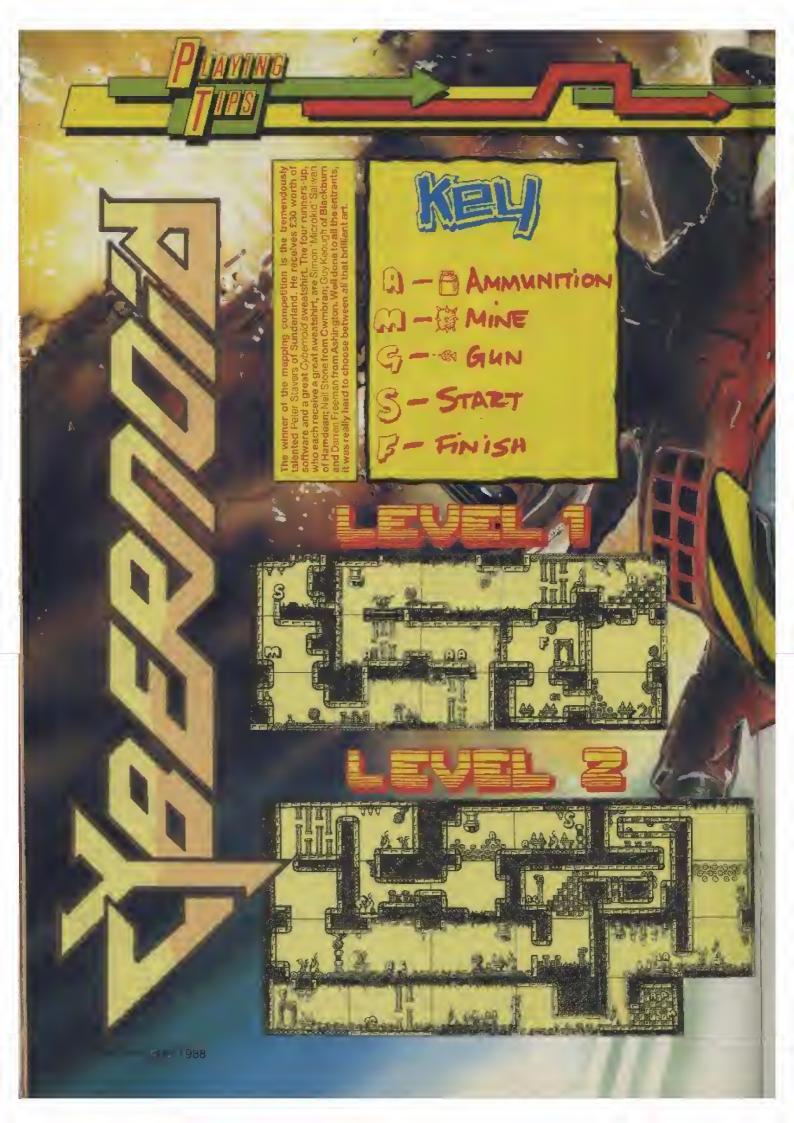

ITEM	FOUNDIN:	USED IN:	USE:	FLY TO LOCATION AND
Spenner Herring	Asia Africa	Europe Europe	Stop fountaio Feed cat in cave	Goleft till you find the first arrow; go do Try and find the wood, go, right, mo
Coat	Africa	Asia	Pass snow storm	SPRING MOUSE and Bo tinhi
ice Pick Head Dress	Africa Africa	N America Africa	Release ice Pass sand storm	Go to the place with lots of arrows: " wood and go nght Enter the temple
Sand Bag Stool Sphinx	N America N America N America	Africa Asia Africa	Move stone in temple Stand on near well Open temple	Jump up on the right side. When pyramid, the stone should rise then a Go down the arrow on the far right, as Go down the arrow on the far right, as Go down arrow on tar left. Now go left.
Umbreila	Australia	Europe	Pass tain storm and water coming	cut down tree, go as far left as you ca is at the base of the tree Go right
Cheese Plug Axe Salt	Europe Europe Europe Europe	Africa Europe N America Australia	rom wall Move elephant Plu Plug well En Cut down tree Th	Plug water. The chaese is on the hill Enter the cave The axe is past the tap

iva elephant by you are in the

use the AXE to in. The SPHINX

ge left o right o left

Here, to go along with that brilliant Cybernoid map, is the complete screen by screen guide to the game by a mysteriously anonymous person from 51 Ferm Fields Close, Sheffield. Each description lists the objects on the exit description has the objects on the screen, followed by an easy solution. If no exit point is given it is not critical where you exit. On all the screens containing atiens you should fire constantly (but I think you've probably gathered that already).

LEVEL ONE

- (volcano) Exit at far bottom left.
- (aliens, mace) Drop down the far left, firing constantly until you pick up the mace. Pick up any cargo dropped
- by the aliens. Exit left of centre. (beehive gun) Drop a bomb immediately to the right, Exit as far up on the right as possible. 3
- two missiles, indestructible gun) Move across the screen till the rad bullets start coming. If you can make it all the way across before they come then great, but if you can't then duck down into the holes in the
- 5
- if you can't then duck down into the holes in the pipeline. Smash the two missiles with the mace, pipeline with aliens! Position yourself on the left pipeline so that you are exactly square on. As soon as the top alien hits the roof go in between them. Move down with the aliens and exit out of the hols, (aliens, two extra weapons, missile) Fire a BOUNCE as soon as you enter and rise, firing constantly. Continue firing and collect any cargo that may drop. Exit the screen as soon as possible as it can get very beettic.
- five pipelines, extra weapon, volcano) Switch to SHELD and activate it as soon as you enter the pipeline. Fly through the pipes but be sure to pick up a new SHELD on the other side. Switch to SEEKER fbeehive.gun, plant, indestruatible.gun) Fire a SEEKER immediately and fly up right, The mace will destroy the plant, if you have lost the mace then either use another.
- and exit at top right.

- plant. If you have lost the mace then either use another SEEKE Rora BOMB. Stay on the SEEKER for the next screen, but be ready to switch to BOUNCE. (beehlve gun, atlens) Fire a SEEKER and switch to BOUNCE. Move right whilst firing. Use the BOUNCE when the screen fills with aliens. Keep on firing and collecting cargo till your cargo points total over 1500. (two pipelines, caterpillar) Fly to the tubes and switch to SHELD. Activate it and fly through exiting top right. Awa large dums, near laser, bricks, extra weapon! The
- 11 (two large guns, rear laser, bricks, extra weapon) The guns don't lire so just destroy them for points. Collect SHIELD as extra weapon. Collect the rear laser gun and blow away the bricks. Switch to SEEKER for the
- (aliens, beehive gun) Fire SEEKER and exit bottom left. Keep faing
- (two missiles, plant, caterpillar, bricks) Use the mace or BOMBS to destroy the missiles and the plant. Watch out for the caterpillar as you cannot kill it. Shoot 13 all the bricks and exit.

- (five missiles, caterpillar) if you still have the mace then use it to destroy all the missiles, if not use BOMBS, Change to SEEKERS.
 (beetive gun, level lift) Fire a SEEKER and move left to
- dodge anything nasty that the beahive might have shot. Land on the end of level lift.

LEVEL TWO

- fextra weapon, five missiles, plant) Just use BOMBS here to kill everything on the screen. Exit along the bottom of the screen, select BOUNCE, fextra weapon, indestructible gun, bricksf Shoot away accupie of bricks at the bottom of the pile and collect
- the new weapon. Fire a BOUNCE and exit.
- (rearlaser, aliens) Keep shooting left as you go down. Collect the rear laser and come up on the left, continuously firing.
- (mace, caterpillar, plant) Dodge the caterpillar by going down into the pipes till it goes overhead. DON'T collect the mace as it spoils plans for the next screen! Select BOUNCE, exit right
- (beehive gun, three missiles, two plants) If you have a mace it will destroy the first plant leaving you open to fire from the beehive gun. If this happens, launch a BOUNCE and dodge them If it doesn't then BOUNCE
- till the gun has been destroyed. (three pipes) Select SHIELD but don't use it. Go through the first pipe as on Screen 5 and just as you enler the second, activate the SHIELD. (aliens) BOUNCE upon entry and drop quickly, firing
- all the time. Select SEEKER.
- (beehive gun, two plants) Fire the SEEKER, Select BOUNCE it you don't have the mace, otherwise use SHIELD.
- CHIELD.
 [Olant, aliens, extraweapon, rearlaser] If you selected BCUNCE then use it once, select SHIELD. Now collect the extra weapon to regain your SHIELD and pick up the rear laser. Select SEEKER and exit centre right, beetilive gun, indestructible gun, four missiles, plant Fire two SEEKERS immediately. The first will hit the plant and the second the gun. Be prepared for the gunto fire at you. BOMBS can now be used to destroy the missiles or a ROUNCE.
- gunto fire at you, BUNNES can now be used to destroy the missiles, or a BOUNCE. (Indestructible gun) Dodge the bullets using the gaps in the pipeline, as in Screen 4. Exit as lar left as possible. Select BOMBS. (indestructible gun, rear laser, extila weapons, bricks) Destroy all the bricks using laser and BOMBS. Collect the rear laser. Collect the weapons in this select BOMBS. order: BOUNCE, SHIELD, SEEKER, BOMBS, MINES For example, if you have five BOUNCE and one SHIELD, select SEEKER before collecting the first weapon. Select BOUNCE and exit top left.
- (caterpiller, bricks) Go right slightly and fire a BOUNCE. If it is fired correctly the four bricks will be destroyed and the caterpillar will go around the central block. Follow it round anti-clockwise and exit at the - (caterpillar, two segments, tricks) Go up left to the pipeline and wait for the caterpillar to pass overhead. Move up when it has gone and whilst doing so, select BOUNCE.
- (allens) Move out of the tunnel and fire the BOUNCE. Drop down, dodging and firing. Select SEEKER and
- Centics, beehive gun, aliens) Fire a SEEKER and then BOMB or BOUNCE your way through the bricks. Select SEEKER again and drop down the left side, (beetive gun, plants) Fire a SEEKER and drop down. Exit left and select SHIELD. (indestructible gun, six missiles, two extra weapon) Activate SHIELD and collect extra weapons. Exit

- quickly at the bottom. (plant, mace, rear laser, blocks, two extra weapon) Collect everything, Select your most needed

- (indestructible gun, six extra weapons) Dodge the
- bullets and pick up any weapons you need. (five missiles, aliens, plant) BOUNCE and pick up any 36
- cargo you may need by firing as you cross the screen. (allens, mace) Enter the pipes and BOUNCE about half way down. This gives you some protection from the
- fend of level lift, four missiles) Destroy the missiles using anything you have handy. Complete the level,

LEVEL THREE

- (eight missiles, mace) This screen is no problem, but be sure to pick up the mace and select SHIELD for the next screen indestructible gun, three missiles, beehlve gun) Activate SHIELD and kill the beehlve gun with the mace. Exit quickly with SEEKER selected.
- next screen.

 (aliens, plant, beehlve gun) Fire the SEEKER and exit. (three missiles, aliens, extra weapon, rear laser, mace) Fire a BOUNCE to help with the alien and missile not and pick un the weapons. Evit fee doth

- onslaught and pick up the weepons. Exit far right, findestructible gun, four extra weepons, bricks, blocked pipeline) Collect all the weepons and land on top of the blocked pipe. Fire a BOMB to destroy some of the blockage. Brop down to where the block was and fire two shots. Sprint to the end of the screen and
- (caterpillar, two missiles) Move left instantly then move up. Select SEEKER.
- flower up, Seeken, plant, allens; Fire a SEEKER and keep firing constantly as you exit left. Select BOUNCE, flour missiles, two large guns, allens; Fire a BOUNCE to eliminate most threats and BOUNCE up and down to the right, firing.
- (four blocked pipelines) Treat these as normal pipelines but fire constantly as you drop and rise. They should present no problem.
- (two plants, aliens) This screen is (again!) no problem.
- BOUNCE if needed and exit left of centre. Take your time leaving the safe spot at the bottom, When you do rise be careful not to get killed near the top. (beetilve gun, aliens) Fire another SEEKER Tolkowed by a BOUNCE. Bewere, these eliens fire many bullets!
- by a DOUNCE. Deward, these enterts are many contents
 Exit bottom left, carefully.
 (allers, mace, rear lesser) BOUNCE and travel along the bottom of the screen collecting everything there.
 The mace should be enough cover to avoid being dive bombed. Select SEEKER or 80UNCE.
- (beehive gun, two missiles, aliens) Fire a SEEKER or BOUNCE quickly. Follow it with a (nother) BOUNCE to eliminate the aliens.
- caterpillar, two missiles, bricks) Don't fire a BOUNCE, as the caterpillar may do funny things and kill you. Ply over the missiles high enough for them to miss you. Shoot the bricks and bomb the bottom two.
- (olant) Treat the pipeline as normal, use the mace to kill the plant (if you have it), if you don't have it, use a BOMB, select SHIELD.
- (caterpillar, indestructible gun) Use the SHIELD to avoid the bullets and caterpiller, (allens) BOUNCE if you need to and exit bottom left. The allens shouldn't be too much of a problem,
- (six missiles, bricks, beenive gun) You have plenty of time here so move left and right till all the missiles have been destroyed. Now launch a SEEKER and destroy all the brioks by using a BOUNCE or some BOMBs Select BOUNCE for the next screen. (plant, beetive gun, seven missiles, aliens) Fire a
- BOUNCE and go close to the plant or missiles for shelter from the beenive gun's bombardment. Now
- rise, firing and killing the aliens as you move right. (aliens) No problem if the aliens are easy. Launch a BOUNCE for luck, though, and there should be no problem. Make sure you pick up a made and select SEEKER for the next screen.
- (three beehive guns) Launch two SEEKERs and kill the final beehive gun with the mace. Select BOUNCE and exit top right.
- (allers, seven missiles) Launch the BOUNCE straight away and dodge your way to the top of the screen. Exit here at the far right.

DIE EDWARDS

Screenshots -

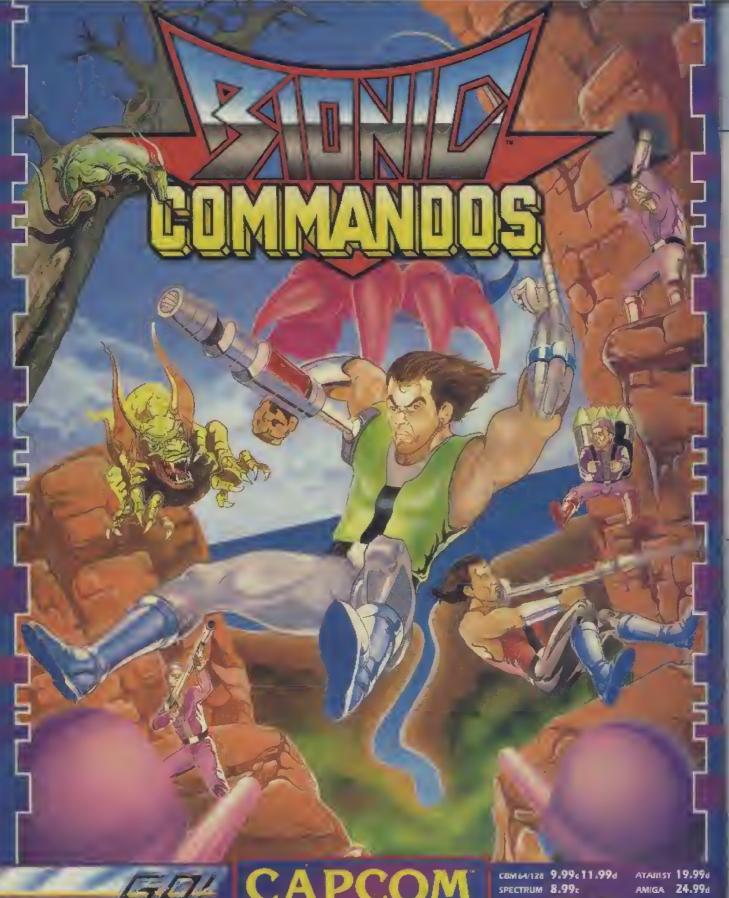

AS ENDORSED BY EDDIE "THE EAGLE" EDWARDS. BRITISH OLYMPIC SKI-JUMPER 1988.

le" on the Stil duline, Compate In the incorporating the sp events, without the risk at broken skill to remain "on piste" and dot

LORICIELS LTD. Eastern Avenue, Lichfield, Staffe WS13 6RX Telex: 336130 ELITE @

System	Format	Price
Spectrum Spectrum	Cassette Disc	£8.99 £12.99
CBM 64 CBM 64	Cassette	29.99
Amstrad	Disc Cassette	£14.99 £9.99
Amstrad Atari ST	Disc Disc	£14.99 £19.99
BM PC + Compatibles	Disc	£24.99

AMSTRAD 9.99c14.99d

GIANTS OF THE VIDEO GAMES INDUSTRY

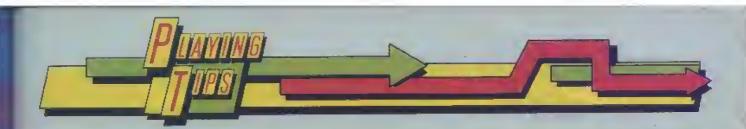

IBMPC

GOI Media Holdings Ltd., Units 2/3 Holford Way, Holford, Birmingham 64 7AX, Yes: 027 356 3384

19.99d

- (eight missiles, mace, rear laser, extra weapon) If you 62 left at the correct point on the last screen you will be able to travel from right to left and let the missiles launch themselves harmlessly. Then rise to collect the weapons. Select SHIELD if you have one or SEEKER if not.
- (Geehive gun, missile, aliens) Fire your selected weapon and follow it up with a BOUNCE. Get to the bottom as quickly as possible. Keep BOUNCE selected.
- (aliens, bricks) Launch a BOUNCE to remove the
- parany, brinkly barriers a poorted to remove the bricks and help kill the aliens, Exit bottom left, (aliens, two plants) BOMB the plants and move right. Because of the overhanging platform, half the aliens won't get to you. If you lire constantly you shouldn't 65
- fbricks, indestructible gun) Destroy the bricks with BOMBS. Remember, the bullets launched by the gun can travel faster than youl

- findestructible gun, valcano) Quickly drap into the first hole. Be careful moving on this screen as the gun's bullets are obscured by the volcano's eruptions. Select SEEKER
- (two beehive guns, aliens) Fire two SEEKERS Immediately and follow them up with a BOUNCE. Because of the narrow left side of the screen caution must be used in all movements, especially after the two guns have been destroyed. This is because the explosions obscure aliens and bullets
- (six missiles, mace, rear laser, aliens, six plants) Collect the mace to destroy the missiles and then collect the rear laser. Launch a BOUNCE and fly up.
- (level lift) This is the final screen (hoorays). The pipelines should be treated as in Screen 47. Land on tine lift to go back to Level One.

Or if you're a real cheat then the alternative is to use this POKE for infinite lives and fire power from Anthony Johnson in London.

Gosh, here we are again with another Cheat Mode Motel. This section of Playing Tips has had quite a few inquiries recently. Loads of people trying to get in to one of our many posh suites. Half of the people who write to me seem to worship the section along with Flashback. And the other half, well, they don't know what's good for them, do they? Anyway here's this month's collection of connected to lection of connoisseurs ...

and Edward Swift)

don't know whether this will work but you can try it if you like! You will need two autofire loyaticks, and two joyatick ports on your computer. Load up any game that requires you to press left and right quickly (like Gambel School or Hypersports) and redefine the left and right keys as

TAPPITY TAP

ROLLING THUNDER (AGAINI)

To change the colours of the sprites and the backgrounds hold down the INVERSE key and 1. Then press keys 4 and 5 to change the colours. This should be done AFTER typing in the chest mode in Issue 52 (typing JIMBO on the title screen).

You can also five if you press I occupants: Jason McEchatton

(eccupant: Ian 'blame me if it doesn't work' Williams) MUGSY

To get $1000000 (ust enter *8888888 (eight eights) when the Syndicate asks you how many customers you want to the two fire on the joys-ticks. Now when you have to go 'tappily tap' you can press the autofires and you should zoom

(occupant: Paul Jones)

JACK THE NIPPER

When you are near a cat, para the horn and it files up to the cell-ing. Someone will now chase you but if you get out of that room quickly and then return they will have ceased their frantic actions, but the cat will still be doing his was your naughtiness will rise. Continue doing this till you have 100% naughtiness. (occupant Paul Jolly)

.

IT'S BUGGY BOY TIME

I haven't been able to test this POKE from ian Crome in Norfolk because I only have the 128K +3 version on the game (for which I've put in a Multiface poke as well), but you can try it if you like. It gives infinite time on the 48K version of the game, hopefully!

REM BUGGY BOY POKE REM MULTIFACERS POKE 39086,0 1 5 (48K); POKE 37973,0 (128K) 6 10 LOAD ""CODE 20 FOR N=63535 TO 63541: READ A: POKE N,A: NEXT N RANDOMIZE USR 63488 DATA 175,50,174,152,195,0,128 30 140

10

.

.

.

io

.

.

.

.

10

. .

i 🌞

٠

•

ð,

.

.

įφ

٠

.

ie

.

įψ

.

.

SPEEDLOCK III HACKER

Last time I printed a multihacker routine it went drastically wrong, if you don't know what I mean just look at Issue 47, page 57! But the man behind all these routines, Jon North, has assured me that his new Speedlock III hacker works perfectly. This new routine works on speedlock games that load with multicoloured borders and beeps.

⊕ î REMSPEEDLOCKIII BY JON NORTH 5 • 10 CLEAR 45e3:LET T=0 . 20 FOR F=3e4TO 30139 • 30 READ A: POKE F, A ٠ LET T=T+(F-29990) * A:NEXT F 40 • IF T<>1077568 THEN STOP 50 . FOR F=F TO 1s9:READ A 60 . 70 IF A $\alpha 255 THEN GOTO 100 . 80 POKE F,A . LETT=T+(F-30130) * A:NEXT F 90 м 100 IFT<>A THEN STOP 110 LOAD""CODE:RUN USR 3e4 120 DATA 42, 188, 117, 221, 33 ă. 130 DATA 182, 117, 6, 6, 197 . 140 DATA 221, 78, 0, 221, 35 • 150 DATA 6, 0, 197, 229, 17 160 DATA 20, 116, 237, 176, 33 170 DATA 49, 116, 126, 254, 249 . 180 DATA 32, 2, 54, 0, 33 . 190 DATA 36, 116, 126, 254, 249 Ð 200 DATA 32, 2, 54, 0, 235 44 210 DATA 54, 201, 205, 20, 116 м 220 DATA 225, 193, 9, 193, 16 230 DATA 209, 42, 188, 117, 1 61 240 DATA 112, 11, 9, 1, 100 • 250 DATA 0, 62, 243, 237, 177 • 260 DATA 43, 1, 0, 4, 237 01 270 DATA 66, 17, 169, 250, 1 e i 280 DATA 0, 6, 237, 176, 33 290 DATA 150, 117, 34, 195, 254 300 DATA 195, 169, 254, 1, 96 -310 DATA 54, 82, 50, 17, 14 320 DATA 12, 24, 205, 28, 254 ωļ 330 DATA 33, 38, 255, 1, 100 Bi 340 DATA 0, 62, 217, 237, 177 350 DATA 54, 72, 54, 72, 43 ⊕1 360 DATA 54, 0, 33, 190, 117 œ i 370 DATA 17, 217, 254, 1, 40 • 380 DATA 0, 237, 176, 201, 17 0.5 390 DATA 36, 57, 14, 25, 23

Now here are some data lines to go along with the main piece of code.

OUT RUN (Infinite time)

400 DATA 19, 223, 33, 175, 158, 53, 195, 0, 72, 1090305

GRYZOR (Infinite lives)

. 400 DATA 60, 222, 62, 64, 50, 14, 91, 33, . 236, 254, 17, 0, 64, 1, 20, 0, 237, 176, 1 •! 195, 0, 72, 33, 9, 64, 34, 24, 254, 195, •! 0, 254, 175, 50, 103, 136, 195, 0, 128, O i

SUPER HANG ON I (Infinite time)

400 DATA 96, 224, 33, 231, 254, 17, 12, 10 . 91, 1, 35, 0, 237, 176, 195, 0, 72, 33, • 33, 175, 34, 74, 193, 33, 54, 9, 34, 77, 10 193, 175, 50, 79, 193, 195, 240, 235,

SUPER HANG ON II (Infinite time)

400 DATA 96, 224, 33, 33, 216, 34, 39, 10 • 188, 33, 54, 9, 34, 42, 188, 175, 50, 44, •! φi 188, 195, 0, 72, 1116223

BEYOND THE ICE PALACE

These are the official Elite tips for this brilliant game. Watch out 5 for a fantastic map coming your way soon – exclusive to CRASH Playing Tips,

- tul weapon.

 The a man, stand and light the baddles, con't run away as they'll keep following you any may are the sworlds as they are usually the bast weapons.

 Always try to use the sworlds as they are usually the bast weapons.

 Use the mace ball to kill exemise which are on the platform above.

 Turn above the run and for enemies when you climb as ladders.

 Take your time a den't run ahead blindly as you'll soon be surrounded.

 Todge enemies weapons by jumping or ducking them.

 Watch out for sneaky bats on moving platforms be prepared to summon a spirit quickly. It'll only work when above baddies.

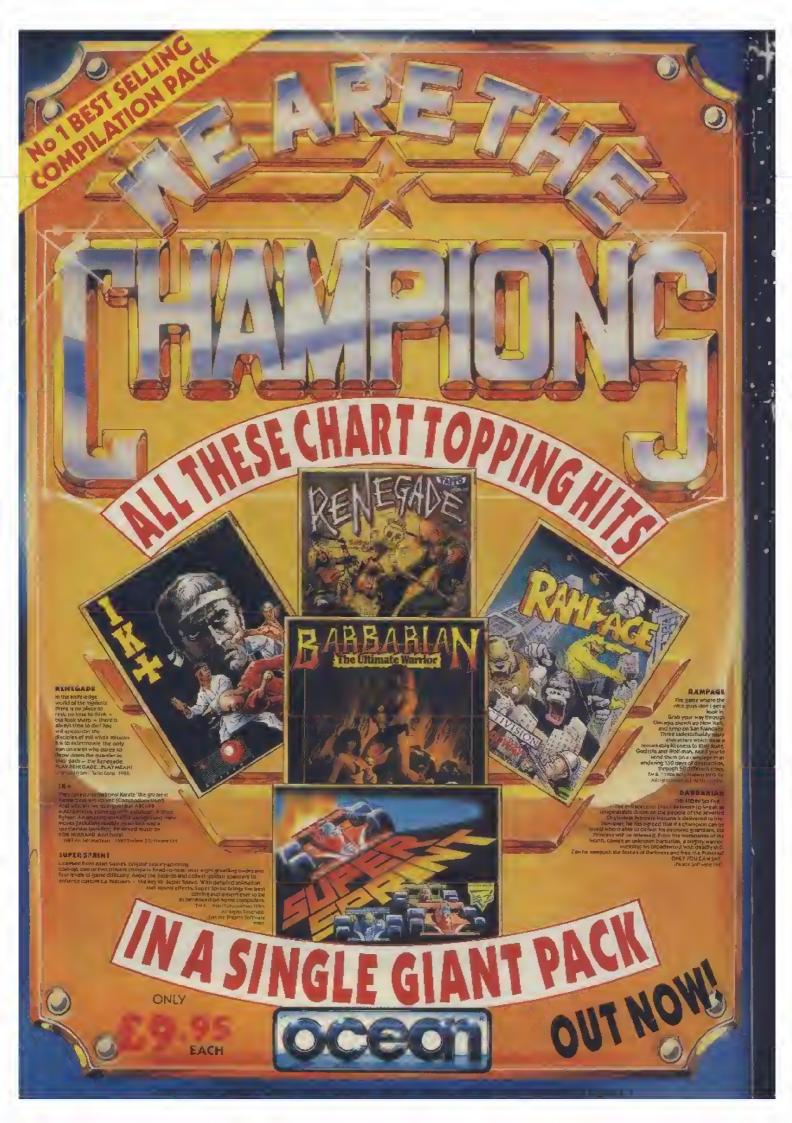

.

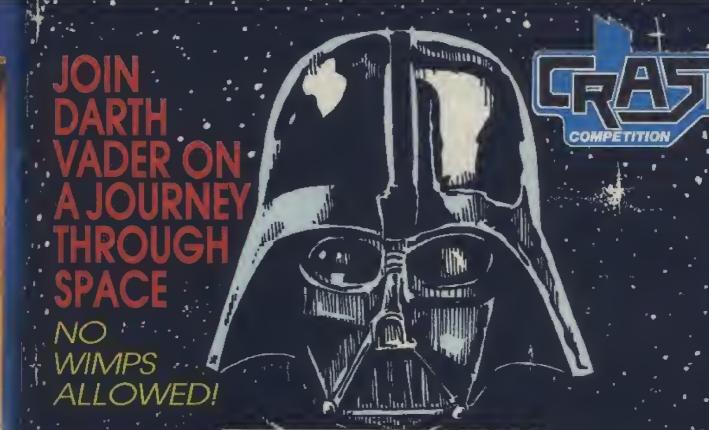

⊕į

The things people do to keep hold of their Young Persons Railcard.

It's not surprising when it only costs £15 and gives 16-23 year olds 1/3 off most rail travel for a whole year. Pick up a leaflet for details,

THE EMPIRE STRIKES BACK spared to success last morth with a smash rating of 90% in this exciting sequel to 50 was the Empire has unleashed hundreds of probable. At AT walkers and TIE fathers in a dark and desperate attempt to crush the rebal forces once all. Can Luke Skywalker and han Solo, in the trush Milenium hunter through the dark sky to victory. — yet again. Be franest? Havenit your always had a sheaking sympathy for the other side. Don't you'ree just that touch of disappointment whem "thi Vaders" byte the alway for on Empire ship expendes into a thousand shimmenny shores? Well just for those of you who ve always lancied a walk on the dark side of the force. Donest has aranged a prestigious competition. One contributed an one of cudience with the Lord of the Sim, Darth Vader, himself. To commemorate this soccasion, imprecedented in the history of the galaxy, land so you can show your mum) a photographer has been granted permission to record the meating an multi) a photographer has been granted permission to record the meating or

All this is not enough (nothing is enough for the dark side of the force) the Lard of the Sith, in his infinite vision, has agreed to take you and journey through the golaxy At Space Adventure, one of Landon's newest attractions, the winner and his friend are scheduled to embark en Starship 3881, the latest in computer-controlled alcoralisminiate technology (even Domark couldn't atterd the Empire's astronomical hira rates). The volvage reaches high across the social system to Mars. Who knows what hazards and hindrances you might encounter an the way. To be considered—candidate for this extraoralinary appointunity, all you have to do is think up a suitably with caption to this ineversent photograph of Domarkic Wheater of Mark Struction (To and Mark) purminelling an unusually object Dorth Table? I the ground,
Write your entry, along with your name and address, on the back afor

Of TO LLOVE DARTH VADER COMP, CRASH, POBOX 18, Ludiow, Shropshire 5/8 1DB.

Entries must be received by August 30 and the decision of the appointed CRASH judges remains final and binding every respect. Or else the faice will be upon you!

Stardate: 1 June 1988

Not only is Stormlord (the follow-up to Exolon) going full steam ahead, but Cyberioid II is also being started – and I thought slave labour had been abolished. (That's what you think buster - Andrew Hewson.) So it looks like this month is going to be . . . to coin a phrase . . . one mean mother.

I have designed some nice graphics for Stormlord and without wanting to sound too immodest, I reckon they are pretty good. If everything has gone according to plan there should be a few screen photographs scattered around the page hope you like 'em.

Stardate: 2 June 1988

I receive a phone call stating that Commodore programmer Nick 'I can do ten programs at once Jones and Janust attend a meeting at Hewson HQ in Abingdon, next Monday. After trying every conceivable excuse, Nick and I eventually have to yield to this highly unreasonable demand. Apparently, the meeting (or perhaps that should be interrogation) is being held so we can discuss Cypernioid II, and to enable the marketing people and games Sities at marketing people and games critics at Hewson to view the latest developments. in Stormlord.

No doubt they're going to give me a hard time, as usual - especially that Paul Chamberlain who is to games programmers what Colonel Sanders and Bernard Matthews are to chickens.

Stardate: 3 June 1988

I shall be spending the next few days frantically putting together a demo of Stormlord, ready for the dreaded encounter on Monday. The reason for all this hard graft is to convince everybody that I have actually been working (which of course I have).

Stardate 6 June 1988

Today Nick and I are making one of our rare visits to Hewson HQ, in the heart of rural Oxfordshire', as the recruitment adsused to say. Yes, there is not ascene more idyllic and rural than billowing Didcot Power Station and Milton Industrial Estate where Hewson HQ has its roots firmly planted. We are greeted, as usual, by yet another totally new secretary. I think Andrew Hewson employs a new secretary for every new letter that gets typed up. Oh well, variety is the spice of life I suppose.

As usual Andrew has forgotten that Nick and I are popping over and is 'in a meeting' with some other poor chap. I decide to wander off to see if I can pester anybody. The marketing department methinks; they're always good for a laugh. I get chatting to Sandra, the marketing (and definitely NOT PR) person at Hewson, about possible ideas for Stormlard's packaging artwork.

Needless to say, my brilliant idea of having a photograph of yours truly amongst a dozen semi-nude page three girls is rejected without a second hearing too expensive apparently. (Funny, don't charge that much.)

When Andrew finally notices that I exist, I am goaded into loading up my Stormlord demo. He is duly inspired by the super-smooth scrotling plus the fabulous colourful and lavish graphics (look, be fair, I have to hype the thing somewhere).

'Very sexy', is Andrew's comment (whatever that means). The rest of the meeting is devoted to discussing Cybernoid II. Hugh Binns will be designing all the graphics for this second Cybernoid

Stardate: 8 June 1988

I feel it is time that Stormlord had a main character designed for it. As mentioned last month, animator Nigel Brownjohn is the person to be delegated with this task. At the moment I am using Vitorc, the old Exolon character.

Stardate: 12 June 1988

I am finishing off programming the main character movement controller. The way he jumps works quite well because the player can dictate exactly how high he leaps. The higher the leap, the quicker the main character's energy is consumed. I think I'll use a similar idea for the main character's thunderbolt throwing, i.e., bigger and more powerful bolts will use up more of his energy than if he threw small sparks. Different nasties and obstacles will demand varying amounts of the character's energy.

Stardate: 14 June 1988 .

It seems the gang at Hewson HQ want to photograph some screens full of Stormlord photograph some screens full of Stermioral graphics. In fact I only just got out of having to take the photos myself. Now, I wouldn't say that the people at Hewson expect much from me. Oh who cares! Yes I would say that the slave drivers at Hewson expect much too much from me. (Raffaele, I'nt sending the boys round — Andrew Hewson.)

Stardate: 18 June 1988

Hugh Binns has come over for the weekend so we can discuss Cybernold II further. Well, that'll take about half an hour. Seriously though, Nick, Hugh and I have come up with several interesting ideas (half of which I was severely tortured into accepting).

Stardate: 19 June 1988

The glorious weather has forced us (totally against our will, I might add) to abandon discussing Cybernoid II, and instead we all have a silly day trip to Windsor Safari Park. It's a hard life being a programmer . . .

Stardate: 22 June 1988

Today is the day that I actually received the main character's animation graphics. Including a micely designed main character into the program is an inspiring moment – it seems to boost the game's atmosphere immeasurably,

Of course, there are some alterations that I want done (yes I am a fussy so and ... so), and I inform Nigel of these. Overall I think the main dude is pretty splendid -

Stardate: 23 June 1988

I got up at 4.30 am to incorporate the newly-modified main character - why this second batch of graphics were delivered at such an unearthly time shall remain a secret, because to explain would take forever.

Arrerrghhh. . . !*!$? The graphics disk is corrupted! Many glorious yellow and black streaks have totally smothered all the graphics. I am fed up, tired and going back to bed. Good night! A later (much later) phone call reveals that Nigel has actually kept a back-up of all the graphics, so all is not lost - hoorah!

Stardate: 24 June 1988

I can at last incorporate the main character into the program. The first thing that I notice is that he animates just a little too fast. A quick modification to the code soon alleviates this problem, Perfect!

- Hot on the trail of the magic mushroom
- Nick Jones and Hugh Binns pop over for a game of musical chairs

▲ Stormlord: Raffaele's work in progress

Stardate: 25 June 1988

I have spent today fiddling with a parallax effect in Stormlord's scrolling, i.e., a pattern of dots that give the illusion that there is a slower scrolling distant background, as well as the main foreground graphics. The effect works well but still needs further development. Whether or not this piece of code will be part of the finished product only time will

Stardate: 26 June 1988

I shall have to close this month's log. (I can say, in all honesty, that I didn't think up the silly Star Trek analogy.) See you around . . .

THE WORLD OF FANTASY AND HORROR

£2.50

A NEWSFIELD PUBLICATION

THE PRINCE F DARKNESS THEY LIVE!

THE SCREAM -Meet America's answer to Clive Barker SKIPP & SPECTOR

THE FANTASY FACTORY

Special FX from Hellraiser 2 The Unholy Pumpkin Hoad Prince Of Darkness

CENSORSHIP -

THE PETITION

Make your views count!

PLUS

SF, Horner & Fantasy Book, Film, Video Review

ORRO LPABLE ASTE FEA NOW!

Please note; the contents a own on the Issue I cover above atc of to convey an impression and mi-not be the same as the conton(s) published in the first issue.

SEND NOW FOR YOUR FIRST COPY!

I HAVE KNOWN NO FEAR AND

WOULD LIKE TO TASTE SOME!
Please send me a copy of Issue 1 of FEAR, British's most exciting new Fantasy magazine, price £2.50 (post+packing included)

Postcode

l enclose £2.50 chaque Made payable to Newsfield Ltd please.

l'enclose £2.50 postal order

On the other hand, I'm so excited by the prospect of FEAR that I would like to subscribe, and I understand that there is a subscribers' discount plan and some amazing special offers. Please send me the details immediately Please tick this box if you would like subscription details:

FEAR OPENING OFFER, NEWSFIELD, PO BOX 20, LUDLOW, SHROPSHIRE SY8 1DB

FEAR

On sale from June 16

ADVENTURE TRAIL

EXCLUSIVE MAGNETIC SCROLLS INTERVIEW

Where does the inspiration for games like Jinxter and The Pawn come from?

THE BARD'S TALE

City exploration from Electronic Arts

MINDFIGHTER Survival in post-holocaust Southampton

TIME & MAGIK

Another chance to play the greats you may have missed

PLUS MORE REVIEWS AND HINTS 'N' TIPS ON ALL YOUR FAVOURITE ADVENTURES!!

MESSAGEINA MICROCH

Since The Pawn first took the software industry by storm, Magnetic Scrolls have acquired a reputation for producing first class adventures. Their latest game, Corruption, is about to enter the Spectrum's chips. Set in the world of insider dealing, the City and the stockmarket, it marks an interesting departure from their previous fantasy games. Samara, Egyptian adventurer, materialised in their London offices and spoke to Magnetic scribes Ken Gordon and Anita Sinclair.

The heaviful facade of Le Monaco restaurant beckons you to take refuge from the streams of cars and buses which rush pust along London Road, swerving dangerously close to the pedestrians as the road turns by the restaurant. The only other place to find some seclusion is in the park over the road to the west.

t a distance of half a mile or so itom this upmarket Corruption location in the City of London, south of the river between London Bridge and Borough station, lie the offices of Magnetic Scrolls. Nip fown a grimy side alley, pass by a hearly-looking London pub, travel up in a rickety, rattling lift and you're there. It's a deceptively low profile for a company that has won practically every adventure accolade going including the prestigious British Micro Computing Game of the Year award for The Guild of Thieves.

So how did this small but successful company actually start? We spoke to Ken Gordon and Anita Sinclair.

When the QL came out, that looked like an opportunity for writing new, interesting games. When the ST came along with its added graphics the move was easy because they're both 68000 machines. There was a gap in the market; nobody had got into 16-bit machines so we took the chance.

so we took the chance.'

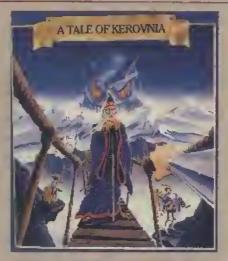

They picked adventure rather than arcade games purely as a matter of personal preference. The product of this initial gamble was The Pawn. Set in the mythical land of Kerovnia, it was marketed by Rainbird and converted to run on a wide range of 16 and 8-bit formats ranging from IBM PC compatibles to Amstrad CPCs.

Each name takes about a year to develop. All compatibles to Amstrad CPCs.

Each game takes about a year to develop. All primary work is carried out on a huge DEC Micro Vax linked to a series of individual terminals. With plenty of memory and disk space it's associated with none of the initial problems of working within the restrictions of a smaller machine. smaller machine. Disks don't corrupt and valuable bits of information don't get lost. A couple of programmers work from home on comparatively last Apricot Xens, but the bulk of the programming takes place on a system which provides more than enough which provides more opportunity to experiment.

What amounts to about 80% of a game is written by two people, one specialising in the text and the other in coding but as their work overlaps, neither is a complete specialist.

About two months before a game is due to be released, work starts on the individual versions. A specific format is assigned to each programmer: Ken, for example, has been working on the Amiga version of Corruption, Anna Sinclair on the ST, Meanwhile a small army of play-testers and bug-spotters is called

QUALITY CONTROL

The characteristically attractive dark blue packaging is mainly Rainbird's responsibility. They supply all the goodies to go in the box and suggest alterations on the text (usuallysupplied by Magnetic Scrolls) to go into the manuals.

The care that goes into the elaborate peripherals reflects the potential shelf life of each product. Ken Gordon:

'Our idea of a nice product is not necessarily one that's going to make number one in the charts but one that's going to sell for years. We still sell reasonable numbers of The Payn.

Ken reckons that the games have been successful because of the amount of effort that has been put into them.

'If we don't get something right it (the cause of the bug) will either come our completely or we'll delay things so it is right. We try and produce the most high quality product we can. We aren't in the same business as the people who sell their products at £1.99. It's in the nature of an adventure that, in comparison with top quality arcade products, it has a longer-lasting shelf life.

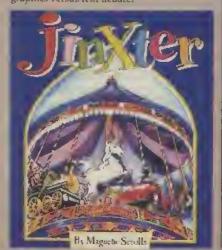

Adventure games tend not to have as many bells and whistles as, say, a 3-D shoot-tem-up which needs to have features to appeal to the next generation of games players. Adventures don't have the same initial sales figures but new players are still buying comparatively old adventures for the first time.

GAC-MANIA

Over the years they've developed a whole range of in-house adventure utilities. What do they think of some of the finished systems they think of some of the f available on the market now?

'A lot of really good ideas get strangled because a system isn't capable of expressing them. One of the most complex utilities available at the moment lets you have up to available at the moment ters you have up to 500 flags and 500 counters - you couldn't express one of our games in those terms. Without that extra flexibility, I could see it being very difficult to write a half-reasonable game using one of the adventure writing systems. The ones I've scen, even by people I've expected to do quite well, have been merrical.' marginal.

Magnetic Scrolls adventures, on practically every format other than the Spectrum, are well-known for their excellent illustrations. So where does Ken really stand in the great graphics versus text debate?

E T E R

GRAPHICALLY SPEAKING

'Graphics take a long time to do and they involve a lot of people, so they really have to add something to a game to be worthwhile. Originally we considered line drawings but we then decided to go for bit pictures. There's lewer of them, but generally they're of a higher quality. Corruption, for example is set in the cut-throat environment of the City—it's a dark and sleazy tale and the graphics help to convey this atmosphere. It's one instance where the graphics actually help.

'The trouble is that when a game is being developed we don't work with the pictures; the design is largely coordinated by artists told about the story. They're given descriptions of the rooms so that they make sense, but the illustrations can never be completely accurate, there may be a standard lamp in the picture that isn't in the description. Try and look at it or do something with it and you draw a blank. Our graphics are illustrations really: they're broadly correct but they aren't too literal.

'Having said all that, I don't mind playing games without graphics: If the graphics are really detrimental to the rest of the game then I'll switch them off. In some cases this even speeds up a game which is all for the better.'

The comparatively poorgraphics capabilities of the Spectrum weigh the balance in lavour of text-only +3 versions.

'We couldn't use an ST picture on any

Spectrum, Alor of our pictures can be reused.

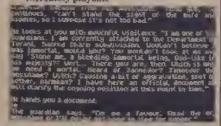

"We couldn't use an ST picture on any Spectrum, A lor of our pictures can be reused.

ST pictures can be converted to run on the Amiga or the PCW 8256 and the graphics

The Spectrum version of Jinxter is incredibly playable capabilities of the Commodore 64 are similar enough to the CPC for us to get away with it. If we did graphics on the Spectrum, to get them up to the quality of our other games, we would have to redraw them and we can't afford to do that on the basis of the sales that we expect. In any cose, if the Spectrum did have graphics there'd be less memory to devote to the game and you'd have to go to disk more. Inevitably, that would slow the game down.

What do they think of the future of sound in adventures?

WIRED FOR SOUND

'On the Amiga versions of our games you can opt for spoken-descriptions and enjoy a bit of music. Imfortunately sound is really heavy on memory. It would be nice to have creeping footsteps. The Amiga is probably one of the main machines you could do this on. Certainly with its stereo capabilities you could have binautal creeping footsteps. It might be a bit unsubtle though, having to tell the user that he has to plug in his headphones and wear them because he may be in for a surprise!.'

On the subject of icon-driven adventures

On the subject of icon-driven adventures

their opinions are mixed.

These games do narrow down the possibilities a lot which is easier from the programmer's point of view. You obviously have to cater for more possibilities if people can have to cater for more possibilities if people can type anything they like. On the whole, I think these sort of games provide less of a challenge although there are one or two. like Mindscape's Ddjà Vu which are really good. They cater for a more commercial market, but while there are still people who read and write books, there's still room for a more conventional approach like ours.

'Some games use a bit of both. In some respects they're OK but then, is it really easier to click the mouse over an icon saying N or just type it anyway? On the other hand, we do incorporate pull-down-and-use menus in some of our games, which allow you to switch off the graphics, make the descriptions brief or verbose, and so on. They're useful because unless you've read right through the manual you won't necessarily know they're there.'

you won't necessarily know they're there.'
As for violence in computer games, Magnetic Scrolls don't support a particularly pacifist stance. You can't die in Jinxier but the concept was introduced primarily as a

'You CAN die in Corruption but the violence isn't excessive, in fact, our games tend to suggest that force doesn't get you anywhere very fast. Attack the old man in The Guild of Thieves or the guru in The Pawn and you're dead. Blood and guts don't usually have that much to add to a game. It may be justified in a film setting where you're making an artistic point, but I don't think you're making that kind of point in a computer game. More often than not blood and gore is introduced as a marketing ploy, a form of teasing. If you really want to shock people then there are other ways of doing it.

SOMETHING FISHY

In fact Magnetic Scrolls are more in the business of shocking by contrast. The realistic setting of Corruption is a pretty drastic departure from the lantasy world of Kerovnia and an even more innovative game is due to be and an even more introvative game is due to be released later this year. Known simply as Fishi the adventure begins in the underwater environment of an ordinary goldfish bowl. The arrival of a tacky plastic castle turns your uneventful fishy life into a multi-faceted, action packed experience. How could you possibly refuse the chance to explore?

That caters for the rest of this year. So far there aren't any plans for another Kerovnian tale, but Anita Sinclair assures me that it's a possibility; though to recreate the familiar atmosphere, it would have to be written by the same people who wrote the first three games. As for what rould possibly follow Fish! — cod wouldn't like it because they'd prefer a fantasy game. And that would put them off our future releases.

NSID

So before you hand over your silver pennies, consider carefully whether you're really destined for yuppieland.

'We couldn't use an ST picture on any Spectrum'

There's a new Magnetic Scrolls adventure out and you know exactly what to expect: dragons, wizards, the odd gnome, a quaint old English village, a princess. Right? Wrongl

In fact Corruption is set in the heart of the City of London. You're the newly appointed partner in a firm of stockbrokers quietly settling in on your first day in the new job. Your office is spacious, there's a highly efficient secretary next door, and downstairs in the gatage your BMW awaits. Life is looking rosy. At least that's how it seems. As time passes, you begin to realise that everything isn't completely above board. Certain dues point to insider dealing and it soon becomes horrifyingly clear that you're the chief suspect. Unless you keep your wits about you and manage to gather enough evidence to clear your name, you may never get to drive that BMW again.

The adventure clearly has a specialist appeal. Magnetic Scrolls feel that it's more appear. Magnetic scrous teel that it's more likely to win the support of an older audience, particularly players who already know something about the business world. Anita Sinclair is concerned that people should consider what the game is about before they buy it. Even if you've enjoyed finance there is a concerned that provide the provider of the state Jinzzer there's no guarantee that you'll like Corruption: it's a completely different type of game. As a result the release has been given a comparatively low profile. 3

'Il we hyped this to the ends of the earth a lot of people who would end up buying it

R

As if by magic there's been a windfall of games just in time for the Adventure Trail Extra – and what a mixed bag they've turned out to be. In addition to the usual flx of home-grown, we've conjured up a couple of role-playing games, a compilation and the brand new Abstract Concepts production, Mindfighter.

In reply to all the enquiries regarding my origin, Samara is an ancient Egyptian name and not, as some ignoramus has seen fit to suggest, an obscure but fragrant brand of Persian peanut butter. May the curse of Rabe visited on anyone else who dares to make such a smart aleck suggestion.

MINDFIGHTER Abstract Concepts, £14.99

obin is psychic. His talents have been recognised by a learned professor and he is under close observation. When, in an attempt to discover his exam results, Robin projects his sensitive mind into the future, he finds himself unable to get back. Trapped in the living nightmare of post-holocaust Southampton under the control of an inhumane system, he has only 24 hours to sabotage the enemy generator and return home.

Written by Ann Popkess and programmed by Fergus McNeill (author of the Tolkien spoofs The Boggit and Bored of the Rings). Mindfighter comes in a shiny box, complete with a poster and a novel recounting Robin's experiences in 1987 - the year before the war,

The nightmare itself takes place in 1988. Robin awakes on a mound of rubble in the midst of a smelling earth and survivors stumble aimiessly through the unrecognisable ruins of their former lives. Only at the docks is there any sign of organisation and activity.

As Rohin's mental journey takes him nearer and nearer the nerve-centre of The System's operations, he can enlist the cooperation of a number of characters ranging from gentle Daryl to strong and independent Robert. Encounters with guards tend to be violent. As Robin is already weak it's advisable to carry a weapon and steer as clear as is feasibly possible of enemies.

Puzzies are very much centred around the game's two main objectives; survival and objectives; survival and infiltration of enemy quarters. The post-holocaust city is pitted with hidden dangers. Clouds of corrosive gas poison the air, rabid animals scavenge scavenge desperately for food and the smell of corpses lingers everywhere. To get familiar with this alien environment you're obin also noticed a snoustorm

An echo of the past in a horrifying vision of the future

terrifyingly desolate cityscape. Wandering amongst the charred and smouldering remains, poignantly illustrated in graphic silhouette, he finds little evidence of the kind of life with which he is familiar. Bands of hungry men club skinny dogs to death for food, corpses litter the sourbound to die several times as you explore.

The instruction booklet is full of advice for novice adventurers which doesn't turn out to be particularly helpful. The problems are fairly obscure right from the very start. On several occasions, you're only given one chance to provide a solution; if you don't the game comes to a grinding halt. This level of difficulty may be acceptable well into a game but it isn't very user (or beginner) -friendly early on. Requests for HELP are met by blank incomprehension and none of the responses to the EXAMINE command provide any sort of clue. It helps to have read the novel extremely sketchy.

Not that the supposedly sophisticated SWAN makes the sopnisticated SWAIN makes the process any easier. Having found a newspaper clipping, for example, you can only GET NEWSPAPER (a totality NEWSPAPER (a totally different thing), not CLIPPING which is treated as a totally foreign and unrecognisable word. Bugs allow you to burn rags to a cinder over and over again, pick up petrol when you've poured it all over the ground and after it's gone up in a series of impressive flames. A dead dog, clearly described, stops existing when you try to do much with it and a fairly standard command, like INSERT ROD, is received by the outlandish, 'Robin couldn't go in - only east'.

You may find yourselves inventing plenty of titles for the System Without A Name.

The long-anticipated, eagerly awaited Mindfighter is something of a disappointment. The first adventure release from a major software house in ages with one of the most stimulating scenarios ever, turns out to be mediocre, unenjoyable and comparatively applayable. Not that Mindfighter is an unmitigated disaster. It just doesn't live up to the quality associated with the flashy packaging and a bigger than the average price tag. Have a go on somebody else's before you decide to buy it for yourself.

OVERALL

69%

THE BARD'S TALE

Electronic Arts, £8.95 (cassette), £14.95 (disk)

n other formats, The Bard's Tale has been going strong for some time. In fact, it's been so popular that some are into their third instalment; The Bard's Tale III. Admittedly, what is essentially a role-playing game transferred to your home computer isn't exactly an adventure but, taking into account elements of exploration, strategy and analysis, it seems to fit in more with the adventure than the areade scene.

The scenario certainly sounds very like an adventure. The city of Skara Brae has been transformed into a dark and dangerous place by Mangar, a nefarious, megalomaniae mage. Vicious man-eating dogs patrol the streets, thieves lurk around every corner and giant spiders spin their massive webs in anticipation of attack.

Thrust into the midst of all this gather together a party of six warriors to find Mangar and force him to release the city. The quest begins in the safety of the Adventurers' Guild. You can create your own six characters or step straight into battle with a step straight into battle with a ready-made party known ironically as the A team.

Characters are selected from seven races including human, hobbit and half-elf. Each is allocated different attributes (strength, IQ, dexterity, magic several cold atch in the form of power, gold etc) in the form of points and is given a character classification. Warrior class classification.

adventurers, for example, can use nearly every available weapon, bards have the power to sing magical songs and four varieties of mage specialise in different branches of magic. Viewing mode, accessed via the keyboard, gives information on the status of each character and the number of objects he is carrying.

As the party moves through Skara Brae, the landscape ahead is shown in the form of a functional, monochrome viewing window. The journey winds through mazes, taverns, shops and buildings and it's not long before the group comes under attack. Combat takes place as a series of rounds. A list of actions available to each member of the party is given and once these have been selected (there's a chance to change your mind), your strategies are enacted.

As one player you can plan the simultaneous actions of up to six characters. Spells make the process all the more exciting. Depending on their magic ability, magicians and conjurers can (among other things) heal wounds, hurl supernatural weapons, enhance the fighting ability of a companion or conjure up burly monsters as alies. Combined with the magical properties of a bard's song, these can make for some enthralling battle scenes. Role-playing computer games can sometimes be criticised for their lack of variety. With so many possible courses of action available, combat, which forms the mainstay of the game, is unlikely to become repetitive.

▲ Stalwart fighters or cowardy costards - only the bard can tell

Weapons, torches and magical objects are scattered through the environment and can be sold, bought or exchanged at Garth's Equipment Shoppe. Roscoe's Energy Emporium sells spell points and temples provide healing and resurrection, but only at a price. Gain sufficient experience and your character class rating can rise from green and investment to the control of th and innocent novice (Level 1) to vastly experienced master (Level 13) though to get to this stage you'll have to put in weeks and weeks of play.

The Skara Brac environment is so complex and involves so many different factors that it's hard not to get completely enthralled in your quest. The combination of hack and slay, exploration and magic ensure plenty of variety and demand more than a modicum of strategic thought. If you do get stuck The Bard's Tale cluebook is available from Electronic Arts' Customer Service (0753 46465) for £5.00. Obviously you don't get the same sophistication that you might in a text input adventure but what The Bard's Tale lacks in terms of depth it certainly makes up for in role-playing action and Adventure enthusiasts should definitely give it a try.

OVERALL 86% reveals that a group of megalomaniac Timelords are plotting to take control of the world. Unless nine different objects bearing the impression of an hourglass are thrown into a cauldron at the end of time, the planet's fate is sealed. A grand tour of history follows. The vital objects are scattered throughout nine different time. different time zones accessed via a Tardis-like grandfather clock. Wandering through Ice Age caverns, past a prehistoric water hole and into a dangerous note and into a dangerous Roman amphitheatre, you encounter a series of perplexing puzzles. Successful interaction with (among others) clumsy dinosaurs, sabre-toothed tigers and Viking raiders (death is a constant possibility) leads to a final showdown with the terrible Timelords themselves. Carefully constructed, with complex, though logical problems, this is perhaps the most challenging of the three to play.

RED MOON

The Red Moon Crystal has been stolen from the Moon Tower on the island of Baskalos – and you've got to get it back. Your journey winds through plains and forests, past the edge of a very active volcano to a complex network of chambers in the castle of Cakabol. Puzzles centre around collecting the appropriate objects to cast a series of spells and weaving the correct enchantments within a limit of 50 magic points.

Like The Price of Magik, WS'3 totally different type of adventure from Lords Of Time. The emphasis is on exploration (the environment is seemingly endless) rather than solving specific problems. Once you've acquired the right focus for each spell it's simply a matter of using them in the right place. If you're after puzzles that you can really get your teeth into, you may be in for a slight disappointment.

THE PRICE OF MAGIK

The Red Moon Crystal has gone missing again. This time Mylgar, the jewel's guardian, has been driven mad by the crystal's radiance. If you manage to retrieve it, you will be given the observe to be his place. chance to take his place.

As you explore a mysterious mansion, you are faced with the task of learning 18 magic spells. Shrieking mandrakes, howling werewolves, and mysterious skeletons shake your sanity and attempt to drive you, as well as Mylgar, mad. Map-making is essential; the environment is incredibly complex and demands hours of careful exploration. In fact, apart from the spells, exploration is about all there is to The Price of Magik. Plenty of adventurers will find this sufficiently stimulating in itself. Others might feel a little put off by the absence of really challenging puzzles.

All three adventures are distinguished by elaborate descriptions and some fairly

TIME AND MAGIK

Level 9/Mandarin, £14.95 (cassette or disk) came Jewels TIESL Darkness and Silicon Dreams. As compilations of Level 9's most popular games tantalisingly packaged (by Rainbird) in an attractive blue hox, they became essential additions to every adventurer's collection. The presentation of Level 9's latest trilogy of rereleases Fine And Magik (published, this time, by Mandarin) is just as impressive. The instructions are comprehensive and a glossy novella sets the scene for an exotic journey into a world of spells, magic and mysteries unknown.

LORDS OF TIME

The oldest of the trio is probably the most impressive. As a portrait in your living room suddenly springs into life, it ▼ Dare you enter the holiday cottage?

ADVENTURE TRAIL

uninspired graphics. As you'd expect from Level 9, there are plenty of superfluous locations with features that turn out to be 'just scenery' when you EXAMINE them. Considering that these are supposed to be improved versions of the original games, it would have been nice to have one or two extra responses.

responses.

The KAOS parser accepts most complex commands although there are one or two anomalies. Try and put anything in your backpack, for example, and you'll find the desired object lying on the ground. Facilities, though, are practically endless and very useful. You can turn off the graphics, determine the length of the location text (brief or verbose), switch EXITs on and off, SAVE, RAMSAVE and UNDO a foolish move. Apart from a GOTO or RUN command, you couldn't really ask for more.

As a compilation of rereleases, Time And Magik shouldn't be expected to match up to the standard of more recent Level 9 productions. Still – as a set of classic games which were initially released to rapturous acclaim, they're a must for every serious adventurer's collection.
If you missed out the first time go out and buy them - just don't expect too much.

OVERALL

70%

RETURN TO DOOM

Topologika, £12,95 (disk only) ountdown to Doom (85%. Issue 52) had you trying to escape from the inhospitable planet Doomwangara before your damaged spaceship corroded away to nothing. You've just settled back into ordinary life, flying the odd routine mission, when an unexpected distress call comes through on your intercom. An ambassador has been kidnapped by a group of renegade robots, Unless you reach her in time, she is Doom ed.

The planet hasn't changed much since you were last here. Its climate is erratic and its terrain encompasses a wide variety of different geographical features. Thick jungles abut treacherous swamps, dark tunnels lead out into a world of poisonous fields, alkaline lakes and acid seas and in the midst of it all is a strange and half-familiar artefact.

Sudden death is a constant possibility in this bizarre and surrealistic land. One false step and you could be dissolving painfully in a shower of acid rain, sinking into quicksand or chomped into a thousand pieces by a set of monstrous granite teeth. As if that wasn't enough, the planet is crawling with ecosaurs, allodiles, pteromorphs, grobblers and montipythons. They're all pretty keen on the odd pound of human flesh and must be treated with the greatest care and respect. If you do end up plunmeting, disintegrating, dematerialising or sinking to an unexpected death, the program sometimes gives you the chance to pretend that you haven't. Magically you reappear at the location previous to your nasty accident and continue, a much wiser and (hopefully) better man/woman.

Proceed far enough and you come across a unique and innusual four-legged friend. Talkative and reasonably helpful, he makes a welcome (and humorous) change from the singularly antagonistic tone of the rest of the planer. As man's best (and only) friend, he comes in particularly useful when solving some of the characteristically fiendish puzzles. Governed by a general, if sometimes implausible, logic they are quite hard to grasp at first, not least because of a confusingly large number of red herrings.

If you've played Countdown to Doom, you're definitely in with an advantage; huge pieces of moving landscape and initially obscure connections between seemingly abstract objects won't seem that unusual. Baffled beginners can always seek help from the inbuilt hint system and keep saving to disk. It's definitely worth persevering; there's immense satisfaction to be gained from solving an offbeat problem that's been bugging you for days.

A no-nonsense parser accepts complex sentences, EXCEPT and ALL but no pronouns, adverbs or EXAMINE commands, and doesn't really ment the inflated price. Unlike the other Topologika games I've reviewed, this one is not a rerelease, yet its only significant difference lies in a slightly less blank response to the EXAMINE command. It's not an improvement that really justifies the extra three pounds.

Minor quibbles aside, Return to Doom has enough material to fuel hours and hours of intriguing play. It recreates the atmosphere of the original Doomwangara game without overlapping too much in terms of content and its unusual puzzles provide an interesting change from some of the more main-stream adventures around. If you're after a challenge, have plenty of time and a bit of cash to spare, contact Topologika at FREEPOST, PO Box 39, Silton, Peterborough, Cambridgeshire, PET 3BR.

OVERALL

80%

FAIRLY DIFFICULT MISSION

Zodiac Software, £3.50 Authors: Andy Lowe and Dave Dutton

s if in response to my recent pleas for more female heroines, Zodiac Software have created Charlotte Webster. A fairly ordinary mortal with a weakness (or computer games and Bay City Rollers posters (yukk), she is hurled into the midst of an absurdly crucial mission by the purchase of an innocent-looking computer game. Won over by the excruciatingly awful poetry of a certain Zytrwxz ('renty looking') she is summoned to the court of King Derek of Fantasmia ('self-loving') who charges her with the task of defeating the wicked, devastatingly evil and thoroughly selfish Ruth ('masty').

This epic quest is divided into

This epic quest is divided into five action-packed parts, including an intermission which gives you a chance to sit back and sayour the jokes over a quiet little snack. The adventure takes you through the obligatory glowing portal, the inevitable maze, a withered (no sorry, handsome) old man, a locked tower and a very climbable looking tree. No prizes for guessing that this whistle-stop tour of adventureland isn't to be taken entirely seriously. There's even a cliché corner where you can solve all your favourite puzzles for the 50000th time AND enjoy them. It's very easy for a parody to lurch into a repetitive round of

It's very easy for a parody to lurch into a repetitive round of boring, predictable and thoroughly monotonous spoofs. This one doesn't – probably because there's too much going on. The screen does a passable imitation of your trusty Speccy loading up, turns into a badly programmed home-grown adventure complete with spelling mistakes (it's all over in a moment, don't panie) and punctuates Charlotte's trip with one or two appropriately musical sound effects. A variety of friendly and not so friendly fantasmians include Norris the joking gnome, a sexist bookseller, several stereotypes, a herd of man-eating cows, a journalistic elf called Mike and an ore – of course.

Behind all this lunacy there

Behind all this lunacy there lurks quite a playable adventure. Don't expect mind-bending puzzles (you'll be too busy reading the text anyway), just a thoroughly entertaining jaunt through a jungle of parodies, wisecracks and cross-references. Interaction with other characters is always interesting and almost always helpful. If you do get really stuck you can summon Zytrwez by saying Z. The environment is complex enough to take quite a bit of exploration and one or two brain-teasers should keep you guessing for a while.

As another production homegrown in the fertile soil of Gilsoft's PAW, Fairly Difficult Mission has all the facility's usual advantages. The parser accepts complex sentences and pronouns, allows you to speak to other characters and has a RAMSAVE feature. Inevitably there are a few limitations but no very glaring ones.

Presentation throughout is impeccable. Colourful graphics and one or two special effects turn Charlotte's fairly difficult. mission into a very professional game. If you have the odd £3.50 to spare, a lunatic streak, and a dark sense of humour, send your grubby contributions to Zodiac Software, 22 Peakdale Avenue, Goldenhill, Stoke-on-Trent, Suffordshire.

OVERALL

76%

THE REALM

Cult, £1,99

here's bound something nasty hiding in the forest north of Thryll Town. As a seasoned adventurer

▼ Knock on the door and see what's inside

A Meet Mrs Mop

it's hardly the sort of thing to put you off, but as you enter the cool and leafy environment, your heart pounds nevertheless. Who knows what may be in store?

The ensuing journey winds from wizard's cottage through thickets and scrub, long grass and pine trees, a stone circle and a series of caves to the centre of the forest realm. Locations are accompanied intermittently by forgettable monochrome illustrations which take a while to re-draw. With a couple of exceptions they don't really enhance the sparse and minimalist location text,

A functional scenario hides a comparatively ordinary set of puzzles. Once you've found the mysterious spellbook in the wizard's kitchen, most of the rest of the adventure consists of collecting the correct ingredients (frogs, snakes, furry (woobles, mouldy carrots etc) in order to cast spells to gather more ingredients. Characters ranging from an extremely thirsty nomad, to a hungry but musical little girl, will provide you with the appropriate object only if you help them first. What follows is a frantic round of search and exchange which soon begins to

HS appeal. individual defines exactly what he needs by name, you don't even get the chance to work out what exactly it is he wants.

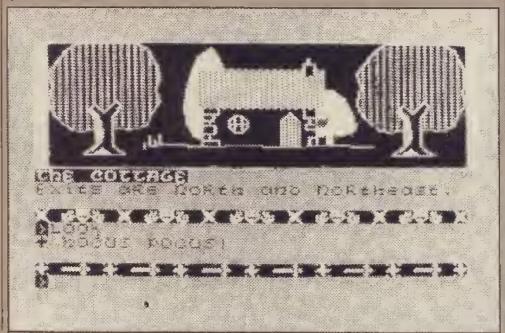

An element of danger adds a little spice to what would otherwise become an even more mundane and monotonous trek. Collect the ingredients in the wrong order or get caught in some of the forest's natural bazards, and your quest comes to a sudden and sometimes sticky end. The procedure becomes something of a logic problem as you try to work out which of the nasties (troll, giant spider etc) you have the power to tackle first. Get it wrong and your adventure in the sinister forest realm is doomed.

Even for a budget game, the parser is extremely limited. It accepts approximately 16 verbs and no complex commands. There is a SAVE option, though no RAMSAVE and you can turn the pictures off for faster play. As the puzzles are so basic, the lack of flexibility doesn't matter that much. Simple commands solve simple problems.

The Realm might work as an introduction to adventuring for a very green beginner. The more experienced won't find it much of a challenge. Exploring and swapping objects is quite entertaining at first and there are one or two interesting features, but on the whole it's unlikely that any initial appeal will last. Considering the quality of some of the home-grown adventures on offer at the moment, you'd probably be happier spending your money on those.

OVERALL

49%

THE DAMNED FOREST

Cult, £1.99

our precious diamonds have been stolen from the Black King's crown. The loss has turned him black in character as well as name; any visitor to his castle is imprisoned unless he bears the jewels. The kingdom's fourteen nobles have gathered together to hire a mercenary. Unless he manages to locate and unlock the four chests in which the gems are hidden, the land is doomed.

As the game quest begins you can choose to play one of four characters: wizard, elf, man or dwarf. The attributes peculiar to each are depicted onscreen in the form of luck, strength and stamina points. A menu to the right shows the number and type of spells available. What ensues is a cross between a role-playing game and an adventure. As you move through the rugged landscape of forbidding forests, windswept plains, marshes, lakes and scemingly impassable seas, your actions are limited to a number of options constantly depicted to the right of the screen. By pressing the appropriate key, you can examine, pick up and drop objects, travel, look in the direction of adjacent locations, cast spells or rest. Up to four objects, listed on a separate menu, can be carried at any one

Inevitably, the emphasis is on exploration and combat rather than solving puzzles. Map-making is essential. As you find yourself in a different location at the start of every game, you're forced to re-map till you become totally familiar with the potentially treacherous terrain.

The kingdom is crawling with dangerously bloodthirsty creatures. Giants, trolls, bears, ogres and orcs engage in battle the moment they see your tasty flesh. Depending on your ability and equipment you can attempt to counter using weapons or magic. Stamina and strength points are quickly diminished by direct enemy hits, though you can reptenish energy and stores in villages and at life-giving springs. It's important to watch your step, as getting caught by a powerful nasty when you don't have much ammunition, leads to instant almost Trustratingly you can't escape; the program only asks which weapon you want to use, not whether you actually want to fight. Pacifists are definitely out.

if the responses to fremied key pressing weren't so slow, the process of exploration, fighting, and making limited use of objects, would become quite engrossing. As it is, you have to wait ages for the screen to catch up with your fingers. Worse still, every time you die the game crashes and you're forced to reload from scratch. As it's quite easy to get caught in a no-win situation, especially at first, hours of miserable loading are ahead for anyone who really wants to get into the game. There is a SAVE option which allows you to record your character or your current position. I tried twice to save a game without success and was forced, bored and frustrated, to reload right from the beginning again.

All these drawbacks combined make The Danned Forest extremely frustrating to play. The Black King's plight pales into insignificance as you wage war against the keyboard, battle with the loading extrem and with the loading system and attempt to make sense of the SAVE options. Role-players and adventurers alike are well-advised to steer clear of this exhausting experience.

OVERALL

41%

▼ A more exciting moment from The Danned Forest

SMUGGLER'S COVE

MARK MCGREGOR from Ballindalloch is stock behind the trapdoor and wants to know how to open the oak door

OPEN or PUSH TRAPDOOR. Unlock the door with the key from the take.

DRACULA

PAUL SANDS is wandering around in the forest with very little idea of what to do.

Once in the thick of the forest, go west, north, west, south, east. Go south from the path. Having found the wall, look for the tree and climb it. (Thunks to DAVE EDWARDS)

MONSTER

MR E IRONMONGER thinks this home-grown game is one of the best he's ever played. Unfortunately, though he's got the staff of power and has returned to the temple, the helpful wizard of Tudaw is nowhere to be found.

Carry the staff in your hands; the wizard can't see it if it's in the rucksack. If there's no response straight away, type LOOK.

GREMLINS

GRAHAM MCLEOD is still being pestered by the gremlins.

- He writes:

 1 Where is the camera?

 2 Where is the smaller pipe?

 3 How can I get rid of the gremlins in Dorry's tavern?
- Cut the pipe behind the bar using the hacksaw from the hardware department. Join the two pipes with the tape. Press the camera button

MINDSHADOW

A question from R A SALMON and another from EVAN RICHARDS

- How do I leave the island?
- What do I do in Luxembourg?
- Get some steel from the ruined dory and use the rock and the steel to start a five on the hid-den beach, When the captain arrives, give him the rum.
- Enter the inn, examine the hat and follow instructions.

R E RA

SHADOWS OF MORDOR

As if it's not enough being unable to cook the fish, Furamir won't believe A SIMS when he tries to identify himself, WAYNE HOP-KINS can't lift the logs to build

Break the branch several times to make twigs. Put the coney in the pan. Open the matchbox, light a match, light the twigs and sprinkle salt on the fish. Put the pan on the sawon the jist. Put the pan on the fire and cook.

Say to Faramir, 'I am a hobbit'.
Get Sam to give all to Frodo, then tell him to drug one of the logs. Go W, N, NW, SW and drop the log. Repeat till you have all four logs. Tie the logs with string and pole your newly-made raft twen.

KENTILLA

ADAMLACKIE wants to know how to kill the Urga Maul that attacks him in the dungeon and what to do with the rope and the wax. NEIL MANSON can't get Elva to shoot Darg-Vool and catches the black death every time he attempts to take the time he attempts to take the black rod SAY KENTIL, LA to get the sword. Use it to kill the Urga. Go west from the Covezat's cavern. Tie the rope to the stalag-mite and pull the rope twice. At the river bank, throw the rope and swing across.

Give one of the knives to Elva before youreach Carawood, She! he will make a longbow and arrows.

You need to cast the cure disease spell. The scroll is in the chest inside the castle. The magic ingre-dient is dried moss. Look for this on the river bank and dry it on the scorched plain.

MATT LUCAS

PAUL HOSKINS has a whole

- list of problems;
 i What happens once I'm in the boat?
- Is it worth buying the jacket? How can I catch the pusher?
- How do I open the safe at Phil's place?
- How can I get rid of the thug at the warehouse?
- Follow the directions on the map to get to the island.
- Shoot him

- 4 TAKE VASE, TIP VASE, read the note and dial the
- number.
 Shoot him

LORD OF THE RINGS

More questions from Wayne, this time concerning the black riders. They always kill Frodo before he has a chance to take any action. For CHRIS BAKER It's crossing the feet that the property a problem. the ford that poses a problem.

Become Frodo and Merry and enter the Prancing Pony lun, Send Sam and Pippin to kill the riders.

Find Glorfindel's stallion (S, W, W from the beginning of Part 2). Go south from here to get back to the highway and ride the stall-

(Thanks to DEREK JENKINS and DES DAVIES)

THE HELM

Veteran advanturer TONY GRIST would like to know what to do to open his spellbook.

SIFT FLOUR to get the key to unlock the book. Don't open it till you're in the chapel. Insert the penny from the toilet (pull the chain) to get rid of the forcefield.

BORED OF THE RINGS

ROGER BURT and MARK FREEMAN are desperately stuck in the land of muddle earth. Roger wants to know where to find the pepper and the battery for the vending machine. Mark can't open the microwave oven box and needs a key to unlock the door near the base of the lift.

At Whee, go S and enter the inn. When the stranger arrives, go out, N, E and along the secret pathway. When south of the mountain, go N, then up. Drop the pepper at the Morona Gate to get through.

Once arrived in part 2, go E, E, collect battery. Insert it in the

You need the scissors from the bar. Kill the gremlins using the debugger.

In the cave with one chasm, type THROW ROPE and swing. The key is in the caves, (Thanks to GARY SPENCER)

KNIGHT ORC

JAMES BROAD from Oxford is in a prickly spot. He can see Rapunzel's tower but he just can't get across the hedge that separates him from her valuable

Put the mut on the hedge.

KWAH

DANIEL BUFTON, who lives just down the road from CRASH Towers is quietly going mad in the padded cell.

Press play on the recorder; you change to Redhawk and the ropes disappear.

RIGEL'S REVENGE

For ROGER BURT, STUART BRAND and everyone else still tearing their hair out over the problem of the basement, there follows a complete run down of the necessary actions.

Examine the sink, GET MEDIKIT, WEAR MEDIKIT, climb onto the sink, Press the red button, pull the bar hard, bend or push the bar hard. When Harper feels the single states the second single states. feels drained, press the green but-

NOTE: You don't need to load the gun. Just carrying it gives enough protection in Suburbia.

Don't just take any uniform; sounced a Rigelian one to get past the soldiers later.

Go down to get the bomb.

OF APACHE GOLD

NICK HUNT always loses the long thin branch when he tries to cut it with the tomahawk. He can't find the anis' nest and can't get into the mine.

Let the branch fall into the river below. You can retrieve it later from the shallow pool, The ants' nest is in the anshill at the edge of the desert.

As you try to enter the mine, a dancing Indian appears and bars the way. Sock it to him as he demands: INSERT JEWEL into the socket of the empty eye.

Blank? Brilliant? Bold? Bemused? Send your tips and queries on adventures old and new to SIGNSTUMPS, CRASH, PO BOX 10, LUDLOW, SHROPSHIRE SY8 1DB.

The most interesting are published, but personal replies are not possible. Anyway you wouldn't believe the postage from Egypt

Roads

The thunderous world of destruction the ultimate race against death, Roadblasters delivers all the gripping action and high speed thrills of the arcade spectacular.

CBM 64/128 £9,99t — £14,99d

SPECTRUM 48/128K £8.99t

SPECTRUM +3 £12.99d

AMSTRAD $9.99t - £14.99d

ATARI ST AMIGA £19,998 £24,9 d

(ii 1986 Kiari Games Corp. Monused to If S. Gold Ltd. All rights reserved.

U.S. Gold Ltd., Units 2/3 Holford Way, Holford, Birmingham B6 7AX, Tel: 021 356 3388.

Yes he's back. It's the man who likes nothing more than to listen to James Brown (Ow!) through his B+W DM220 hi-fi speakers (whatever they are), or walk around the office casually dropping hints about another Atari ST game he was playing last night (whilst listening to James Brown, of course). After a brief period sampling the delights of NHS hospitality (not worth feeding to Nick Roberts, he tells us), Mark 'Renoir' Caswell has returned to cast a stern eye over this month's batch of Spectrum screens . . .

- Never trust a smiling cat', says Peter Hallohan from Wyke Regis in Weymouth. Sound advice, especially where that lovable rogue Garfield is concerned.
- V to it sub or Bob? Arryway, whichever one it is, Peter Halloran has done a superb job in transfering the ercade duo of Bubble Bobble to the Spectrum screen.

- Stand to attention when I'm speaking to you! One of France's most popular exports in recent years must be the comic books relating the exploits of Asterix the Gaul and all his friends. Sergeant Eric Violetstr from Antwerp In BELGIUM is obviously a fan. Left, right, left right. . . .
- ▼ What will Berk find beneath the traig door? Javier Segura Kleyatzky all the way from PERU doesn't tell us, though, i'm sure it's not worth sticking your finger in!

el ctr-Mc

By Michael Yorston

■ Vroom! Vroom! I'd love to drive around in a car like this one, who wouldn't? Oh well, perhaps in a few years time if the powers that be consider a small increase in my salary, Dom could you ...? (Most certainty not — Ed) (Oh well, it's always worth a try!) Thanks go to Michael Yorston in Romford for this tempting and seductive picture of a Ferrari.

In true, 'Twilight Zone' style, Matthew Hales from Stowmarket in Suffolk invites us to step 'Dver The Threshold'. Not likely matel

Just when you thought it was safe to go back in the shower, Judge Death shows his ugiy mug. Chois Hallen from Scholar Green in Stoke-on-Trent is obviously a 2000AD fan. Trouble is, just like Nicko Roberts, you can never find Judge Dredd when you want him!

▼ Hooray, it's Jetman, our own lovable loony (with a few of bis, friends). Mr G Summers from Nottingham sent in this similitude of one of CRASH's favourite characters, What I want to know is when he's going to return in another game, eh?

Well, I'm afraid that's it for this month. Remember the prize? I suppose it's hard to forget really, as you get told every time — but for those of you not paying attention I'll teil you again . . . An action-packed £40 worth of software goes to the lucky person whose entry is deemed the best of the month, with £10 worth of software for everyone else featured. And don't forget, please include a SAE if you want your tape returned. (it's no good spinning me some yarn about the 'new recession' in The Thatcher Era and your lack of money for the impending increase in postage, i've heard it (and done it!) all before.) Please send your SCREEN'S to, MARK 'RENOIR' CASWELL, ON THE SCREEN, CRASH, PO Box 10, Ludlow, Shropshire SYS 1DB. See you next month and keep those pixels coming.

GET INTO CRIME!

In the late 1990's the streets of New York are a jungle. You are the ice cool leader of a gang of drug crazed terrorists. Your main goal is to become the richest, toughest and most notorious gang in the city.

FREE!

SEND YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS TODAY FOR YOUR FREE TRIAL OF IT'S A CRIME THE WORLDS MOST POPULAR PLAY-BY-MAIL GAME

SUITABLE FOR ADULTS ONLY Write to: --

KJC GAMES, PO BOX 11, CLEVELEYS, BLACKPOOL, LANCS FY5 2UL.

COM MAILEST

FALLS

Among other things, BRENDON KAVANAGH bids farewell to Mitre Games and welcomes a new fanzine to the PBM scene, read on . . .

S I wipe a tear from my eye, I must sadly inform you of Mitre Games' demise (at 12:30 on Wednesday June 8). Suffice to say a fair few debts are handing in the air level debts are hanging in the air, I understand that the company was no longer a viable business proposition (large overheads and few GMs being only a minor problem). What now happe now happens to the players who have credit balances with Mitre? And what of their games? Well, in general, all is not lost. Midgard is returning to the States, so present players will be able to continue playing by Air Mail, without financial loss hopefully. Global Supremacy is presently up for auction, with several large companies hoping to get hold of the game. Starmaster and Starship Commander may not be so lucky; these two games are time consuming to moderate and may have difficulty in finding a buyer. Whilst Tribes Of Crane has almost certainly had its chips.

I do not know whether any games taken over will continue. Or, if the new owners will take the old players and start them up afresh in a new game; only time will tell. Hopefully, no players should lose any money – the sale of the games should raise enough to refund all credit accounts. I shall keep my ear to the ground.

MISSING KNIGHTS

'Where was the Avalon section last month?' I hear you cry. Well, to put it bluntly, I waffled on for too long and subsequently ran out of space. To make up for it, here are the leader tables for both last month

		JULY
Gama	Leader		Points	Title	Game
1	Borago The Bibulous		1231	Knight	3
2	Frikkon Five Fingers	-d	1198	Knight	2
3	Cogen Lister		1159	Knight	-
4	King D'Susulis Maral		1032	Knight	1
5	Fernom		713	Savire	~
			7.10	metologia.	Ź,

Fernorn, King D'Susulis Maral and Borago The Bibulous have large leads in their own games white other game leaders are being caught by Torak Mentor (1150 points in Game Two) and Simon The Narcotept (1122 points in Game One). Game Five players are doing well considering the fact they're four times behind the other games, if Fernorn was a player in Game One he would be ninth on that particular game leaderboard, Keep it up!

Congratulations to the Knights, don't let the new title go to your

		AUGUST
Game	Leader	Points	Title	Game
1	Frikkon Five Fingers	1644	Knight	2
2	Borago The Bibulous	1545		3
3	Cogan Lister	1443		1
4	Faramir	1324		4
5	Fernom	1107	Knight	5
1 2 3 4	Frikkon Five Fingers Borago The Bibulous Cogan Lister Faramir	1644 1545 1443 1324	Knight Knight Knight Knight	2 3 1 4

Well, a fair few movements there. Frikkon Five Fingers leaps into first running for that majestic castle, while in Game Four the top position is seized by Faramir from King D'Susulis Meral by only 11 points. Congratulations to Fernorn, Game Five's first Knight. Fernorn is well ahead of the others in that game.

What's his secret? (Sch...—Ed)

PBM START-UP

lan Lacey has recently sent me a copy of a new PBM fanzine, which he has co-written with Stuart rie has co-written with Start-Up (+2 free turns), it's still in its infancy, though. The small sample copy I received bodes well for the tuture. An intelligently written editorial, followed by a couple of well planned reviews (including a marks out of two pushed). 'marks out of ten' system) and a comprehensive library of rulebooks for readers. More information about Start-Up when I get a production copy. Meanwhile, for information you can write to lan at Start-Up, Orchard Cottage, Greenways, Florden, Norwich, Norfolk NR15 1QL.

issue Five of PBM Scroll is currently available. This little organ has really grown since I first plugged it all those months ago, it is now in A5 size with 32 pages, including reviews; a readers chart; hints and tips; a feature on Feudal Lords, a large section dedicated sports games and much more! ohn Woods holds all the John Woods holds all the information at 91 Wandle Road, Morden, Surrey SM4 6AD.

Next month they'll be more on KJC's future plans plus an update

HELP AT HAND

Kevin Taylor, an experienced player in The Chronicles Of The Knights Of Avalon, kindly sent in a long list of informative points. Here are are the best.

are are the pest...
(i) The most important part of the game is alliances. Avalon cannot be won by a single player, no matter how brilliant you are. Finding some good friends and torming an alliance is therefore propriet as soon as possible if the top. priority. As soon as possibly (if you haven't already), write to as many people as you can through the internal mail. As with all games though trust no one but your best friend (and you cannot always trust himi - BK).

him—BK),
(ii) Your second priority is mapping. It is essential that you keep track of all your armies and that you exchange province maps with everyone—aiming to find out where you are on the master map. The system that works best is to use four sheets of centimetre graph paper stuck together; these provide the exact dimensions of provide the exact dimensions of the master map.

(iii) Build your cities close to the sea, as these are your production centres for boats

(iv) It is imperative that you enter and name as many provinces as possible and build, build build! As a suggestion, try to build all your a suggestion, by to build all your settlements four or eight squares apart. This will help when creating large armies to attack other players. War is a very expensive thing – try to be as diplomatic as possible – resources are often better directed towards building settlements; a much better investment! rivestment

(v) For the purpose of colonisation, keep your armies to one platoon. Incidentally, ahome garrison is not required till you are actually engaged in war.

on all that's wild and wonderful in the crazy world of playing Sportsman Snooker.

Are you a potential snooker World Champion? Find out in this top quality snooker PBM game. Send only £3 for your starter pack and free first turn. (Only £1 a turn thereafter) to:

> Parade Games, 3 Almond Road. Gorleston, Gt Yarmouth. Norfolk, NR31 8EJ

There are over 250 guaranteed places in 4 games, That's your cue!

NTLINE

with Philippa Irving

STALINGRAD

Producer: CCS Author: Ken Wright Price: C0 05

talingrad is the latest game by wargaming's only current prolific writer, Ken Wright. It takes up the often-bocumented campaign on the Eastern Front in the Spring of 1942, when Field Marshal Von Bock led the German Army Group south, into a drive to capture Stalingrad. The war on the Eastern Front had been draining the resources of both armies and, by this stage, it was no longer possible to keep up operations along its extent. Both sides decided to concentrate on the seuthern sector.

on the scuthern sector.

The capture of Stalingrad was intended only to be a stage on the inwards sweep towards the centre of Russia around Moscow. In reality, it proved to be an intractable objective and the whole Russian campaign foundered on it.

The game gives the player command of seven German armises, most consisting of six units. It is set firmly in the mould of the author's previous games (Yankee, Blitzkrieg, Overlord), with an increasing trend to what might be called 'system minimalism'; there is no need to take a dagree course in the operation of the game. Statistics are thin on the ground and all the player does to itssue orders is move units in blocks of three and choose between a handful of generalised attack options. It's a deliberate attempt to emphasise the gameplay itself, rather than distract with superfluous details and hinder with difficult order systems.

had obstact with difficult order systems.
The system is essentially the same as that seen in Ken Wright's previous two campaign games, Blizkrieg and Overford, Wargamers who own either will find no surprises in Stalingrad and may be tempted to start playing as soon as the game finishes loading. However, a careful reading of the rules and background is strongly advised as a preliminary. There are a few important additions to the system, and, as usual, it's necessary to bring both knowledge and imagination to get the most atmosphere out of the enscreen abstractions.

▲ A bird's-eye view of the assault on Stalingrad

The screen map is as attractive as it's possible for a computer 'board' map to be. Terrain is neatly and clearly differentiated, and the names of towns are indicated onscreen. There is certainly something to be said for concentrating on making the screen map self-sufficient and attractive.

There are seven different type of terrain, which carry their own movement cost and advantage or disadvantage for attacker or defender. Unfortunately you can't exploit these to the full as it's too difficult to predict where any unit is going to end up after a movement phase, and the decision about whether or not to

This month's Frontine Forum looks at a major different facing every Spectrum wargamer. Can the Spectrum still hold its own when it comes to large and complex strategy games? With the growing popularity of the 16-bit machines are 8-bit computers still the way forward?

Dear Philippa

Thanks for publishing my letter (in issue 61). I'm sorry if it reads as rather harsh on you but I had just finished playing the game in question and I was not in a good mood.

Recently, I bought a Commodore 64 and disk drive because atthough the Spectrum can hold its own in arcade games, the strategy games are rather limited, and having visited a Commodore owning friend and seeing the war/ strategy games that he had, I was converted. I have got a copy of the Strategic Plus catalogue and the range of games is mindboggling compared to the Spectrum.

I would advise any Spectrum wargamer to invest in a Commodore as well if he really wants to get to grips with his hobby. So henceforth I shall be reading your column in ZZAP! 64. David Ellingham, Stockton, Cleveland

Sadly, I have to agree with you. In my opinion the Spectrum is unbeatable for sophisticated arcade and arcade adventure games, and has had much more Imagination poured into its 48K confines than the flashy, Americanised Commodore will ever have. But quality and quantity of strategic releases available for the Commodore for outstrip the Spectrum selection; not only wargames, but fantasy role-playing games also benefit from the luxury of disk access. However, disk drives are expensive, so are those glossy American games. That, I suspect, is the main obsteele in the path of many Spectrum-owning wargaming enthusiasts.

engage in corebal is usually taken out of

The player, adopting the persona of Field Marshall Von Bock, commands the 1st and 4th Panzer Armies, the 2nd, 6th, 1th and 17th Armies and the Rumanian Army. Apart from the 2nd, the armies are divided into a right and left flank of three units each. The right and left flanks are ireated as separate entities for the purposes of orders. The only statistics available for each unit are a rough percentage estimate and an indication of morele, Orders are issued through a series of simple branching menus. Movement and combat orders are given in a single turn, and executed immediately afterwards. In the orders phase, the player can inspect what limited information is available about his units as well as the percentage strength of whatever enemy units are sufficiently in range to appear on the processed, the three units out along the landscapes in an unpredictable approximation of these flanks.

Having selected a particular army, the player issues movement instructions as in Biliziding, instead of plotting out a straightforward path for each unit, the player must indicate a general line of advance for the centre, right and left flanks of the army. When movement is processed, the three units dot along the landscapes in an unpredictable approximation of these three tensors.

Even after three extensively played games using this system, I still haven't got to grips with it it seems to carry the notion of reproducing the difficulties of command beyond the borders of insertation. frustration

Trustration.

Combat orders can only be given to the block of three units, in advance of seeing where they will end up. ATTACK means that the units will throw themselves wholeheartedly at any enemy, whether it seems like a good idea or not. Units with a DESEARCH porter will not attack AND first. a DEFEND order will not attack AND flight back with a bonus added to their effectiveness. But the most common order to give to DISCRETION, which leaves the decision whether or not to engage in combat entirely in the hands of the army commanders. The ensubtle nature of the 'attack' orders leave the player little

Once all orders are entered, movement and combat take place with satisfying speed. Combat is won by flashing units

▲ The Wehrmacht launches its attack against the Soviet Line and percentage losses for each side, and is sometimes accompanied by retreat or

There is a carefully worked out supply network which the player must saudy; offices link across the map in a chain of cities link across the map in a chain of supply which is easily broken. Once an army is out of supply, it cannot participate in the replacement phase which takes place every turn. This highly stylised phase allows the player to dish out re-inforcement points from a general pool to all armies in supply. It's very easy to be inattentive to the invisible supply chain, and to find whole armies suddenty

There are three difficulty levels, which step upwards sharply. The manual informs the player how to increase the difficulty Indefinitely by means of a POKE.
Yes — this game can be broken Into by pressing the SREAK key, and it cheerfully adjusting the Area The large correction. advertises the fact. This is a refreshing lack of paranola on the part of CCS!

Dear Philipps

Having subscribed to CRASH since Issue 26, I felt it was high time I made a contribution to your magazine.

I am quite an avid wargamer and frequently battle the computer at the likes. of Vulcan, Desert Rats, Arnhem, Lords Of Midnight, Legions Of Death, etc. Recently, I decided to add to my collection by purchasing Blitzkrieg, CRASH Smash. must be good I thought. After the rubbish loading screen I did find a good game. However, does it really medit a CRASH Smash? This suggests that it cannot really be largely improved upon, I believe that Desert Rats is a far better game than Blitzkrieg (f admit it is only my humble opinion, but I hope others agree), but it did not receive a Smash. Fair enough, it has its faults, but it is much more addictive and wide ranging than Bilitzkrieg - two player game, six scenarios (eight on the expanded 128K version) and a choice of sides are just a few points to mention.

Both these games (the authors state) contain an orders system which allows the confusing aspects of war units missing each other, surprise attacks etc. However, Blitzkrieg's control system leaves the player hoping for the best. The player has no option but to leave his units milling about, hoping to destroy the enemy and not let any enemy units past. certainly tell that I did not really have control over my armies and to win I did not really have to use much strategy - I just wished for a little luck. Blitzkrieg could also have done with a choice of sides or a two player option.

That brings me to my second point. Why won't wargame authors use the 12BK memory available? Ken Wright wrote a page of excuses along with Biltzkrieg complaining about the memory restrictions. Why can't he follow R T Smith and produce an expanded version for 128K computers on the B-side of the tape? Desert Rats and Vulcan both have this and I think that it improves the value for money no end. I may be biased towards R T Smith, but surely this is justified as he has written three great games that I won't become bored with. If R T Smith were to release another game. I would buy it, no questions asked. However, a new Ken Wright game.

I would now like to leave the authors alone and speak out for all wargamers who read CRASH, or buy CRASH and flick through to find their favourite couple of pages and . , . then check again, but (scream) no Frontline! What Is happening? OK, you will reply that there are no games to review. How about reviewing or re-reviewing some old wargames. CCS sent me a pamphlet full of games, but I would rather see a review before spending a small fortune. (CCS's East Frontfor next (sh!) Perhaps Frontline could extend and involve strategy simulations - not just wargames. The Boxing Manager review was a step in the right direction (have a look at Formula One by CRL and you may be pleasantly surprised). Let's be rewarded for our £1.25. Let's have a bigger Frontline! Simon Deans, High Wycombe, Bucks

I'm interested to find that I'm not the only one confused by the orders system in Blitzkrieg, Overlord and now Stallngrad. My high rating of all of these games reflects the fact that other aspects of them are excellent, and about as good as you're likely to get on the Spectrum wargaming front. The same can be saint about the R T Smith games (I didn't review Desert Rats, so can't answer for it), and I agree that the amount of game this author gives you for your money is greater. I understand that Ken Wright's philosophy is to invest most of the memory into the quality of the computer opponent; but I agree that everyone would welcome expanded 128K versions. The publishing houses seem to have given up on the 128K.

It's frustrating for me, too, when I can't produce Frontline. In future I shall try to keep a stock of back-catalogue games. as you suggest - and as I do for Manoeuvres in ZZAPI 64.

The game's main strength is the quality of the computer opponent. On the third level, the only way to win is to outplay the opponent, consistently and constantly making better decisions.

I have the same misgivings about this game that I had about Overland; I find it so difficult to control the units in a sensible manner that I'm unable to concentrate on the necessary decision-making and strategy. There is something frustrating about having so little control in a name uplate is something the strategy. a game which is beautifully designed and undoubtedly clever. You tell the units to light if they want to, but only if it's not too much bother... and then you sit back and watch and watch.

Nevertheless, it is possible to get used to the system and there's no doubt that it makes for very streamlined, absorbing gameplay. There are no ungainly pauses or ragged edges. The warety of strategy available is enough to hold interest through many successive garnes. This is another serious wargamer's wargame which is also accessible to the newcomer, and everyone but the most bardened arcade addict should enjoy

Presentation 93%

The normal large CCS box, containing glossy rules with a background story and

Graphics

Good graphical Interpretation of playing board layout

Rules

All aspects of the orders system are explained, though it's sometimes difficult to find a specific item

Authenticity 79%

The heavy obstractions affect the almosphere, but the details are correct

92% Playability Easy to pick up, and very absorbing

OVERALL

Another highly recommended game in the same mould as Wright's Blitzkrieg and Overlord

PAST THE POST

Producer: Cult Authors: Adam, John and William Parker Price: £1.99

rubbed my hands in glee when i took a first look at First Past The Post... No complex wargame this: just another example of that rare but persistent breed - the text-based strategy game.

The player is in competition with three other trainers whose performance records can be called up. You are already in possession of a stable of race worthy

Each meeting runs three races: the one mile, the two mile and the three mile. Before the race starts, there is an opportunity to see the odds placed on each horse by the bookles and to place one bet. The odds assigned may follow a one bet. The odds assigned may follow a logic Internal to the computer, but to methey seemed completely random.

The race itself is run in glarious dual-pixel animation, with your own horses highlighted in white and those of the rival trainers an anionymous black. They gallop at letsurely speed along a practically featureless course, generating a boredom that is almost unbearable. In the end, I resorted to reading a book while the race was on.

the race was on.

If a white horse has been frozen midgallop at the finishing post, then it's one of yours and you've won. Unrealistically, no credit is given for second or third place. If you happened to back the winner, you get the appropriate pay out. If one of your horses won, you get some prize money. Then it's onto the next race, At the end of the day, a league table of trainers is shown. Points are awarded on the basis of source and the b the basis of an unexplained system. Next, the player has the opportunity to sell a horse from the stable. A single horse is also offered for sale, with a price tag attached. Little judgement is called for, the animal is an unknown quantity, with

The horses carry their records on into subsequent meetings which is when the game first calls for a degree of strategic thought. The logic is basic – keep entering horses for the races they've shown they can do well at.

Maybe something interesting happens at the and of the season and perhaps variety and humour open up unexpectedly.

reflety and humour pop up unexpectedly if you persevere for long enough. After an interminable game, however, I got the impression that it was like this all the way through, it certainly failed to inspire any spark of interest or conosity in me. The absence of incentive to play First Past the Post for more than an hour leaves it with

Onscreen presentation is amouth and attractive, but there is a complete lack of

Few graphics to consider, but the animated race not exactly high art

Completely inadequate – no explanation of the principles of horse racing and stable management, and barely enough

Playability

Easy enough to play, but the race sequence holds things up

OVERALL

nothing to recommend itself, even at a budget price.

Presentation

written material

information on how to play the game 40%

or mail order from CCS Please send for postage. Ltd., 14 Langton Way, London SE3 7TL, Tel: 01 available on postal order. 7232. No charge Catalogues cheque or 985 hours of totally absorbing entertainment which entertainment

makes the game excellent value at £9.95 and £12.95! Stalingrad and other CCS currently John Menzies wargames Smith and available > and for the hours

Stalingrad Spectrum and this time with the added orce of a +3 Disc version! CCS What is terrifying again with oublic are the nvading 48/128K market bit home computer market came in the summer of 1985 when following the laurich of Commodore's Amiga, Jack Tramle announced the impending release of the ST in direct competition to Commodore's new

BACKGROUND

The St, according to rumour, had been in development even before fromtel started at Atan, but apart from the internal hardware

Aran, but applit from the infernal nardware designs, liftle else had been produced. An operating system was still needed, as was a usable front end and some form of BASIC. The built-in software used is a version of CPVV 66K, renamed TOS (framiel Operating System). A Grophics Environment Manager (GEM), was purchased from Metacomico, a British 55000 acompany, who were also respionsible for AmiaabOS.

Afteri were to keen to release the machine that the first production models required the user to load the 290k TOS from disk before it could be used. Newer machines have a debugged version of FOS on ROM.

Late 1985 saw the first appearance of the standard Afart 520 SI in Britain. Unfortunately, it also needed an external disk drive and a colour or monochrome monitor, as no TV modulator was present. This didn't stop the machine selling in substantial quantities, mainty due to Afair's terce marketing campaign.

Since then, the original version has been supersaged by the STM with TV modulator. STHM with modulator and built-in disk drive, and the 1940 ST with one megabyte (1900k) memory.

SPECIFICATIONS

All versions utilise the Motorolia 68090 16/32 bit All versions utilise the Motorcia bibliograph 1 acid bit internal processor, which runs at a clock speed of 8 MHz (theoretically, signify faster than the Amiga). The screen display has three modes of resolution: 640 x 400 pixels, which can only be used in conjunction with a monachicine monitor, 640 x 200 pixels with four colours on screen, and the normal "games" mode of 320 x 200 pixels with 16—— its, All colours selections are made from an internal possible of selections are made from an internal palette of Musically. The St. Is poorly cafered for, since the sound chip is similar to the one used in the Spectrum 128K machines and Amstrad CPC range. There are three separate eight-octave sound channels and a separate white hoise channel. However, the addition of MIDI (Musical Instrument Digital Interface) ports allow direct access to any MIDI compatible synthesisers.

THE STORY SO

At present there are well over 1,50000 Stain the UK - about 60000 were sold in 1967 and Atamare hoping to be that figure for this year's sales, abviously December will provide a large churk of that figure. There are many models available covering all environments of user predominently thome entertainments small business and large business. Atari are spending over £4 million on marketing the $1 in 1988, as apposed to only £1½ million last year. This year Atari are splitting their business section—the software and magazine base has already been formed for the entertainment sector—analitage to attract small businesses in large numbers (something the entertainment sector—and unoper contract small businesses in large numbers (something which no other manufacturer has succeeded in doing). Last year was very successful for Atari, with a furnaver of almost $30 million, they had finally his success again, since their penetration of the home computer market in the early lighties with the Atari 800 in September of last year, not only did they drop the price of their STs by $100, Aford also, launched their CD-ROM at $399 — transferring data to an ST of 1,5 Mb/ts per se——Though it doubles the price of an Afort ST package it does represent terribly good value: Its main blem is that Afort have a problem in targeting it of any specific market—thus the lack in software. Demand lot this new To-bit phenomenham grew so much that, after an aggressive (and very prosperous) TV-marketing compaign, Afort aleaned out of STs for three weeks in November. By December 87 the ST was really catching the eye of the garnes machine buying public. In fact, it was Wi-Smith's best seller throughout the christmas season.

THE FUTURE

into 1988, Ataniplan to manufacture one million STs worldwide (with aimost 400000 for Germany alone). Things were obviously going along quite well till March when, not unsurprisingly due to a rise in the price of silicon ahips. Atan pat the 5.100, which was cut from their STs in September 88, back on rising it to 5.399 (keyboord, disk drive and TV modulator). Atan tempted the potential customer with a gift of over $400 ($413.94 to be exact) of free software. The offer only lasts till september 1 of this year so you'd better mover fastify our want to take of this tempting package. But don't get your cheque books our too fast, as it is generally thought that Atani will drop the price of the ST either for Christmas or in January 1989 – and after all, who wants 22 – games when the ST has one of the fast growing 16-bit software bases, Aswell as the Spectrum. Commodare 64 and Amstrad (although this is rapidly diminishing in popularity) an extra format has now been formed – climast every software producer is releasing an ST version of all their products. And with Atan themselves giving their ST the same amount of backing – with the same concurred to backing – with

BACKGROUND

Early In 1985 the alling Commodore company bought the rights to the Amiga project from ex-Atari man Jay Miner, much to the displeasure of Jack Tramiel, who had only recently bought

With rumours of an Atari 16-bit based machine. Commodore were under duress to release the Amiga and, as with the ST, the first batch to surface were rushed, having a bug-ridden operating system that lotaded in from the 850K alsk drive.

the 850K disk drive.

While Atarl targetted their machine at the lawer end of the market, the Amiga, complete with impressive graphics and multi-fasking capabilities was pushed as a business machine cum executive toy. It is generally regarded that Commodore got it completely wrong, and while the Amiga foundered in the market in the foundered in the moran's land of the serious amateur. Atari's ST was busy building up a strong public following and a smillarly large software base, Initially, the Amiga peared as the A1000, looking every bit the serious computer, complete with a colour manifor perched the hardware case, separate keyboard and a mouse. Sales were rother, and the decision was made to release the more compact and considerably cheaper A500; which med in the cultumin of 86.

The A500 saw the first real attempt at taking:

Atari on at their awrit game, with the firmware, key and aisk drive contained in one case. Unfortunately a statio "TV modulator was still in amission, leaving the necessity of a monitor. A TV modulator is now available, but I/II still cost an extra £25.

SPECIFICATIONS

The Amiga uses the Motorala 68000 16/32 bit processor, running of a clock speed of 7 1/4 Milz. This is a fouch slower than the ST, but more than makes up for this deficiency by the addition of multi-tasking custom chips which handle many graphics features on their own. leaving the many propessor forum the bulk of the bragram. Screen resolution has four modes: 540 x 400, 648 x 200 and 320 x 400 with 16 colous (chosen from a palette of 4096 colous), and 520 x 200 which can support up to 32 colours onscreen, There's also a 'hold and modify' (HAM) mode which alsolays all 4096 colours anscreen, although it only works with static jokelis.

Musically, the Amiga Is superb, with four, nine-octove, FM stereo sound channels, and a novel built-in speech synthesiser. The A500 also has eight hordware sprifes, hardware scrolling and a bit blitter—the high-speed transfer of data

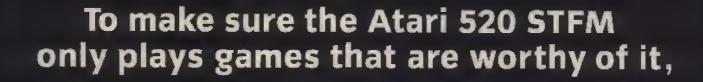

THE STORY SO FAR

The Amiga's sales were marginally stunted in January of this year when The Independent picked up on a new breed of computer In the new preed of computer to the new yupote vandal and an administrated from Switzerland and destroyed all Amiga disks in the second section of the second section was inserted in to a computer, the wrecking program copied fiself to PAM, and then any other readable disks inserted before the computer was turned off would be affected by the the computer wasturned off would be affected by the wrecking program which would copy Itself back onto a disks. Not surprisingly the virus spread like a... well... a virus. Thankfully the whole scandal was quickly expassed and an antiadite was found. And thanks to the efforts of major distributors like Silica Shop (who would copy the antiadite on to a disk for you free of charge) the virus has aimost been eradicated—atthough PC awners beware, it has risen ifs ugly fread on your machines, and will completely week a hard disk.

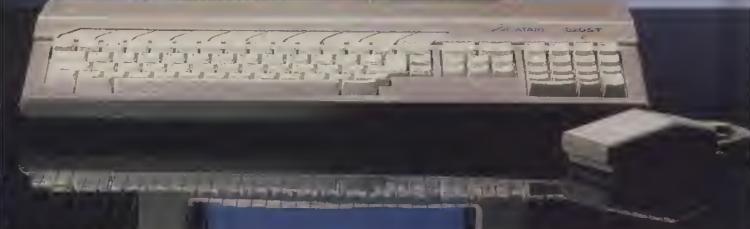

The whole affair may have been bad for those offected, but it did give the Amiga very heavy press coverage; and thus brought if in to the minds of the man off the street.

THE FUTURE

Present estimates put the number of Amigas in the UK at over 50000, although it's probably much higher now due to the recent price drop to 5399 (key — Twb disk drive and mouse) — athough, unlike the Atal ST, you'll need a modulator for use with a FV. This should also help move programmers to producing more original software for the Amiga Due to the extra capabilites, programming takes for longer and the Amiga therefore up until now most programmers have developed the product on a 1 — and just transferred the data to an Amiga, part to-part. But, as recent figures show, software houses are still producing more ST products for every one Amiga game. The simple fact is that there are more ST owners out there, and software houses don't feel obliged to put everything out on the Amiga when they're only setting 3-4000 units. US Gold's average ST ref. is more like 8000, although a — seller like Our Run (the first non-Spectrum or Commodore game to top the Gallup charts) can soil over 25000. Software houses like Oremin Graphics are just lumping on the Amiga bandwaggon and now promise full support for the Amiga — starting with their first release, Night Rolder in July.

Offer excludes monitor.

Only the Atari Summer Pack gives you the world's best home computer plus the world's best games. Twenty-two software titles that most people would give their right arms for, are yours absolutely free.

There's no catch. You really do get a 520 STFM and £414 worth of great games for just £399.99! But only until September 1st. What are you waiting for?

Are these 16-bit computers all they're cracked up to be? Are all the shouls of 'Wow, that's amazing!' coming from THE GAMES MACHINE justified? NICK ROBERTS, STUART WYNNE and DOMINIC HANDY had a good rummage through TGM's filing cabinet and come up with a few games that show the Atari ST and the Amiga at their best....

strategy games available to ST owners is Infogrames oin Blood, As an Blood, As an intergalactic traveller you must journey around the galaxy and callect clones of yourself; fall to do this and you grow weaker and die. The graphics and sound are perfect examples of what the ST can do. The Jean-Michel Jarre music at the start is amazing and the use of colour cycling on the hyperspace and destroy it unet aptions simply takes you out of this world! Unfortunately the game suffers in playability domain - the difficulty of actually communicating with the alien clones makes the game frustrating after a while. Another state of the aff ST game is Carrier Command, by those master Spectrum programmers Realtime Software (Stargilder). This has the player in control of an alteroff carrier, with four fighter all - and amphiblous tanks of your disposal in this a ade/tactical/strategy game. The smoothness of the solid 3-D graphics and the depth of gameplay defy belief. Similarly impressive graphocolly is Rainbird's state and actually actually and the belief.

Rainbird's Carrier Command has to be played to be believed

Virus on the Atari ST

Virus (the Spectrum version is reviewed elsewhere in this issue) which is very close to the original Archimedes program, Zarch, By comparison with Carrier Command, however, the Command, nowever, the game play seems a little repetitive, "Nice graphics shame about the game" seems to be the general feeling towards 1.6-bit software. Many games that originally appeared on the Spoatrum seem to lose all their playability on the conversion. One game that certainly has turned out well on the ST, though, is the grande oil 10 but ST, though, is the grande oil 10 but ST, though, is the grande oil 10 but ST. ST, though, is the arcade hit Out Run, The ST version has all the clong have been faithfully clong have been raintally reproduced from the arcade machine but if you find that they distract you, you can change them for realistic sound effects. The ST Out fun is one of the most playdole versions, and with a pit of practice which are the dose to completing a you can get close to completing a

The price of 16-bit software average spectrum owner this may

🔻 Racing fun from US Gold

proyability of the spectrum with the added attractions of colour and excellent tunes. The car moves along very smoothly with none of the scralling problems that the Spectrum had, and all the backgrounds are colourful and addited; it still has the annoying multilload though over the conmulfilload though, and the car comes to an abrupt half as you enter each new level. The tunes that play whilst you are zooming seem a great jump from prices like $7.99 for a full price game and budget littles at $1.99 but you have to remember that 16-bit games are on disk, usually of a much higher quality and take far longer

Finally, we come to Beyond The finally, we come to Beyond The foe Palace, Of course the layout of the ST version is identical to the Spectrum but the graphics have much more detail in them and are packed full of colour it seems to placked full of colour it seems to me that it is blander to control the main character on the ST. No matter how hard you try to manaeuvre him into the correct position he wanders about allover the place. Due to this the game, get terribly annoying!

Elite: striving for success in the 16-bit market

The ST is an excellent machine for upgraders from the Spectrum, as with the Spectrum you get a very expandable computer with the cheapest software in its market.

And so we come to the Amiga. If

And so we come to the Amiga. If you look more deeply at the technical specifications at the lecanical specifications of the Amiga, it soon becomes obvious that it has a fair few extra capabilities and becomes even more apparent when you lack at games which have been developed on the Amiga, and not just ported from the ST.

All ST games are very similar on Commodore's wonder beast, so there are very few games which actually catch your eye more than the ST versions

The number one Amiga game at the moment is undoubtedly F/A-

Electronic Arts strike back with an Italian tie-in fans will love it.

At present there's no doubt that the ST would be the sensible buy—it's got a steadily high software base and good retail and trade. support — especially with a free $400 + software pack, 8ut, the Amiga seems to be carbining everyone's eye at the moment and software support is undoubteatly improving. The only trouble is that the high street chains are still wary of stocking Amiga products.

As with all computers, the hardware is only as good as the software it runs, The Amiga has the quality product, but the ST has the quality.

The greatest flight sim to ever appear on a microcomputer?

A The greatest flight sim to ever 18 Interceptor by Electronic Arts: a tuturatic looking flight straulator with solld 3-D graphics. Once you're past the fantastic atmospheric title turne (very Topicum-Ish) and the annoying security codes you enter a computerised world of solid 3-D graphics and challenging gameplay. If you didn't know better you would think that you were really there! There are various sights to be seen in the game which include the Golden Gate Bridge and Alcatraz. Once you have qualified (by taking off from an aircraft comer various missions for you to attempt. Hove you ever flown upside down under a bridge at 909 knots? It's got to be seen to be believed! The only thing is that it's a bit too hard to qualify. You have to have the correct speed and height to make a successful landing on the carrier; you usually land, but go shooting off the deck and into the sea! FA-18 Interceptor is undoubtedly the best light simulator seen on a microcomputar. It's got everything; graphics, playebility and superto onlination.

Bubble Bobble on the Spectrum.

Bubble Bobble on the Spectrum

was dubbed the most playable.

was dubbed the most playable arcade conversion of 1,987 and earned itself 90% in CRASH—the. Amiga version is just as playable and even cuter. All the characters are excellently drown and animated in full backgrounds are just as detailed and vibrant. There is the classic arcade game tune constantly playing in the background and the usual impressive jumping sound effects. The addictive qualities of this game go right off the end of the scale. This really is just like the arcade machine.

As far as simulations go, the Amiga seems to win hands down. As well as a flight sim Electronic Arts also venture onto the Grand Prix track for Amiga owners. Ferrant Fermula One is the ultimate in track sims—and definitely not for avid arcade-only players. As the green flag drops you can almost feet the tension around you as other drivers weave and definitely not for a good game position; And, unlike most other racing sims your opponents are also fall like a slowing down for comers and spinning of the track, just like you and me. Sound is also used to full effect, the drill noises in the plis are fantastic. Real race Armchair sports fans or strategy freaks. Call them what you will. One of the most prosperous products a mail order company could ever produce is a sports strategy game. Most of the majors have kept out of this genre (only Addictive Games continue), but what they're missing is one of the most dedicated and loyal computer gaming groups in the UK. Some of us dream of managing our own favourite soccer, American football or cricket team and with the aid of your Spectrum it's possible for your dreams to come true - well, almost. Ace sportsman and all round sports fan PHIL KING takes a look at the top sports strategy games around at the moment ...

THE BENCH

Producer: Cult Price: £1.99

n The Bench is a textonly management soccer management game featuring four divisions and is very up-to-date – even the newly-introduced promotion newly-introduced promotion playoffs are featured. The player can choose to manage any one of 22 teams, though he always starts in the depths of Division 4. The game can be customised to your own requirements with a useful option allowing you to change the names of the players as well as

Players in the same division may be bought directly at a price set by the selfing team – they may also be sold to raise extra cash. The team is initially given an overdraft limit of £250000. If this is exceeded, the bank will automatically sell off some of the team's players

Before each match, training may be given to strengthen any part of the team, or the whole lot if it needs it. The players are selected for the match along with one substitute. During the match, a clock counts the minutes played. A screen display gives a current match rundown of players, scorers and anyone that's been booked or sent

After the match, the results of the team's division are shown. They appear very slowly, followed by an even longer wait for the new league positions.

The program suffers slowness and a general lack of control over the team's performance. Due to little over Due involvement there is a clear lack of atmosphere. Only two pounds, though

Overall

'Ere we go, 'ere we go, 'ere we go!

'EST MASTER

Producer: E & . Price: £8.95

f you think one day cricket is boring (which I don't!) then you'd better avoid Test Master, again from E & J. The game is very similar to Cricket Master but is a simulation of a complete five day test match.
The game is just like going to see every day of a test match – inevitably tedium soon sets in.
Most options are identical to those in Cricket Master. An extra feature allows you to declare your score if you're winning and running short of time. There is also a light meter; if the light gets too dim, the batting side can choose to stop play till it improves.

There are six and a half computer hours of playing time per day and this is reduced after each over, depending on how fast the bowler is. The game takes absolutely ages to play and, like the real thing, is a lot less exciting than one day cricket.

Overall

48%

▼ Could you stand five days of this?

OTBALI

Producer: Addictive Games Price: £9.99

nly last issue (79%) CRASH looked at Kevin Toms's sequel to the allconquering Football Manager, Football Manager 2's extra features include the exact positioning of players on the field and the option to substitutions at half-time.

are made. The finance screen shows the gate receipts, wages bill and overheads. In addition to the championship and FA Cup, the team also gets to play in the League Cup.

Although there aren't that many more options, the general quality of programming and presentation ▼ Whatever is Whelan doing in goal ?

The graphical portrayal of the match is a great improvement over the original, which was slow and

Players may be bought and sold on the transfer market where bids is much better than the original's. The game really holds your interest and is definitely the best of the sports strategy genre. Överafi

85%

EUROPEAN CHAMPIONS

Price: £7.95

management games are based on the English League and the FA Cup, but European Champions involves 32 national teams trying to win the European Championship – yes, England could finally do it!

Before you can take part in the Championship Finals, your team must qualify by winning its group of four teams. As in real life friendlies can be played to build up a team's fitness and morale.

Each of the 22 squad players has those straightfare.

has three attributes: tackling ability, skill rating and goal scoring potential.

In addition to your chosen 11, five additional substitutes must be selected. This allows for the extra strategy of making tactical substitutions.

Your team can play a short passing, neutral or long ball game, and decide to be defensive, average or attacking. Both these options after the strategy of the

The graphical display of the match is extremely simple (only the ball is shown) and time consuming, but at least you can see how the team (or the ball) is doing. This feature, along with the potential for substitution strategy, makes European Champions far more exciting than many other results-only games.

Overail 70%

▼ Spot the ball

RICKET MASTER

Producer: E & J Price: £7.95

t cricket fans are feeling out of lootballing strategy extravaganza, then think again because E & J haven't forgotten Cricket Master simulates limited overs (definable from 40 to

60) one day international cricket The team of openers, stroke

the ball was hit, how many runs were scored plus other useful

The batting side can choose how aggressively the batsmen play. And for added realism, on the fifth and sixth balls of an over, the player can choose to run a single to keep the best batsman facing the bowler for the next over.

An action-packed day at the cricket pavilion players, fast bowlers, spin bowlers etc, must be picked from 16 players, ratable from one to three.

players, ratable from one to three, Once the team is selected, the match can begin. When his team is fielding, the bowier can after his own bowling line and move the field into positions of his liking. Bowling and fielding is automatic and the minimalist graphics show the fielders and a rough guide of where the ball travels. Underneath the graphic display toxt. the graphic display, text messages flash up describing how

As with managing a real cricket team there is little else to do, especially during play itself. This tends to be a problem with cricket simulations in general. The various simulations in general. The strategic options are an improvement on most games of this type, but the lack of a two player mode is disappointing. Inwever, cricket fans will Flowever, cricket fans will probably like it as there are very few cricket strategies to choose

A is Phii's team tough enough to win both rups?

Producer: Scanitron Price: £10.95

f course every football fan knows, 'the double' is when a club wins both the FA Cup and the League Championship in the same season. Scanitron have tried to season. Scantron have thed to create the year long battle against all odds, in their game of the same name. The game includes many menus which allow the player to manage all the aspects of any of 66 football teams.

One thousand players are on show, with a small amount available for transfer after the eighth week of the season. Notification of forthcoming ransfers is given two weeks in advance, allowing the manager to send a scout to watch an interesting player. The scout (a very likable and useful chap) reports on that player's performance and estimates his value. value, allowing you to make a sensible bld when he comes up for

The way transfers are handled is one of the strengths of The Double – allowing you to build a team excelling in all departments. The excelling in all departments. The program uses real players' names; I was amused to see lan Rush valued at only half a million pounds! Every week a very slow pseudo teleprinter scratches out ALL the league results, and can become VERY irritating.

Sadly, there's no graphical display of the match, Being able to see how your players are getting on really stirs inner feelings (no matter how naff the graphics may bel). The Double contains many interesting features not used in other football strategy games, and also presents a reasonable challenge, it's not a bad game, but there's much improvement.

Overall

56%

Producer: Addictive Games Price: £2,99

all the sports to be imported into the UK over the past ten years, American football has been the most Addictive's successful. Headcoach puts you on the sideline of England's second most popular American sport (after basketball).

As the head coach of an up-and-coming team, you must try and build up a group of muscular meanies tough enough to win their division, get through to the playoffs and, hopefully, make it to the final objective: the Superbowl.

the final objective: the Superbowl. The player can choose to manage any of 24 NFL teams (what happened to the other four?). Teams consist of three squads: offensive, defensive and a special team for kicking. After looking at the players on sale, It's time to select the team for the match (pretty unrealistic, as normally all the players are on hand).

On the field, the player can choose between three offensive and defensive plays, and a field goal attempt (no punt option). This is where Headcoach really fails, as the real sport involves dozens of various recognised plays, as well as scope for specially designed MOVES.

The team in possession is allowed two downs (or plays) in which to make ten yards (there are four downs in the real sport). This supposedly speeds up the game, but inevitably it leads to a very restrictive and (usually) low-overall, Headcoach is a very inaccurate simulation. Even hardened fans of the sport (like myself) would be better off leaving it alone. Headcoach has a large following already, but with such a tack of realism it is very hard to see how anyone could gain the real pleasure and thrilf of American football from playing it,

Overall

28%

There must be more to the Superbowl than this

ALSO AVAILABLE ON

AMSTRAD E8.95 £7.95

COMMODORE

IGHT RAIDER

Producer: Gremlin Graphics

Retail price: £12.99 cassette, £14.99 disk Authors: David Pridmore and Greg Holmes

he sinking of the German battleship, the Blamarck, was one of the biggest coups of World War II. In May coups of World war is in 1941, Norwegian secret agents alerted British forces of the Bismarck. The British subsequently sent forces in search of the Bismarck and attacked it, damaging its rudder and leaving it a sitting duck. To sink the ship, a new American prototype torpedo plane was brought in - the Grumman brought

The player takes the role of the crew of this plane and can select various screens relating to each of its four members. The plane starts on the deck of the Ark Royal; but before taking off, you need to ensure that the throttle and instruments are set at the correct levels. The engineer screen shows the appropriate gauges and

Once airborne, the action is viewed from the cockplt with wireframe graphics in vanishing point perspective. Enemy planes attack the Avenger and must be shot down before they cause too much damage. The player may also switch to the rear gunner's screen allowing him to shoot pursuing

The Ark Royal is continually in danger from German E-boats and U-boats and must be protected by the Avenger. The positions of

PHIL

"The manual to Night Raider is extremely detailed and even contains the history of the Bismarck and its einking. comprehensive hight training options allow the novice pilotto get used to the controls before attempting a real mission. The different screens for each member of the crew allow for great attention to detail and many more interpretation to the control of the crew allow for great attention to detail and many more interpretation to the control of the c more instruments than would have been possible on single screen. Accurate vector graphics are fast, with enemy planes reasonably being detailed reasonably detailed considering the speed. Five missions of varying difficulty should help to lengthen the appeal of the game and the hardest missions will give even the best pilots a run for their money. This is definitely not a mindless shoot-'em-up but a reason that combines but a game that combines strategy and arcade skills to good effect. A well-presented, high quality simulation which will appeal to all fans of the genre. " planes and boats can be viewed on the navigator's screen. A course can be plotted by moving a cursor on the map. The direction of the cursor is shown by a marker on the compass on the pilot's

The engineer's screen can also be accessed during flight to alter the throttle setting or the fuel mixture and adjust other levers controlling the landing gear, and arrester wing Ammunition and fuel are both limited and extra supplies can only be obtained by returning to the Ark

The ultimate aim of the Avenger is to sink the Bismarck with a torpedo. To enable the torpedo to skim across the water the plane needs to fly at low altitude. A direct hit will ensure the sinking of the and a successful Bismarck mission.

Before attempting a mission, the player can practise any part of the game such as taking off, A bewildering array of gauges and levers landing, flying and sinking the Bismarck. There is a choice between five missions of varying difficulty

NICK I

"Night Raider is quite good as flight simulations go, but visually poor. The odd solld plane occasionally files over, and the few boots that you come across are nothing more than tiny sprites. The missions vary from just shooting a few ships to a full-scale battle. A feature I liked allowed you to plot a course which the plane will follow, while you blow up everything in sight – thus saving you the hassle of keeping an eye on everything. Night Raider isn't the best flight simulation around, but still very interesting."

'We're under attack, we're under attack!' Can you stand action of this pace?

MARK

"Night Raider is certainly a complicated game. You have to watch all the different acroens like a hawk, otherwise the unfortunate crew of you aeroplane end up taking an unexpected swim. Still—a quick perusal of the enclosed instruction manual should keep even the most inept pilot out of the waves. Graphically, Night Raider is Impressive, and although the view out of the cockpit is drab (remember that it's night time), the detail on the various knobs and diats, especially on the engineer's console, is great. There's plenty of challenge, ranging from practising the basic manoeuvres such as landing and taking off, to a full blown attack on the Bismarck, stopping off to sink a few E- and U-boats on the way, i greatly enjoyed playing Night Raider — a leading simulation game and well worth a look."

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Kempston, Cursor, Graphics: typically Indistinguishable wire-frame shapes Sound: grinding spot effects Options: five different missions and a practice mode General rating: a cool and competent flight simulation with plenty of attention to detail

Presentation Graphics Playability Addictive qualities OVERALL

ALTERNATIVE WORLD GAMES

Producer: Gremlin Graphics

Retail price: £7.99 cassette, £12.99 disk

the ultra-serious Games just the comer, Olympic around Gremlin have decided that a little fun is in order. Alternative World Games is a spoof on sport Itself oarnes is a spool on sport treat and includes eight comical events. On loading, the screen shows a parrot next to an old gramophone. The player can choose to compete for any of eight countries; the parrot then puts on a record which plays a tune associated with that nation. Up to eight players can compete, with only two playing at the same time. The game selection screen contains a video recorder with nine monitors. Eight screens represent the events while the ninth contains an option to compete or practise. Having been chosen, the event is "Alternative World Games seems to be just one big multitead! All you do is load in one event, play it and load in another (even on the 126K!). The game is excellently presented, though, with animated parrots, country selections and a whole host of different tunes which improve when you start to play. Alternative World Games' strongest point is its variety. Every event is like a new game and, with eight to choose from, you can't lose. A particular favourite of mine is the Pile of Plates – you have to wobble along the ground, balancing as many plates as you can carry. I love the way they all crash to the floor – to your utter horror! Alternative World Games may not be graphically perfect, but it's worth buying even if it's just for the tunes!"

loaded in from the tape.

Event number one is the Sack Race in which the player must move from left to right avoiding the manholes.

The second event involves balancing a pile of plates. The fewer plates dropped, the higher your final score.

Next comes the Boot Throwing contest. The player must swing a boot round and round, then throw it as far as possible. You can select an empty or a water-filled boot; the full boot can travel farther but tires the player out faster

▲ Cameron's nervous about heights

PHIL

"It's good to see a light-hearted sports game for a change and Alternative World Games contains some very offbeat events. The country selection screen shows a targe, well-animated parrot; I tove the way he picks up a record with his beak and puts it on the gramophone. The many tunes (different ones for each nation and event) really liven up the action. Each event is well presented with colourful backgrounds and smoothly animated characters. Unfortunately, some of the events are a little lacking in content-vou sometimes spend more time waiting for an event to load. you sometimes spend more time waiting for an event to load, than actually playing it. However, with eight games in one, you get good value for money. Alternative World Games is a worthwhile package which should appeal to all but the most serious sports

Grab your vaulting pole and it's on to the River Jump. You've hardly got time to catch your breath before you're trying to

MARK

" Following a string of sports games. mainly from the Epyx stable, It's nice to see Gremlin releasing a game with such silly events as Boot Throwing, Pole Climbing, Plate Balancing and Pogoing. The graphics are detailed, with large detailed, wir monochromatic sprites wobbling around the screen as they compete in some of the strangest sporting events you'll ever see. I spent sporting a lot of time tearing my hair out because of the annoyingly long wait the player has to suffer between multiloaded events. However, most of the events are worth the effort especially the especially the plate balancing, which has the poor competitor teetering beneath a huge pile of crockery. Take a look crockery. Alternative World Games certainly makes a change from the usual run-of-themill examples of the genre.

collect a bottle of champagne in the Pole Climbing contest.

Event six involves a Run Up The Wall carrying a hat, and is followed by a Pillow Fight in which you attempt to knock your opponent into the water. In the final event, you must pogo around the course, within a given time limit, bursting balloons along the way.

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Cursor, Kempston,

Graphics: detailed backdrops, with slightly blocky and jerkify animated sprites Sound: jolly loading tune and with a different tune for each country and event. Raspy ingame spot effects Options: compete or practise

the events in any order as the representative of any of eight

General rating: an enjoyably weird and whacky world tour, slightly marred by a very tedious multiload

Presentation Graphics Addictive qualities

OVERKILL

Producer: Atlantis Retail price: £1.99 Author: Grant Jaquest

n the remote galaxy of Quanton, all the dreaded moon contains an arsenal of deadly weapons, are to be destroyed. Unfortunately, the Galileo moon citadel has activated its automatic defence system. You must penetrate its defences and destroy the ten nuclear towers at its core. The citadel contains five levels, the alien inhabitants of each reduce your energy on contact.

You control the velocity of the character and can manoeuvre him on to trampolines to make him jump. Other levels are accessed by colliding with the teleport bubble.

The nuclear towers are located on Level Five. Each consists of nine blocks which are destroyed by anti-radiation orbs collected from a dimension room. Collecting time cubes increases the amount of time you can spend in this room. Orbs are collected by moving across a three-by-three grld.

When time runs out in the dimension room, the player returns to Level One and must progress to Level Five, where the towers can be destroyed on touch, block by block.

All alone in the Quanton galaxy

CRITICISM

" The most unusual thing about Overkill is that the main character is unarmed - there's no killing at alli Gameplay is therefore limited to avoiding the nasties while collecting time cubes. Progress is initially very difficult as control is awkward when jumping and enemies are pretty hard to avoid Backdrops are colourful largely irrelevant and the main character isn't animated at all when he is floating through the air. Collecting orbs in the dimension room is extremely simple, as is the destruction of the towers. Once you've mastered the controls, the game becomes easy – I managed to complete it after about a dozen attempts.

 " Overkill is the latest offering from Grant Jaquest, author of Disposable Heroes (reviewed back in Issue 52), and I must admit that there's more than a résembiance. graphics are bright, but simplistic, with blobby-looking simplistic, with blobby-looking sprites wobbling around very samey looking backdrops. The lack of a weapon, even to stun the meanies, is an annoying omission, especially later on in the game when collision forfeits the precious orbs used to the precious orbs used to destroy the nuclear towers. A mildly addictive game, but not one of long term interest. " 35%

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Kempston, Sinclair Graphics: colourful but lacking in Sound: burbly spot effects General rating: not much to pay, not much to play

Presentation	479.
Graphics	4496
Playability Addictive quality	489
DIVIEW AL	36% %

HOPPING MAD

Producer: Elite

Retail price: £7.99 cassette, £12.99 disk Authors: Neil Laterche and Lizzie t's a hard life hopping through the world and Hopping Mad is full of ups and downs. The player controls a string of

PHIL

"The controls for the game are extremely simple; just left, right and fire, but the balls are still incredibly difficult to control as they bounce through the scrolling landscape. The backgrounds lack detail but are very colourful with the odd spot of colour clash. The sprites move easily and quickly against a smoothly scrolling background. There are a couple of nice tunes on the 128K - it's just a pity that they don't play during the game itself. The idea of bouncing is reminiscent of the ancient Kosmic Kanga but this time the screen scrolls from left to right. Personally, I'd have preferred it the other way round. Despite its simplicity, gameplay is fast and fun but also very challenging as you try to keep up to four balls out of trouble at the same time. The real problem with the game is its repetitiveness and the rather high difficulty. Still it's very playable and keeps you coming back for more; definitely worth a look."

four balls which continually bounce up and down as they move from right to left against a horizontally scrolling landscape. The player can make them jump higher (by pressing fire) and speed

▼ Watch out for the balleating plant

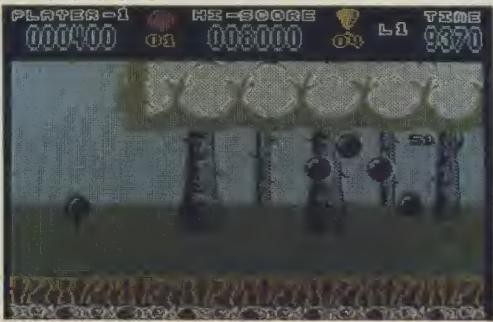

KATI

"Skipping through the countryside as a series of interconnected bouncing bobbles doesn't sound like the most promising game scenario, but what starts out sounding incredibly silly turns out to be extremely enjoyable. The colourful backdrops are bright and bouncy – as with all Elite games a jolly 128K tune helps you on your sprightly way – and collision detection is totally accurate as you bound recklessly over hedgehogs, lizards and flowers, squashing the innocents as you go. The only missing ingredient is a bit of variety. If only there was a contrasting sub-game, a bit of multidirectional hopping, a two-player option – anything for a little alternative excitement. When you've bounced and bounded your merry way through all eight levels of this computerised hopscotch you may feel a little disappointed that there's nothing more. Still – as long as you're not after the game of a lifetime you've got a few enjoyably acrobatic weeks on your hands."

74%

Just hop, hop, hopping along up or slow down their movement. The bails collect ballcons by bouncing into them; a collection of ten ballcons gives access to the next level.

Environments range from forest to beach scene (no time for sunbathing here) and from desert to undersea world. Each stage contains its own particular hazards, most of which burst one or more of the balls when hit. Desert cacti swallow up badly positioned balls; prickly hedgehogs and slithering snakes crawl across the earth, and lethal rooks and bees soar through the air. Extra points are awarded for collecting apples as well as other bonus objects and for jumping directly on to certain obstacles. When all four balls have burst, the player loses one of three lives.

player loses one of three lives.

Play skilfully enough and you can bounce through the world, over the sea and out into uncharted regions of space to boldly hop where no man (or woman) has hopped before.

NICK

" The control method of Hopping Mad is very similar to that of Ocean's Wizball in that there's so much inertia it is extremely easy to go out of control. The presentation is axcellent, with a tune that sounds like it has come from a children's programme, along with some colourful and joily graphics. The game Itself is terribly hard to play; with some concentration I did manage to get to the start of Level 3 but found it impossible to finish. It's a shame Eiite have made it so difficult to get anywhere because the further you get the better the graphics and animation—Level 8 should be a real treat! At least they've chosen the right title for a game where, if you're not careful, you can get killed very easily in the first couple of seconds—and go Hopping Mad!"

769

COMMENTS

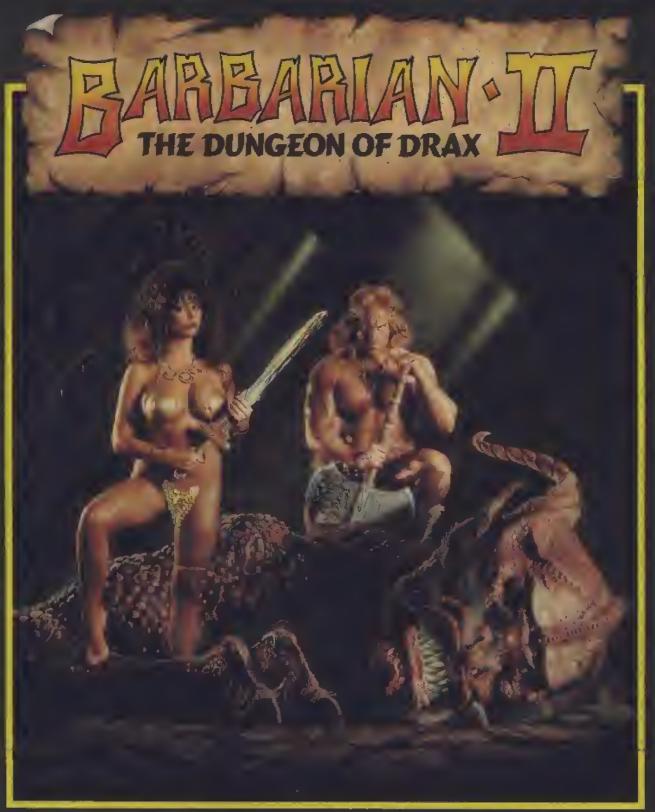

Joysticks: Cursor, Kempston,

Graphics: bright, bouncy and colourful with well-animated figures

Sound: two jolly 128K title tunes plus many varied squirty snot effects spot effects

General rating: the unusual control method and the attractive presentation are great fun at first. However, repetitive and difficult gameplay suggest that initial enthusiasm may not last

Presentation
Graphics
Playability
Addictive qualities
OVERALL

Spectrum Version

Check your local stockist for availability. In case of difficulty, available by mail order from: Palace Software, The Old Forge, 7 Caledonían Road, London N1 9DX. Send cheque or postal order for £9.99

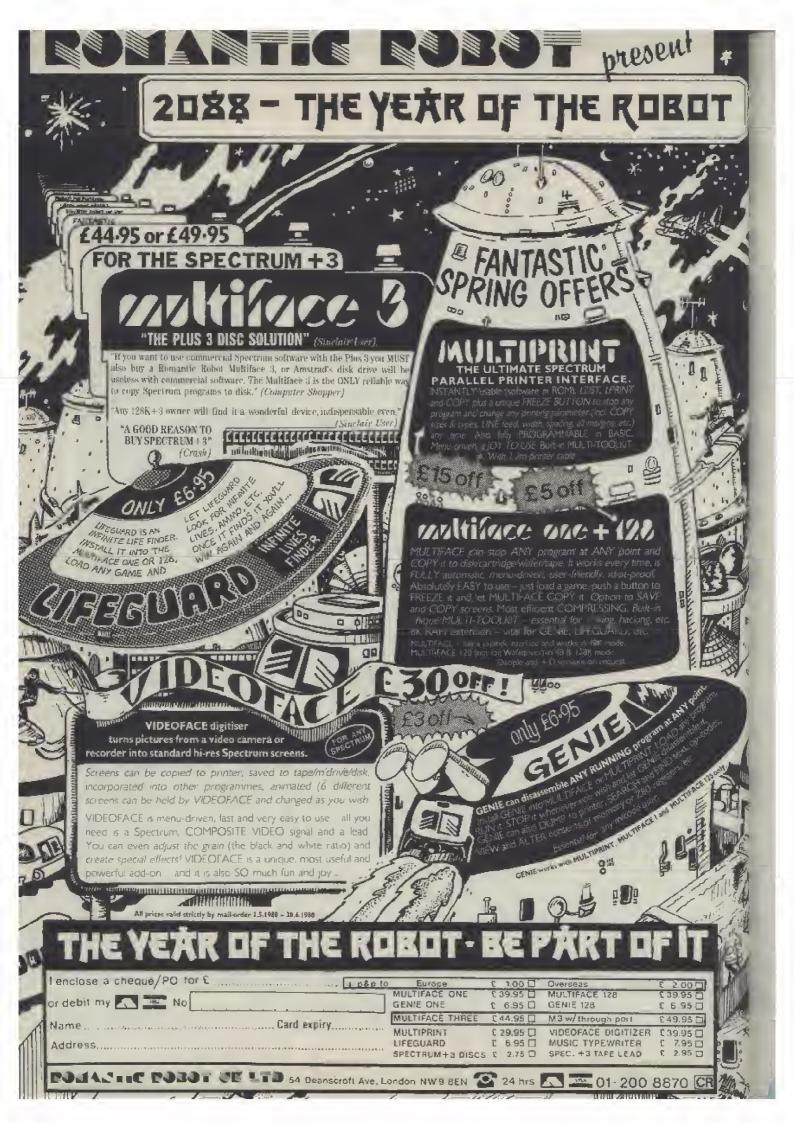

Amiga Version

G64 Version

(C64, Spectrum, Amstrad cassette), £12.99 (C64 disk), £14.99 (ST, Amstrad, Spectrum disk), £19.99 (Amiga) plus 80p P&P. Access and Visa holders telephone 01-278 0751, Subject to availability.

TECHNICHE

This month, JON 'N-N-N-NORMAN' BATES steps into the shadows of the Motel's parlour for a didactic review of Quasar's Yamaha DX7 programmer plus more on those wild 'n' whacky samplers . . .

UMMER IS always oppressive. Here at the motel the heat tends to send me into the cool of the back room where I can practise my taxide my and sift through a few letters. Although I sometimes forget to switch the sometimes forget to switch the vacancies sign on, I have never forgetten to power up my speccy. But enough of my moaning, mother will be wondering where I am, on with some sampling...

Over the years we have seen various both on goodies that will sample sounds. But have all will sample sounds.

sample sounds, but basically the principle is the same. The sound, in the form of analog electrical waves, is converted to digital Information. This is then 'captured' by a routine that takes many very tast freeze-frame snapshots of the sound and stores them in the computer's memory – playback is a reversal of this process. Now although the concept is simple, the realisation and end results are wide and many. A professional sampler usually has a few selectable sample rates – that is the number of times it freezes the sound per second. This in turn has an effect on the length of sound that you can hold; the faster the sample rate the shorter the amount of sound but the higher the quality and definition.

Another variable factor in this equation is the number of bits that the sampler processor handles. In 1979 the most famous of all 1979 the most ramous or all musical computers was launched, the Fairlight fantastic. For a more in-depth appraisal take a peek at Issue Two of THE GAMES MACHINE, where (blowing a very quiet trumpet) I ran through its history and facilities. Suffice it to say that the first version used 8-bit sampling version used 8-bit sampling — which is of course the very same number of bits that the Spectrum uses, thus proving that it is not impossible to produce reasonable samples within the humble exterior of the Spectrum. However, what makes the sound acceptable is not necessarily the actual sampling routines but the processes which the sound is subject to before and after. Firstly, a decent level of sound is subject to before and arter,

Firstly, a decent level of sound is required. Just as on a cassette deck, if you record at too low a level you get a high level of background hiss which neatly swamps the sound with a noise not unlike the shower running in not unlike the shower running an cabin number one (you remember that one don't you?). Hence a good sound level is of prime importance. The Fairlight had some very fancy maths that actually compressed the sound at the same time as expanding Itto fit the same time as expanding Itto fit the available memory space. This, coupled with some very quiet filters, helped to make the sampled sound as clean as a whistle. However the important part of the business is quantization.

Think of a succession of Think of a succession of enapshots following one another to make a moving picture, as in an amateur film. (Remember films? They came before videos!) With 8 mm and aven 16 mm film you get some degree of jerkiness.

Quantization is the maths that tries to take the edge from the snapshots of sound and smooth the transition from one level of sound to another—obviously it will have to work pretty fast. As the most awkward rasolution is going to be 8-bit sampling then to be 8-bit sampling then unfortunately it is here that you need the best quantization. With any sampling it is the higher frequencies that suffer as these require a faster snapshot. Instruments that contain many upper harmonics, such as cymbals, will tend to have the tail end of their sound jagged and lumpy in texture (bit like the swamp!) with a slower sampling rate and not such fine quantization. Nowadays, in a professional sampler, 12-bit sampling is the minimum with 16bit fast becoming the accepted standard. One wonders if 32-bit will not take over quite soon.

Inthis column I have considered several samplers for the Spectrum. You will no doubt have noticed that I also place in high esteem any program that has good editing facilities. They are the abilities to graphically display the sound in fine detail and enable you to select that they and street in and enable you sound in the detail and enable you to select starting and stopping points. You should also be able to throw away what you don't need, thus freeing valuable memory space for future samples; loop parts or all of the sample for the 'N-N-N-Norman, where are y-y-you?' effect and be able to be save your sound to a library.

effect and be able to be save your sound to a library.
For the Spectrum you have only two choices — the Ram/Flare Music Machine and the Cheetah Sampler. Both are of equal (though not professional) audic quality, but can be improved by cleaning up the sound before and after sampling it. Basically this means harding and horsewing such begging and borrowing such pieces of gear as equalisers, compressors and noise gates. Remember, that rubbish fed in will certainly mean rubbish put out (with all the warts enhanced). I'd plump for the Music Machine, not only for its MIDI compatibility but also the extra programs that can lifter and enhance sampled sound —all available from their user club.

Not all of us have the wherewithal to purchase the hi-tech hard and software for professional sampling. So, especially for you, Jason Porter checked out of the motel and left behind the following

Jason's program would benefit from a clean signal. In fact it would probably sound better taken from a CD player (if you can wire one up) as data recorders are not exactly

REM BY Jason Porter CLEAR 25999 . 5 .16 LET T=0 FOR A=65408 TO 65535 10 20 READS . POKEA, S 30 øi. LETT=T+S 35 NEXT A 40 IF T<>12027 THEN PRINT "Data error"; STOP . 50 DATA 243, 33, 144, 101, 17, 80, 255, 6, 7, 219, 254, 203, 119, 32, 2, 203, 254, 203, 62, 16, 244, 35, 125, 187, 32, 100 237, 124, 186, 32, 233, 251, 201, 243, 33, 144, 101, 17, 80, 255 DATA 6, 8, 203, 70, 40, 4, 62, 0, 211, 254, 62, 255, 211, . 110 254, 203, 14, 16, 240, 35, 125, 187, 32, 233, 124, 186, 32. 229, 251, 201, 74, 70, 66, 0, 0, 60, 66, 66, 66, 66, 0, 0, 124, 1 ø: • 66, 66, 124, 64, 64, 0, 0, 60, 66, 66, 82, 74, 60, 0, 0, 124, 66, 56, 124, 68, 66, 0, 0, 60, 64, 60, 66, 2, 66, 60, 0, 0, 254, 16, 16, 16, 16, 0, 0, 66, 66, 66, 66, 60, 0 CLS: PRINT "1 SAMPLE A SOUND" "2 REPLAY • . . 120 SAMPLED SOUND" • INPUT K 130 IF K=1 THEN CLS: PRINT "Place the cassette with the sound on it in the tape recorder and press PLAY" ""PRESS ANY KEY TO SAMPLE" . 140 . IF K=2 THEN RANDOMIZE USR 65440; GOTO 120 €1145 LET JS=INKEY$ • 150 IF J$<>"" THEN BEEP .5,10: RANDOMIZE USP · 160 65408: CLS: GOTO 120 GOTO 150 170 . 190 FOR A=0 TO 60: BEEP .01,A: NEXT A noted for high-fidelity. All the instructions are enscreen and it will give you about eight seconds of sample. For some reason which couldn't understand, the replay sometimes dropped in pitch, but I guess it could be my equipment. But it's a very simple and fun program, with scope for development.

NO HASSLE

Quasar Software have been busy again and have dished up another program for the omnipresent Yamaha DX7. It takes the hassle out of programming a digital synthesizer from the front panel and a 17 character LCD. It follows along the design of their DX21/27/ 100 Voice Editor which was delivered to the motel for Issue 53. Quasar's software currently only runs on the Music Machine but there are plans to release it for other interfaces soon.

The main screen display shows the six operators and the shape of the envelope for each one. SPACE bar jumps the editing marker around the screen. Once in the main editing area the left and right cursors take over to define the cursors take over to define the peripheral you're working an. Maybe it would have been nice to have a display of exactly which peripheral of the envelope you are penpherar of the envelope you are working on, as quite often you went to copy voices in from printed out 'patches' (as the sound charts are called by the cognoscenti). The graphic display reacts quickly to any changes and the definition of the small graphs is good. Bar graphs are used to show the output of each operator as well as output of each operator as well as the lew frequency oscillator, keyboard scaling facilities and velocity sensitivity (that's the bit for the touch sensitivity). A display of the algorithm shape and transposition is also on the one screen and you can compare any alterations with the original. Other functions of the program are what is termed as library management. This is the creation of banks of voices to load into your DX7 so that you can assemble suitable sounds for different uses and change voices from bank to bank. The program comes with 120 or so voices, all Japanese I'm assured. If you load up the whole lot in one greedy go you can re-order any of the banks and send or recall any bank (or individual voice) to the library or the synth. Pretty smart stuff – just like the real thing, ha-ha. In fact only a couple of features separate the Quasar voice program from more expensive ones (like £150 ones!) for other micros. Only a few niggling omissions – like that tack of voice list printer dump – prevent this from being a very competitive package. But at only £9.99 it should prove a worthy purchase. Oh dear ... I think the water level in the swamp at the back of the cabins is going down and Mr Arboghast's carroof is very nearly visible. Mother will be angry if she can see the car from her window.

.

•

HUNICHEUTECHUNE

Next month the motel invites a party of TX81Z editors, attempts to trap a few readers' letters, and generally gets dual personalities about everything! There's a lack of tunes for the 128K machines in the mailbag so how about dropping Jon a tune or two?Don't forget it's peak season for the Bates Motel so don't expect any personal replies

COMPUTER REPAIRS

Fixed Super Low Prices! Inclusive of parts, labour and VAT

FIRST AID FOR TECHNOLOGY

1 week turnround SPECIAL OFFERS

SPECTRUMS 128
SPECTRUM 128
SPECTRUM +2 £18 inc, + Free Game
SPECTRUM +3 £24 inc,
CPECTRUM +3 £24 inc,
CPECTRUM +3 £25 inc. SPECTRUM P.S.U. for sale SPEC JOYSTICK INTERFACE for sale €6.50

VIC 26, C+4 AMSTRAD 464 $22 inc. £32 inc. + Free Game ite £20 inc. C64 P.S.U. for eat C64 C16 £22 inc. + Free Game £18 inc. £32 inc. ELECTRON £19 knc.

Please enclose payment with item - 3 month warranty on repair Please enclose advert with repair

W.T.S. ELECTRONICS (CR) 5-9 Portland Road, Lidon, Bads Lti4 BAT, Tel: 9582 458375, Telen: 266871

SIMON N GOODWIN gets things together quicker with two new assemblers early all Spectrum games and utilities are written in machine code - the simple Internal language recognised by the Spectrum's Z80A processor. Machine code is a very simple programming language, but it's executed most rapidly – at roughly half a million instructions a second. It's this speed that makes machine-code programming attractive to people who want to get the best possible performance out of the computer.

The snag is that each instruction Is very simple in effect, and large so intricate combinations of instructions must be used if you want something relatively complicated to happen. The machine code routines built into the Spectrum ROM illustrate this. The ROM software, used by BASIC and many games, executes about 150 instructions to print a single character on the display. When you draw a line across the screen the ROM executes about 20 lests in time for exercise strolls. 60 instructions for every single point drawn on the line.

Machine code may execute very quickly, but writing and testing it is a slow and laborious business. Mistakes are often fatal – you don't get helpful error reports, as in ZX BASIC, unléss you anticipate every possible mistake. If you use the wrong instruction in a machine-code program you may wipe out all your work in a fraction of a second. Machine code is fickle stuff, and you have to write quite e lot of it before you begin to build up a reliable framework.

Luckily, since we're using a computer, we can get the machine to help us write and test machine code. There are two approaches to this. We can use an assembler, which lets us write individual machine-code instructions in a way that makes them easy to identify, test and alter, and assembles each line into machine code. Alternatively we can use a

A compiler takes a program written in a form that's fairly concise and easy for humans to understand, and converts it into machine-code instructions automatically. If the compiler comes across anything it can't understand it tries to explain the problem so you can make things

One line of compiled code may be translated into tens or hundreds of machine-code instructions, whereas one assembler line usually corresponds to a single instruction.

Compilers work well, but they restrict what you can do. No compiler knows how to write everything that a practised machine code programmer could come up with. They tend to use inefficient general-purpose routines to do something in the best possible way. Compilers can produce fast code – if you can live without decimal numbers, compiled programs can be 100-200 times faster than 8ASIC – but they hardly ever produce code as fast and concise as a good machine code programmer, particularly if you're writing nitty-grifty routines, such as animating the display or packing a game map into a small amount of memory.

The speed and space penalties of compiled code mean the the most successful and impressive most successful and implessive Spectrum programs are usually painstakingly written in machine code, using an assembler rather than a compiler. Unfortunately changes in the Spectrum market mean that most of the once-popular assembler programs are to longer evailable.

popular assembler programs are no longer available.
Back in the Issue 50 Tech Tips Special I bemoaned the shortage of Spectrum assemblers. In the last few years I've reviewed good packages like Code Machine and Laser Genius, only to find that the games firms that published them were unwilling to keep them in stock for more than a few months.

TECHONICHEDTECH

For a while HiSoft's six-year-old DevPac was the only assembler advertised to Spectrum users. DevPac works fine, but it's not particularly cheap or easy to learn particularly cheap or easy to learn to use.

I'm happy to report that my plea for new assemblers has got results! I've just reviewed two programs — Z80 Toolkit, from Lerm Software, and Astrum +, from Bradway Software. I've been using them for a while, and comparing them with HISoft's venerable DevPac.

ASSEMBLER PARTS

Complete assemble programming systems come in three main parts. The names for the parts vary, depending on the manufacturer, but in principle every system contains an editor, which lets you type in machine-code instructions in the form of simple, standard mnemonics.

The assembler itself translates the assembler fiser translates the mnemonics into binary code, the debugger helps you to test assembled code and track down errors. Most packages also include a disassembler, which converts machine code in memory into mnemonics you can edit and reassemble later. reassemble later.

reassemble rater.

The assembler generates a symbol table, which relates names in your text, known as labels, to particular values and memory. addresses. It's very helpful to be able to refer to values by name, even though most assemblers limit the maximum length of names so that the symbol table doesn't get too large.

Z80 TOOLKIT
Lemn's Z80 Toolkit is much the cheapest package, yet it's fairly comprehensive, it runs on all Spectrums, including the +3, and in compatible with the cheaper and the compatible with the compati is compatible with almost all add-

£7.99 gets you a 23-page A5 manual and a cassette containing three main files. Side 1 is the complete package – assembler, editor and debugger – and takes about two minutes to load. The other side contains two copies of the debugger, called the toolkit – one loads at high memory addresses and the other loads at the bottom of memory. It's up to you to choose the version that will not get in the way of your own code, The debugger is a little over 8K long, and loads in about a

The manual is a good tutorial in the use of the entire package, though it's short of some reference material – for instance, there's no explanation of how you add documentary comments to a program. In fact, comments are entered in the standard way – just start your fine with a semicolon and the assembler will ignore the rest, assuming it's for human eyes only. The Z80 Toolkit editor uses the normal Spectrum 32-character line display, which means comments really have to be on lines of their own. The editor lets you edit and re-enter lines on the screen, using the cursor keys to move around. Special keypresses let you insert spaces into a line, delete characters and jump between columns to keep your listing tidy.

You can enter lines more than 32 characters long, but the insert-characters long, but the insert-character key doesn't let you extend a line down the screen, so it's best to keep lines short and put up with reither narrow printouts. As in BASIC, lines are kept in order, so you must start them with a line number between 1 and 65,500. You can get the system to generate numbers automatically, or renumber whole files to give even steps between line numbers.

The undocumented limit of 65,500 is generous, as the maximum size of your program text is limited to about 20K, which usually corresponds to 2K or 3K of machine code

It you want to write bigge If you want to write bigger programs you must write them In sections and copy addresses from one program to another so that each part can find the others. This is a fiddle, but lots of successful programmers work that way. You can move lines around the file with Z80 Toolkit, but you have to move them one by one by editing their numbers — a rather tedious process.

tedious process.

Z80 Toolkil will load files created with the Zeus assembler distributed by Sinclair a few years ago, though you may need to make a few minor changes before make a few minor changes before the file will assemble.

Z80 Toolkil is compatible with just about every filing device—cassettes. Opus, +D, +3, Swift Disc, Disciple, Microdrive and everything else that leaves most of the memory free and lets you save code from BASIC.

This compatibility has its conti-

This compatibility has its cost: there are no commands to save and load built into Z80 Toolkit, but you can find out the address and length of any file, before or after it

Z80 Toolkit makes saving and loading long-winded but easy, if you make a note of the relevant numbers. You are expected to hop back to BASIC and use the normal programming commands for your system to save and load code. You must make a note, because the screen is cleared as you return to BASIC.

To re-enter the toolkit you just type RUN or a USR call. When you type RUN or a USR call. When you restart the program text appears to have vanished! But it reappears when you use the O command. As long as you can fit everything, including the symbol table, into 23K you can have several files in memory at once, and swap between them at will by specifying a new start address for text. Z80 Toolkit uses single-letter commands, but it's not particularly.

commands, but it's not particularly consistent. The assembler lets you edit text and translate it into contract and translate in into machine cone. A special command gets you to a set of addon utilities, confusingly called the monitor, which let you change the screen colour, search for labels in the street of the screen colour. the symbol table, or move the symbol table into screen memory to leave the maximum possible space for your program text.

NICHE TECH NICHE TECH NICHE T

Another command gets you into the toolkit, which others would call the monitor or debugger. Yet another command then calls up the disassembler. This gets a bit confusing, as command letters have different purposes in each of these four modes, and it's not always clear which mode you're in.

ASTRUM+

Astrum+ has many more features than Z80 Toolkit, but it's almost twice the price – £14. The manual is 36 A5 pages long, and has no examples, though it's a good reference guide.

The cassette contains around The cassette contains around 20 files, spread over both sides, totalling 80K of code. The tape files transfer automatically to microdrive or disk, as long as you press the PAUSE butten while files are saved. I found this rather tricky because I started on Side 1 of the tape, and missed the instructions - for some reason Bradway Software essume people will load Side 2 first!

Besides the editor and assembler. Bradway supply utility programs to read other assembler programs to react other assemble text tapes, capy files from one drive to another, print file details, and configure the system for particular drives and printers.

The debugger and disassembler come in three versions, to load at address 36000, 46000 and 56000. The manual refers to a fits of Spectrum system tabels, covering the ROM and system variables, but I couldn't find it.

Astrum+ may appeal as an upgrade for many programmers, as it comes with a utility to convert files from HiSoft, Oasis, OCP and Picturesque format to suit itself. Astrum + works on all Spectrum versions except the +3. It will assemble from disk to disk (or assemble from task to disk (or microdrive), so you can write very large programs, but first you must dwide your text into 10K sections, called pages. Single pages can be assembled from memory to memory, but there is only about 2K coars for your sold attackers. spare for your code, at address 56000.

The Astrum+ editor is happy with lines up to 256 characters long, panning the screen sideways to show lines of more than 32 characters, Lines are automatically formatted into neat columns as you enter them. Astrum+ has a true screen editor, without line numbers, so you can't intersperse system commands as you enter lines. You must use a set of trendy pull-down menus to control Astrum + 's most powerful features. I found these menus rather clumby to use, and would prefer an old-fashioned command line.

There are too many menus, and each one is too small. You have to press SYMBOL SHIFT and O, to select the required bank of menus, then SYMBOL SHIFT and E to select one from each bank of three. SYMBOL SHIFT W pulls down the chosen menu, then you press any key to cycle through the options, pressing ENTER to select one in particular, You can create, save, load and merge files, display a list of filenames (without any other details) on a chosen drive—but the drive—changing and merging options are not on the main files menu. You can print, move, copy or delete marked blocks of lines, find or replace any characters, swap between file pages or assemble the program.

Astrum+asks you to check that you've loaded the correct disk or cartridge, and then press a key, before it uses the drives. You can turn this function off when assembling from a single drive. The software supports up to eight microdrives, but all the pages of a particular program must be on one drive, so you may have to swap tapes manually even if you've got enough drives to plug all the cartridges in at once.

Users of the Opus Discovery version should be able to avoid this, even if their files total more than 1900 of sections.

than 180K of code, as Bradway sell an add-on 720K second drive for that interface, A complete kit, consisting of the drive, cable, RAM expansion, software and manual, costs just £85, making this upgrade attractive to all Discovery users, whether or not they're interested in Astrum+.

I tested the microdrive version of Astrum+, using Version 1.2 of Sixword's Swift Disk microdrive emulator. This worked well but I found that I had to return to BASIC to erase files before I could replace

Machine code is executed at 500,000 instructions a second them with others that had the same name. Apart from that minor quirk, the emulation was perfect. and a fair bit faster than my ZX Microdrive ever went! Microdrive files are automatically verified after saving - a sensible precaution

Astrum+ will save and load cassette files, but it's really intended for Opus disk or microdrive users – the tape options are just to allow you to take cheap backup copies of your

Astrum+ issues clear error messages in plain English, and shows unused labets in a special snows unused labers in a special colour in the symbol table—a nice touch that should help you detect errors and keep your text tidy.

The Astrum+ debugger is controlled with four or five letter commands, rather than single keys. This makes it easy to remember the commands, but slows you down. It will work in decimal or hexadecimal, whichever you choose.

The front-panel display packs all the register values into eight lines and won't show the value of each half of the 16-bit register-pairs. This doesn't matter if you're using the hex display, but it makes the decimal disptay rather useless if you're using 8-bit values.

You can change register values more easily than you can display them, but you still have to move a pointer to indicate the registers you want to change, then type a command to set the new value – you can't just type the name and the new value, as you can with 280 the new value, as you can with 280 Toolkit.

By contrast, 280 Toolkit shows 16-bit and 8-bit register values separately, plus individual register contents in binary. It still steps at about the same speed - a maximum of roughly five instructions a second, updating the whole screen at each step.

INVIDIOUS COM-PARISONS

Both these packages have advantages and disadvantages compared with HiSoft's old stalwart, DevPac. Whereas DevPacinsists on capital letters, the others let you mix upper-case and lower-case in your programs, Astrum+ has better error reports than the others—it uses text, rather than numbers, to tell you what's gone wrong. The snag is that things like this limit the amount of text you can edit at any one time. The program editors vary a tot-HiSoft's is capable but very old-fashioned, a line editor rather than a screen editor. Astrum+ has the most modern user interface, with its pull-down menus, but I found them tiresome to use. The 280 Toolkit editor is simple and straightforward, but rather limited if you want to make large-scale

Astrum + allows labels to be up to eight characters long, while the others limit you to six characters.) think both limits are rather restrictive, though I welcome the extra couple of characters

Astrum+ can handle.

Astrum+ is relatively slow, because it is written as a large collection of separate programs. For instance, you have to reload the debugger every time you use the assembler, because the label Information overwrites the memory locations used by the debugger. This is not too painful if you've got a 128K Spectrum, as you can keep the debugger on RAM disk.

DevPac has some unique advantages, but they are rather poorly implemented unless you splash out C50 for the CP/M version which HiSoft use to write their own software. DevPac lets you define macros – like shorthand instructions, one macro name can stand for a whole block of code defined elsewhere in the text. Z80 Toolkit has none, and Astrum+ only has a few predefined ones to call ROM routines.

DevPac also allows conditional code - sections that are assembled only if certain conditions are satisfied. The snag is that on standard Spectrum versions of DevPac these structures cannot be nested. You need the £50 CP/M version before you can do really useful things like put conditions inside conditions or use macros in other macro definitions. The CP/M version also comes with ED80 – a proper comes will zerou a proper screen editor capable of editing files over 50% long.

Z80 Toolkit is the fastes! assembler if you're processing short files, but it gets very fiddly assembling programs of more than about 20K text, as it's up to you to join up the sections.

Z80 Toolkit allows numbers to be entered or displayed in hexadecimal—base 16—or normal decimal; DevPac and Astrum+ recognise octal - base 8 and binary as well.

Unlike the others, Z80 Toolkit doesn't allow complex celculations in your text. Astrum → and DevPac let you write calculations involving labels and 16-bit numbers, whereas it seems Z80 Toolkit will only let you add or subtract a single number from a

The Z80 Toolkit manual is vague on this, as on other things – it's a good tutorial, but less of a reference manual than the documentation for the other assemblers. Be warned; none of these packages will teach you Z80 programming. You'll need a separate book if you're new to machine code.

All the debugging programs let All the debugging programs let you examine registers and step through code, instruction by instruction, tracing register values and following the program flow, 280 Toolkit has much the clearest and most helpful display, and is relatively easy to use. In particular II shows the values of the stack very clearly, with a ten-line column dynamically showing values as they are pushed onto the stack and popped off it.

and popped off it.
The main flaw is that Z80 Toolkit won't let you enter breakpoints — instructions which interrupt code at a specified point, returning you to the monitor. The software requires you to step right through each subroutine as you test it; you can't make it zoom through to a certain point, and step slowly certain point, and step slowly thereafter.

Z80. Toolkit has one unique and friendly feature. It can trap all instructions that modify memory contents, stepping quickly through the rest of the code but waiting for a keypress—Y or N—to tell it whether or not to operate each store instruction.

each store instruction.

The Astrum+ debugging program does everything you'd expect, but it uses a cramped display and commands have to be typed in full.

DevPac and Astrum+ can disassemble code in memory back into mnemonics and labels, so you can odit and reassemble so you can edit and reassemble other people's code. This is tricky with Z80 Toolkit, because it only disassembles mnemonics – it doesn't work out the labels for you.

Astrum+ can skip data areas automatically. Just tell it where you've put text or tables of values and it will avoid trying to turn the contents of that part of memory into nonsensical assembly code. The other disassemblers just pretend the values are code.

TICH NICHE TECH

Z80 Toolkit disassembles the secret Z80 instructions I mentioned in Issue 52 – but, like the others, it doesn't let you type these instructions into your assembler program. You must anter them as numeric values.

We can get the computer to help us write code

DevPac is the only assembler that takes advantage of the extra RAM on a Spectrum 128 – almost all the debugging code is stored in the RAM disk, so users of the 128 machines can test up to 8K more code at a time if they use DevPac, rather than one of the other debuggers. debuggers.

ASSEMBLED RANKS

fryou've always wanted to try writing some machine code, but never got around to it, Lerm's Z80 Toolkit is a good buy. It's cheap, easy to use, and it works, though it's not ideal if you want to write programs thousands of lines long fand ramember, it takes guite a few (and remember, it takes quite a few lines of assembler to do anything

Astrum+ has advantages and disadvantages compared with DevPac. It has a better editor and comes with lots of useful utility programs. Astrum+ also reports errors in English, so you don't have to memorize the meanings of a set of error codes.

DevPac takes up loss RAM and drive space, and is more flexible about assembling to and from a drive. It lets you define your own macros and switch lumps of code in and out conditionally. DevPac works with a 51-column screen display, and the debugger fits Inside the Spectrum 128's RAM

Personally, I found Z80 Toolkit the easiest program to use, perhaps because it's designed for perhaps because it's designed for smaller projects. Lerm's debugger has its limitations, but boasts the best front-panel display. If you're working on a blockbuster program either Astrum+ or DevPac should sult you, though in both cases it may take you a while to find your way to be the projects. way around the system.

Tipster Keiran Wood recently sent in a copy of The Spectrum Programmer, his homemade Spectrum cassette magazine. Unfortunately neither address nor the price of the tape reached me. If you're reading this, Keiran, please write againt

PRICES AND

280 Tootkit £7,99 from LERM, 11 Beaconsfield Close, Whitley Bay, Tyne & Wear NE25 9UW & (991) 253 3615

Astrum + £14 (Opus, Microdrive) from Bradway Software, Hillsett, Upper Padley, Grindleford, Derbyshire 530 1JA

DevPac £15:95 (fape), £19:95 (Opus, Disciple, +3), £49:95 (+3 CP/M − enhanced) from HiSoft, The Old School, Greenfield, Bedford MK45 5DE ☎ (0525) 718181

THIS is the busiest summer for Spectrum software I've ever at the moment CRASH has a dozen major programming and utility packages waiting to be reviewed, yet summer is supposed to be the quietest time of the year! The Spectrum market is thriving, and CRASH is at the centre of that activity.

I'm still getting stacks of letters from readers, packed with the usual intermittently legible mixture of optimism, brilliance, threats mordesty. brilliance, threats, modesty arrogance and sheet enthusiaem, It's your letters that keep me scribbling away in this part-time column, even though I don't often get time to reply to them.

think that CRASH readers are the last CRASH readers are the last group of micro enthusiasts who know the difference between having a computer and having a car or a big record collection. CRASH readers are hobbyists, not sheep, and that's why I enjoy writing for

If you've found out something interesting or want to add to any of the discussions that have been featured in past issues, please write and let us know at: CRASH, PO Box 10, Ludlow, Shrapshire SY8 1DB.

All prices include VAT/delivery

PACK OFFER

Special offer from Atari! Package contains 520 STFM computer with internal 1 Meg floppy drive, mouse, joystick, five disks of public domain software and 22 leading games titles!

Games supplied are: Winter Olympiad '88, Mousetrap, Slapfight, Defender of the Crown, International Karate, Trailblazer, Enduro Racer, Arkanold, Warlock, Marble Madness, Rampage, Eagle's Nest, Plutos, Leviathan, Supersprint, Ranarama, Strike Force Harner, Tetris, Q-Bell, Roadwars, 3D Galax and Chopper X (total retail value £413.94).

Only £349.00

Hurry before the offer closes!

1040 STF	DAME OF
and the state of t	2413.00
I IVAO O I P WIG MONO MONIO!	CEOO GO
Atori QUOS hard distr	446,47,419
Atari SH205 hard disk	F539 80
Atari SM124/5 mono monitor	200000
THE PARTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF TH	£119.00
Phillips CM8833 colour monitor c/w ST lead	0050 00
The state of the s	22/9.00
Phillips CM8852 as above, higher resolution	PORG 66
The state of the s	1233.00
(Extra £10.00 discount on Phillips monitors if bought with an	27

Atari ST & Amiga Drives

Why pay more?

High quality 2nd drives for the ST and Amiga at an uttra low price only £99.95 inc.VAT

Very Quiet Slimiline Styling Fully Compatible Top quality Chizen drive mechanism 大

1mb unformatted capacity One year guarantee

All prices include VAT; delivery & cable

We use and recommend Star printers since they do other an unbestable community and value. Batures, print quality, reliability and value. Water the sensible decision aget unight with the sensible decision aget unight with

How to order

All prices VAT/delivery inclusive Next day delivery £5.00 extra

Send cheque, P.O. or ACCESS/VISA defails Phone with ACCESS/VISA details Govt, esqu. & P.L.O official orders welcome All goods subject to availability E.8.O.E. Open to callers 5 deys, 9.30-5.0 Telex: $33294 Fax: 0586.785354

Evesham Micros Ltd 63 Bridge Street Evesham Worcs WR11 4SF

Tel: 0386 765500 Also at: 1762 Pershore Rd., Cotteridge, Birmingham, B30 3BH Tel: 021 458 4564

DATEL ELECTRON

GENIUS MOUSE 48/128/+2/3

- livow a top quality mouse system at a resistio
- Two button action.
- Pull optical operation for superb accuracy
- Comes complete with interface just plug in and gol
- Compatible with Artist II (see offer)

ONLY $39.99 COMPLETE

ROBOTEK

- Robotics & model control made easy on
- 14 independently controllable outputs for relays, models, lights etc.
- 3 independent toputs for sensing etc.
- . This is the product that the lego publication "Maka and program you own robots" was based upon.
- Comes complete with cables.
- Easy to use

ONLY £29.99

16K RAMPACKS FOR ZX81

- Brand new guaranteed Sincials product.
- Slouply plug in for 16K!
- Limited amounts at these prices.
- Send new,

ONLY £5.99

EXTENSION CABLE

- Distance peripherals from your computer
- ☐ 56 way.
- 🔲 6" extension
- The quality connections.

ONLY £8.99 TWO WAY EXTENSION

- Allows two portpherals to be connected together (memory conflicts allowing).
- 3" long, 3 56 way.
- The quality connections.

ONLY £10.99 +2 JOYSTICK ADAPTOR LEAD

] Allows standard 9 pin joyatšeks (Quickahot II/ Turbo etc.) to be used on +2/+3 computers.

Supports rapid fire models.

ONLY £2.99 + 3 CASSETTE ADAPTOR LEAD

- Now you can connect your +3 to a cassette
- 2 ft. long.

ONLY £3.49

RTIST II ILLUSTRATOR

- Dop quality graphics package for Spectrum.
- Described by Sinclair User as "the best artist program - bar none",
- Superb quality multi feature
- Pall down menus.
- Windows from driven.
- Pont and sprite designer.
- Zooza mode
- Supports many printers.
- 📑 Flexible out & paste.
- This pecinge has too many features to list It is sufe to say it has them all!

Special Offer - Buy Artist II & Genius Mouse system for only

£49.99

Please state Spectrum model when ordering.

- 📑 Just plug in and draw circles, rectangles squares W freehand drawing.
- Choose inks, papers, erase, fill etc.
- Save results into memory or tape.
- Animate screens from memory,
- Mens driven.
- 🔟 Completé package includés lightpea &

ONLY £14.99

IN TERPRINTER Donnect fullsize Centronice printers to your

- Complete with printer cable.
- Microdrive companible,
- 📑 Baword 2 compatible.
- 🔲 Hires screen dump (Rpson).
- Essy to use.

ONLY £24.99

ALL ORDERS NORMALLY DESPATCHED WITHIN 48 HRS

. . .

BY PHONE

24 hr Credit Card Line

Send chéques/POs made payable to 'Datel Electronics

FAR

0782 744292

UK ONDERS POST FREE -EUROPE ADD $1 OVERSEAS ADD $3

DATEL ELECTRONICS IND., FENTON INDUSTRIAL ESTATE. GOVAN ROAD, FENTON, STOKE-ON-TRENT ENGLAND.

SALES ONLY

TECHNICAL ONLY 0782 744384

DATEL ELECTRONICS

NEW QUICKSHOT TURBO

- Complete with interface phage straight into Spectrum (all models).
- All the features of the best selling Quickshot II olus:
- Microswitch action for even longer life,
- Extra rigged construction.
- Superb styling.

ONLY £17.99 COMPLETE

SNAPSHOT II

New you can backup your games to microdrive

Special compacting techniques.

Add pokes or peak program than restart.

All backups restart from the point they were

Dult in joyatick interface (Kempston system).

or tape.

DUAL PORT JOYSTICK

- USimply press the button to "freeze" the INTERFACE pregram.

 USave to cateroticities or large.

 USave to cateroticities or large.
 - Li Accepts any 9 pin joyetick including rapid fire types.
 - Can also be used with two joysticks with games that allow minutaneous two player

ONLY £8.99

GAMES ACE

- Joyetick interface & sound booster
- Accepts any 9 pin loyatick for maximum compatibility (Kamperon system).
- Plus delivers sound from games through W speaker (fully controllable).

ONLY £10.99

- Complete with Quickshot II
- £17.99
 or complete with Quickshot Turbo

£21.99

DEMAGNETISER/ CLEANING KIT

- The could be due to tapp heads seeding maintenance,
- Li Thio unique Est contintes an electronic flord demographent and based observer.
- When heads need demagnetising they have high frequency response which is vital for dust transfer. This easy to use unit will descapation your tops beed in seconds.
- _ essy to use.
- Comes complete with bestery to give title 500 coefeiting.
- TED indicator of operation.
- Usuful for all tape dicks around the bome/mer

COMPLETE KIT £9.99

QUICKSHOT II

- The world's up selling joystick
- Complete with interface,
- Pluga straight hoto Spectrum/Plus/+2 etc.
- Maximum compatibility (Kompston system).
- Auto fire/rapid fire
- Stabilizing sucton cups.
- Dip & trigger fire buttons.
- _Complete no more to buy.

ONLY £13.99

ROBOTARM — Full Function with S Axis movement

- Replace the facunating science of Robotics with this fantastic full feature Robot Arm.
- Human ilks dexterity with 5 axis of movement it is so versatile it can manipulate and pick up any object as small as a paper mp or as big as a branie ball.
- Basily controlled using 8 Jayetichs (any 6 pintype) or connectd to your Spectrum with our special Interface/Seftware to give Computer/Rehotic control. (See Interface offer).
- Comes with complete range of accessories tooluding: Standard Grop-Jaws to minic finger type grip; Magnetic Finger Adapter with release mechanism: Stavet Attachment for meterials handling: 4 Stabilisting Logs for heavier litting jobs.
- __ Uses 4 HP2 hatteries (not supplied) to power moter povement.

ONLY £49.99

INTERFACE OFFER

- Unique Interfece/Software peckage to allow you to Interface and control the Robsterm with your Spectrum.
- Their mode allows you to story and then repeat arm movement sequences.
- Computer and Robotic central is a major subject in schools and colleges thus is a unique introduction.
- Very sawy to use.
- LyThis Interfers is not needed to be able to use Robitarm but it maker possible interfacing the the Robitarm/Computer

ONLY £19.99

SPLIT SCREEN

Are games unfair to the fairer sex? IAN PHILLIPSON and KATI HAMZA give opposing views on the sexism-and-censorship debate

Compared with the great rain clouds that drift through our lives, sexist computer games don't even rank as a drizzle — Ian Phillipson ensorship is an ugly word, it means controlling, or preventing, what others say, do and see. In some instances censorship is necessary — in most it is not.

The word once conjured up images of people fighting for fundamental rights that affected their way of life and that of future generations. But in recent years the word has become trivialised, and it's used every day to describe almost any kind of control.

Boots's decision that their shops would not sell Martech's Vixen unless the inlay artwork were changed has brought into sharp relief the whole question of censorship and the computer game. And the issue here isn't just censorship—it's sexism.

'Sexism is judging people by their gender, where it is irrelevant.' Probably very few people would stand up and justify sexism, but is it an area to which censorship should be applied quite so readily?

The percentage of 'sexist' mainstream games released in a year is small, indeed, compared with the great rain clouds that drift through our lives, the problem of sexist computer games doesn't even rank as a drizzle. The fact is most people don't give a damn whether computer games are sexist or not and would regard videos and TV as far more important factors in creating and reinforcing sexist attitudes.

But if the procensorship lobby must make a fuss and have their pound of flesh, by insisting that censorship in some form or another is imposed upon the industry, how are they going to make it work?

The strongest response is a typical kneelerk reaction—if you don't like something, pass a law that prevents it. In an undiluted form this would state that you just cannot be sexist.

But laws are only effective if people think they are good laws, worth obeying, and if there are prison sentences and fines to reinforce them. So sweeping censorship of that kind would soon bring the law into disrepute.

Inevitably, most prosecution cases would look silly (the latest antics of borough councils who discipline employees for using words such as "luv", 'dear' and 'gorgeous' are proof of this).

And many games producers would unwittingly fall foul of someone else's interpretation of sexism – so often that they'd never be out of court. The courts would become full of 'criminals', and all because a relatively small number of people thought there was a problem.

The legislation couldn't just cover computer games -- to be fair (or unfair) to all trades alike, censorship would have to be applied to the toy industry, the publishing world, and music business, anywhere sexist ideas could lurk.

If legislating against sexism is not a good route, what about setting up a watchdog committee which decides what is allowable and what is not? This is the system adopted by TV in the form of the IBA, the BBC's governors and now the Broadcasting Standards Committee. All rule ugon riewing tastes, and judge the inherent violence and sex of programmes scraened.

If such a committee were set up for software, not only would it be underworked (there are comparatively few blatantly sexist games), but it would also have to be given teeth. Otherwise it would become like the Press Council and Advertising Standards Authority, the two bodies set up to deal with complaints about newspapers and magazines — they can rap knuckles, but not much else.

Such a committee would have to be able to impose fines or sanctions on companies found guilty of producing sexist material. Ultimately it could throw them out of trade associations and the like, but even that would only be effective if the associations were worth joining in the first place.

Perhaps such a committee would be more useful (and even this is a very debatable point) considering violence in computer games. It might be more helpful than pondering whether a pixel-imperfect Amazonian beauty baring her bosom on a few inches of video screen, or on packaging, stereotypes all women as sex objects and inflames male passions.

The third choice is to work to a voluntary code. This is a better option and it could work, but the emphasis would have to be upon the word 'voluntary'. If games producers didn't want to abide by it, they wouldn't have to, and no-one could stop them.

But of course, there's already a kind of unwritten voluntary code, called taste – few software houses would consider rape or child molestation as suitable subjects for games.

So the fourth course is to leave things as they are. On the face of, perhaps this can be seen as an abdication of responsibliity, but I would argue that it is the best choice of all. Tolerance should be shown to what others do, even if you don't lika it. That it is a fundamental principle of democratic societies and you shouldn't stray too far from it.

More importantly still, there is no need for an imposed form of censorship – simply because a system of censorship is already in existence and for the most part it works effectively.

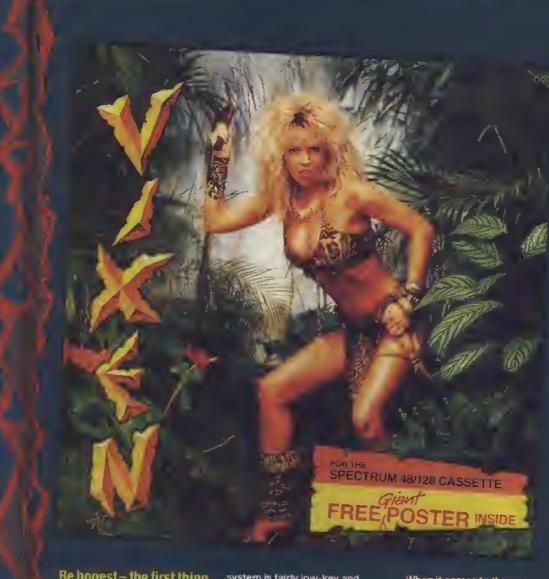

if people don't like the inherent sexism in a gama or its packaging, people don't have to buy it. They can raise their objection by leaving it on the shelf. Market forces are a far more potent power than any legislation in changing attitudes.

if large retailers and distributors – or a sufficient number of smaller ones – refuse to distribute or sell games that they find sexist, such games will cease to be produced. No company wants to lose money,

This is the line Boots seem to have taken over Vixen.

And at last the software shops won't be incurring the wrath of a flock of fatherly Mr Angries from Puriey. Of course, they'll be doing a page 3 Luvly out of a job but, as they say, that's another ball game.

Be honest - the first thing you think of on seeing a Vixen ad isn't Corinne Russell's brain! – Kati Hamza here's nothing wrong with flesh. The naked body is just as beautiful and just as worthy of respect as one covered up with clothes.

The more extreme members of the procensorship labby might not agree. Their argument reaches right back to the Old Testament: when Adam and Eve ate the apple from the Tree Of Knowledge they covered up their genitals with fig leaves.

So, the supporters of censorship argue, a naked human being, male or female, should only be featured in TV programmes, films and computer games under special circumstances and certainly not before 9pm!

Fortunately, in our enlightened society, extreme censorship isn't gaining a footh-old. In Britain, the established system is fairly low-key and moves to change it are met by controversy. Freedom of the press is valued as a vital democ-

After all, a democratic government insists 'on equal rights and privileges for all.' Working on the principle that everyone has a right to vote, it assumes that everyone is prepared to accept personal responsibility.

According to the law, that responsibility doesn't come until you're 18, At 18 you can vote, buy a drink in a pub, visit. porn shops and read girtle magazines to your heart's con-

But polls in CRASH and ZZAP! 64 have shown that most people who play computer games-and could be subjected to potentially sexist advertising by software houses – are under

The publishers, advertisers and retailers are all adults, so they should have some responsibility to the underage consumers of their products. That's not to say that young people are idiots or can't think for themselves, but that because they are not yet set in their ways they tend to be more receptive to the influences around them.

When it comes to the portrayal of women, a lot of the influences are negative, it's true that male/female stereotypes are dying out: women are no longer expected to be housewives while their men bring home the bacon, girls have the right to exactly the same education as boys, and employers are forced by law to give women and men the same pay for the same

These are huge steps in the right direction, but you only have to look around you to see that sexist conditioning still prevails.

In school, more boys take solence subjects than girls. In certain areas of business, it's far more difficult for a woman to progress than a man (though the reverse is also true). More women than men are subjected to sexual harassment at work.

From intancy onward, women are given the impression that they are the weaker sex. It's considered more appropriate that a girl should back down in an argument; boys are taught to be aggressive.

You'll often hear children of both sexes say that their mother is 'only a housewife'.

A promiscuous man is more socially acceptable than a promiscuous woman: he's: branded a playboy, she a siag.

These prejudices aren't always blatantly expressed, but their influence is subtle and runs deep. If you've lived in a society all your life, you tend to absorb its general opinions without necessarily questioning them. Our earliest experiences and impressions are the most deeprooted and they're pretty hard to shake off.

lfyou're a 14-year-old boy and you own a computer, you could be playing games for up to five. hours a day. The presentation of women in many of these games and the advertising associated with them is hardly flattering. Barbarian had to rescue a pretty pathetic Princess Mariana, and the victim of Mermald Madness couldn't get away from his beloved quick enough because she was so ugly!

The advertising for these sort of games relies heavily on scantily-clad females - who don't always feature very much in the game - chosen only for their sexual appeal. More often than not, the image they create is totally irrelevant to the product.

Again, it's not the bodies themselves which are unacceptable but the way in which they're portrayed. The implication is that there's nothing more to women than bodies and that all they're there for is sex.

Be honest - the first thing you think of on seeing a Vixen ad isn't Coringe Russell's brain, is Nobody's arguing that a sexist poster is going to make you treat every woman with disrespect, merely that the way in which it portrays women serves to subtly reinforce sexist attitudes which still prevail.

Working on the democratic principle that everyone has the ability to make up their own mind, we like to impose as little. organised consorship as possible. Effectively the moral burden is transferred to the individual. The individuals in this case are the directors and employees of the software companies, the publishers and the retailers, Afready there have been some changes. A few games let you choose between a male and a female character: after the controversy over Barbarian, Palace's Barbarian II features Mariana in an equal rather than a subjugated role. Boots have refused to sell Martech's Vixen with the provocative picture on the cover.

Without intervention from any organised body, the moral burden is transferred to the individuals responsible enough to deal with it. Boots have siready shown that they're prepared to accept that responsibility; it remains to be seen whether other companies will follow sult.

THE AUGUST CHARTS

1 (2) MATCH DAY II	OCEAN
2 (1) RENEGADE	IMAGINE
3 (8) TARGET; RENEGADE	IMAGINE
4 (3) CYBERNOID	HEWSON
5 (B) EXOLON	HEWSON
6 (7) DRILLER	INCENTIVE
7 (4) OUT RUN	US GOLD
8 (10) HEAD OVER HEELS	OCEAN
9 (12) ZYNAPS	HEWSON
10 (9) COMMANDO	ELITE
11 (5) ELITE	FIREBIRD
12 (15) GAUNTLET	US GOLD
13 (-) BUBBLE BOBBLE	FIREBIRD
14 (19) FLYING SHARK	FIAEBIRD
15 (>) ACTION FORCE II	VIRGIN
16 (-) COBRA	OCEAN
17 (>) FIREFLY	OCEAN
18 (-) WIZBALL	OCEAN
19 (17) MATCH DAY	OCEAN
20 (>) IKARI WARRIORS	ELITE

1 (1)	THE HOBBIT	MELBOURNE HOUSE
2 (2)	LORDS OF MIDNIGHT	BEYOND
3 (3)	STORMBRINGER	M.A.O.
4 (4)	SPELLBOUND	M.A.D.
5 (5)	THE PAWN	RAINBIRD
6 (6)	RED MOON	LEVEL 9
7 (7)	KNIGHT TYME	M.A.D.
8 (8)	KILLED UNTIL DEAD	US GOLD
9 (9)	RIGEL'S REVENCE	FIREBIRD
10 (10)	HEAVY ON THE MAGICK	GARGOYLE GAMES

1 (1)	VULCAN	:05
2 (2)	LORDS OF MIDNIGHT BEYO	NO
3 (3)	ARNHEM (CS
4 (5)	DOOMDARK'S REVENCE BEYO	NO
5 (4)	B. C. Cale In an annual Control of the Control of t	-
6 (6)
7 (7)	BATTLE OF BRITAIN	22
8 (9)
9 (8)		-
10 (10)
5 (4) 6 (6) 7 (7) 8 (9) 9 (8)	DESERT RATS TOBRUK BATTLE OF BRITAIN REBELSTAR RAIDERS THEATRE EUROPE	CS SS SS PSS PSS PSS PSS PSS PSS PSS PSS

1 (1)	PLATOON	RCA/COLUMBIA
2 (3)	ALIENS	CBS/FOX
3 (2)	LETHAL WEAPON	WARNER
4 (3)	A NIGHTMARE ON ELM ST	3 WARNER
5 (6)	THE LIVING DAYLIGHTS	WARNER
6 (7)	HELLRAISER	NEW WORLD
7 (4)	ROXANNE	RCA/COLUMBIA
B (>)	FULL METAL JACKET	WARNER
9 (1)	THE FLY	CBS/FOX
10 (8)	RADIO DAYS	RGA/COLUMBIA

chart. And those games requiring specialised thought and planning (like war games) are voted for in the STRATEGY chart. Also, all your favourite videos can be voted for in the VIDEO chart – old and new, borrowed, but NOT blue!

Just fill in the appropriate form and send your votes off to CRASH HOTLINE CHART, CRASH ADVENTURE CHART, CRASH STRATEGY CHART and CRASH VIDEO CHART: PO Box 10, Ludiow, Shropshire,

DON'T FORGET, every month we'll pick out five winners for each chart. The first will receive £40 worth of software of their choice. The four runners-up will each get a CRASH hat and a CRASH T-shirt – a total of 20 winners. All you have to do is walk to the post box . . CHART VOTING FORMS ... page 112

Tames Kuesha from St John's Wood in London was the first pulled out of the magic HOTUNE hat this month (after two rabbits) - and wins a magnificent £40 worth of software. The four runners-up are Justin Penrose from Folkestone; Junathan Webb of Sunderland; Janathan Webb of Sunderland; Matthew Perkins from Cardiff and John Vincent of Atlieborough in Nortolk. The winner of the Adventure Chart's £40 worth of software is Guy Rowland who halls from Bishops Stortford in Hertfordshire. The fearless four runnersup - who get a CRASH hat and T-shirt are Steven Wreford of Exeter; Wayne Rogers from Sholing in Hampshire; Nell Nopkinson of Fareham and Michael from Normanton in West

First out of the STRATEGY sack this month was Clarin Walsh from Dublin fluck of the Irish) who gets £40 worth of software, to play on those lonely battlefields. Getting hats and T-shirts are Matk Blackman from Harrow; Charlotte Chipohase of Oxford; Anthony Balme from Cesty in Leicestershire and Lloyd Breen from Eistaw in Beitfurdsbigs from Costy in Lecestershire and Lloyd Breen from Eistow in Bedfordshire. First prize in the CRASH VIDEO chart goes to G White from Edenthorpe in South Yorkshire. The four runners-up are Paul Ratcliffe from Cawthorne near Bamsley; Lloyd Strickland of Caine in Witshire; Deniel Wort from Betvedere and list: his not foot. and last, but not least, Matthew Payne Churchdown In Gloucestershire CRASH hats and T-shirts will be beamed

PERMARI

Feel you deserve another piece of the action? Bothered about having to travel far for software? Bored by the limited choice available on the high street? Fed up with being charged full retail price? Well, don't! Whether top games software, high-tech joysticks or designer T-Shirts or just simply dustprotective keyboard covers, CRASH HYPERMARKET will despatch at special discount prices, efficiently and fast. The incredibly low deals include VAT, postage & packing.

THE WASAL CONER CO.

CRASH COMPUTER COVERS

PROUD . . . of your untouched, virgin-new keyboard? Don't let it bits the dust, protect it from coffee, blacuit nib-bies, screen tail-out or just simple plain home-variety dust.

ASHAMED . . . of your grotty, coffee-stained, dust-cloaked keyboard? Cover the mess up and protect your Habitat environment with a CRASH

RUBBER-KEYED SPECTRUM COVER OFFER 3.00, C001H SPECTRUM+ COVER
OFFER 3.25, C002H
SPECTRUM 128 COVER
OFFER 3.75, C003H
SPECTRUM+2 COVER
OFFER 4.03, C004H

CRASH SPORTS BAG

Mave CRASH beg will travel in style. This top quality silver blue sports bag will feel right whether you jat set round the world or elimply wells to the local sports centre. Comes with rormous cevity and a useful end poc-

POWERPLAY CRUISER

This excellent loyalick teatures micro-switch directional control and fire action. A unique variable tension control allows the user to adjust the direction control to extra sensitive, normal and firm. A wide base and four socion cups provide good reliation progestins. table-top operation. POWERPLAY CRUISER OFFER $6.99, COS4H

EUROMAX PROFESSIONAL AUTO-

All the quality of the PROFESSIONAL, with the added bonus of the AUTO FIRE option (may not work on some computer systems). EUROMAX PROFESSIONAL.

AUTOFIRE OFFER 18.95, C097H

DYNAMICS COMPETITION PRO

5000 (norms)
Features arcade quality microswitches, dual fire buttons, robust steel shaft and tubber return for smooth control and longer life. Extra long 1.5m cord
DYNAMICS COMPETITION PRO 5000 (normal) OFFER 13.50, RRP 14.95, C098H

EUROMAX JOYSTAR

This is an excellent microswitch-action joystick featuring precision top and front fee buttons and Auto Fire. It can be operated handheld or can be mounted on the teoleryla vice-grip suction cups, Auto Firemay not work with certain interlaces. EUROMAX JOYSTAR OFFER 9.95, C093H

THE GREAT CHURCH I P.

KONIX SPEEDKING
The joystick that actually fits your hand, with a fire button angled for your ringger finger to ensure accurate high-speed action. Solid steel breakproof shaft with neat elicking sound for every position more your property. MOVE YOU MAKE. KONIX SPEEDKING OFFER 10.99, RRP 11.99, C095H

EUROMAX PROFESSIONAL

High durability, rapid response and ultra sensitive movement accuracy from this advanced engonomic design, ideal for left and right hand play. 1.5m cord EUROMAX PROFESSIONAL OFFER 15.95, C086H

ICON PROGRAMMABLE JOYSTICK INTERFACE

JOYSTECK INTERFACE
The only hilly programmable joystick interface on the marketil links any joya-tick movement to any key of your Spectrum 48K, PLUS, 128 or 128 PLUS 2. Jest plug function wire into key matrix and your ready to go! Also supports joysticks with two independent fire actions.

COMCON PROGRAMMANLE JOYSTIC INENFACE OFFER 12:95, C115H

YPERMARI

HARDWA

DIGIT

The low-cost alternative to add-on keyboards, improves the action and feel of the standard SPECTRUM PLUS keyboard by replacing the rubper membrana with Individual coll springs and plungers. Provides ultra-light key ptroke,

OFFER 7.00, C118H

SPECTRUM+3 CASSETTE LEADS

Link your Spectrum+3 to your cessette recorder and gain access to your large collection of Spectrum 48 tape software. SPECTRUM+3 CASSETTE LEADS OFFER 3.85, C100H

2 ADAPTOR Links up any Ateri-competible Joyetick to your SPECTRUM+2 and SPECTRUM+2 layetick output connectors. +2 ADAPTOR
OFFER 2.50, C119H

COMCON TWIN same as above, but with two parellel output joystick con-

DESCRIPTION OFFER 13.95, C117H

QUICKSHOT 2+2 JOYSTICK
Modified QUICKSHOT 2+2 joystick makes use of the second fire action on the COMCON interface by spitting the two Joystick brigger switches for Independent operation.
QUICKSHOT 2+2 JOYSTICK
OFFER 9.95, C120H

DYNAMICS COMPETITION PRO

6000 (clear) The designer joystick with see-through DYNAMICS COMPETITION PRO 5000

(clear) OFFER 14.00, ARP 15.95, G099H

HIGHLY OMMENDE

INVASION OF THE OLIBUGS

These critters are so mad keen to travel, they will jump into any jiffy bag with software worth more than £5.00 (Order value, not RRP pricel). Yes, if you order software worth £5.00 or more, you will get a free fluffy OLI BUG. Just specify on your order form which little critter you went, and hoy presto, you'll have a new little pet. Remember though, keep them well away from water and do NOT, under any cirdumstances, feed them after midnight ... You have been warned!

ACTIONFORCE II Gaza, Virgin Games
OFFER 6.40, RRP 7.95, C036C
ACTIONFORCE II disk, Virgin Games
OFFER 10.40, RRP 12.95, C036D
ALTERNATIVE WORLD GAMES
GAVE, Germin Graphics
OFFER 8.44, RRP 7.99, C103G
ALTERNATIVE WORLD GAMES disk,
Cremin Graphics
OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, C103G
ARCTIC FOX CARD, Electronic Arts
OFFER 7.20, RRP 8.95, C039C
BALLBREAMER II GOSS, CRL
OFFER 6.40, RRP 7.95, C039C
BALLBREAMER II GOSS, CO39C
BALLBREAMER II GOSS, CO39C
BALLBREAMER II GOSS, C039C
BALLBREAM

BEYOND THEICE PALACE disk, Ellie
OFFER B.O. RRP 11.99, C037D
BIGHIC COMMANDO CORF, GO!
OFFER 124, ARP 5.99, C038C
BRONIC COMMANDO disk, GO!
OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, C038D
BLACKLAMP CORF, Frebrid
OFFER 6.40, RRP 7.05, C025C
BUGGY BOY CORF, Ellie
OFFER 6.44, RRP 7.09, C038C
BLOOD BROTHERS CORF, Grenish Cracking

OFFER 6.44, RRP 7.99, C078C BLOOD BROTHERS disk, Gramlin

OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, C0780

OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, CO785 BUGGY BOY diek, Elite OFFER 9.99, RRP 11.99, C039D CRAZY CARS cass, Titus OFFER 7.96, RRP 9.95, C019C CROSSWIZE cass, Firebrid OFFER 6.44, RRP 7.95, C040C CYBERNOID cass, Howson OFFER 6.44, RRP 7.99, C026C CYBERNOID diek, Firebrid

CYBERNOID diek, Hewson OFFER 11,99, RRP 14,99, C026D DARK SIDE case, Incentive OFFER 7.95, RRP 9.95, C113C DARK SIDE disk, Incentive OFFER 11.95, RRP 14.95, C113D

OFFER 11.95, RRP 14.95, C113D
DESOLATOR cana, US Gold
OFFER 7.24, RRP 8.93, C081C
DESOLATOR clast, US Gold
OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, C081D
EARTHAUGHT cass, Firebird
OFFER 6.40, RRP 7.95, D041C
FOOTBALL MAHAGER 2 cass, Addictive

OFFER 7.99, RRP 9.99, C0910 FOOTBALL MANAGER 2 disk, Addic-

OFFER 11.38, RRF 14.99, C0910 GEEBEE AIR RAILLY GESS, Activision OFFER 5.44, RRP 7.99, C021C GUTZ casa, Ocean OFFER 6.40, RRP 7.95, C048C

HOPPING MAD case, Elite OFFER 644, mp 7.99, C101C HOPPING MAD disk, Elite OFFER 10.44, RSP 12.99, C101D

OFFER 10.44, RSP 12.99, C101D IKARN WARRIORS Cass, Elta OFFER 7.24, RRP 6.99, C024C IKARN WARRIORS Creat, Elta OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, C105C IMPOSSIBLE MISSION II Cass, Epyx OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, C105D KARNOV Cass, Electic Dragns OFFER 7.94, RRP 2.99, C105D KARNOV Cass, Electic Dragns OFFER 7.99, RRP 2.99, C018C LEE ENTRE, 0 18 3PACE ACE Cass, Infogrames

infogramea OFFER 10.44, RHP 12.99, C0200 Hewson

MARAUDER caps. Hewson OFFER 8.40, RRP 7.95, C090C MARAUDER disk, Hewson OFFER 10.40, RRP 12.95, C090D MICKEY MOUSE caps. Gramkin

OFFER 6.44, RRP 7.99, C087C MICKEY WOUSE disk, Gremilin

OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.89, C087D WIGHT RAIDER case, Grewin

Graphica
OFFER 10.44, SRP 12.99, C104C
HIGHT RAIDER diek, Gramlin Graphica
OFFER 11.99, SRP 14.99, C104D
PREDATOR case, Activision
OFFER 7.89, SRP 9.99, C028C
PSYCHO PIQUXB case, US Gold
OFFER 7.24, RRP 8.99, C052C
PSYCHO PIQ UXB disk, US Gold
OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, C052D
RAMPARTB case, GUE

RAMPARTS case, GO: OFFER 7,24, RRP 8,99, C020C RAMPARTS diek, GO! OFFER 8.40, RRP 7,95, C023C

OFFER 6.40, RSP 7.95, C023C

ROAD BLASTERS cases, US Gold

OFFER 7.24, RRP 8.99, C107C

ROAD BLASTERS drink, US Gold

OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, C027C

SHACKLED case, US Gold

OFFER 6.44, RRP 12.99, C027C

SHACKLED disk, US Gold

OFFER 6.44, RRP 12.99, C027C

SKATE CRAZY case, Gremlin Graphics

OFFER 6.44, RRP 7.99, C08BC

SKATE CRAZY disk, Gremilin Graphics

OFFER 10.44, RRP 7.99, C08BC

OFFER 6.44, RRP 7.99, C07C

SOPHISTRY case, CRI.

SGPHISTRY case, CRL OFFER 6.40, RRP 7.95, C042C

STARRING CHARLIE CHAPLIN CARE.

OFFER 7.24, RRP 8.99, C043C STARRING CHARLIE CHAPLIN diek

OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, C043D STREET FIGHTER COME. GO! OFFER 7.24, RRP 8.98, C047C STREET FIGHTER disk, GO! OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, C047D

OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.98, C047D TARGET RENEGADE Cess, Imagine OFFER 4.40, RRP 7.55, C044C TARGET RENEGADE SIEK, IMAGINE OFFER 11.96, RRP 14.95, C044C THE DARK SIDE case, Incartive OFFER 7.95, RRP 3.95, C080C THE DARK SIDE JOB RRP 14.95, C080C THE BARK SIDE GAS, INCENTIVE OFFER 11.95, RRP 14.95, C080C THE EMPIRE STRIKES SACK case, Omrark

OFFER 7.99, ARP 9.99, C092C OFFER 7.99, MRP 9.99, C092C THE FLINTSTONES case, Grandslam OFFER 7.20, RRP 8.95, C08SC THE FURY case, Martech OFFER 7.24, RRP 8.99, C102C THE FURY disk, Martech OFFER 11.99, MRP 14.99, C102D THE DREAT GIANA SISTERS case, GOI

OFFER 7.24, RRP 8.99, C108C THE GREAT GIANA SISTERS disk

OFFER 10,44, RAP 12.99, C1080 THE RACE AGAINST TIME 0800, OFFER 3.99, RRP 4.99, C076C VENOR STRIKES BACK CREE, Green

OFFER 7.24, RAP B.99, C045C
VENOM STRIKES BACK disk, Grand
OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, C045D
VR19 case, Frebrid
OFFER 6.40, C108C

VIXEN case, Martech OFFER 7.24, RRP 8.99, C075C WHERE TIME STOOD STILL CASE, OFFER 6.40, RRP 7.95, C088C WHERE TIME STOOD STILL disk.

OFFER 11.95, FIRP 14.95, COSSO WIZARD WARZ COSS, GO! OFFER 7.24, RAP 8.99, COSSC WIZARD WARZ disk, GO!

OFFER 10.44, RRP 12.99, CO83D OFFER 7.20, RAP 8.95, G046C

ADVENTURES

ACHETON diek, Topologika OFFER 9.95, C0490 CLOUD 99 Ceste, Martin Games OFFER 2.95, C073C COUNTDOWN TO DOOM diek,

OPFER 9.95, C0740 DA JEKYLL & MR HYDE 48K cars. The Essential Myth OFFER 6.40, RAP 7.95, C110C
DR JEKYLL & MR HYDE 128K cass,

The Essential Myth
OFFER 7.85, RRP 9.95, C111C
DR JEKYLL & MR HYDE disk, The

DR JERVIL, A WR HYDE disk, The Essential Myth OFFER 10.40, RRP 12.95, C1110 KIMODOM OF HAMIL disk, Topologike OFFER 9.95, C0510 MONSTER Cass, Haggisch OFFER 3.99, C072C PHILOSOPHER'S QUEST disk, Topologike

OFFER 7.95, RRP 9.95, C112D SKELVULLYN TWINE care, Eighth

Day Software OFFER 4.50, PAP 5.50, C109C THE JADE STONE case, Marlin Games OFFER 285, C050C

COMPILATIONS

8 PACK VOI. 2 case, Elike INTO THE EAGLES NEST, BATTY, ACE, SHOCKWAY RIDER, INTER-NATIONAL KARATE, LIGHT FORCE OFFER 7.99, ARP 9.98, COSOC 10 GREAT GAMES II case/disk.

TIIN GRAPHICS THE DUCT, MASK, AUF WIEDER-SEHN MONTY, SAMURALTRILOGY, CONVOY RAIDER, JACK THE NIP-PER II IN COCONUT CAPERS, BASIL THE GREAT MOUSE DETEC-TIVE, DEATH WISH IN, THING BOUNCES BACK, THE FINAL MAT-

OFFER class 7.89, RRP 9.99, C062C OFFER click 11.99, RRP 14.99,

ALL-STARS ORES. THE EGGS XECUTOR, INSIDE OUTING, BOSBY BEARING, SHADOW SKIM-MER, MINDSTONE, WARLOCK, PSYTRAXX, BRIAN BLOODAXE.

THAT'S THE SPIRIT, STARBIKE OFFER 7.24, RRP 8.99, COSSC ARCADE FORCE FOUR CAME, US Gold GAUNTLET, ROAD RUNNER, MET-ROCAGOS, INDIANA JONES AND THE TEMPLE OF DOOM OFFER 7.99, RRP 9.99, C063C BOOKE'S PIGK 1 CAME, TOP Ten Soft-

WATE
HERBERT'S DUMMY RUN, LITTLE AL, TARANTULA, BLACK HAWK
OFFER 2.99, C069C
BOGIE'S PICK 4 CARS, Top Ten Soft-

DRUIDS MOON, METALDRONE, SMUDGE & THE MOONIES, DESERT BURNER

OFFER 2.99, C070C

DATA EAST'S ANGADE ALLEY 0364'
Olek, US Gold
KUNG FU MASTER, BREAKTHRU,

EXPRESS RAIDER, LAST MISSION OFFER case 5.79, RRP 6.99, 00540 OFFER disk 10,44, RRP 12.99, C064D

FOUR GREAT GAMES VOL 3 CREEK

Microvalue
EQUINOX, KU-KU, COP-OUT, IAN
BOTHAM'S TEST MATCH
OFFER 3.99, C067C
LIVE AMMO Case, Ocean
ARMY MOVES, GREEN BERET, THE

GREAT ESCAPE, RAMBO FIRST BLOOD PART II, TOP GUN OFFER 7,95, RRP 9,95, C057C KONAMI ARCADE COLLECTION

Case, Inglino
MIKE, JAL BREAK, GREEN BERET,
YIE AR KUNG-FU II, SHAO-LIN'S ROAD, NEMESIS, HYPER SPORTS,
PING PONG, JACKAL, YIE AR KUNG-FU

KUNG-FLI
OFFER 7.95, RRP 9.95, C059C
NOW GAMES 5 case, Virgin Games (NTERNATIONAL KARATE, PACHEITION, STREET HASSLE, KAT
TRAP, HACKER II, REBEL
OFFER 7.95, RRP 7.95, C068C
SPT V3 SPY TRILOGY case/disk,
Ostanya

ISDYLA SPY VS SPY, THE ISLAND CAPER. ARTIC ANTICS OFFER dax 11,95, RRP 9.95, C071C OFFER dax 11,95, RRP 14,95,

CQ710
TIME & MAGICK gass/disk, Menderin

Software
LORDS OF TIME, RED MOON, THE
PRICE OF MAGICK
OFFER case or disk 11.95 RRP
14.95, C066C/D

TOP 10 COLLECTION CHEEL, Ellip SABOTEUR, SABOTEUR II, SIGMA 7, CRITICAL MASS, AIRWOLF, DEEP STRIKE, COMBAT LYNK, TURBO ESPRIT, THANATOS.

BOMBLACK II OFFER 7.99, RRP 9.99, COSEC WE ARE THE CHAMPIONS CRES.

IK+, RENEGADE, RAMPAGE, BAR-BARIAN, SUPER SPRINT OFFER 7.95, RRP 8.85, C062C

BUDGET

RAP 1.99, COS1C CERSUS comp. Atlantis RAP 1.99, C056C

FREEDOM FIGHTER case. The Power House RRP 1.99, C053C

RRP 1.99, C053C
FRONTLINE cass, Zeppelin Games
RRP 2.99, C054C
HETAL ARRY cass, Players
RRP 1.99, C084C
POWERAMA cass, The Power House
RRP 1.99, C082C
#ABOTAGE cass, Zeppelin Games
RRP 2.99, C055C
#NOOKERED cass, Top Ten
RRP 1.95, C079C

BUDGET RANGE

ORDER FOUR GAMES IN THE £1.99 RANGE AND PAY FOR THREE ($5.97 PAYMENT TOTAL) —A SAVING OF

C1.99) ORDER FOUR GAMES IN THE C2.99 RANGE AND PAY FOR THREE (E8.97 PAYMENT YOTAL) – A SAVING OF

2.39/ JUST FILL IN THE NAME AND PUB-LISHER OF THE FOUR GAMES REQUIRED AND THE PAYMENT TOTAL OF 25,97/20.97 (DON'T USE THE OFFER PRICE TABLE)

THE MEGA CHOICE:

APART FROM OUR HIGHLY RECOM-MENDED GAMES LIST, YOU CAN ORDER ANY GAME RELEASED BY THE MAJOR SOFTWARE HOUSES TO DATE ON CASSETTE, CARTRIDGE OR

OUR OFFER PRICES ARE VALID FOR

OUR OFFER PRICES ARE VALID FOR ANY FULL-PRICED GAMES AND INCLUDE FIRST CLASS POSTAGE AND PACKING -- NO OTHER EXTRA CHARGES LOOK UP THE PRICE OF EACH GAME IN THE OFFER TABLE, ENTER THE OFFER PRICES ON THE ORDER COUPON, THEN ADD THEM UP, ORDERS FOR TITLES WHICH ARE ND LONGER IN DISTRIBUTION WILL, BE RETURNED.

RETURNED. YOU WILL BE REGULARLY NOTIFIED OF ANY DELAYS CAUSED BY LATE RELEASES.

SOFTWARE OFFER PRICE TABLE

RRP	OFFER	SAVE
4.99	3,99	1.00
5.95	4.74	1.20
7.95	6.40	1.55
7,99	6.44	1.55
8.95	7.20	1.75
8.99	7.24	1.75
9.95	7.95	2.00
9.99	7,99	2.00
11.99	9.99	2.00
12.95	10.40	2.55
12.99	10.44	2.55
14.95	11.95	3.00
14.99	11.99	3.00
19.95	15.95	4.00
19.99	15.99	4.00
23.00	18.40	4.60
24.95	19.95	5.00
28.95	23.15	5.80
29.95	23.95	6.00
34.95	27.95	7.00

HOW TO ORDER:

WRITE REQUIRED CAME(S) ON ORDER LIST, INCLUDING MEDIA TYPE, COMPUTER AND ORDER CODE (WHERE LISTED), IF OFFER PRICE NOT IND)-CATED, CHECK IN AD ORDER CATED, CHECK IN ADDOR C

CATED, CHECK IN AD ORREWIEW FOR CORRECT RECOMMENDED RETAIL PRICE (RRP). LOOK UP SPECIAL OFFER PRICE AND WHITE ON ORDER FORM. ADD UP TOTAL AND ENCLOSE CHEQUE OR POSTAL ORDER OR ALTERNATIVELY USE ACCESSANSA FACILITY (DON'T FORGET TO INDICATE EXPIRY DATE!). REMEMBER.

GAMES ORDERS REQUIRE ORDER CODE OR MECIA TYPE AND COM-PUTER, GARMENT ORDERS ORDER CODE OR GARMENT SIZE, HARD-WARE DROCKS ORDER CODE. INCOMPLETE ORDER FORMS WILL BE RETURNED.

PLEASE RING (0884) 5820 IF IN DOUBTI

PRICES VALID FOR UK/EINE/ EUROPE ONLV. FOR GYERSEAS ONDERS PLEASE ADD 12.00 PER ITEM FOR AIR MAIL

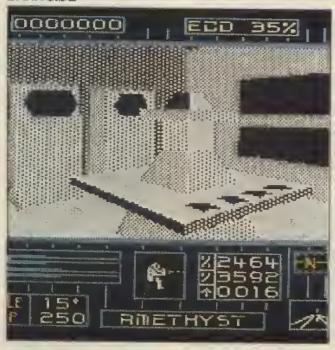

DELIVERY:

NOT ALL LISTED PRODUCTS WILL HAVE BEEN RELEASED AT PRESS TIME.

TIME. GOODS WILL BE DESPATCHED AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. CUSTOMERS WILL BE INFORMED OF ANY LONG DELAYS.

SUBS OFFER

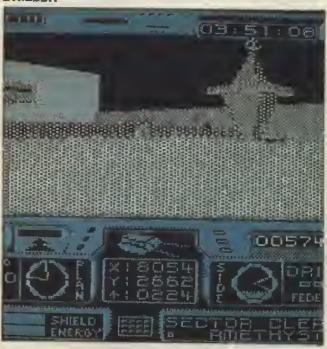

DARK SIDE

THE BEST INCENTIVE YET ...

We are using the latest Freescape technique to convert all you casual CRASH readers into fullblown CRASH subscribers. Yes, we are offering you a free INCENTIVE Freescape game if you take out a twelve months subscription to CRASH. Not only will you be experiencing twelve excellent issues of full-blooded Spectrum entertainment, but you will be able to indulge yourself in incentive's latest Freescape release, DARK SIDE, or, just in case you've missed out, incentive's first Freescape release, DRILLER. Subscribe now and we'll send your Spectrum into a new dimension!

DRILLER

BACKISSUES*BACKISSUES*BAKIS BACKISSUES*BACKISSUES*BAKIS BACKISSUES*BACKISSUES*BAKIS

No 3 April 1964 Sinclair telks to CRASHI Stack Light Riflet Run it Again: Missile command gamest CRASHtionnaire results!

The Quill unarlysed! The fabled ZX Micro-drive appears! Run It Again: Pengo games! Graphics utilities! Lining Guida: boardgames, simulations, atrategy, edven-

No 17 June 1988 Denton Designal Sinciair Story 3! Maps; Knight Lore, Underworkfel Leonarco graphical Oatel sound sampler! Artist: David Thorpel:

Graman Graphics profile! Artist; Bob Wake-in! Map: Gyron Atrium!

No 19 August 1985 CRL profile! Oliposter! Round-up of Basic compilers! Artist: Rich Shenfield! Maps; Dynamite Dan, Shadowfire!

No 20 September 1908 Electronic Pencil Company profile! Maps: Allen 8, Dun Darachi

Ho 21 October 1985 Holografix profile! Holograms! Map. Nodes Of Yesod! Piethum Productions profile!

Ko 22 November 1986 Fanzino File! Microdrive tipat Artist; Susan Rowel Fantasy gamesbooks!

No 23 December 1985 Melbourne Housel Computer graphical Art-lat: Dave Beason!

Artist: Oliver Freyl Gargoyle Games profile! Lloyd's Lookback! Hewson profile!

No 25 February 1988 Durell profitel Microspherel FORTH and extensions to ZX 6ASIC!

No 20 March 1980 St Bride's profife! Spectrum 128f Micronet 3001 Multiface 11

No 27 April 1986 Playing Tips supplement! Mel Croucher! Imagine profile! PBM convention!

Fanzines! Martech profile! Composite Video Interfacel SpecDrumi

No 28 June 1988 First PBM Mailtoxi Homegrown seftware! Realtime profilel Maps: Cylu, Sir Fred, Saboleur, Tanlalus!

No 30 July 1988 Birth Of A Game! Laser Genius Maps: Tan-Birth Of A Gai tatua, Movie!

No 31 August 1966 Software Projects! Word Processing! Maps: Pentagram, Heavy On The Magick!

No 32 September 1986 Programmer: Dave Perry! GACI Maps; Core, Ghosta 'n' Goblins, Bobby Bearingt Echo Synthesizert

No 33 October 1986 Programmers: Jon Ritman, Costa Panayil Maps: Dan Dare, Cauldron IN SpecDrum-

No 34 November 1988 Programmer: Don Priestleyt Genesis Update! Maps: Dynamite Den II, Equinox, Universal Hero! Music Machine!

No 38 December 1866 Designer: Dan Malonel Computer Advertis-lagt Maps; Gilder Röter, Tarust, Lightforcel MID!

Lloyd's Lookback! Spectrum Music! Maps: Scoobly Doo, Hearland, Druid!

John Richardson: Jehmani CRASH Review-ers revealed Match Day Challengel Mapa: Fairight II, Firelord, Avenger, Dandyl

No 38 March 1987

Fenzinesi Designer; Bernie Drummond! Mape: Cobra, Impossabali, Uridium! MiDi!

No 39 April 1967 Arcades Updatet The Z66I Programmer: Stave Taylori Maps; Nosfereta, Double Toko, Future Knight, Feudl

No 40 May 1987
Terminal Man returnal Playing Tips supplement Maps: Short Circuit, Ardited, Congust, Into The Engle's Nest, Scoptre Of Bapdad, Oragon's Lair II, Thrust II, Fat Worm Blows A Sparky, Tarzan, Allensi.

No 41 June 1987 Programmer Mike Singleton! Industry Todayl Adventure Trail supplement! Maps: Seboteur II, Head Over Heefs! Multitrackers!

16 page ONK pull-out! Living Daylights film PX Programmer, Peta Cooke! Maps: Aut Wiedersehn Monty, Hydrofool, Ras-

The +3 arrives! Run it Agein runs the Gauntlet clones! Big trouble at THE BUG! CRASHtionnaire results! CRL's 3D Gamernsker! Maps: Enduro Racer, Plash Gordoni

He 44 September 1987

The 4s september 1987; Jones on Mercenary! The Sega Master System! Is Homegrown Software Healthy?! The Curse Of Sherwood! Tips gators for Killed Until Dear!

No 45 October 1987

Run it Again: the kick-feth-upst The CRASH History Part One! In The Arcades! The Budget Booodoom! How stars are born: set-ling your game! Maps: Game Over, Wonder

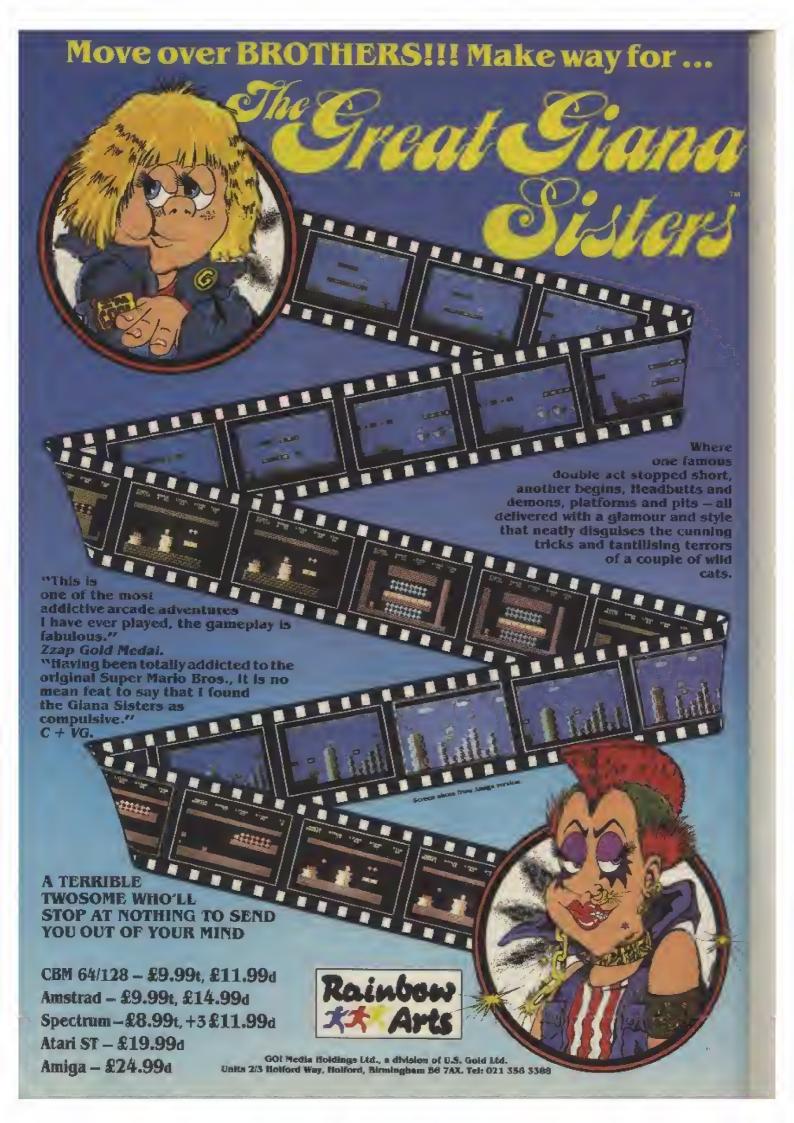

No 46 November 1987 16-page 3D section and glasses! The CRASH History Part Two! News from the PCW Show! Graphics and Sound Specialists! Maps: Explort. Penzadrome, Mutantel

He 47 December 1987 16-page Judge Death pull-out! 2000AD's Objest/ Every Tie- in Ever Madel Run it Again: ThoseRacing Games! The Christmas List! Meps: Indiana Jones, Obzyl

ORDER FORM

	NULKI	OKIN
I want to subscribe to 12 Issues of CRASH and receive my free Incentive Freescape cessette. If I've already got a CRASH subscription, and it is running out soon I extend it for a further twelve issues—and still get a free incentive Freescape cassette. If I am a current subscriber, but do not wish to extend	The Special Software Discount Offer Price recommended retail prices for software, no lighted, discounted special offers, hardward goodies. No other discounts may be applied.	not to afready high-
my subscription, I can still get an incentive Freescape cassette for an amazing £6.99 – a special subscribers discount price.	OODE ITEM	MEDIA PRICE
Please tick the appropriate box: lenclose £18.00 for a new CRASH subscription maintain UK lenclose £25.00 for a new CRASH subscription outside maintaind UK - surface mell lenclose £38.00 for a new CRASH subscription outside Europe - Air mall lenclose £8.99 for the special subscriber cassette offer. lam a new subscriber lam a new subscriber My subscription number is
Please extend my subscription starting with Issue No:	TOTAL
Please send me:	SUB$ TOTAL
DARK SIDE DRILLER	BACKISSUES TOTAL
EARLY WARNING:	ORDER TOTAL
If you wish your sub to commence with Issue 56, we must receive your coupon no later than 3rd August
1988.	MY COMPUTER IS: Please use BLOCK CAPITALS
Please allow 28 days for your free gift.	Name	IIII a ta Mayasa ka ayan ta
BACKISSUES*BACKISSUES*BACKISSUES*BACKIS BACKISSUES*BACKISSUES*BACKISSUES*BACKIS BACKISSUES*BACKISSUES*BACKISSUES*BACKIS	months on the control of the control
No 48 Xmas 1987/88 (January 1988) Pull-outposted Arcticol The CRASH History Part Three & Fourt Lloyd Mangram's Lookback/The CRASH Directory Goding To Bed With CRASH-I CRUNCH — The CRASH Fenzine A second helping of 3D1 Mass:	Please make cheques/postal orders payable to CRASH dind cash payments: Please DO NOT enclose ANY ord EDITORIAL side of the magazine as this will result in DELA to the address below.	let with mail to the
Yogi Bear, Mercenary, Tai-Pant No 49 February 1988 Level 9 profiled Last Part of CRASH History! Flying Tonight — British Abrways' flight	I enclose a cheque/p.o., for £ [wish to pay by VISA/ACCESS (Delete as approp	Oriate)
simulators! Maps: Wizball, Thundercats, Athena! No 60 March 1988 16-page Coin-ops supplement! Microprose revealed! Cacca's lock Mane: Inside Outland	Please debit my VISA/ACCESS ACCOUNT 1
16-page Tech Niche supplement locusing on hardware and utilitiest Write Your Own Adventures — GAC versus PAWI Fanzine File! Maps: Pistoon, Andy Capp Handy. Servet Servet	Please charge my account No:
Gartield, Driller! MORMAL BACK ISSUES £1.45 (Inclusive PRP) XMAS ISSUES £2.15 (Inclusive PRP) OVERSEAS PLEASE ADD £0.88 TO SPECIAL QUANTITY DISCOUNT: ABOVE PRICES Order FOUR INSURE and pay for THREE.	Exprry Data Signature
Please supply the following BACK NUMBERS (Circle required items): 3 4 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28	Access	VISA
29 30 31 32 33 34 35	SEND THIS FORM TO:
36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49	CRASH HYPERMARKET, PO LUDLOW, SHROPSHIRE SY	8 1DB

50 51 52 53

ADBLASTERS

Producer: US Gold Retail price: £8.99 Authors: DJL Software

resh from the arcades, the rubber-burning Atari coin-op has reached the Spectrum, courtesy of DJL Software and US Gold. Set in the distant future, Roadblasters puts the player in the driving seat of a high performance, armoured car, heavily

The player controls the car,

NICK

" Another fantastic ercade machine comes to: But Spectrum. Roadblasters just a repetition of other falled arcade conversions? Well, it almost conversions? Well, it almost has the speed, colour and excitement of the arcade machine and it is VERY addictive. The graphics are similar to Nigel Mansell's Grand Prix, with a detailed main car and background, but with the added attraction. but with the added attraction of the extra weapons. Each level has a beautifully unique beckfrop, which smoothly scrolls in the background. There's a good mixture of simulation and shoot-'em-up but a bit more colour in the explosions - not just green would have been welcome.
Not exactly the ercade machine, but addictive and playable, "

PHIL

"The popular coin-op has at last made it to the Spectrum. Car racing games are two a penny, but the inclusion of weapons in Roadblasters helps to make it more interesting than most. The game plays rather like a 3-D version of Spy Hunter, with your car speeding down the track and blasting the enemies. The collection of extra weaponry as progress is made is also reminiscent of this ageing game: instead of a lorry delivering it, a jet drops it from overhead. The drops it from overhead. The graphics are rather bland—the monochromatic track scrolls fairly smoothly till you come to a bend, when everything gets quite jerky. The car liself is well-drawn but as the wheels don't appear to move, it seems to float down the highway. The landscape in the distance scrolls very smoothly and landscape in the distance scrolls very smoothly and contributes to the sense of speed. Despite the mostly bland presentation, roaring down the freeway blasting other cars out of the way is strangely satisfying and, with fifty levels of action, you certainly get good value for money.

burning up the miles through fifty levels of ever-changing scenery. The track is shown in vanishing point perspective and, as the car

A If you can't beat 'em, BLAST 'EMI

negotiates the many twists and turns, a distant landscape scrolls around on the horizon. If the car veers off the side of the road into one of the many trees and rocks, it disintegrates in a massive explosion

Racing down the freeway is only Hacing down the treeway is only half the game: many deadly anemies are lurking on the track. These include the heavily armoured command cars, sleek fast stingers and erratic rat jeeps which all stalk the highway, trying to hiest the player's par into to blast the player's car into oblivion. As well as these moving enemies, the racetrack is littered with deadly mines and missile firing gun turrets positioned at the roadside. The car starts off with a standard laser cannon to blast his enemies in the futuristic car chase. As progress is made, a friendly let appears overhead and drops useful extra weaponry such as cruise missiles, a nitro-injector and electronic shields - useful for those tricky moments on the Zooming through the countryside really burns up fuel and this machine is a real gas guzzler. Fortunately, scattered around the track are red and green gas globes which can be collected

If the car reaches the end of a rack (signified by a chequered piece of road) before running out of tuel, the player can progress onto the next of fifty levels to continue his or her roadblasting exploits in another part of the racing world.

KATI

"Roadblasters is such a fantastic arcade game, that any home conversion is bound to be a bit of a disappointment. Atthough US Gold have gone a long way towards recreating the atmosphere of the original. atmosphere of the original, amosphere of the brights, the game just lacks that extra graphical edge. There's plenty to keep you occupied as you go roaring down the highway, blasting enemies, guzzling petrol and picking up extra equipment pods. The vehicle doesn't exactive. The vehicle doesn't exactly seem like it's breaking the speed limit but the frantic track action soon takes you mind off that. Obviously it would be impossible to recreate the breath-taking action of the original, but one or two more explosions wouldn't have gone amiss. Unlike its the arcade counterpart, Roadblasters counterpart, Roadblasters the computer game doesn't quite stand head and shoulders above the crowd – but at least you'll be playing this for longer than Out Run.

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Cursor, Kempston, Graphics: detailed cars. against a mostly monochromatic backdrop Sound: catchy title 128K tune with roaning in-game sound effects General rating: initially enjoyable and exciting gameplay, with long-lasting addictiveness

Presentation Graphics Playability ctive qualities

BATTLE SHIPS

Producer: Encore Retail price: £1.99 Author: Keith Burkhill

previously released only on a compilation, Elite's Battle Ships is now available at a budget price.

Just as in the traditional game, each player has a fleet of six ships (of varying size) which are placed on a twenty-by-twenty box map. Battle is ready to commence.

You fire shots at squares (targets) on the map, hoping to hit enemy ships. On selection of the last target, the screen switches to a graphical representation of the enemy fleet at sea, Missiles are automatically fired from the player's ship as aircraft fly overhead. A direct hit appears as a red square on the map.

Players take turns to fire till an entire fleet is sunk and the winner rejoices in a victory sail past.

CRITICISM

"Battle Ships is basically just the same as the pencil 'n' paper game. The graphical display of the action is purely decorative, although it enhances the atmosphere of the battle. Unfortunately, the computer opponent is extremely easy to beat and there are no skill levels, so to get the best out of the game two players are needed. The presentation is excellent with well-drawn ships and an impressive title screen. If you're looking for a game with depth then this isn't it—but as a simple and pretty version of the classic game, Battle Ships works well and is definitely worth a look."

▼ Everything stops for tea

A hit, a very palpable hit

 "Hooray! My favourite boardgame on the Spectrum (well I've got the electronic version actually). Battle Ships is an excellent boardgame conversion, but it does play slightly differently from the original. Instead of taking one shot and walting for the opposition to make their move, you have multiple shots at the enemy. This new system makes the game faster and more addictive as you can watch your opponent's ships blowing up, without worrying about which of yours they're going to hit all the time. The graphics are detailed and show all the different ships in all their stages of decomposition. It's a pity that there's no tune and only the odd sound effect when a ship takes a hit, but even without them Battle Ships remains a favourite. Thoroughly addictive."

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Kempston, Sinclair Graphics: detailed and atmospheric Sound: sparse firing effects Options: definable keys. One or two players plus multi-player tournament General rating: even more fun than the pencil 'n'paper version

Presentation 79%
Graphics 58%
Playability 77%
Addictive qualities 78%
OVERALL 78%

READY STEADY GO

Producer: Alternative Software Retail price; £1.99

o you want to get fit? Well, slump down in your favourite armchair and prepare to give your trigger finger a good workout. There are four Misjudging the hurdles results in the loss of valuable time.

 Mr and Mrs Splodge are taking their daity walk events for one or two players: track hurdling, canceing, cycling, and penalty saving.

In the first event the competitor must complete five laps of a race track within the imposed time limit, On to the canceing. The objective here is to row four lengths against the clock. There are two types of rock and the current to contend with. Fail to take sufficient care and a holed canoa is the result.

Back on to the three-laned track for 12 laps of cycling. You can change lanes at will, as long as your opponent isn't occupying it. Careful use of the lanes ensures a safe and speedy victory.

safe and speedy victory.

Ever tancled being a top class goalie? The fourth event puts you in goal facing a determined opponent who tries to score ten penalty shots.

CRITICISM

"My poor fingers! Remember Daley Thompson's Decathlon all those years ago? You had to wear out your Spectrum membrane to complete one level. Well, multiply the frustration of that by ten, and you could be getting close to Ready Steady Go. The control method is appalling, the graphics are basic and there is hardly any sound at all. If that isn't enough to put you off, then this will – it takes what seems like five minutes for the computer to recognise that you've pressed start and it's almost impossible to qualify. Don't buy this unless you have superhydraulic fingers end a very high level of patience."

"Watching stick-like sprites hobbling around badly drawn backgrounds isn't my idea of fun. Gameplay is just as primitive es the graphics: eny interest I might have had was immediately crushed. After half an hour of bashing away on the keyboard, I came away with painful fingers, end a throat sore from shouting at my wobbly character sprite as he huffed and puffed his way around the screen. If you're a sports fan, stick to some other simulation of your favourite games."

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Kempston, Sinciair Graphics: stick men, primitive backgrops Sound: none General rating: a year basic

General rating: a very basic joystick-waggling game with no appeal

Presentation	12%
Graphics	8%
Playability	11%
Addictive qualities	8%
OVERALL	13%

STUNT BIKE SIMULATOR

Producer: Silverbird Retail price: £1.99 Author: D White

ce stuntman, Chad Adams has set himself a number of tasks to show that he is the best in the world. His speciality is performing daring feats on a stunt motorbike.

The player must guide Chad through five levels of dangerous stunts, all of which involve controlling his bike and avoiding obstacles in the horizontally scrolling road. The player's starting score is reduced by hitting obstacles and the passage of time Unless a stage is completed before this score drops to nil, the player loses one of his three lives.

Chad starts the first level in his hang-glider, flying above the road. The player controls the riderless bike, weaving it between obstacles till the opportunity arises to drop Chad onto it. Next it's on to the log jump. As well as avoiding static obstacles, he must bunny hop logs which roll towards Level three contains even more danger as Chad attempts to leap off his bike through hoops of fire. If he fails to jump at the right time, the fire will burn him, reducing his score and wasting valuable time. Chad's next feat involves riding his blke up a ramp into the back of a moving lorry.

The final task is to jump from his bike and catch the hanger suspended from a moving helicopter. If he achieves all this, Chad will have proved that he's the best in the business.

Attack of the killer sausagel

CRITICISM

" Although Stunt Bike Simulator contains five levels, they all take place on an identical scrolling road with nothing but a change in backdrop. The bike itself is very simply animated and the scrolling is extremely jerky - one character block at a time. The first level is soon mastered, although how Chad manages to steer his stunt bike when he's up in the hanggilder I'll never know! Both the second and third fevels are initially difficult to master, while the final levels are comparatively easy. Such a hotehpoten of difficult and very easy parts soon loses its appeal.

TOTAL 03170

 "The graphics are blocky and most barely resemble the objects they are supposed the depict (the helicopter looks like a large airborne blob), Stunt Bike Simulator will keep most purchasers busy for the first couple of hours or so but I can't see it having much long term appeal." 53%

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Kempston Graphics: jerky, blocky and awkward Sound: limited to basic spot effects

General rating: an uninspired simulator that won't breathe life into more than a few hours of play

Presentation Graphics Playability Addictive qualities OVERALL

OCTAN

Producer: Silverbird Retail price: £2.99 Author: Robert Gill

hen the demons of Octan destroyed. were everyone rejoiced at the demise of the most cruel and evil rulers the universe had ever known. Unfortunately, one of them escaped destruction, and plans to destroy all sentient life. A brave young pilot is charged with the mission to travel the eight planes of the planet and destroy this evil threat.

As your craft journeys over the vertically scrolling landscape, the demon's henchmen make their presence felt. These are dealt with by a swift jab on the laser button while inanimate obstacles need to be exploded by missiles.

Satisfying, but room for improvement

Shooting silos reveals lettered ons. When collected, these icons. with endow your craft extra weapons, points and bonus lives.

At the end of each level you encounter one of the demon's mammoth servants. Survive to the end of the eighth stage and you meet the Demon of Octan himself.

CRITICISM

 "Mediocrity is the name of this very average, shoot-'em-up from Firebird's budget label, Silverbird. Tedium begins to set in almost as soon as you start playing. The demonic minions swarming around the player's craft are welldrawn, but the turgid control method, coupled with the slow rate of fire, soon kills any rate of fire, soon kills any enthuslasm that might be lurking at the back of your mind. The budget sector of the market has come up with some great games. Unfortunately for Joe Public, this isn't one of them.

 "Despite its rather bland name, Octan turns out to be a fairly good quality, smoothly-scrolling shoot-'em-up. The green background is rather garish with a particularly nasty pattern of rectangles that looks like a very naff brand of wallpaper. Gameplay reminiscent of Xevious but the bonus icon. feature extra demands thoughtful play rather than pure mindless violence. The caterpillar-like alians at the end of each level are neat, but the fast and furious action gets repetitive after a while. Shoot-'em-up fans looking for some cheap fun should enjoy it. "

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Kempston Graphics: unexceptional monochrome Sound: mostly spot effects Options: definable keyboard General rating: a standard quality shoot-'em-up at a cheap and

Presentation Graphics 60% Playability 58% Addictive qualities 54% OVERALL 51%

EUROPEAN 5-A-SIDE

Producer: Silverbird Retail price: £1.99 Author: Timothy Closs

fter watching England's performance in the European Championships recently, you might think you could do better yourself. Timothy Closs, programmer of the CRASH Smashes I Ball and I Ball 2, now gives you the opportunity to play European 5-A-Side.

The match is played on an aerially viewed, vertically scrolling pitch surrounded by a barrier against which you can bounce the ball to pass an opponent.

You always control the player nearest to the ball; highlighted by a flashing arrow. Dribbling is automatic and tackling is achieved by colliding with the player in possession. You can kick along the ground or into the air. The ball's size gives an indication of its balling.

The goalkeeper can only be controlled when the ball goes inside the six yard box. He can dive left or right and, if he makes contact with the ball, immediately lobs it up the field.

A Goal!

CRITICISM

"I couldn't believe it when I heard that Timothy Closs had written a football game, but the first thing that strikes you about the presentation of European 5-A-Side is its similarity to the superb I Ball games. There's even the same use of digitised speech which, unfortunately, Isn't quite as clear. The overhead view is certainty a new angle to football games, though the players move quite slowly, especially when there are several on the screen. The real disappointment is that the computer team is so easy to beat and presents no challenge whatsoever. The only redeeming feature is the two-player mode which should increase the lastability of the game, European 5-A-Side is not in the same league as Match Day II but at the price it's not too bad and should appeal more to younger football fans."

PHIL

• "I have never been overly fond of football games, and European 5-A-Side has done absolutely nothing to change this opinion. Graphically the game has some nice touches – especially the bird's eye view of the pitch. But sadly, the whole game is far too easy to play."

MARK

44%

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Kempston, Sinclair Graphics: smoothly animaled, monochromatic sprites Sound: snappy title tune plus spot effects and the odd piece of digitlsed speech Options: one or two players, choice of pitch colour and match duration

General rating: not a bad little football game, even better with a friend . . .

Presentation	66%
Graphics	71%
Playability	57%
Addictive qualities	54%
OVERALL	56%

ROGUE

Producer: Mastertronic Retail price: £2.99 Authors: Icon Design

he fabled Amulet of Yendor is hidden deep in the dreaded Dungeons of Doom. Many adventurers have attempted to find it but none have returned. Their rotting bones lie alongside their possessions in the dark domain of dangerous animals and monsters.

On entering a level of this multilevel dungeon you can only see what's immediately around you. As you explore the rooms and corridors, a map of the level is built

Hostile monsters lurk in the darkness, waiting to attack. Fortunately, the hero carries a mace and a bow and arrow. An icon selection system allows these and other collected items (magic potions, scrolls etc) to be used. Four extra commands allow you to move up and down stairs, search rooms and rest.

CRITICISM

" From the title and the cover picture. (why the bikini-clad woman?), budget-style arcade adventure. Actually, Rogue is a very rare attempt at a Dungeons And Dragons game. With such a variety of objects and weapons available, there is a fair amount of strategy involved in working out what to use, and when to use it. Progress through the dungeon is quite easy even with the many varied monsters and animals around. The graphics aren't exactly brilliant -just one block characters moving through an even blockier dungeon - elthough they do improve when magnified. There's one minor drawback, though: occasionally you can get stuck on a level with no exit and are forced to quit the game, Despite this, Rogue makes a refreshing change from our usual diet of shoot-'em-ups and arcade adventures.

PHIL

III. 63%

" Despite its simplistic and occasionally blocky graphics, Rogue is a brave and rather playable attempt at a Dungeons And Dragons type of game. As a fair amount of strategy is involved, especially when things get tricky, it means that your brain is used for a change. Don't worry though, your trigger finger needn't feel left out as the meanies that roam the many levels of the dungeons are pratty tough to beat (what on earth is an emu doing in a dungeon?). Take a look, if you like this sort of exploration game: Rogue should keep you amused for quite a while."

MARK 63%

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Cursor, Kempston, Sinclair Graphics: basic and blocky Sound: blip, bleep, blip etc Options: load/save game General rating: an interesting stab at a computerised version of a Dungeons And Dragons style game

Presentation	45%
Graphics	35%
Playability	68%
Addictive qualities	62%
OVERALL	63%
	Graphics Playability Addictive qualities

KEMSHU

Producer: Cult Retail price: £1.99 Author: Nick Flemming

emshu is set on a square board that is split into 100 The objective is to change all the colours on the board to a single target colour, indicated at the right of the screen.

Using a cursor, squares can be moved across the board in rows. four blocks of the target colour need to be placed around a differently coloured block to transform it.

Changing the colour of all the squares within the given time limit gains access to the next level. A status box to the right of the screen shows the present score, the percentage of screen area covered, time limit and the target colour.

CRITICISM

 " Brainstorm (90%, Issue 52) almost drove me up the wall with its simple but addictive gameplay.

Kemshu has similarly tied my brain into knots. The graphics are simple but effective (you can't go far wrong with a screen full of coloured blocks) but sound is sadly missing — a cheerful tune would have gone down well. Control is easy to master, so you bedsheet-sized instruction manuals. The saved time can be put to good use puzzling over the best way to solve the game. Overall Kemshu, although not quite in the Brainstorm league, is a simple strategy game definitely worth the £1.99 price tag. "

 "Puzzle games seem to be few and far between - it's nice to see that software houses don't spend hours rifling through

This may be a very attractive patchwork quilt, but it's not going to win any points haven't abandoned the genre completely. The idea behind Kemshu is very simple but play gets quite difficult on the higher levels. If time is running out, the action can become quite frantic. action can become quite frantic. The game involves quick thinking rather than complex strategy. As you try desparately to complete each level, success often depends more on lucky reactions. As every round involves exactly the same type of basic strategy (only the decreasing time limits add variety), gemeplay does get repetitive after a while. Kemshu lacks the variety of a game such lacks the variety of a game such as Brainstorm but it is very playable in the short term. " 77%

COMMENTS

Joysticks: Kempston, Sinclair Graphics: bright and functional Sound: none Options: definable keyboard

General rating: initially addictive, it's not likely to keep a storm raging in your brain for long

Presentation	63%
Graphics	53%
Playability	7.7
Addictive qualities	73%
OVERALL	79%

WORLDWIDE SOFTWARE 1 Bridge Street Galashiels TD1 15W Tel: 0896 57004 (24 hours) LOW PRICES

W®RLDWIDE

·SOFTWARE.

SPECTRUM +3 DIST SOFT
+3 Advantures
Action Force II
Airbourne Ranger
Alian Syndroma
Alternative World Gemes
Bards Tale
Beyond the Ice Palace
Floot Commendos
Slood Brother's
Brian Clough's Football
Carrier Correnand
Colostas Chesa 4
Daley Thompson 88
Dank Side
Desolator
Dream Warrier SPECTRUM +5 DISK SOFTWARE 7.25 10.85 10.85 10.85 10.85 10.85 11.99 10.85 9.45 9.45 10.85 10.85 10.85 11.95 9.45 Descision
Dream Warrier
Eddie Edwards Super Ski
Empire Strikes Back
Fire & Forget
Firefly
Football Manager II
Games Winter Edition
Garrield 10.85 10.85 10.85 10.85 10.85 10.85 9.45 10.45 11.95 9.45 9.45 9.45 Garrield
Gary Linekers Sup Sidlis
Great Glana Sisters
Gueritte Wars
Guild of Thileves Hopping Madi Ikari Warriora ≠3 Business and Utilities

43 Business and Utilities
Hisoft C 24.95
Hisoft Devpec 14.95
Hisoft Pascal 27.95
Masterfile plus 3 24.95
Professional Adventure Writer 20,95
Tas-Spign Plus 3 14.95
Tas-Spell Plus 3 14.95
Tasprint Plus 3 14.95
Tasword Plus 3 7.25
Tasword Plus 3 14.95

SPECTRUM CASSETTE	SPECTPUN CASSETTE	SPECTRUM CASSETTI
Action Force II	Hi-Alse Scaffold cons kit 6.55	Peter Beardsley Football
Airbourne Ranger 7.25	Ikari Warriora 5.95	Pink Panther
Alien Syndrome 6.55	impossible Mission II 6.55	Predator anadometration
All Stars B.55	Karnov 7,25	Project Stealth Fighter
Bards Tale	Knight Oro 10.95	Paycho Pig UXB
Battlefield Germany 9.75	Konami Arcade Collection 7.25	RISK
Bionic Copmmandos B.55	Last Ninja II 9.45	Restan
Blood Brothers 5.95	Live Ammo	Ringwars
Buggy Boy 5.95	Magnetron	Road Blasters
Carrier Command Supergra 10.85	Magnificent Seven	Rolling Thunder
Charlie Chaplain	Marauder 5.85	Salamander
Chubby Gristle 6.55	Match Day II ammuni 5.95	Shackled
Colossus Chees 4 7.25	Mega Apocolypse 6.55	Skate Crazy
Corporation 7.25	Mickey Mouse	Soldier of Light
Crosswize	Nihiliet 5.95	Saphletry
Cyberknights 5.95	Now Games 5 Augustine 7,25	Sorceror Lord
Cybernoid	Operation Wolf 6.55	Spy vs Spy Trilogy
Daley Thompson 88 7.25	Overlord	Stalingrad
Darkside 6.55	Pegasus Bridge 9.45	Street Fighter
Déluxe Scrabble 11.95		Street Sports Basketball
********	********
oly 50p off every title	SUMMERTIME SPECIAL OFFERS	50p off every title
	tell on in which magazine you saw our at	desired .
* then deduct 50 period from our potentialed prior on each title that you order (stot jayathrian and perigharats) 方式产方式产产业大大大大大	**********	*****

汽车产业产业产业产业	大声声为作为大声为皮 自大克克		大文文文文文文
the 50p off every title	SUMMERTIME SPECIAL O	PHERS 300	off every title 16
ale Manuslavius	Jani teli us in which magazine you	BETT OUT ACTYON	市
2 2001 2420	of 50 parties from our advertised price (set jayeticks and period	DALENCE AND MALE AND TAKE	· · 大学大学大学大学大学

SPECTRUM CASSETTE	JOYSTICKS	SPECT	RUM GASSETTE
Desolator 6		. 12.95 10 Great Gar	mes II 7.99
arrond 6	.55 Cheelah 125 Plus		np 7.25
Oream Warrior	.55 Competition Pro 5000 Clear		s (Hewson) 7.25
arthlight 5			Midnight 6.55
mplre Strikes Back	.25 Competition Pro 5000		6.55
Fre and Forget 6	.55 Cruiser	B.99 Tergel Rene	gade 5.95
Instenes			6.55
nothall Lagran II	55 Magnum extensions		5.95
ootball Manager II	25 Aam Della		ıgik 10,85
Sames Winter Edition 7			725
Sarfield 6		6.99 Militable Co	dected Works 9.45
Bory Linekers Sup Skills 5	.55 Tac 2 .95 Joystick Adaptor for +2 or +	7 7 200 Vocana stille	pire 6.55
Sottik	.95 PERCHERALS		s 9ack
Great Giarta Sisters	.55 Spectrum Power Packs .	9 95 Vindington	5.95
Suenita Wara	.55 10 Amsoft OF2 Blank Disks (+3
Sunship 7	25 Plus 3 Cassette Leads		hampions 7.25
Sunsmoke			Stood Still 5.95
30tz 5	95 Plus 3 Dot Matrix Printer		· ····· 6.55
fercules	95 Model 3250

VISA

WORLDWIDE SOFTWARE 49 Stoney Street Nottingham NG1 1LX Tel: 0602 480779 Fax: 0602 483102

FAST DELIVERY

SPECTRUM +3 DISK SOFTW.	ARE
4 Smash Hits (Hewson)	10.95
Konami Arcade Collection	13.50
Live Ammo	10.85
Live Ammo	13.50
Marcu Mer	9.65
Matchday II	10.85
Matchday II	0.45
Mickey Mouse	9.45
Night Flaider	9.75
Outrin District Control of the Party Control of the	10.85
Overlord	D #6
Pink Panther	9.45
Psycho Pig LIXB	9.45
ELSE.	11.95
R.I.S.K.	10.85
Road Blasters
Pollar The Stering of the Pollar The Stering of the	9.45
Rolling Thunder	9.45
Salamander	10.85
Shackled	10.85
Skate Grazy	9.45
Soldier of Light	10.85
Scroerer Lord Spy vs Spy Trilogy	13.50
Spy vs Spy Triogy	10.05
Stellingrad	9.45
Steelth Fighter	8.45
Street Fighter Street Sport Baskethall	8.45
Street Sport Basketball	- 9.45
Target Renegade	10.65
The Pawn	11.95
The Pawn Time and Magik Typhoon Litimate Collected Works	10.85
Typhoon	10.85
Liltimate Collected Works	10.85
	9.45
Venom Strikes Back	9.45
Victory Road	10.85
Virus	9.75
We are the Champions	13.50
Where Time Stood Still	10.85
World Class Leaderboard .	8.45
Now Plus Three Adventure	99

Philoshopers Quest Beturn to Doom

Please make choques or postal orders payable to WORLDWIDE SOFTWARE. All prices include postage & packing in UK Overseas please add £1.50 per cass/disk for AIR MAIL delivery, Credit card orders accepted by phone or mail, Galashiela: (0896) 57004 (24 hours) Nottingham: (0802) 480779 (24 hours)

ASSIFIED SECTIO

FOR SALE

SPECTRUM GAMES all originals 48/ 128K Including some new titles e.g. Bubble Bobble, Rolling Thunder, Target Renegade, California Games, Must sell, Send SAE for list to: Deve, 28 Caemarvon Close, Spondon, Derby DE2 7RF.

800 MULTIFACE POKES yours for £2.50 to: K Martin, 3 Hazel House, Malziand Park Road, London NW3

£2060 PLUS of Sinclair Spectrum software for sale, £650 onc, will not split, Many ex, recent games (80%). Cell Tony on: 01 639 1752 after 4pm and at weekends anytime.

FOR SALE Commodore 84, two data recorders, printer Cheetah Joyatick, software worth over £750, mouse controller, Commodore music maker, total over £1100. Sell for £400 one. Phone: Dover 0304 829628.

FOR SALE Spectrum 48K, Kempston mouse, Artiet II, Alphacorn 32 printer, Kempston joystick interface, lightpen, loadsa games. £180 ono, will split. Phone: Simon Brown 0705 732603 or write to: 82 Highland Road, Southeea, Portemouth, Hents PO4 9NF.

CHEAP SPECCY SOFTWARE for sale! Most a bit dated but still good bergains to be had! Send SAE for list (c: D Way, 24 West Way, Harpanden, Herts ALS 4RD,

35 WORDS FOR ONLY £2.501

The CRASH Classifieds are your low-cost opportunity to reach thousands of other maders with a small ad, whether you want to buy, sall, awap or advise. Just fill in the form below and enclose with your $2.50 payment, cheque or postal order made payable to NEWSFIELD LTD. Photogopies of the form are acceptable.

CLASSIFIED HEADINGS

The CRASH Classifieds section is not open to trade or commercial advertisers, but Fanzings may use it. The headings are self-explanatory: WANTED, FOR SALE, SWAPLINE, USER GROUPS, PEN PALS, FANZINES and EVENTS DIARY for clith/user group news, meetings or planned events). However, be careful about CRASH publishing dates with the

- The maximum is 35 words

 The service is not open to trade/commercial advertisers

 Small acts will be printed in the first available issue

 The advertisers the right to refuse adv which do not comply with normal decent practice, or which could be interpreted as encouraging softwere piracy.

THE CR Served to THE Name	CRASH RE	ADER CLAS	SSIFIEDS, PO 6	Fox 10. Ludle	iw, Shropshire SY8
400F859		Margar en marago	Germania anni di persona		H. H. klasten and a constant
. 14881181811111111111111111111111111111		1001 101 1040 101 101 101 101 101 101 10	Postco	xde ,	Mary a part 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
Tok Glassiff	ed heading:
_Wanted [For Sale	☐ Swapfine	B Pen Pals	Uper Gro	sups [Fanzines
_ Events Dia	ry 🗌 Misca	Hameous
Author of pu	yment 🔲	Cheque [Postal Order
Vritë your ad. umber if you	vertisement (hère, one wo	ord per box, and	include nam	e, address and phon
vinte your ad umber if you	rertisement) want them p	nere, one wo	ord per box, and	include nem	e, address and phon
vinte your ad umber if you	vertisement k want them p	nere, one wo	ord per box, and	include nam	e, address and phon
vinte your ad iumber if you	want them p	nere, one wo	ord per box, and	d include nam	e, address and phon
umber if you	vertisement i want them p	nère, one wo	ord per box, and	d include nam	a, address and phon
umber if you	want them p	nere, one wo	ord per box, and	l include nam	a, address and phon
vince your ad	vortisement it	nere, one we	ord per box, and	l include nam	a, acidress and phon
rinte your ad number if you	want them p	nere, one we	ord per box, and	l include nam	a, acidress and phon
rinte your ad number if you	want them p	nere, one wi	ord per box, and	d include nam	a, acidress and phon
Write your adn	want them p	here, one wo	ord per box, and	d include nam	a, acidress and phon

SPECTRUM 48K for sale including Protek joystick interface, many many games e.g. Andy Capp, Psycho Soldier, Gauntiet II. Excellent condition, one careful owner 260. Phone: Damen 01 550 2146 or write; 33, Abbotswood Gardens, Clayhell, Illord, Essex IG5 08G.

WANTED

WANTED INTERFACE ONE, swap five games for 13, Tel: Kavin 01 284 1682 avenings Monday to Friday.

WANTED CHEAP GAMES for the Sega console. Good prices paid. Also wanted a working control panel for the Vestrex. Phone: Simon Brown on 0705 732603 or write to: 82 Highland Road, Southsea, Portsmouth, Hants PO4

ANY ULTIMATE games and The Sentinel must be originals. If interested please contact: Daniel Johnson, 49 Pine Road, Glenfield, Leicester LE3 8DH or Phone: 0633 313264.

USER GROUPS

COMPUTER USERS WANTED for COMPUTER USERS WANTED for Micro Club starting soon. For people who live in the Essex area, All computer subjects covered. For more details send SAE to: P Downey, Fairbanks, School Lane, Great Leighs, Chelmsford, Essex CM3 1NL

SWAPLINE

OVER 150 FABULOUS GAMES to swap, including all the best and latest-Football Manager 2, Platoon, Gauntlet II, and Zynaps. Reply guarentsed. Send your list. Write to: Raymond Livingstone, 15 Duart Drive, Newton Mearns, Glasgow G77 5DS.

FANZINES

MEGA MONTHLY, for sega console owners, packed with news and reviews, out the first of every month. Send cheque/PO for 75p payable to: Chris Jackman, 3 Albion Terraca, Lexham Road, Litcham, Kings Lynn, Norfolk PE32 2OQ.

MISCELLANEOUS

MEGAPRIX. AUSSIE RULES two PBM's from Jaspersoft. Cost only 50p per turn. For details Male Sims, 76 Mount Road, Canterbury, Kent CT1 1YF. Please send SAE motor racing or violence, the choice is yours.

POSTAL MANAGEMENT leave the rest – join the best A new realistic postal football simulation – special discount for those who apply immediately. For details contact: M Smith, 31 Colerdge Avenue, Penarth, S Wales CF6 1SQ Now!!

THE TOUGHEST LEAGUE In the world, Football PBM with cash prizes. Boys and girls wanted. To apply send a SAE to: Ian Clark, 40 Clarence Road, Grays, Essex RM176QJ, Free Start-up.

PROFESSIONAL PBM soccer league. Fully computer moderated, features include League end Cup games, transfers and internationats. Start up pack £4. Subsequent turns £1,30 per fortright. Write to; Grimsdala Games, 12 Aspen Way, Cringleford, Norwich. NR4 6UA.

WANTED ANY AMERICAN football videos hi-lights or full games college action in particular. Please contect: Kevin Johnson, 49 Pline Road, Glenfield, Leicester LE3 8DH or Phone; 0533 313284.

MEGASAVE FANTASTIC SAVINGS

stal order made payable to speakle.	Mearns, Glasgow G77 505	five, Newton Grenfield S. 0533 313	. Leid 3284.
of commercial adventisers, but NWANTED, FORSALE, SWAPLINE, BUARY for club/user group news, ut CRASH publishing dates with the entisers to to comply with normal decent	MEGASAV Air Raily (Gelphoe) 4.05 Around Force Four 5.56 Adv. Tactical Fighter 92 5.95 Alter. World Gemes 4.95 Apache Gimetilp D4 6.48 Advancid II D1 4.98 Action Force II D1 4.98 Barder Tale 6.45 Berhartan II 6.45	E FANTASTIC 6. Unexer's Soper D2 4.05 G. Giana Sisters D1 6.25 Gama Set & Match D3 9.95 Garried D1 4.65 Garried D3 9.95 Gauntet filiss only 89 Gauntet filiss only	8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8 8
raging software piracy,	Beardsteys in Soccer 8.25 Beyond ice Palece 02 4.95 Black Tiper 4.96	Goartia Wars 5.98 Hercules Slayers 22 6.45 Horshot 25.15 Hopping Mad 25.15 Tripose, Migelen I 5.95 Rear Warston 22 6.95	988888
EDS × 10, Luciow, Shropshire SY8 108	Buggy Boy Dt 4.99 Bool Camp 19 5.95 Sasket Master 4.95 Bubbt Boabts 314,98 Blood Valley 5.15	Karnov	St St St
	Blonic Communities 3,96 Blood Brothers D2 6,45 Cyternion D4 16,95 Carrier Commian D4 16,95 Collected Wits (Hitmate) D4 8,95	Laser Squad 5.25 Laser Nieja (5.75 Lazer Teg 5.95 Live Ammo Di 6.45 Magnificent Seveo D3 6.45	The To
6	Competen Disk Only	Marauder B2 4.96 Matchday II D1 4.96 Mickey Mouse D2 4.96 Munipher 9.95 N. Mensell's Grand Prix D4 6.95	The Te The Te Tre
Uper Groups Fanzines	Crazy Cars 01 8.25 Champions 01 8.45 Dalay Thompson 88 5.95 Dan Darid 8 07 4.95 Oriller 03 9.85	Night Raider 02 6.45 North Star 02 4.95 North Games 5 6.45 Camun 01 5.95 Olympiad 89 01 4.95	The The The The
nclude name, address and phone	Desoletor D2 4.95 Desoletor S.85 Desmond S.95 Dream Warrior S.95	Overland 6.45 Operation Wort 5.15 Phili Pegasus D4 8.85 Predator 6.45	Tra Typ Ver Ver
	Earthight 4.95 Empre Strikes Back 6.45 Fire & Forget 6.25 Footbalf Manager II 01 6.45 Flying Shark 4.95	Partoon D1 6.45 Pegasus Bridge D4 9.95 Pag-Land 5.96 Pink Parither D2 5.96 Pawt (Disc only) 73.95	Vic Vic Vic Vic Vic
	Firefly Director 5,95 Football Director 5,95 Football Director 5,95 Finitestows 5,95 Five Star (Games 3 5,95	Psycho Pig Liviz D2 5.95 Road Wars S.95 Rolling Thunder 5.95	Wh Wis
	Gun Stroke 5.95 G. Uneker's Sup Skills 02 5.15	Rastan 015.15 Road Stasters 026.25	101 4 H 720
	Mail order only. Pastage included Grant Ent 21.50 per Rom. Soful chaque/PO to MESSASVE Oppl. CR., 404 Persossed for free list of new missages on Amst Spectrum and +3 disc. SSATE W Ench. both.	Feet Survice. Suthintiand St, Victoria, London SVITEV (LDI. Bad, CT-6. MSK, Atari ST, Ambpa, Commodore, AHCH ESST, Future Losacovo I be	D1 6 D2 6 D3 6 D4 6
	Please note new pengrapus will be	जरण व स्व वर्गां, क्रान्त्रे, क्रान्त्र हरूतं हरूतं हरूतं

CM200 FBG	miet.
Live Amma	Dis
Magnificent Seven	D34
Marauder	D2 /
Matchday II	D1 4
Mickey Mouse	024
Mundlighter	S
N. Mansell's Grand Pri	r D4 6
Night Ralder	D2 6
North Star	D2 4
Now Games 5	6
Cerbruin.	初1.5
Olympiad 88	014
Overlord Worl	B
Operation Worr	terto 5
PHM PROBRIES	Tra R
Predator	B
Piatoon	D16
Pédasus Bridge	D4 9
Pag-Land	5
Pirek Parther	D2 5
Pawn (Disc only)	73
Power Pyramics	5.
Psycho Pig LNCE	D2 5.
Hoad Wars	8
Rolling Thursder	5.
Hoy of the Hervers	S.
Asslan summeron and	015.
Road Stasters	DS &
Dream Warrior	B.
AL REC and 750 per item the	ALC: UNKNOWN

The Garnes (Winter)	. D1 6.4
Ring Wars	□ D1 B.40
Ring Wars	. D1 6.4
Salamanger	4.03
Sidearms	. 02 5.FZ
Super Hang-on	6.4
Star Wars	D1 6.4
Solid Gold	D1 8.49
Street Besixabbelf	8.26
Septer Spirit	B.45
Summer Divropied	8.44
Super Mang-on Star Wars Solid Gold Street Besixabbelf Super Spirit Summer Olympind Shackled	D2 5.06
Sentinel (Disc antivi	8.96
Statindred	II DA
Soldier of Light	4 05
Sitate Crazy	D7 4.95
Star Glider (Disc only)	45 00
Summer Olympiad Shackled Senther (Disc only) Statingrad Solvier of Ught State Crazy State Crazy Star Gilder (Disc only) Streetfighter Sophistry Teladon	Di a de
Sanhletav	E AL
Teladon	E Diff
Timescanner Top 10 Collection	E MC
Jon 18 Collection	DIS R AR
195 meninin nereliani	D2 4 65
Tracksuit Manager	4.05
Time and Magis	प्रशेष क्षाता
The Drubbe Yebs Yebs Trenter Thundercats Time Shoot Still 126 Troll Targel Renagade The Back Still The Shoot Still	7 6E
Teins	7.05
Trenke	T-00
Thursdercate	D1 4 08
Time Stand Still 178	179 4 DE
Iroll	DO # 56
Tatroit Reposition	E 46
The flarir Side	Dr. crec
Track Sad Manager	7 (90
Trehora	EAL
Versero Strike Rock	4 05
The Cark Side Track Sulf Manager Typhoco Venery Strike Back Vengire's Empire	D2 5 05
Victory Road	E 10
Victory Road	E 46
Viese	DI S DE
Vanirator	E 4.5
Marid Class I maded to	DO 6 45
Vinicator World Class Leaderb'd Whirtigig	D7 E 16
MAN Marz	505
Westervoits I pruiva	6.45
Westervoits London	DIRAG
10 Great Garnes	Da n os
10 Great Garnes	PR. A. SPINSTON
	Drif R day
720°	D1 5.95

D = +3 Disc D1 @ 19.95 D2 @ 29.75 D3 @ 213.95 D4 @ 210.95

The Ultimate Spectrum Collection

Endorsed by

ENDORSE

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum

If of the greatest masterpieces ever produced for the Spectrum every £12.99 Tape £14.99 + 3 Disk

U.S. Gold Limited, Units 2/3 Holford Way, Holford, Birmingham B6 7AX. Tel: 021 350 3388.

YOUR SEARCH FOR THE ULTIMATE

bead of sweat gently strokes your brow. Fingers tortured with anticipation. Eyes riveted to the screen. Nothing can stop you now. The record score is one carefully aimed F16 missile away. Ready. Aim. Fire!

Oh no! missed.

If you live and breathe Personal Computers there's one event that shouldn't be missed. Personal Computer World has always been the target for people wanting to see the very best in leisure computing. But this year we've set our sights on making it even bigger and even better.

To reflect this new direction, we've also retitled the event 'The Personal Computer Show' and moved it to Earls Court, London's premier exhibition centre.

Inside the specially allocated Leisure Hall will be assembled all the leading companies from the U.K. and overseas. Showcasing the most dynamic and exciting games software on the market.

There's simply no better way of getting your hands on the very latest technology. Feel free to try the games yourself or to see how the experts perform live on the gigantic Pepsi video wall at the National Computer Games Championship.

There will also be daily Personal Computer Conferences covering topics from small business to music, to help you get more from your computer. To obtain more information about the conferences please call 01-948 5166.

So if you think you've given the current batch

TAKE THE PEPSI CHALLENGE WITH

IN ENTERTAINMENT ... ENDS HERE

of ames your best shots come to the Personal Computer Show and discover a new world of excitement.

To attend on the public days (either 16th, 17th or 18th September) just complete and return the coupon with a cheque/postal order for £3.00. To make a credit card booking, telephone the Keith Prowse Personal Computer Show ticket office on 01-741 9999.

Post To:	The Keith	Prowse Personal	Computer Show.
Ticket Offi	ce. PO Box	2. London W6 0L	.O. Tel: 01-741 9999

Please send me my ticket(s) to the Personal Computer Show No of Tickets.

Name Address,

I ENCLOSE A CHEQUE/POSTAL ORDER FOR £

_(£3.00 per ticket) Under 18's will not be adrasted on the 14th and 15th September as these days are exclusively for leads in

EARLS COURT LONDON

The Keith Prowse Personal Computer Show Ticket Office PO Box 2 London W6 OLQ Tel: 01-741 9999

AT THE PERSONAL COMPUTER SHOW

BARGAIN SOFTWARE: 309 Goldhawk Road, London W12 8EZ

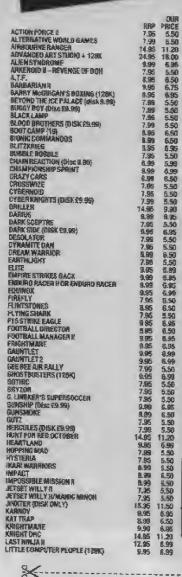

Open 10 am to 8 pm 6 days a week

PRICE PROMISE

If you wish to purchase any product from our list and find that, you can buy the same product cheaper from another mail order company, simply enclose the lower amount, stating the name of the other company and where you saw the advert. (It must be a current issue). Price Promise does not apply to other companies" "Special Offers"

ENQUIRIES RING 01-748 3597

ALL 30 GAMES ONLY £5.90 ALL G ANTICS PLANTFALL GRIDRUNNER BISMARK METEOR STORM JET SET GORTIE 3D TUNNEL STOCKMARKET FRIDGE FRENZY THE VALLEY DEMON KNIGHT NED'S GARBEN SPACE INTRUDERS MIGHTY MAGUS FALL OF ROME DRAUGHTS XADOM DETECTIVE 20 TONS CHESSPLAYER LAZERZONE STRONTIUMECOS PYRAMANIA MICROMOUSE BRAGGINS BANE CARPET CAPERS BLOOD'N' GUTS WE ARE THE CHAMPIONS HIT PAK 6 (VOL 3) TOP TEN ONLY 27.45 only £7.45 €7.45 GHOSTS & GOBLINS + PAPERBOY + ENDURO RACEN + LIVING DAYLIGHTS + DRAGONS LAIR! + DRAGONS LAIR! ALL STARS BEST OF ELITE Vol 2 COMPUTER HITS IV ONLY £6.99 ONLY £7.99 XECUTOR + INSIDE OUTING + BOOBY BEARNG + SHADOW BKIMMER + MINDSTONE + WARLOCK + PYSTRADK + BRIAN BLOODLAKE + THATS THE SPIRIT + STARBING PAPERBOY GHOSTS & GORDINS SPACE HAPPIER BCHABJACK 2 NOW GAMES 3 MAGNIFICENT 7 ONLY 10 GREAT GAMES VOL ONLY £4.99 IF ONLY £7.45 NICK FALDO PLAYS THE OPEN SORCERY CODENAME MAY'S EVERYONE'S A WALLY VIEW TO KILL DISC £13.95 DEATHWISH 3 A JOKK THE INPPERS
BILL DOOR THING BOUNDES BACK
THE INPERS BACK
TH SHORT GROUT + WIZAALL PRANKE GOES TO HOLLYWOOD CREAT ESCAPE + YIE AS KUNG FIL SOLID GOLD ONLY £7.45 LIVE AMMO ONLY BEST OF ELITE ONLY DISC £10.99 £7.45 GAUNTLET AGE OF AGES LEADERSOARD DISC £10,99 ARMY MOVES RAMBO GREEN BERET TOP GUN GREAT ESCAPE GAME SET AND MATCH KONAMI ARCADE ONLY £8.99 (DISC £13.99) COLLECTION 27.45 FEATURNIC SASKETHAL - SOCCER - VAALT - SYMMING - SHOOTING - ARCHERY - TRIPLE - AUMING - SHOOTING - SYCLING - SPRINGBOARD OFFICE - SHOOTING - CYCLING - SPRINGBOARD OFFICE - SHOOTING - CHAIR - AL CHI - ROWING - CHAIR - LAL CHI - ROWING - CHAIR - TOO OF WAS - TERMS - BASEDALL - SOXING - SQUARE - SHOOTING - SOCIETY - STATES - STA (DISC £13.99) JARBREAK + CHEEN BERET + YRE AF KING FU + FING PONG + MINEY + JACKAL + HYPERBYOKTS + MEMBESS

	4
	7	GUH
MAGNETRON	7.95	PRICE 5.50
MANUC MINOR	7.95	5.50
MARAUDER (Disk 9.99)	7.99	5.50
MS PACMAN MASKIT	7.99	5.50
MATCH DAYU	7.95 7.95	5.50 6.50
MACKEY MOUSE (DISK £9.99)	7.99	5.50
MYSTERY OF THE NILE NEMESIS	8.95	6.50
NORTH STAR	7.95 7.95	5.50 5.50
GRIT MISH	8.99	6.50
GUT OF THIS WORLD	9.95	6.95
POLE POSITION	8.99 7.99	6.50 5.50
PAGLAND	8.99	6.50
PANDORA (disc 9.95)	9.95	6.95
PYSCHOPIGUES (disc 12.99) PINK FANTHER (Disc 212.99)	1.99	6.50
PLATOON	8.99	6.50
PITEALLS	7.99	5.50
PREDATOR	9.99	7.45
ONARTET QUAZERTON	9.95	8.95 5.50
RAMPAGE	0.99	8.50
RINGWARS	0.09	6.05
ROADSLASTERS ROLLING THUNDER	11.99	6.50
HOY OF THE ROYERS	0.99	6.50
RASTAN SAGA	7.85	5.50
REVOLUTION	4.99	6.50
ROADWARS SHACKLED	8.95 9.95	6.25
SALAMANDER	7.95	5.50
SHADOWFIRE	9.95	6.95
SKATE CRAZY SORCEROA LORD (Disc £13.99)	7.99 12.96	5.50
SPY vs SPY TRILOGY	3.99	9.99 6.95
STAR WARS	9.05	6.95
SUPER HANG ON SUPERPRINT	0.50	8.95
SIDE ARMS	9.95 8.99	3.99 6.50
720°	0.99	6.50
SCLOIER OF LIGHT	7,95	5.90
SPLFITING IMAGES STREETHGATER	1.99	6.95
STREET SPORT BASKETBALL (disc 9.99)	5.99 5.99	6.50
TARGET DEMCCANE	7.95	5,50
THE GAMES (WINTER EDITION)	9.96	6.95
THUNDERCATS (Disc 29.99) TIME 2 MAGRE	7.95	5.50 11,20
TRANTOR	8,99	6.50
TELADON	8.99	6.25
TERRAMEX TRACKSUIT MANAGER	7.95 8.85	5,50 5,95
TRAZ	8,95	6.50
TOYBIZARRE	7.99	6.50
TROLL	4.99	1.99
VAMPIRES EMPIRE (Disc E9.99)	9.99	8.95 6.50
VENON .	7.85	5.50
VICTORY ROAD (Disc £9.99) VINDICATOR (GREEN SERETIF)	7.99	5.50
WHERE TIMESTOOD STILL (Bise $11,20)	7.95 7.85	5.50 5.50
WIZARO WART	8.99	B.50
WINTER GAMES (128kunly) WINTER DLYMPIAD '88	9.95	6.95
WORLD CEASS LEAGERBOARD	7.95	5.50
WORLD GAMES	8.99 8.99	6.50
YER	8.88	6.50
ZENJI	8.98	6.50

BARGAIN	SOFTWARE	ORDER	FORM
---------	----------	-------	------

Please send me the following titles. BLOCK CAPITALS please!

Type of computer Title Amount

Total enclosed £

CRASH/AUGUST ISSUE

Date Name

Tel. no. ..

26,99

£4.99

Please make cheques or postal orders payable to BARGAIN SOFTWARE. Prices include P & P within the U.K: Europe please add £0.75 per tape: Elsewhere please add £1.00 extra per tape

VINNERS (°6 DRIZES

ACCOLADE AHEAD

With the Seoul Dlympics just around the corner Peter Unwin from London N22 4HD is bound to find plenty of uses for the triffic sports bey containing numerous gothing products, sinkly sports towel and $70 tracksuit that Acotade were giving away in issue 53. The tweety lacky numeroup, who eachget acopy of Acotade 's Mini-Puttiwhen it's released!) and a trendy Accorade T-shirt, are

SAT-ELITE

Issue 53

Who wants an Amstrad satellite TV dish? Walf, Dave Chapple from Comwall certainly doesn't. He was the winner of afabulous Zeta Satellife dish and receiver, a years subscription to a top satellife magazine AND a Bugy Boy game, 1-shirt, mug and poster fit's the postmen I feel sorry for from those generous people at Eitle. The 25 runners-up who get everything but the satellife stuff are ... Colin McDurnle, W.Yorkg WF12 PTL; Jeremy Persival, Worcs B49 7AU; Michael Stater, Lanes BLO 9EN; Mark Bowen, NN3 1HW; Brandan C'Brien, Birmingham 89 SQD; L Miffee, Liverpool L15 2PQ; Roy Harwood, Sussex RH13 8DX;

N Hagueu, Yorks S10 4F8; John Bray, Lancs 8B9 7RP; Jason Smith, Bradford BD12 0EU; Nick Corter, Avon BS23 3RQ; Philip Green, Shrepshire; Keith Roberts, Devon PL5 4ET; Androw Robinson, Dorset 8H7 6LW; Steven Martin, London Nr3 5D7; N Weles, Edinburgh EH4 3MH; B Grehend SRS 1SE; Mark Baisam, Surfolk IP3 0LX; G Robinson, Lancs 8B11 4De; Mark Rickert, Rickert, N.Yorks 0L7 8HT; Marthew Holl, Kerff ME10 9HH, David J Aston, Kent; Paul Harwell, Middx HA3 7HE; Christopher Wetkins, E-Sussex 9N20 9G8; Colin Woodcock, Hante S05 4PE.

I WANT A COMPUTER DESK

Issue 53

The lucky winner of a fabbo computer dask from the Power House is ... (oue farfare) Jason Mann from somewhere in Horts. He also gets the same four germes (Powerang, Metropolis, Tr Racing Simulator and Norman) as the runners-up. ... Simon (if win twenthing) Penfold, Gwent NP2 (GD, Barry Wood, Wirrel Lét 35N; Colm Andrew, Cheshirs; Keith Roberts, Devon PL5 4ET; Richard Dowson, NJreland TS22 5LY; Barry Gorman, NJreland BT25 13U; David Taylor, Mid Glamorgan CP2 7BL; D Orosun, Staffs ST1 3DD; R Sievens, Dyfed SA99-9JP, Jeromy Hyde, Northern Ireland BT62 3NF; Rick White, S Yorks DN3 2LB; Paul Humphreys, Lance BB3 3AJ; David Coverley, Cleveland TS10.

GO CRAZY WITH GREMLIN

Issue 53

They're a crazy lot at Gremilin (especially that Richard 'hard bargain' Barcley) and so are their games. In Issue 53's State Crazy competition they were giving away two pairs of booted roller skates and loads of T-shirts andosps. The two first prize winners erg Chris Sneath from Staffs and Mike (snecker?) Hallet from Bistot. A crazy thirty runners-up get 1- shirts and caps.

John Andrews. Nottingham NG16 8BE; Chris Burnell, S.Yorks S72 9AT; Richard Tarrawell, Surfok 1828 6NZ; Merk Nettress, Chestine Burnell, S.Yorks S72 9AT; Richard Tarrawell, Surfok 1828 6NZ; Merk Nettress, Chestine CW6 00F; Misloom Sime, Kent CT1 17F; Chris Evans, Wolverhempton WV11 3SU; Stephen Marshman Esq. Birmingham B45 8SZ; Alan Gill, London N22 4RY; Paul Brown, Cerdiff CF4 3EE; B Cerlame, Essex S339LC; ASteels, Sury BLD SHT; Nory Dodds, Bucks HP3 4RD; Vinod Petel, Middx HAG 3OJ; Kerry Grsy, Hartts GU35 8SE; Kevin McCafforty, Londondeiry BT47 2BY; Drash Reader, S. Yorks S74 9DR; Jon Rose, W. Sussex PO21 3TZ; Stephen Cahn, Glos GL15 4SA; Craig Litchfield, Cerdiff CF5 1JP; William Fisher, Glos GL7 6BE; Devild McLoughiin, Kent Th12 Devild McLoughiin

Cleveland TS5 5DD; Kenan Acar, Scotland PAB 7HX; Simon Cornell, Birmingham B43 5BA; Shuert Reid, Staffa; David Robitson, Coventry CV3 6F2; R A Davies, Glos GL51 7DJ; Steven Hoffman, Scotland DG2 9H7; Anthony Goddard, Oxford OX2 TTE; David Singer, Glos GL51 9KF; PX Fostler, London SW14 BJJ; Jason Davies, Nottlingham; Richard Mosa, Essex CO3 5PL; R Stevens, Dyfad SA69 9JP; Colin MacDoneld, Dundeed DD5 4RZ; Lee Hawkins, Hants GU13 0JM; Anthony Gray, W. Sussax BN12 4TP; Daniel DD5 4RZ; Lee Hawkins, Hants GU13 0JM; Anthony Gray, W. Sussax BN12 4TP; Daniel Marsh, Cheshire SK4 5EP; A Bind, Essex SS17 8As; M Bell, Sootland PAB 7AS; Mr A Jackson, Norfolk NR30 1DW; Andy Dalit, London SW6 1GT; Deniel Cox, Walsell; Nigel Thomas, Birmingham B42 1GR; Ian Whiting, Worrester WA6 2BT; Crash Reader, W.Glamongan; J Bregg, Essex IG1 HO; Nicholas Moore, W.Mids B92 8PF; K Chada, Loka 1E12 6JP; F A Beale Esq. Dorset OT11 7RS; Neil Wearmouth, Co, Durham OL17 OAR; J R Lewis, Lincs PE11 3NZ; Mark Hartley, Notts; Thomas Fallesskov, Donmark; Craig Howard, Shropahire TF3 2EG; S Cufck, Oxon OX16 8CF.

SECRET FORMULA Issue 53

Inwoo of our strangest comps yet you had the opportunity to win a case of Irn Bru incit for wireps, believe med). The six well-hard winners just happen to be listed below. ... (Well thare's a things) Michael Brown, W.Yorks WF13 4.Q; Philip Corbett, Warks CVB 1DJ; Anthony Johnson, London NW2 DTA; Ser. Tiley, Bristel 6516 SNE; Paul Fox, Cumbris CA7 0PQ; Garth Evens, Cardiff CF2 SEE.

All winners, please allow 28 days for the delivery of your prizes. All queries regarding competitions ron in CRASH should be sent to Frances Mebie, CRASH, PO Box 10, Ludlow, Shropshire SY8 1DB. Please don't ring Frances as she has enough trouble reading through all your entries as it

CHA ORMS

EACH MONTH WE PICK OUT FIVE WINNERS FOR EACH CHART. THE ONLY WAY TO WIN IS TO ENTER. THE IS YOUR CHANCE TO INFLUENCE THE CRASH CHARTS AND STAND A CHANCE OF WINNING £40 WORTH OF SOFTWARE, WE NEED YOUR VOTES. VOTE NOW!

Cut out your voting forms and send them off to CRASH VIDEO CHART, CRASH ADVENTURE CHART, CRASH HOTLINE CHART and CRASH STRATEGY CHART PO Box 10, Ludlow, Shropshire SY8 1DB

а

VIDEO CHART 4 Name Address Postcode..... T-shirt alize :

HOTLINE CHART
1
Name
T-mur.

	ľ		C	ļ	7	н		h	4	ı	1	ĺ
			Ī				ì	ì
1 2			7101,6										71	116
3				*			*1 *1	101					11 11
9			*9111		• • • •	* (%)	- 4 1 1	l d a s				1 6	10
Hy	ame idre	85			- 1-	-0.00	28.0					- 1		11
				Po	st	CC	d	3
T	shirt o		160						-:=:	ig my	. 10			1-1

ADVENTURE

	STRATEGY CHART
1	4
2		Į
3		Г
		ŀ
N	tme
M(JOYOSS
	Postcode
T-5	####	j
		Ì

TRYRRINGE SOFTWARE DISTRIBUTION

INTO	HIDDE	DULIMA	WE DI	2 I HIBU	IIUN
TATLE	SPECTAUM CASS	TITLE FOOTALL MANAGER 2 PRE COMMITTER HTS PREDOT NAMEST PREDOT	SPECTRUM CASS	TITLE	SPECTRUM CASS
ATTAME (EDGE)	8.00	FOOTBALL MANAGER 2	6.40	NODES OF YESGO	2.00
ACHENISM NORTH AND ACTION OF THE PERSON OF T	5.90	FIVE COMPLITER HITS	3.50	OPERATION WOLF	5.30
AND ANY ANY LOUIS	1/30	PRPERMY 2	2.00	ONERLORS	7,00
ACTION CODES 1 DAY	400	PREDUS HAMILIS	3,90	CUTTON	5.00
ARCTIC FOX	5.00	EL BUSTONES	2.00	PETER SEARCHEST FY	6.25
APPEDURAGE RANGER	9.95	FRESTRY 1E	3.10	PART PROMETS	0.90
ARMY MOVES	3.50	FIRETRAP	3.50	PLATION	9.790 9.40
APCADE FORCE FOUR	6.50	RURY	5.60	PREDATOR	L.M
ATHENA	3.50	GE GUANA SISTERS	5.25	PSYCHO PIG LIVE	5.90
APPORTAGE TO THE OF THE PERSON OF	3.50	G LIMERER SHILLS	4.00	PHAN PEGASIAS,	8.98
PATTIE VALLEY	A.40	PALES A	5.50	PARM	B/86
REYTHOU I'VE PAR AITE	4.90	SCHWICE S.	0.90	MAKE REMINISTRINE	4.66
BLOOD BROTHERS	6.50	GRASACKE	4. MU	MANAGE BURGISTO	2 44
BICNIC COMMANDO	6.90	GRYZOR	4.50	Pulsifusi Surta	5 10
BEST OF GLITE VOL. 1	4.50	SAME DVSA	3.50	ACKLUNG THOMSEN	5 99
BARBARSAN 182	0.50	GAME SET & MATCH	9.00	RENEGACE	5.50
BUACK UNAP	4.90	THE GAMES MINITERS	6.20	RING WARS	5.A0
bacos terá	1.35	GARAGO Transporter	5.90	FED DOTTOBER	0.50
MACO INCE	R-wa	CHAIR PRESENTAGE	7-35	SALAMANDER	4.90
SUBSE FROREIT	k san	GI RIGHAD	9.10	DOMINION DELIVERY	4.90
B'OASH DON JOT	5.00	GUNRISWITS	2.00	SKATSONARY	9,80
RATIMAN	2,50	HOPPIN MAD	5.50	SUPERHANG ON	1.40
BALLBREAKER	3.00	HENCLLES	8.50	STAR WARS	8.40
CAPRIER CONNIAND	9.95	#EADOQACH	2.98	SIDEARMS	5.90
COMPAN CONTO	4.90	HEAD OVER MERLS	3,50	STREETFIGHTER	5.90
COMPRIBLICATION OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERT	9.93	MORSHUT HARDONAL	1.50	SEPHESTRY	5.90
/XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX	J. Ah	MADRIENT	2.00	STIMBLER OF LANGERS	4.98
CHAMPIONS.	5.40	MAE	2.00	SOURCE BACKET BALL	0.09 3.40
CALIFORNA CAMES	3.50	HNYPERSALI.	1.30	STAPKERIER	0.44
CHREMMOND	6.10	ONT KNAATE	2.95	SZDEWIZE .	1.60
EVALUES LINGUIS BE	5,50	CNI CAROTE +	9.30	SALENT SERVICE	6.60
ELABORA SOCIO	0.50	BOARD WARPFERS	5,90	SLIPERSPRONT	3.50
DUMOND	0.00	TEGRANIA T	5.90	SHULUK DIRAMS	9-50
POTOG-EDG	4.90	JEWELS OF FLADAUERS	E 00	Cideo comos	3.30
DREAM WARRIOR	5.89	NUMBARI COLLECTION	11.50	SPY V SPY ASCINC	2.00
DEPOLISA	9.99	KNICHTMARE	0.50	HI GREAT GAMES	0.50
DARK SCIEPTRE	5.50	KARNOV	(1.40)	TROLL	6.20
ENAGERSSLAIP, 1 CH 2	3.00	KMGHTORC	9.50	TIME & MASK	10.00
CONTROL ALITY	3100	LIVE RAME!	8.40	TARREST RENSEGADE	5.05
FINANCE STRIKES BACY	6.50	LASSIN SCILING	9.20	TOACY CONTRACTO	4.90
EARTH LIGHT	4.90	MARAI STED	D. PU	TOP COME	5.98
ENLOGITENMENT	3.50	MICKEY MOHESE	4.00	TReft Purchr	2.00
BLITES PACK (1.2 SP. 8	8.50	MADRIALIS	4.50	UNITRAX	9.20
ENDURD HADER 1 (AR S	9.40	MAGNIFICENT Y	8.40	VAMPINES EMPIRE	5.90
BITE	8.50	MATCHDAY 2	4.90	WHOSGATOR	5.10
ST Part Callette	3.00	MEGAL APOCAL YPSE	6.34	YIMA	5.40
Turkey Seem J	4, 90 6 6A	NATO TOE I HURI	4.90	ANICO PRODUCED STUDIO	5 10
FNESTART 1.7 08.3	5.90	MAND PSHTEA	31.80	REMUNICIPIES MALK	4,60
STRICK THEATE	1.40	MISSEL MANGETT LODE	6 km	WEST DID ASS (YEAR)	(i) 0.000
PRICE Y	4.60	KEBIA US	4.90	MONDERBOY.	[E40
FOOTEALL ORRECTOR	5.80	NOW 5	8,50	WIZEALL	3,50
FISSTRIKE EAGLE	6.50	NORTHSTAR	4.90	WE ARE THE CHAMPIO	V6 1.50
POSTBALL MANAGER	2,95	BENSES THE WARLOCK	5,00

Please send cheque/PO/Access Visa Ho. and expiry date to: TRYBRIDGE LTD, 72 NORTH STREET, ROMFORD, ESSEX RM1 1DA

Pieses state make and model of computer when ordering.

P&P inc, UK on orders over 24.00, under 14.00 and Europe add 5tip per item, Elsewhere pieses add 51.50 per item for simple.

FOOTBALL R CRICKET

QUALITY STRATEGY GAMES from E & J SOFTWARE (Established 1584)

EUROPEAN CHAMPIONS a NEW +: THE INTERNATIONAL CHALLENGE OF THE EUROPEAN NATIONS CUP - Genuine Nations Cup Format with tult Readom Draw of 32 Seeded Teams - Foxture List. Reaulis and Legigue Tables of ALL 8 Groups - Discipline & Medical Reports - Squad of 22 Players Just Other Players available - 17 Month Interface of Qualifying Geoup Larraing Finandiss but of Finals-Plus many more Superir Features and Options, EUROPEAN CHAMPIONS includes E & J's MATCH PLAY SYSTEM an imaginative and exciting new skyle of metch presentation which captures the ACTION, DRAMA & TENSION of International Features.

WORLD CHAMPIONS - A COMPLETE WORLD CUP SIMULATION - Select Friendlieu - 25 Players - Qualifying Group - 2 I'm Match Subs - Discipline Table - Select Four Opposeens - Extra Temp - Final Reunds - Players Gain Experience - 7 Skill Levels - TEXT MATCH SIMULATION includings - Bookings - Gais Times, Named & Recorded Good Stories, Injury Time, Curriers, Free Kirks, Match Clock, Penaltims - PLUS many more Federages, PREMIER H. CAN YOU HANGLE ALL OF THIS? - Play all Teams Home & Awey - Unique Transfer Marker! Team & Substitute Selection: Named & Recorded Goal Somers - Inquired - Transfer Demands - Continuing Selector - Squed Listing ALL Teams Financial Problems - 7 Skir Levals - Offers to Managers before Team's - Sicklags - Managers's Selary - Save Gerng - Team Styles - Bank Loans - AND many mode Festures.

EUROPEAN II - THE MOST COMPLETE SIMULATION OF EUROPEAN CLUB FOOTBALL YOU CAN BUY - Home & Away legs - Full Penalty Shoot Out (with SUDDEN DEATH) - 21n Match Subs - Away Goals count Double of Ordwo) - Full Team & Sub Selection - Extra Tiene - 7 Skill Levels - Enjar your own PREMIERS & Woning Toom - TEXT MATCH SIMULATION plus Sending Off and Displaymod Goals - Results Yabio - PLUS MUCH MORE!

Results Table - PLUS MUCH MORE

CRICKET MASTER - A SUPERER SIMILATION OF ONE DAY INTERNATIONAL COUNTY CRICKET

- Weather, Wicked & Dutfield Conditions - Barting & Bowling Tactios - Team Selection - Feet, Medium

6 Spin Bowlers - 4 Types of Batamen - Select Field Layou - 3 Skill Levels - Widos - Byes - Ne Ball

- Barring Out - Misfeld - Bropped Catches - Scorabbard - Batting & Bowling Analysis - Run Rate - Single

Option - 3 Game Speeds - STAR FEATURE a complete MATCH OVERVIEW showling Babl by Bat

- Action and Commentary and MUCH MORE!

TEST MASTER * New * A COMPREHENSIVE SIMULATION OF AS DAY TEST MATCH - Includes

most of the Features of CRICKET MASTER and MATCH OVERVIEW plus Doctorations
- Wightwastchen - Light Meter-Rain Stopp Bigs - Varying Number of Overs per Bys - Follow On - Save

- Sarrich - Navy Ball - Sad Light Interruptions - TEST MASTER is a True representation of a Complete Test

- Match and offers the ULTIMATS CHALLENG® to All Cricket Enthusiasis.

- CRICKET MASTER BITEST MASTER brites Include - FREE pad of SCORESHERTS

CRICKET MASTER & TEST MASTER prices include a FREE and at SCORESHEETS.

Software availability	Spectrum Any 48/128K			nodore 129K	Amstred CPC
	Tape	Disc + 3	Тара	5 X " Disc	Tepo	3" Disc
EUROPEAN CHAMPIONS WORLD CHAMPIONS PREMIER H EUROPEAN II CRICKET MASTER TEST MASTER	(7.95 (6.95 (6.95 (8.95 (7.95 (8.95	£11.95 £10.95 £10.95 £10.95 £11.95 £12.95	n/a £7.95 £7.95 £7.95 n/a n/b	n/a E10,45 E10,45 E10,45 E10,45 E10,45	n/a C7.96 E7.96 E7.96 E8,95 n/a	6/a E11.95 E11.95 E11.95 F12.95

12.95 £12.95 n/o n/a FANTASTIC VALUE: Special Discount of £2.00 for every EXTRA game purchased i.e., buy 2 Games disduct £2.00 from TQTAL - buy 3 Games disduct £2.00 from TQTAL - buy 3 Games disduct £4.00 from TQTAL - 4
Games £5.00 etc.
ALL GAMES are well by the Class poor and include Full loamuctions. IOUTSIDE UK phases add £1.00 for postage and sand payment in Pounds Sterling grow)
PLEASE EXTALE WHICH MACHINE AND TAPE OR DISC.
Chaques or Postal Orders payable to £ £1 Software.
STETMARS EXCENT. 3. 27 Westerburg and Sterling Rout Sterling Routs.

Send to: E & J SOFTWARE, Room 3 , 37 Westmool Road, ENFIELD, Middlesex EN3 71E.

TARGET GAMES 19 The Rows The High, Harlow Essex, CM20 1BZ

A tactical warfare simulation —

Available on Spectrum 48k/128k from August 1988 price: £9.95 (cassette only)

Available on CBM64 and Amstrad CPCs from October 1988 price: £9.95 (cassette) or £14.95 (disk)

GAME FEATURES:

8 directional scrolling window shows detailed 3D maps (80 by 50 spaces)

 One or two player options in each scenario with multiple difficulty levels for one player • Individual level combat with varied unit characteristics • Eight directional facing of units and hidden movement according to line of sight

 Ronged combat includes aimed shots, snap shots, automatic fire, apportunity fire, grenades, thrown weapons and explosive ammunition • Strategic scanner shows detoiled plan of entire map area • User friendly joystick or keyboard controlled menu system . Units carry up to ten objects which can be dropped, picked up, thrown, used to open doors etc. . Weopons and equipment can be chosen from a wide variety before each game starts . Highly developed artificial intelligence for one player option • THREE scenarios provided with game . Expansion kits to follow.

Target Games will ensure that Laser Squad is fully supported with new expansion kits. Each expansion kit will contain two fully documented scenarios available by mail order for £3.95 (inc. p&p). The first expansion kit will be available in September 1988 for the Spectrum.

Mail order (Laser Squad, Spectrum 48k/128k): send cheque or postal order payable to 'Target Games Limited' for £9.95 (postage and packing included).

DEPT CR CASTLE HOUSE 11 NEWCASTLE STREET BURSLEM STOKE ON TRENT

TEL: 0782 575043

SALE	SALE	SALE	SALE	SALE	SALE
SPECTRUM SPECIAL	SPECTRUM SPECIAL	SPECTRUM SPECIAL	*	SPECTRUM SPECIAL	SPECTRUM SPECIAL
OFFERS	OFFERS	OFFERS	* JUST *	OFFERS	OFFERS
ikan Warriers 5.50	Action Force	Hysteria	ARRIVED	Nether Earth	Signic Commandes 6.54
Predator 8.99	Bride of Frankerstein 1.69	Yogi Baar	T	Quartet	Impaci
Cybernoid	Bismack - 6.99	Seyond The Ice Palace 5.58	# FIYGAR #	Dark Sceptre	Rasten Saga
Bards Tale 7.50	Overford	Terramex	* OUR PRICE £3.95 *	Elite	Howard the Duck 1.85
Acting Thunder	Blitzkreig	Blood Brothers 5.50	* OOM PRINCE TO 130	Blood Valley 5.95	The Flunky 2.00
Ace 2 E.50	Over Apts	Hercules	2	Strike Force Harrier 3.95	The Contuctors
Target Renagade 5.50	Nepoteon At War	Hive	* ROAD RUNNER *	Rebel	Starfor
Black Larnin parameters 5.50	Gallipoli 6.50	Earthlight 5.50	T T	Indeer Sports	Captain America
Magnesion5.50	World War I	Target Renegade	* OUR PRICE £3.50 *	Hacker P 2.98	10th Frame 2,89 Star Wars B.85
Restan	Zuki War	Sethic	A CONTRIDE TO SOLD	Grange Hill	Stargider 10.50
720° 8.50	Bubble Bobble 5.50	High Frontier	-	WR	World Class 1 60ard
Nigel M. Grand Prox 7.50	Legions of Death	Kung Fu Master	* KNIGHTMARE *	Bod of the Destroyer 2.99	Prohibition
Barbarian II	Guedo	Supersprint	+ +	Butch Hard Guy 1.89	Еуе поставления 2.99
Picition and the contract of t	Challenge of Gobots 2.99	Inside Outing	# OUR PRICE £3.95 *	Growing Pains A. Mole 2.99	Thundercats
North Star 6.56	Gauntiet	Meonatrika 2.99	POLITIME AUTOU T	Star Parvs	Super Hang or
Dan Dare I	Country 1	Lazer Teg	T Distances	Mercenary terror 6.99	Big Trouble L China 2.99
Crazy Carsi 6.56	Gunship 6.99 Basi The Gest Morse Detective 6.90	Magnetron 5.50	* RAMPAGE *	Managery 6.99	Shackled
Ambert 6.56	Serperor Lord	Yes Prime Minister 2,90	* DUR PRICE £3.95 *	Jailbreak 2.99	Fast & Fesious
Mask 1 - Later - Communication 2.99	Psycho Pig UXB	Book of the Dead	THE CAST THE NAME OF THE PARTY	Mabualis	Frightmera
Skate Crazy	Masters Unit The Movie 2.99	Ninia Hamoster 2.99	-	Loads of Midnight	Bianic Commendas 6.50
Mask 3 (Vencer S.B.) 5.50	Where Time Stood Still 5.50	Birik (3 Garnest 2.99	* BRAVESTAR *	Cybernold	Mega Apocalypse E.75
lul Wisehen Monty 2.89	Drudd 2.90	Leviativan	* *	Pagasus Bridge 9.50	Ring Wars Programme 9.99
Rastan	Road Bleesers	Although 3.95	* OUR PRICE £3.50 *	Shadows of Morder 3.95	Wizard Warz 5.50 Malchday II 5.50
Thing Bources Back 2.89	Last Ninja II 6.89	Star Raiders II 299	-	Telegion 8.50	The Filingstones
Xiller	Street Fighter	Gursánger	*	Guntantoka 6.60	Arkaneid 2
aniore	Everling Star	Galactic Games	* BEDLAM *	Live Amma	Yet
Dark Side	F15 Street Eagle	Crosswize 5.50	# (128k Only) #	19 Boot Camp 6.50	Year
Sary Un. Seper. Socoor 5.50	Winter Ohympiad '66 6.89	1-0. (Firebird)6,50		Jack the Nipper II 2.99	Power Pyramids 6.50
cholie management 2.99	Football Manager II 6.99	Humi for Red October, 10.50	* OUR PRICE £3.95 *	Shadow Skimmer ,	Shaskled 8.50
rack Suit Manager 6.98	Mag Max	Super Cycle	*	Last Mohekan	Desitator
Inampiorship Basebali 2.99 Inja Hamster	Desolstor 6.50	Last Misskyn	# #	Side Wize	Action Force 2 8.99
hystery of the Mile	Thro' Trap Boor	Survivor + 2.99		Druid 2	Phartom Club making on the make Z.193	Gutz 5,50		*	Red Led	Grosswize ,

WE NOW OFFER AN EVEN FASTER SERVICE THAN EVER BEFORE! TRY US, YOU WON'T BE DISAPPOINTED.

P&P 50p on all order under £5. Over £5 P&P is free. Overseas £2 per tape.
Please state SPECTRUM when ordering — Please state CRASH when ordering Castle Computers the Computent firm that cares.

Castle Computers the Computent firm that cares,
SALE	SALE	SALE	SALE	SALE	SALE
* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *	Piesse Notel If you haven't received at the games you requested within 10 days, please phone us to find out the	COMPILATIONS TO CLEAR WE ARE THE	COMPILATIONS 4 SMASH HITS (Exolon, Zynads, Ranarama.	COMPILATIONS TO CLEAR COIN-OP CONNECTION Breakthrough, Express	* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
* STREET FIGHTER * * OUR PRICE $\infty$ 6.50 * *	problem pisasa don't leave It for weeks! Thank you	CHAMPIONS Supersprint, Renegade, Rampage, International Karate + Barberian SUPER VALUE AT 08.39	Uzidum+) C6,95 SPORTS PACK Olympics, Snooker, Golf, On	Reider, Metro Cross, Crystal Cestles For only £2,99 GREMUN COMPENDIUM Shive-A-Sledge, Ludo.	 Ballbfazer, Ballbraeker, Cosmic Shock Absorber, Explorer, The Eldofon, Highway Encounter, Geeyfell, Fatoon Patrol 2,
* MARAUDER * * OUR PRICE $\infty$ 5.50 *	NOW REDUCED TO $1.70 ARE ALL THE FOLLOWING POPEYE NINLA SCOOTER SIM LEAGUE CHALLENDE SOCCER 8088	HIT PACK 6 VOL 3 Paperboy, Ghosts 8 Goblins, Enduro Racer, The Living Develophs.	the Oche, Derby Day, Wond Cup REDUCED TO ONLY 23.99 SUMMER GOLD 10th Frame, Danibusters.	Windshift and the state of	Future Kright, Growing Pains A. Mole, Gunnunner, Hot Runestone, Hyperbowd, Hijeck, Koronis Rift, Knucklebustere, Kinetk, Sky Runner,
* * ACE OF ACES * * OUR PRICE £3.50 *	BEACH BOY SIM POGO STICK OLYMPICS DUN DARACH MARSPORT FOOTBALL FRENZY JOE BLADE	Oragons Lan. Escape Singes Castle THE BEST YET AT 67.25 ARCADE FORCE FOUR	Bruca Lee, Beach Head II, Rebel Planet, Impossible Mission All these for only £4.99	UNBSLIEVABLE ULTIMATE Trans Am, Jet Pack, Lunar	Pulsator. Out Of This World. ★ Oxibix The Terrorball, Nu Wave ID, Rasputin, ★ Stellfess Steel, Virgin ★ Atlantic Challenge, Gyron.
*	INDOOR SOCCER WHEELE READY STEADY GO SHANG HI KABATE SPORTS HERO STUNT BKE SIM	Gauntlet, Deepei Dungsons, Road Runner Metrocross, Indiana Jones & Temple of Doom ALL THESE FOR 06.99	PRESTIGE COLLECTION (The Ekfolon, Rescue on Fractalus, Balliblaser, Koronia Rift) All for £3.95	Jet Man, Pesss To clear now only £1.99	★ Thenatos, Tempest. ★ Mermaid Madness, ★ Explorer, Thrust, Excel.
* GUR PRICEE3.99 * * JOHNNY RED II * * GUR PRICEE2.99 *	ROCK & WPESTLE ALIENS BANK KIDZ AIRWOLF METAL, ARMY BOSCONIAN 87	TEN GREAT GAMES VOL 2 Samuli Tribogy, Thing Boundes Back, Convoy	MAGMIFICENT 7 (Head Over Heals, Wizball, Arkanold, Great Eedape, Frankle, Cobra; Short Girzult, Yie Ar Kung Fu)	128K GAMES Spittire 40 6,95 The Pawn 10,85	 ★ Eidolon, fleacue on ★ Fractiolus, Zelyx, Ball ★ Blazer, Riddlers Den, Zenjl, ★ Prodigy, Zarq.
* ROUNDHEADS * * OUR PRICE £3.95 *	KNIGHTSHADE SARACAN SYDEX RIGALS REVENGE TWISTER SMASH OUT	Raider, Jack the Nipper II Deathwish 3, Basii Great Mouse Datective, Auf Wisehen Monty, The Doci, The Final Matrix	PACK OF ACES Who Dares Wins II, Nexus, Boulderdash, International	Little Computer People 4.85 Eite 7.60 Chool Buster 2,99 Ball Blazer 2,99 Hacker 1,09 Berry Moe Boxing 1,99	★ SERVEDI
*	HOUGRY IN SUMARIA GO TO HELL	ALL THESE FOR ONLY C7.25	FOUR GREAT GAMES 53.95	Desert Ast	* Alternativel * * * * * * * * * *

SOME-HAIR OVER THERAINBOW

THERE'S A PC ENGINE FROM RAINBOW ARTS

Who said computer games were just for boys? (Not more sexism, please -Ed.) Following phenomenal success on other formats, The Great Giana Sisters are all set to hit Spectrum screens with a vengeance. Little Giana from Milano (in Italy, for the uneducated and Nick Roberts) is caught up in a Mriano (m Italy, for the uneducated and Nick Roberts) is caught up in a mysterious and magical dream. As she rubs the sleep from her cute little eyes, she finds herself caught in a cartoon world of traps, tricks and treacherous underground trails. To escape from this wondrous dreamscape, she and her sister Maria must leap, skip, hop and head butt (what else are spiky, punk hairstyles for?) their way to freedom.

What starts out as Giana's midnight nightmare turns into a mystical world, weird and wonderful beyond your wildest imaginings. And if your wildest transfer the starts of the starts out to the starts of the start of the starts of t dreams have always centred around the high resolution, colourful graphics, sampled sound and incomparable gameplay of an arcade quality machine, then dream no more — a PC Engine (see Issue 8 of THE GAMES MACHINE Rainbow Arts, in a fit of uncontrollable generosity, have agreed to give away the newest, neatest Japanese games console yet — even before it's available on the British market! At about 5½" square, it takes up hardly any space at all, weighs very little and plays tiny, credit card-sized games. In space at all, weighs very little and plays they, credit card-sized games. In Japan, demand is already outstripping supply and the most influential British software companies are keeping a beady eye on its development. If you want to be one of the first people in Britain to own one of these coveted machines and a couple of fabulous PC Engine games, shipped to our windy shores all the way from exotic Japan, get out your crayons and come up with a suitably whacky design for an appropriately punky Giana sister hairdo. Use your wildest imagination and strangest thoughts to create while recommends the property of the pro a style so crazy that it would blow any little girl's mind.

Stick your creation on a piece of paper, put it in an envelope, not forgetting to enclose your name and address of course, and give it to your nearest relation (sisters are preferred) to put in the nearest post box for delivery to GIVE RAINBOW ARTS A HAIRDO COMP, CRASH, PO Box 16, Judicial Company of the preferred of Ludlow, Shropshire, SY8 1DB.

Entries must be received by August 30. And don't forget, the decision of the all-knowing, all-powerful CRASH judges remains completely final and totally binding in every possible way.

SCORES has been taken over I Robin Candy landled a change (of clothes) and now yours truly, Phil King, will judge those all-important scores on the very LATEST games.

Each month there's the top score (hopefully legitimate) received so far, plus a couple of others so you can measure yourself against fellow mere mortals as well as those gifted nega-scorers mega-scorers.

From all the entries — irrespective of whether they're printed or not — there are 8ve winners picked at random. The first prize winner receives £40 worth of software of their choice plus a CRASH cap and T-shirts. So don't forget to tell us on the form what software and T-shirt, you'd like — should you be noted the fucky few! be one of the tucky few!

ARKANOID - REVENGE OF DOH	imagine
Jamle Glover, Grimsby	1613870
Andrew Wilson, Romford	1381221
Nell Hopkinson, Fareham	936660
ATF	Digital Insegration
Kathryn Waldock, 8shop Auckland	28720
Maurice Campbell, Hamilton	12060
Chris Whaley, Mitcham	8635
BUBBLE ROBBLE	Fireblid
Paul Seamark, Longford	1695290
Michael Cass, Blackpool	956340
Chris Atwill, Barton	279800
COBRA	Ocean
Karoly Juhasz, Worcester	917750
Andrew Higgins, Sutton Coldfield	498110
Marvin Reynolds, Crewe	205000
CYBERNOID	Hewson
H Cummings, Solubul)	230360
Liz Cann, Yorkfey Stade	87950
Matthew Payme, Churchdown	78224
COMBATSCHOOL	Ocean
Nicola Philip, Portessie Buckie	463250
Andrew Henrys, Willastow	95070
Paul Williams, Towcester	50160
DRILLER	Incentive
Robert Niesolowski, New Barnet	3205000
R Carradine, Halesowen West	1972380
Duncan McDermort Albrook	235700

ENDURO RACER	Activision
Garry Mills Jr., Sandhurst	6794810
Adam Leach, Woodford Green	2542458
Steven Anderson, Dublin	577158
EXOLON	Hewson
Lincoln Harvey, Hadleigh	8453390
Colin irving, Georgetown	138950
Anthony Kirvell, Stanford-le-Hope	76500
FIREFLY	Ocean/Special FX
Adrian Shaw, Marlow	915940
Chirls Smith, Tunstall	535850
Vic Langley, Berlant	502700
FLYING SHARK	Firebird
Steven Ball, Shepperton	894720
Richard Kenneriey, Knutsford
	186050
Owen King, Rhosneigr	178470
GRYZOR	Imagine
Adrian Philip Nailer, Dorchester	357840
Leigh Turnip' Loveday, Aberatan	144800
Steven Bowman, Whitchurch	47800
IK4	System 3
Craig Brackenridge, Cumbernauld	452300
Mark Schoffeld, Holmfirth	164500
S Tiltman, Whatstandwell	74500
-
IKARI WARRIORS	Elice
David Bradford, Sutton-in-Ashfield	4403200
Gavin Gilhart, Royston	4368400
Kevin Walker, Dromara	1075300
KARNOV	Electric Oveams
Colin Ngan, Freemande	437220
Steve Hendrick, Walton le Dale	413320
H Cummings, Solthull	365020
PLATOON
	Ocean
Ken Bowes, Battersea	372294
Paul Sheehan, Alvaston	139100
David Hayles, Bury St Edmunds	61200
RAMPAGE	Activision
Ken Bowes, Battersea	691420
Graham Brown, Bowerham	160420
Richard Wills, Smethwick	130400

Imagine
15273921
4276650
200190
Domark
295560031
1389573
170695
Electric Dreams
60908324
15455980
Z41444
Imagine
1635500
288300
119400
Élite
572220
478850
405600
Hewson
632900
379850
256100

WINNERS

Entity pointed worth of software is already on as way to N Eurominings of Schuld, who is this morth's first prize winner. Not Class Target Renejach and Action Force 2 amongs his choice of software - I'm sure they if leep armalagey over the surempressed And the Her objectiving low Internet-to, he also nectors a streaty CRASH cap and CRASH 1-year. The formatic touscome are Results Hearnet of Week Players with the force in the software shapes in the software in PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT 2. This recent sets another Over caught out with a riduxbusy high Driber score. Yes, someone (with share remain anonymous) from British Gared to enter a store of own 17 anniform) and, as stated a caught of squest back it is impossible to get more than $500000. But he is not alone is chees? corner this mouth Two hugging dislous. Spekemal's scores were dismed by a Classwagan and a Landauerian over three and four million respectively. Not to be outdoor, an anonymous person from Skepoess sentill and Endura Ricer store of over 94 million – you must be joining! If you do store an encededly hope uses phease by and send in some sort of proof. ..., ANNIQUINCEMENT ENDS.

SEND ME YOUR SCORES

AGE.... ADDRESS ... POSTCODE MY SCORES ARE: GAME SCORE

Send this form (or a copy) with your scores for up to three games to PHIL KING'S SCORES, CRASH, PO Box 10, Ludiow, Shropshire 5Y8 1DB. ONLY GENUINE SCORES WILL BE ACCEPTED; any improbably huge scores will be immediately binned and the sender will be forced to eat ZZAPI's Paul Glancey — a fate worse than sharing a desk with him.

IF I WIN TOP PRIZE I WOULD LIKE THIS $40 WORTH OF SOFTWARE:

AND IF I WIN ANY PRIZE I WOULD LIKE THIS CRASH T-SHIRT, CHOSEN FROM THOSE ADVERTISED IN THE CRASH HYPERMARKET:

The decision of the super-powerful CRASH judges is final in all respects. So don't even let the thought of a confrontation cross your mind - you don't stand a chance.

APPETISING APPOINTMENTS

ooray! It's holiday time. While you're lying on sundrenched beaches in Begner, Brighton and Bahrain, licking a rapidly melting ice cream cone and sipping at a pistachio Slush Puppy, cast your mind forward into the mellow month of September and gently savour what lies in store . . .

(Whoops, we weren't supposed to mention that word.) Chewing her way through cities and nuclear waste dumps she tries to locate as many of her eggs as possible, while faying several more. Japan's three resident monsters can't resist joining in all of the fun. Defeat them and at least some of your brood might sall to safety in the sunset.

Monsters have absolutely nothing to do with another imminent Gremlin release. Super Sports (originally called Alternative Olympics) takes you on a comprehensive sporting tour. Events are to include archery and swimming. But so far Gremlin are keeping pretty hush hush about it.

Hewson and Finnish

Hewson and Finnish programmer Charlie T are all set to take you to a dark, ▼ Savouring life (the oriental way) in Gremlin's Super Sports

MONSTER MUNCH

Prepare yourself for a monstrous oriental journey. Gremlin's T-Wrecks (although the name may be changed) gives you a dinosaur's-eye view of the modern world. Insensitive explorers have unearthed a huge nest of giant eggs, and brought them back to Japan. Nettled at this flamboyant disregard for ecology, prehistory and motherhood, mamma monster goes on the rampage.

 Gremlin's monster gets ready to smash it up

▲ Gore galore in R-Type

mysterious world beyond the Arctic Circle. Trapped in the Netherworld, a winter land of cruel terrain where the forces of good and evil are locked in eternal combat, you have no choice but to bribe your way out. Diamonds are the price of freedom. Use your multi-firing gyrosphere to blast your way through armies of dragons, acid bubbles, fizzling fireballs and deadly monster generators.

Monsters feature heavily in R-Type, a shoot-'em-up from Activision set in a sinister anatomical environment. Organic backdrops, repulsively animated missiles, pulsating hearts and writhing snakes, culminating in an enormous alien spaceship, should make for heart-stopping arcade action, Wait and see, Or, if you've seen the popular arcade game, just wait!

Following their success with Bionic Commendo (92%, Issue 53), Capcom are ready to release 1943. The sequel (surprise, surprise) to Capcom's addictive arcade game 1942, is set in the Battle of Midway which was fought at the height of World War II. It gives you the chance to take control of a magnificent P38 fighter, armed with six secret weapons, and relive one of the most significant encounters of the war. Get your flying jackets and goggles ready for further developments. Other Capcom releases include Black Tiger (see last month's previews), Tiger Hoad and LED Storm, More news soon...

HAIRY ARMS

Latest information from Psygnosis, indicates that Terrorpods is due for imminent release. Set on the grey and hostile planet Colian, it has you attempting to counter the nocturnal Terrorpods from the comparative safety of a DSV (Defence Strategy Vehicle). Sounds hair-raising ...

And it's heir that's bristling all over the sturdy arms of two burly individuals about to star in a couple of savage arcade adventures. Psygnosis' Barbarian (not to be confused with that other Barbarian from Palace) should be out soon. Hideous perils await the traveller who undertakes the daring quest to destroy the lair of the accursed Necron and win the kingdom's crown.

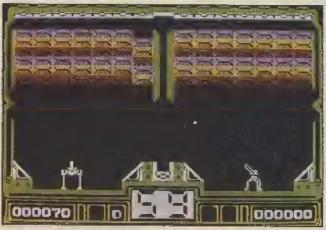

There's more hack and slay scheduled for early August when that other Barbarian (from Palace) makes his comeback. The first Barbarian was reviewed way back In Issue 41 (85%). He's out to do battle with the evil wizard Drax again but this time he is joined by an emancipated, sword-wielding Princess Mariana (alias Maria Whittaker). The sequel recreates all the gory, grimand grisly animation of the original but this time there's a mappable, mutti-level playing area which adds an element of exploration to all that bloody decapitation. Yum...

TRAIN SPOTTER'S DELIGHT

The Train: Escape to Normandy chugged to success in ZZAP! (87%, Issue 36) when it was released for the Commodore earlier this year. ▲ Muscle-man is back - this time with Mariana at his side

Breaking the Breakout mould in Hot Shot

From August Accolade's successful train-driving simulation, set in France in the year 1944, should be available for the Spectrum. You play them role of a French Resistance leader, Pierre Le Feu, charged with the daunting task of seizing an armoured train (loaded with France's most preclous art treasures) and steering it to safety through enemy lines. In addition to normal engineering duties (difficult enough at the best of times) you're forced to cope with enemy ambushes, traps and airborne attacks. Let's hope that all the complex features of the original survive the conversion.

▼ Everyone aboard for a tour of Europe on The Train

Finally, this month, there's news of a Breakout game with a difference. Addictive Games' Hotshot is a variation on the familiar game of squash. The competitors are a couple of droids and instead of racquets they play with gravitation guns—long snout-like projections attacked to their heads. Sucking up and releasing the ball they attempt to break down a wall of bricks and make it through the trials and tribulations of a pinbail style level. Black holes and rising water make this elaborate process all the more difficult.

You may have noticed a distinct lack of games this month. This is partly due to the annual summer software slump but also because of the impending PC Show (from September 16 at Earl's Court). So don't miss the next issue of CRASH which will contain an information packed rundown on the show's activities plus features on all the top stands. The FREE PC Show Supplement is exclusive to readers of CRASH, ZZAPI 64 and THE GAMES MACHINE, so don't miss out, reserve your copy NOW!

don't miss out, reserve your copy NOW!

Fortunately you won't be required to take part in all this excitement till early. September. In the meantime, just settle back in your deckchair and enjoy the

GOGGLE!

TIME TO GET A MOVIE

DOMINIC HANDY on video world the video business is. Even if you can't find something of interest on the rental shelves there's always the sell-through market to go for. With labulous films being released all the time at a budget price there's never been a better time to own a video. All tastes are catered for from the wild antics of the St Trinian's Collection (at £9.99 each from Warner) and Woody

Woodpecker And His Friends—
Vol III (£9.99, CiC) to the more sedate actions of The Cliff
Richard Collection (£9.99 each, Warner) and Knight Rider 2:
Night Of The Juggernaut
(£9.99, CiC). In fact July looks like being a very exciting month on the growing sell-through shelves of the chain stores.

The biggest budget release of the year so far must go to CIC Video. The end of July sees their

▼ Back To The Future - now available for £9,99

▲ James Woods: mean, moody and magnificent release of the film that literally made Michael J Fox an internationally renowned superstar. Yes, Back To The Future (£9.99, CIC) is finally available to add to your video collection. In 1987 – it was released in November 86 - Back To The Future pulled in many awards, including the year's Most Rented Video Award from the British Video Association. Fox also picked up an award as the most popular actor. For those unfortunate few that haven't seen it, Fox plays a high school student, Marty McFly, After many hours inventing, Marty's mad scientist friend (Christopher Lloyd - The Postman Always Rings Twice, TV's Taxi) finally creates a time transfer machine, and due to a freak accident Marty gets transported back in time. As well as finding the (now much younger) scientist to help him get back, Marty must stop his mather follows in love with the his mother falling in love with the wrong person. This isn't helped by her infatuation with him, and a school bully, named Biff, who keeps beating up his father-to-be. If they don't fall in love Marty's future will be wrecked - he will not exist! Back To The Future also features some great music from Eric Clapton and Huey Lewis And

Molly Ringwald, star of Pretty In Pink, co-stars with Robert Downey in CBS/Fox's July release, The Pick Up Artist (15). Downey plays Jack Jericho, master of the chat-up line, who meets his match when he encounters Randy (Ringwald). After a brief and dispassionate encounter Randy refuses to give Jack her phone number. So Jack must use all he knows to try and pick up his greatest encounter.

Molly Ringwald first hit the limelight in the John Hughes written Pretty in Pink, Hughes (who practically created the brat-pack) directs CIC's August 5 release Some Kind Of Wonderful (15). He again teams up with Howard Deutch (director of Pretty In Pink) to produce another romance-cumcomedy on contemporary youth: In the last year of high school, Keith (Eric Stoltz – Mask) likes nothing more than to create the odd artistic painting and work part-time in the local garage. But when he meets Amanda Jones (Lea Thompson – Space Camp, Back To The Future) his Interests soon change. Although she's not that 'easy to get; as Keith's best friend Watts (a very independent young lady) soon points out. "You can't tell abook built sour."

a book by its cover . . . But you can tell how much it's gonna cost'.

August 18 sees the release of The Boy Would Could Fly (CBS/Fox, U), written and directed by Nick Castle. A sensitive girl (who yet again goes to high school—I wonder if they all go to the same one?) becomes interested in the boy next door, who says very little, but believes he can fly. Whilst trying to come to terms with himshe gets involved in a world of fantasy and intrigue. Good performances all round keep a warm and well-intentioned plot plodding along at a bearable page.

Just released from Warner is the much-talked about Masters Of The Universe (PG), with the muscular hulk of Dolph Lundgren (Rocky IV) in the main role of He-Man. In the movie of the popular Mattel toy line He-Man again comes up against his old pal Skeletor (Frank Langella). This time skull face has found an evil accomplish appropriately called Evil-Lyn, played by the beautiful Meg Foster (The Emerald Forest). Together they have taken hold the Sorceress of Greyskuli Castle and encased her in an energy shield. Yet again He-Man must save the universe and banish the evil Skeletor into oblivion (or something like that). Look out for some fantastic visual effects from the master himself, Richard Edlund (Star Wars Trilogy) Pottergeist I and II, Raiders Of The Last Ark, 2010 and Fright Night, Warner's main mid-August Warmer's main mid-August release must be Norman Mailer's adaptation of his Pulitzer prize-winning book Tough Guys Don't Dance (18). Ready for this? One fine sunny morning Tim Madden (O'Neal) wakes up to find blood in his car, and the hidden severed head of a beautiful woman. (Wow, it must have been one helluva night!) Madden is now taken back into his dark and mysterious past, where he learns of his homicidal tendancies. Thrilling, but gruesome.

One of my favourite actors of the moment has got to be the terrific James Woods (Salvador, Against All Odds, Best Seller). After a very short cinema release Entertainment in Video have picked up the rights to release Woods's latest thriller Cop (18). Woods play a Dirty Harry-like detective sergeant in the Los Angeles police department. When Woods is first on the scene of a horrific murder he Immediately bends the rules to get himself assigned to the investigation. As the case continues it soon becomes evident that the sex related murder is one of many from a serial killer. However Woods's 'direct' approach is frowned upon by his born-again chief, and after many arguments he is suspended from the force. Woods's wife is also confused; she is certain her husband needs psychiatric help, and takes their child and leaves for San Francisco. With his personal and professional life in conflict Woods becomes obsessed with the killer - but at what cost?

Hollywood Shuffle: the comedy of the month

Only one person could play a retired secret agent cumrestauranteur, and that person is Bill Cosby. In Leonard Part 6 (RCA/Columbia, PG) Cosby plays a ex-spy who his persuaded by the government to take on and try to crack a case involving the takeover of the world by animals – frogs, lobsters, ostriches etc. They are all under the control of the wicked Medusa Johnson who plans to use the animals to manipulate the world. Leonard Part 6 may be the longest running Pepsi Cola ad you've ever seen (just watch it, you'll see what I mean) but with Cosby's own brand of humour it'll keep, albeit very young, viewers engrossed for the 82 minutes.

And finally this month we come to, what I think is, the most underrated film of the year — Hollywood Shuffle (Virgin, 15).
Robert Townsend (who directed Eddie Murphy in Raw) not only writes, produces and directs, he also finds time to star in this expose of Hollywood's insistance on casting blacks as either pimps, butlers or Eddie Murphy-types (Townsend's impersonation of his close friend Murphy is hilarious). It tells the story of an ambitious young black actor (Townsend) trying to make it big in the movies, but without selling out to his brothers'. The film is just packed with superb interludes in which Townsend, among other things, dreams of being in a Black Actor School and taking the part of a film critic (absolutely side splitting). If Townsend can create such an entertaining masterpiece on such a small budget, then I can't even think what he could do with the astronomical amounts they're paying out for films like Rambo III. Don't miss Hollywood Shuffle, it's THE comedy of the month!

ACK in Issue 51 we looked at a new paper for the younger midteenage, aspiring yuppie called Early Times. This month we take a look at another children's paper to appear on the newstand. At 30p Scoop is very much like a Look-In in tabloid form, It contains a fair mix of light news, sport, music, and fashion. There's also a happy splattering of competitions and weird and wonderful facts that would only feel at home in a paper of this sort. The music section is very comprehensive, featuring reviews, gossip, charts and pinup of all your favourite stars. In fact Scoop covers practically every subject of interest to the 9-13 age group (there's even room for titbits on the TV celebs). Keep your eye out for it.

